LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

FROM TUESDAY'S DAILY.

MAN SHOT AT COALVILLE!—The following telegram was received by Deseret Telegraph line this morning:

COALVILLE, Aug. 29.

Deseret News:—Wm. Hutchinson was shot and killed by John Allen, yesterday evening; particulars by mail to-night. W. W. CLUFF.

GOT HIM.—We have been informed that the notorious Bill Hickman and Bill Flick were lately arrested, at Camp Floyd, and brought to Camp Douglas. Hickman, if we recollect aright, was indicted, about a year ago, for the murder of a Spaniard somewhere out west, and we presume it was upon this charge that he was arrested.

SEVIER COUNTY.—William Morrison writing from Richfield, on the 21st instant, says:

"To-day I proceed to locate two new townships, with fields adjoining, in order that good citizens may have an opportunity of building themselves permanent and comfortable homes from the foundation. This county is being quickly settled, so the prospects for its development and growth are good."

HONEY EXTRACTOR.—Bro. John Morgan of Mill Creek has left at our office a specimen of honey, produced at his apiary, gathered from honey dew and extracted from the comb by Peabody's Honey extractor. From the appearance and taste of the honey we should imagine this extractor is a great success, and for those beekeepers who have large apiaries, indispensably necessary, as it must relieve the bees from the necessity of manufacturing honey comb, and leave them to devote all their energies to the production of honey.

PUBLIC MARKETS.—The entire people of this city will, doubtless, be gratified at the action lately taken by the City Council in relation to the establishing and conducting of public markets in the different Wards. The want of such places has, with the rapid increase of population, &c., been greatly felt of late. The meat, vegetable and fruit markets being entirely confined to East Temple Street and vicinity has been a matter of great inconvenience to people living on the outskirts of town, compelling many of them to make almost daily trips of from one to three miles. There are reasons besides this, however, which will combine to make the inauguration of public market places in the Wards a blessing to the community. There will be a greater competition in the vending of meat, and market produce, which will have a tendency to cheapen those articles. We do not speak thus because we think those engaged in business of this kind have been exorbitant in their charges, for they have probably done as well by the public as they could under the circumstances; but this is no reason why progressive steps should not be inaugurated. With regard to fruits and vegetables &c., for instance, when those products are placed within easy reach of the people, so far as distance is concerned, the consumption will undoubtedly become much greater than at present, which will open up a better market for those who raise them. Considering the facilities for the producing of vegetables in this Territory we think, as a general rule, they are sold at very high rates. The impetus which will be received by the increased demand and consequently improved market for such things will cause many to go extensively into producing them, which, combined with the increased competition in the trade, must tend to cheapen them, and nobody will be hurt by the result, but, on the contrary, all will be more or less benefited. Wellsville, Cache Co., has taken the initiative in the extensive raising of garden truck and we hope other settlements will follow suit in such a way as to enable Utah to export produce of this kind instead of importing it from California.

It is time, we think, that some movement was made to secure to the public a good article of butter at something like a moderate price. It is indeed surprising that indifferent butter should be sold in the principal city of an agricultural community, at this season of the year, at the high rate of fifty cents per pound. Some of the Wards have, desired, for some time, to establish Butchers' shops on the co-operative plan and, now that the privilege is given, it is probable they will do so.

FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY.

FROM SANPETE.—Our correspondent, writing from Mount Pleasant, Aug. 11th, gives a cheerful account of affairs there. He had heard President Orson Hyde preach to the people of Sanpete the day previous, giving them most excellent instruction. Of him he says: "I never saw Bro. Hyde feeling better; he appears to feel better as he grows older, and he carries a good influence with him in all the settlement; he works hard preaching and is never idle."

Fossil.—Professor Barfoot, of the Deseret Museum, showed us, this morning, a fine specimen of a fossilized oyster, which, strange to say, was found near the top of what is known as Llewellyn's peak, Iron Co. On close examination of the specimen the Professor says he finds indications which lead him to the belief that there must either be deposits of coal, or at least rock oil in the vicinity where the fossil was found. The fossil was brought to the Museum by D. W. Matthews, of Iron county.

PIC-NIC AT BLACK ROCK.—Yesterday a party of about thirty theatrical and musical gentlemen and ladies, or ladies and gentlemen, in six carriages, engaged in a picnic excursion to the Lake at Black Rock, taking the whole day for it, from moderately sized hours in the a.m., to near the largest hours in the p.m. After a pleasant ride over the glorious landscape beyond Jordan, the Lake came in view, the party alighted, and dancing, bathing, and divers other amusements were indulged in with zest and satisfaction.

FROM KANAB.—Bro. A. P. Windsor, who arrived yesterday from the Kanab country, called this morning. He passed through Kanab City on his way up, and states that the people there were busy building rock, frame and adobe houses, and notwithstanding that about two-thirds of the grain crops were lost by the ravages of the grasshoppers, the place presents an appearance of prosperity that is surprising. The corn crop has been somewhat shortened by drought. Bro. Windsor came down the Sevier nearly all the way, the vicinity of which, he says, is being quickly settled up, excepting at one place (Circleville). The telegraph poles are being erected for an extension of the Deseret line from Toquerville to Kanab. Bro. W. will take with him machinery for a cheese factory. He has had considerable experience in manufacturing the article and expects to turn it out equal to any in Utah, either home made or imported. Mrs. Windsor, several years ago, took the premium for cheese making at two different fairs in this city.

THE KILLING AT COALVILLE.—Our Coalville correspondent sends us the particulars of the killing of William Hutchinson by John Allan, on the evening of Monday, a dispatch alluding to which appeared in the News of yesterday. From the statements of the correspondent it appears that unpleasant relations had existed for some time between Hutchinson and his wife, it being reported that he had frequently beaten her and threatened her life, and that she had been under the necessity of leaving him twice. The first time that she left him it seems she staid with the family of John Allan, but by persuasion of the latter and his family she was induced to return to her husband. It is alleged, however, that his treatment of her continued to be such that she was compelled to leave him again. A few days previous to the shooting she arrived again, with her little child, late at night at John Allan's house, and begged to be taken in, which request was granted. William Hutchinson came to the house on Monday evening, and called John Allan away from the back door, where he was standing, and commenced accusing him of harboring his (Hutchinson's) wife and ordering him to turn her out of doors, which Allan refused to do, saying he did not think it would be right to turn a woman and child out of doors under the circumstances; whereupon Hutchinson attacked him, hitting him on the forehead, kicking him and threatening to kill him. Allan had been in the hills, hunting for his horses, during the day, and on his return had laid his revolver on the window sill. When attacked he grasped the weapon and fired two shots at Hutchinson, the second hitting him in the left side, passing through the body, lodging under the skin on the right side, and killing him almost instantly. Mrs. Hutchinson, at the time of the sad occurrence, was waiting at the house of Allan, for an opportunity to come to Salt Lake City.

Previous to this affair, Allan and Hutchinson had been on the most intimate and friendly terms, no angry words ever having passed between them. Our correspondent's own language on this point is as follows: "John Allan is a peaceable, quiet man, a good citizen, and much respected. Ever since William Hutchinson came to the Territory he, Allan, has taken every opportunity to assist him. It is but a few days since he left his own harvest work to assist him. A short time since he assisted him to buy a farm. Hutchinson at many times expressed himself under obligations for his many acts of kindness. Save his extremely ungovernable temper, Hutchinson was otherwise regarded as an honest, industrious man." Allan immediately delivered himself into the hands of the Sheriff.

FROM THURSDAY'S DAILY.

OBSEQUIES.—The funeral ceremonies of Bro. G. W. Snyder, son of Elder George G. Snyder, were attended to this morning in a grove behind the residence of Brother Ephraim Snyder, in the 6th Ward, where were assembled a large number of the relatives and friends of the deceased. The meeting was addressed by Elders Franklin D. Richards, George Q. Cannon and Sam'l. W. Richards.

ARRIVAL OF THE EMIGRANT COMPANY.—The small company of emigrant Saints which left Liverpool August 9, in charge of Elder Wm. Douglass, arrived by the 7:50 train last night, after a very pleasant and prosperous journey. Elder Stephen Taylor also returning with the company, he with Elder Douglass from a mission to Great Britain. Both were looking exceedingly well. Elder George W. Groo returned on the railroad with the company as far as Iowa, where he stayed to pay a brief visit to his friends.

FIRE.—Last night, about half-past five o'clock, the barn, stable and store room of B. F. Schettler, Esq., in the 20th Ward, were discovered to be on fire. In a very short time they were burned to the ground. By the energetic exertions of the neighbors, the fire was prevented from spreading further, and was soon got down. A few chickens were destroyed and a goat was well singed but not seriously injured. The damage is estimated at about $1000.

SENSIBLE.—A gentleman of the legal profession made, in the Alderman's Court, this morning, what we consider some very sensible remarks with regard to the foolishness of bringing petty difficulties into court, showing how much better it would be to have all such matters amicably settled without having recourse to law. This is our opinion exactly. People who go to law over little squabbles, instead of having such things permanently and pleasantly arranged by other and better means, in the majority of cases only make matters worse by increasing any feelings of bitterness that may have previously existed. There are enough honorable unprejudiced peace makers to be found to settle every difficulty of a petty nature, and those who resort to law in such cases show that their stock of greenbacks, however small, is considerably ahead of their supply of common sense.

The legal gentleman alluded to was employed in a case of the above kind, the nature of which drew forth his remarks upon this subject.

"Blessed is the peace maker."

(Special to the News, per Des. Tel.)

NEPHI, Aug. 29.

A coal bed has been discovered within ten miles of Nephi, by W. Zabriskie. The vein is situated in the north fork of Salt Lake canyon, and is considered very extensive and of good quality.

The grain crops of the county are very light.

ALTA CITY, Cottonwood Canyon, August 30.

J. F. Fuller, one of the proprietors of the Central House, being annoyed night after night by the carousing and blackguarding of parties in a house of ill-fame near his hotel, went over to put a stop to it last evening. R. J. White, owner of the house, drew his pistol, for the purpose of shooting Fuller, who quickly drew and fired at White, striking him in the leg above the knee. Dr. Chamblin extracted the ball. White is reported very weak this morning.

H. T. Parlin, of the California stable, while coming from Salt Lake to Alta, had his shoulder broken by the falling of his horse, at Frank Hill's. He is doing well.
