Saturday was general report day in the juvenile court and 42 boys and four girls appeared before Judge Brown to report as to their conduct since being put on probation. They all assembled in a room adjoining the courtroom and listened to a short talk in regard to the work of the court by Judge Brown. They were then instructed to report again next Saturday and were allowed to go. When they got to the room they lined up and gave three hearty cheers for the judge and then trooped down the stairs making as much noise as a company of soldiers.

The fifth ward Sunday school was yesterday reorganized with Elder William Green as superintendent, Frederick Muggleston, first assistant, and John A. Burt, second assistant. The changes were made necessary through the calling of Supt. George E. Burbridge to the High Council of Pioneer Stake. His assistants, Elders Thomas C. Nuttall and Alex. Buchanan, Jr., were released on account of having other duties to perform, the former being president of the Elders' quorum and the latter stake superintendent of the Young Men's Mutual Improvement Association.

Logan boys have talked up a local troop of cavalry to the organizing point, and 60 men have promised to enlist and furnish their own horses if mustered in as a cavalry troop. But the law provides for only one cavalry organization, and troop A is at present in evidence as that organization. However, the Logan boys are not without hopes that some arrangement can be effected whereby Troop A can be transferred to the battery which would profit much by such action, and again the Logan troop can be mustered in. The fact that the Logan boys all own their horses will militate in their favor.

A masquerade ball and card party will be given by the George R. Maxwell club, G. A. R., at the Federation of Labor hall, Thursday evening, April 27. Prizes and punch will be features of the program, which is intended to be a large social gathering for the benefit of members of the post and their friends. Cecil Raine, an infant who was born only three days ago, has the distinction of being the youngest child ever legally adopted in the courts of this county. Judge Armstrong on Saturday granted the petition of John S. and Amanda A. McCallum to adopt the little one and it is now their legal child. The child may never know the pathetic circumstances surrounding its birth and will never know what prompted its mother to give it away. The facts are that Mrs. Raine's husband deserted her two weeks ago and left her and her four small children absolutely penniless. The mother did not feel equal to the task of providing for the new born babe, so she found suitable persons who would care for it and give it a good home and proper training. As she was unable to be in court to give her consent to the adoption of the child by Mr. and Mrs. McCallum, Judge Armstrong and his stenographer went to her room where Attorney Ray Van Cott, who drew up the papers, and secured her formal consent for the adoption.

UTAH AT THE PORTLAND FAIR.

Commission Issues Circular Letter Urging Co-operation of all Citizens.

STATE'S PECULIAR INTEREST.

Exhibits Invited, Which Should be in Hands of Commission Not Later Than May 15

A public statement has been issued by the Utah Lewis and Clark exposition commission, to the citizens of this state, urging them to co-operate with the commissioners in making Utah's exhibit at the Portland fair a very creditable one. The statement follows in full:

Citizens of Utah: One hundred years ago Meriwether Lewis and William Clark, under the direction of President Thomas Jefferson, crossed the continent, explored the northwest and won for this nation the magnificent empire that stretches from the backbone of the continent to the prolific waters of the Pacific ocean. An inspiring page of American history tells of the achievement of these pioneers.

Proud of this achievement, and revealing in the prosperity that followed it, the people of the northwest have completed plans for the celebration of the centennial anniversary of the arrival of the pioneers in an exposition to be held in the city of Portland opening June 1 and closing Oct. 15. The sum of $5,000,000 has been secured for the purpose. The promise is given that the display of the resources of the west and of the spirit will be the greatest in history.

UTAH'S PECULIAR INTEREST.

Utah is peculiarly interested in this exposition. There is much in the story of the heroes who won the west for our nation to appeal with force to the people of this state, children and beneficiaries of a similar band of state builders. In addition to this, Utah holds much in common with the states of the west. The time is a time of industry and business, socially and politically, the states of the Pacific slope are linked in the closest ties. Most travelers from the east and south will pass through Utah when they visit Portland next summer.

The Legislature appropriated $50,000 to enable our state to make an exhibit at this exposition. As a basis the commission have in their possession part of the display made at St. Louis last year. They have arranged for the erection of a state building on a choice spot at the fair, and in this one building will be arranged all that Utah has to show.

CO-OPERATION URGED.

The citizens of the entire state are urged to co-operate with the commission to the end that Utah, the baby sister in the family of commonwealths, may appear to advantage in the eyes of visitors from all parts of the world. The time is a time of industry and business, socially and politically, the states of the Pacific slope are linked in the closest ties. Most travelers from the east and south will pass through Utah when they visit Portland next summer.

TOO ACCOMMODATING.

Murray Man Cashes Check for a Stranger and Loses $40.

Jules Vallens of Murray will hesitate a long time before he cashes a check for a stranger again. He did this Saturday night at the Rio Grande depot, and as a result he is out just $40.

It is the same old story. Vallens met a most affable stranger. During their conversation in a near by saloon, a third man "buted in" and demanded that the affable stranger should cash a check for $40. The "friend" only had $1 and a check for $30. The latter he induced Vallens to cash. Vallens had $40, but he handed it over and took the check.

About an hour later when he woke up, he called at the police station and asked the officers to help find the "con" man.

About Rheumatism.

There are new diseases that inflict more torture than rheumatism and there is probably no disease for which such a varied and useless lot of remedies have been suggested. To say that it can be cured is therefore, a bold statement to make. But Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which cures an extensive sale, has met with great success in the treatment of this disease. One application of Pain Balm affords such quick relief and costs but a trifle. For sale by all druggists.

Burly Brute Pounces Upon a Helplessly Intoxicated Prisoner.

There was a vicious fight in the drunk-house of the city last Saturday night, and as a result Billy Solis is nursing many cuts and bruises inflicted by one P. K. Quigley, under arrest for destroying property.

Solis was in a terrible state of intoxication and could offer little resistance to Quigley, who pounced upon Solis, beat him and kicked him about the face and head. Solis was found by Jailor Parry and was removed to the hospital where a physician attended to his injuries. Solis fainted twice on the operating table.

Dr. Beer had to take more than a dozen stitches to close up the wounds.
