

SHIPMENT OF RECORD HORSES.

Four Trainloads of Animals Valued at $800,000 Crossing The Continent.

FREIGHT CHARGES $43,000.

Unique and Valuable Consignment Goes Out After a New Record in Railroad History.

All being well tomorrow morning there will be a new railroad record established. This time it consists of a record movement of record horses of record value in a record number of sections for one shipment on record time from California to New York.

The lines engaged in this are the Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Illinois Central and the New York Central. The big consignment of blooded horses passed through Ogden on Thursday practically unnoticed. In all there were 630 head, valued at between $700,000 and $800,000, on four special trains and representing the stock of the famous Haggin ranch of 4,000 acres in California which is valued at $2,000,000.

The freight charges on moving these horses amount to $43,000 which will be divided among the railroads named. J. B. Haggin's private car Ben All was attached to one of the sections and W. H. Smedley, general western agent of the Illinois Central at San Francisco, accompanied the shipment right through to New York where the cars arrive tomorrow morning.

The horses left California on Wednesday in special express horse cars of the Southern Pacific, Illinois Central and New York Central. The last two lines sending these cars out west for the purpose. From the time the train left until it arrives in New York tomorrow morning the horses remain in the cars, being fed and watered at intervals in transit while the four sections of the train are running on passenger schedule.

All the horses are to be sold by auction in New York on Dec. 4. Two of the animals, Watercross and Star Ruby, are expected to fetch $75,000 each. The sale is the result of a dispute among heirs of the Tavis estate involving the ownership of the stock.

Following the moving of the stock, the Haggin ranch will be disposed of and the once famous horse breeding establishment will be a thing of the past, all of which the Californians do not take kindly to.

Residents of Bear Lake Want Branch From Montpelier.

With the object in view of inducing the Oregon Short Line to build a branch line from Montpelier, Idaho, to the west side of the valley, south along the west side of Bear Lake, William Budge of Paris, Idaho, and other residents in the district, are now on their way to Salt Lake to confer with General Manager Hancock and other Short Line officials regarding the project.

COMING WEST.

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Surveyors Start from Missoula.

A dispatch to the Anaconda Standard from Missoula is responsible for the statement that the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul is getting ready to extend through Montana by way of Lolo pass. Engineer Talcott of that company has been in Missoula for some days past, where he has been quietly organizing a surveying party to start out at once into the Clearwater country and work through to Stewart, Idaho, taking elevations and selecting the best route through this stretch of rough country. The party will leave Missoula in two detachments and will consist in all of about 18 men, with a pack train of 12 horses. The advance guard will be in charge of Albert E. Hammond.

B. P. O. E. EXCURSION.

A. W. Raybold, secretary of B. P. O. E. No. 85, is sounding the members of the lodge in the vicinity of the availability of a big Elk's excursion to southern California over the Salt Lake Route next February. Considerable interest is already being taken in the proposition, and the indications are that the special train excursion will be a hummer.

I. C. VAN RIPPER HERE.

I. C. Van Ripper, a New York capitalist and friend of J. P. Hill, is at the Kenyon on his way east. He claims to be owner of 56 per cent of the stock of the Pacific & Idaho Northern and that the excess amount under which he purchased the stock of the road has been violated. Hence it was that he instituted a suit at Webster this week wherein he sought to restrain the stockholders from voting at the annual meeting of the P. I. N. there.

SPIKE AND RAIL.

Actual work of boring the big tunnel for the Moffat road through the continental divide began yesterday on the eastern side of the range.

The Legion road announces some changes in its time card commencing tomorrow morning, which will be found in the advertising columns of this paper.

W. T. Tyler, general superintendent of the St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern railway, has tendered his resignation. He formerly was connected with the Great Northern railway.

Traveling Passenger Agent H. Dunn accompanied the special train to Logan this morning. About 250 rooters were worth to cheer the U. S. & R. G. football team at the game with the Argonauts this afternoon.

General Supt. A. E. Welby of the Rio Grande Western returned this afternoon from accompanying General Manager Ridgeway of the D. & R. G. to Grand Junction. Vice President C. S. Schlacks left for Denver yesterday afternoon.

NINETY-ONE YEARS OF AGE.

Mrs. Sarah Curtis Honored by Her Family on Her Anniversary.

Thursday, Nov. 23, was the ninety-first anniversary of the birth of Mrs. Sarah Curtis of this city, and was the occasion for a time of rejoicing at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Anne R. Trowell, corner of Second East and Third South streets, where members of the family assembled to do honor to the worthy veteran. A number of her children, ranging in age from 49 to 40 years, were present, as well as many grandchildren and great-grandchildren, who took occasion to congratulate Grandma Curtis on her long and useful career, and to wish her "many happy returns of the day." A most joyous time was had talking of bygone days and listening to an excellent program of songs, recitations, etc., followed by a sumptuous spread. Mrs. Curtis will be well remembered by early-day missionaries to London, because of her kindly disposition and the hospitality extended them while they stay there. For many years she has been of the city and respected resident of this city.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

The H. S. Alumni musicale to be given in the auditorium on Saturday, Dec. 2, for the benefit of the high school symposium and alumni fund is arousing considerable interest among the friends of the school. A large number of popular alumni and high school girls will act as ushers and the following program will be given:

Selections.....H. S. Double Quartet
Tenor solo.....Mr. Will Sibley
Violin solo.....Mr. Claude J. Nettleton
Soprano solo.....Miss Beatrice O'Connor
Bass solo.....Mr. Peter Odenwalder
Piano solo.....Mrs. Margaret R. Kent
Contralto solo.....Miss Hallie Foster
Guitar solo.....Mr. C. D. Schettler
Baritone solo.....Mr. Winslow Smith

Miss L. C. Taylor entertained at dinner Monday evening at the Manitou in honor of the Utah quartet, covers were laid for ten. The table decorations were red carnations and ferns. After dinner the quartet gave a number of beautiful selections which was greatly enjoyed by all present.

Mrs. Solon Spiro is expecting the arrival here of her mother, Mrs. M. H. Spiro, of Cincinnati, who will accompany Mr. and Mrs. Spiro to California, and later to Honolulu.

Miss Odella Watson and Miss Edith Poulton entertained at the latter's home on Monday evening a number of their friends at the jolliest sort of a party. The house was prettily decorated with cut flowers and ferns. There were present Misses: Emeline Dykes, Nora Warburton, Ruth Hall, Mary Tuckett, Elsie Bull, Marion Tamm, Mary L. Johnson, Cora Clark, Alameda Holmwick, Edith Poulton, Goldie Warburton, Messrs: Dale Olson, James McEwan, Cliff Edwards, Arnold Poulton, Heber Olson, David Huel, Harold Thompson, Ralph Poulton, Oliver Olson, Lester Hedger.

AMUSEMENTS.

It was a big idea of Prof. Stephens to arrange a chorus composed of the pick of all the city choirs, but like many another big idea, it fell short of realization through lack of aid and co-operation. Only a limited number of the choirs responded with enthusiasm, and instead of a choir of 1,000 or 1,500, which might have been made possible, the combined chorus last night probably did not number more than 500 to 600. Still it made an imposing sight, and sent forth a volume of sound that was electrifying to listen to. The whole concert was a notable one in spite of the usual delay in commencing, and in any other community than ours, where there seems to be a feeling of surfeit in all things musical, it would have created a sensation. The concert was especially notable for the reason that the chorus was heard in two numbers entirely new, and one so rarely heard that it might be called new. The march and chorus by Bellini, an organ solo with choral accompaniment, went in fine style. Stephens' "Why do the Nations Rage," which presented the novelty of a duet for two baritones (Mr. Robinson and Mr. Ensign), with the Utah Ladies' quartet singing solo parts, was grandly effective. Mr. McCallan's new chorus set to the familiar hymn "God Moves in a Mysterious Way," was also nobly done. Its most sympathetic and taking parts lie in the middle and at the close. Other sections seemed to be difficult for proper vocalization, but the whole conception is a fine one.

The audience contained a smaller proportion than usual of the encore fiend and not many recalls were insisted on, as the program included twelve numbers. The Utah Ladies' quartet made the usual charming impression, though the selection seemed pitched high for the voices. Mr. Ensign had a big reception, and his fine voice showed off to excellent fashion in "The Shepherd King." The quartette by Messrs. Pyper, Ensign, Graham, Whitney and Spencer, and the male voice selection by the Liberty State chorus, excellently rendered, were the two numbers which had to be repeated. Prof. McCallan was in his best form in his organ solo, and bowed again and again to the applause. Mr. Wallace's beautiful bass voice was finely suited in the "Two Grenadiers" song. Mr. Welke used a carried all before him in his violin solo. Messrs. Ashworth and Robinson gave a ringing duet in ringing style, and Miss Anderson's noble voice was again heard to excellent advantage in one of the best things she does, Handel's "Largo."

The audience was only fair in size, and evidence of the lack of support in the ward organizations, which were supposed to handle the sale of tickets.

At the Theater last night a fairly good turnout saw the new play by Lotie Blair Parker, "Under Southern Skies." Those who remember the same author's "Way Down East" personae reacted too much. At any rate, they left with a considerable feeling of disappointment after witnessing last night's performance. The scenery is beautiful, but the play is on the quiet, semi-pastoral order, that requires the most delicate and artistic handling, and this sort of handling it is only truth to say, the present company of players is not able to give. The best instances of acting were on the part of Miss Wall, Mr. McQuarrie and Mr. Wray. The one bill goes this afternoon and evening.

The date of the opening of the new Orpheum theater has been set for Christmas day, and the force of workmen now on the outside and inside of the house will be augmented to have everything ready by that time. Mr. Jules F. Bliste, who has been assistant manager of the Orpheum in New Orleans, has just arrived to take up the position of resident manager for Salt Lake. He authorizes the statement that every endeavor will be made to open Dec. 25.

BASKET BALL GAME.

The Sugar House basketball team beat the Mill Creek team on the Sugar school grounds yesterday. The game was 0 to 6 in the first half, but later the Sugars woke up and scored 4 baskets making the score 8 to 6. The Murray school came up to Sugar to play the second team, but backed out at the last minute. The first team lineup was as follows: V. Hampton, C. V. Norberg and W. Young, forwards and J. Summerhays and C. Fisher, guards. The Sugar team challenges any public school in the city and county. Sugar has played two games with Murray and two with Mill Creek and has beat every time.

SHAFFER MOTION IS STRICKEN OUT.

Arguments Heard in the Effort to Have Bierer Divorce Decree Set Aside.

RIGHTS ARE NOT PREJUDICED.

Motion Was Based on a Number of Sensational Allegations Against Former Husband.

Judge Morse today granted the motion of plaintiff in the case of Bierer vs. Bierer, in which the defendant, John C. Bierer, asked that the decree of divorce rendered in favor of plaintiff on June 27, 1905. In a sensational pleading, Mr. Shaffer, who is a nephew of the former Mrs. Bierer, asked that the decree of divorce in the case be set aside on the ground that it was secured by false, fraudulent and perjured testimony on the part of plaintiff.

Mr. Bierer, through his attorneys, filed a motion asking that the Shaffer motion be stricken from the files on the ground that it was sham, impertinent, irrelevant, immaterial and scandalous. Judge Morse today heard arguments of the attorneys on the latter motion and granted the same and ordered the motion stricken from the files.

Mr. Shaffer, among other things, alleged in his motion that when Mr. Bierer married his former wife, she had property of the value of $15,000 and that he had disposed of the same and that she died in poverty on July 31, 1905, the day after Mr. Bierer married his present wife. He therefore asked that the decree be set aside in so far as it affected the property rights of the former Mrs. Bierer.

Judge Morse in ordering said motion stricken from the files stated that in so doing the property rights of the heirs of the late Mrs. Bierer would not be prejudiced in the least as they have their proper remedy in equity and may invoke the aid of the courts in securing their rights. The method pursued in this instance, however, he considered not proper and hence the motion was stricken from the files.

DIVORCE SUITS FILED.

Mrs. McAdam and Mrs. Brown Tire of Their Husbands.

Suit for divorce was filed in the district court today by Blanche McAdam against Arthur McAdam on the ground of non-support. They were married at St. Paul, Minn., on July 15, 1894, and it is alleged that ever since Jan. 23, 1905, defendant has failed to support plaintiff. In addition to a decree of divorce plaintiff asks that her maiden name, Blanche Greenwood, be restored to her.

Evelyn J. Brown has filed suit for divorce in the district court against Ralph E. Brown on the ground of failure to support. They were married at Great Falls, Mont., on Nov. 29, 1903, and it is alleged that defendant yesterday failed to provide plaintiff with the common necessities of life. It is further alleged that defendant owns an interest in two ranches in Montana of the total value of $18,000. Plaintiff therefore asks for a divorce and $2,000 as alimony.

SUIT FOR INSURANCE.

Mattie Connervey Sought to Recover on A $2,000 Policy.

Mattie Connervey filed suit in the district court today against the Continental Casualty company to recover $2,000 on an accident insurance policy held by her husband, John C. Connervey, who was killed by falling from a railroad bridge crossing the Snake river in Idaho on June 4, 1905. It is alleged that at the time of Mr. Connervey's death, the policy in defendant company was in full force and effect, and that the company was duly notified of his death as required in the policy and that his death was wholly due to an accident, but that defendant has failed to pay the amount of the policy. Judgment is accordingly asked in the above sum.

COURT NOTES.

In the case of W. W. Wilson against James Sabine, Jr., et al. Judge Morse today rendered a decree quieting plaintiff's title to some real estate located in the county.

A decree quieting plaintiff's title to a large number of lots in various additions to Salt Lake was rendered by Judge Morse today in the case of Mary Lawrence against P. T. Elwell and about 50 other defendants.

Judge Morse today rendered a decree in favor of plaintiff in the case of the Salt Lake Investment company against Mrs. Martha J. Farria et al. quieting plaintiff's title to part of the southwest quarter of section 11, township 1 south, range 1 east, Salt Lake meridian.

In the case of Abbie G. Whitney against Edwin T. Rice et al. Judge Morse has rendered a decree of foreclosure of mortgage in favor of plaintiff. The amount of the judgment is $730.91 principal and interest and $75 as attorney's fees, and $13.20 costs. The property involved is lots 22 and 23, Pendleton's subdivision of block 25, five-acre plat A, Big Field survey.

A KNOTTY CASE.

Taken Under Advice Because of Legal Entanglements.

The case of Mrs. Lindsay Hutchinson against A. Dokas et al. which was tried in Judge Whitaker's division of the city court yesterday, presents an unusual number of legal entanglements which will require some time to solve. The court now has the matter under advisement and will render a decision in a few days. According to the testimony Mrs. Hutchinson rented a store room at Bingham Junction to Gust Shirk who sublet it to Danapolis & Co. Martin & Co. filed an attachment against Danapolis & Co. and seized the latter's stock of goods. While they were being held by the sheriff, Mrs. Hutchinson became due for the store room and Mrs. Hutchinson filed an attachment suit and attempted to seize the property in his hands. The sheriff disregarded Mrs. Hutchinson's attachment and proceeded to sell the goods which were bid in by Martin & Co. They afterwards sold the goods to A. Dokas and as Mrs. Hutchinson claimed a lien on the property sold, she claimed that the sale was illegal and sued Dokas to recover the same. The case was tried yesterday and taken under advisement.

FUNERAL OF A PIONEER.

Remains of Mary Gray Tenderly Laid To Rest Yesterday Afternoon.

Simple and impressive were the funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Gray, which were held yesterday afternoon in the Fourteenth ward meeting-house. The lady was thronged to the extent of the capacity of the house, many of whom were aged pioneers, who had crossed the plains with her, and were comforted by the three score and ten mark in years.

Among the speakers was Homer Duncan, captain of the company in which Mrs. Gray crossed the plains, who is in his ninety-second year, and he stated that he could not remain at home despite his advanced age, as he wanted to pay his tribute of respect to Mrs. Gray, and to lead a final testimony of her kindness to immigrants in distress during the journey to Utah. With her brother, Samuel Russell, and three sisters, she had started the journey, and whenever anyone was sick or in trouble she and her sisters were ready with aid and comfort. At one time an immigrant was a faithful member of his yoke of cattle, and the speaker told of applying to Mrs. Gray's brother for help. The services were in charge of Bishop J. E. Langford, who presided over the service, and made a touching address. The choir consisted of old friends of the deceased, Mrs. Maggie Hall and Mrs. J. E. Langford, who sang a duet, "There is Hope Beyond the Grave," in a touching manner, and at the grave Mrs. Hall rendered a solo.

The speakers were President Jos. P. Smith, Elder John Henry Smith, Elder Charles W. Penrose, Captain Homer Duncan, President Nephi L. Morris, and Bishop Taylor.

President Smith spoke of his early acquaintance with Mrs. Gray and of the high esteem in which he held her during the long years in which they had lived in the same company with the deceased, and bore a strong testimony of his faith in the life beyond the grave.

The invocation was offered by Bishop J. E. Langford, and the closing prayer by Elder John Henry Smith. The funeral occurred in the city cemetery.

SHE MADE $100 A DAY.

Senator Platt, in a humorous speech, was praising a woman at a dinner party.

"And her business ability," he exclaimed. "Only the other day the young wife of a young friend of mine said excitedly to her husband on his return home:

"John, I have made more money than you today."

"How much have you made?" he asked.

"A hundred dollars," she said proudly.

"Good, good," cried the young man. "And how did you make it?"

"Well," said the young lady, "you know my old piano that you paid only $50 for? I sold it today for $50."

"Gracious and what are you going to do with all the money?" he asked.

"Oh, there isn't any money," she said, "yet."

"You see, I sold the piano to a dealer," she explained. "He gives me a new one for $50, and allows me $40 for the old one. Haven't I done well? If you stay home and let me run your business for you, you'd grow rich. Think, $100 a day! That is over $30,000 a year!"

A UNIQUE BRIDGE OVER TWO RIVERS.

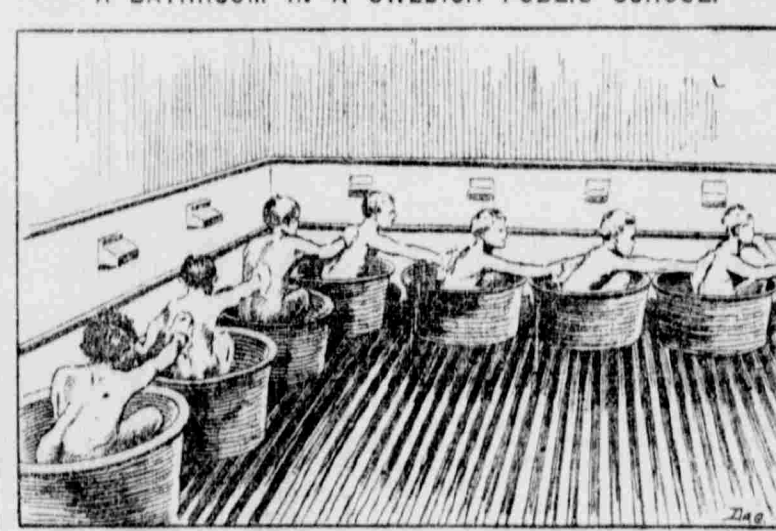

The curious Y shaped bridge shown in the cut is at Zanesville, O., and is a structure of three arms, joining in the center and affording a means of transit over the Muskingum and Licking rivers. The bridge is of steel and concrete and cost $200,000. The entire structure comprises eight spans, with a total length of 1,600 feet. The east arm is 420 feet, the north arm 300 and the west arm 280. The bridge is as ornamental as it is substantial.

HOUSE OF A LONG ISLAND HERMIT.

The odd structure shown in the picture is the habitation of Charles Modler, an eccentric German who has lived for several years on a narrow stretch of land reaching out into Gardiner's Bay, Long Island sound. No other human being lives in the vicinity, the spot being nine miles from a settlement by land and half that distance by water. The hermit appears occasionally in the nearest village and obtains a few supplies and then returns to his solitary home. It is a wild region in winter time, and Modler has rescued several persons who were driven ashore by the storm. His only company is an especially intelligent dog, and the pair form a sort of life saving crew.

A BATHROOM IN A SWEDISH PUBLIC SCHOOL.

The scene depicted in the cut may be witnessed on any school day in any one of the public schools of Stockholm. Three days of the week are assigned to the boys and the remainder of the time to the girls, and every pupil's turn comes once in two or three weeks. Ten to twenty bathe at the same time, and it is practically a continuous performance. It has been found to be markedly conducive to health. It will be seen that each pupil scrubs the pupil in front of him.
