

Miscellaneous.

Edwin Booth's portion of one week's receipts at the Louisville Theatre was $3,500.

In one judicial district in Indiana, twenty-one murder trials are to take place at the next term of court.

The Hayes City Advance says: "Buffalo meat is down to 6 and 8 cents in our market at wholesale, and there is plenty of it. Bison steaks are beginning to grow tedious even for new comers."

At a concert recently, at the conclusion of the song, "There's a good time coming," a country farmer got up and exclaimed: "Mister, you couldn't fix the date, could you?"

The contractors of the Suez Canal work are bound to complete it by September 1st, 1869, under penalty of $100,000 a month for any delay.

A Chicago divorce case rests on the complaint of the lady that her husband made her get up in the night and make the bed over.

For many years it was supposed that grapes would not grow in America. F. R. Elliot, of Cleveland, estimates that we have 2,500,000 acres in vineyards, and that the crop of the past year was 3,000,000 tons—worth $600,000,000.

It is a common thing in New Orleans to get up a miniature distillery at a cost of $30, and have it informed on and seized. The informer gets $300.

It is reported that near Dantzig a young man of twenty-four, who had married a widow of forty-two, has just discovered, since the marriage, that his wife was his wet nurse. A French paper comments: "Thus is it! One always returns to his first love."

Edwin Booth became so much excited in playing "Macbeth," at Chicago, that he severely cut Nagle (Macduff) in the combat scene.

"Longfellow has given one hundred volumes to the Portland Public Library." That's the kind of fellow we want out here.—[Ex.]

A bidder at a horse auction in Nashville last week mounted a mare to try her speed, and was so well satisfied that he did not return.

A torrent of boiling water burst up through the shaft of an artesian well, which was being sunk at La Crosse, Wis., scalding several men, melting off the snow for some six acres and boiling things generally.

A curious fact in connection with the English expedition to Abyssinia now absorbs the attention of veterinary surgeons in Europe. The cavalry horses and mules were taken with a sudden illness, which Dr. Jones, of the expeditionary corps, asserts to have its seat in the heart. So far it has proved incurable. Out of four hundred and seventy-five horses one hundred and twenty died and forty had to be left behind. About one hundred and fifty mules had fallen victims to the disease. This leaves about one third of the vanguard dismounted. The natives assert that that region is mortal to the horse; they never bring the animal there.

The following graduates of the Pennsylvania Polytechnic College have been added to the engineer corps of the Union Pacific Railroad, and ordered to report at Omaha without delay, with a view to speed the location and construction of the difficult section of the road between Cheyenne and Salt Lake: Joseph R. Maxwell, W. T. Schneider, Wm. W. Harris, James F. McCabe, Domingo Garcia and John B. Wilson.—Crawfordsville (La.) Review.

CANINE CUNNING.—A dog near Inverness was in the habit of going regularly every morning to a baker's shop in the town for a roll. One morning, instead of the customary half-penny, a large, smooth horn button was given to it. For some time it declined taking it; but finding that none other was forthcoming, it took it between its teeth and trotted off. The baker, seeing it coming, threw down the roll and picked up what he supposed was a genuine coin of the realm; for the animal, sagacious in the artifices of deceitful man, would never part with the money until it had received its full value. On finding out his mistake, he turned round to see if the little swindler was there, but was not a little amused to see it, on looking out of the window, scampering home along the street with the bread between its teeth, instead of remaining, as was its wont, to eat it in the shop.
