Local and Other Matters.

FROM THURSDAYS DAILY, Oct. 11.

The Investigation.—The investigation of the shooting affair between Major Nounnan and Mr. J. M. Richardson was to take place at four o'clock this afternoon, before Justice Pyper.

Accident.—Yesterday, Mr. R. F. Neslen, employed with Messrs. Jennings & Sons, was struck on the side of the head by a box of goods, which accidentally fell from the elevator. He was stunned and rendered insensible for a short time, but we are pleased to learn that his injury is not serious.

Juvenile Audacity.—This morning a countryman missed his whip from his wagon. Shortly afterwards he found it in the hands of a small boy. The boy picked up a rock and threatened to hurl it at the head of the owner of the whip, because he took the article away from him.

Kidnapping.—A case of kidnapping is alleged to have occurred at Bountiful a few days since. It is stated that a young girl who resided at that place was decoyed from her home by an Indian. Efforts are being made to get the girl away from her dusky captors and return her to her relatives.

Notice.—The home missionaries of this Stake of Zion will preach in all the Wards of this City, Sunday evening, October 14th, except the Fifth and Twenty-first Wards.

It is desired that all the Bishops in this Stake will furnish the Presidency thereof, as early as practicable, information as to the time meetings are held in their respective Wards.

Lost and Found.—Yesterday morning Newton Farr, son of May or Farr, left the Woolen Mills north-east of Ogden suffering severely from an attack of cholera morbus, and was not found till late last evening, when he was discovered in a patch of brush near Jones' Grove and taken home. He had crossed and recrossed Ogden River and was in a dangerous condition, but we hope he will speedily recover. So we learn from last evening's Junction.

Home Missionary Labors.—At the meeting of home missionaries for this Stake, called at the late Conference, held last evening, it was decided to make the appointments of the brethren known to them by hanging a list at the President's office. By means of this list the missionaries can learn on the Friday or Saturday previous the Wards they are appointed to preach in the following Sunday.

It was also decided that the missionaries, as a commencement to their labors, should preach next Sunday in the Wards in which they reside.

Museum.—Some fine specimens of sugar beet have been received from Bishop C. Madsen of Gunnison, where beets are being raised with a view to the home manufacture of sugar.

A specimen of woodpecker, the red shafted variety, has been received from Bishop Burt, of the 21st Ward.

Also the programme and statement of proceedings at the Davenport Academy of Sciences on the 4th inst., on which occasion the foundation stone of a museum for that important institution was laid by the Grand Master of the Lodge of Iowa, in the presence of thousands of spectators.

An ode for the occasion, written by Dr. C. C. Parry, the distinguished botanist, was read, and the entire proceedings were a success.

Civilization.—On Saturday a cleanly and good-looking Indian, from Thistle Valley, was in our office. A person standing near, asked him if he were a "Mormon." He answered—"Yes. Me Mormon. No steal."

"How many Indian Mormons are in Thistle Valley?" said the interrogator.

The Indian counted several tens and six on his fingers and said—"Mermons. No steal."

The Latter-day Saints are seeking, by precept and example, to teach the Indians to refrain from all evil habits, and when they come forward and demand baptism at the hands of the Elders, as they do in many instances, they perfectly understand that they must thereafter observe strictly the principles of morality and virtue.

Portraits of Celebrities.—Recently an exchange published a statement of the sale of photographic portraits of notable men. The highest number, according to the figures given, of likenesses sold of any one person, was a little rising of 30,000.

If the figures were anything like correct, it is probable that more photographic representations of President Brigham Young have been sold than of any other distinguished man. We are informed by Mr. Charles R. Savage that the number disposed of at his establishment alone is, according to the best approximation he can make, 50,000. Taking these figures as correct, and adding the sales by other establishments, the number of photographic pictures of President Young sold could not be far, if anything, short of 100,000.

District Court.—Wednesday, October 10th.

The People, etc., vs. Thomas J. Brandon, larceny; verdict of guilty by the jury. The prisoner was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

Thursday, Oct. 11.

Samuel L. Hoyt vs. John Ralinson et al; default and judgment; referred to the clerk to compute. $2,909.07; costs $29.10.

The People, etc., vs. Grant and Woods, larceny; David Woods was arraigned, withdrew the plea of not guilty and plead guilty; verdict of guilty; sentence suspended. The prisoner was released on his own recognizances.

The People &c., vs. William Wilson; nolle entered.

The People &c., vs. Grant and Woods; defendant Grant was arraigned and plead guilty; verdict of guilty. The defendant was sentenced to imprisonment for two years and six months, in the penitentiary, at hard labor.

Rose Ella Jenkins, by her guardian, &c., vs. Salt Lake City Railroad Company; jury trial in progress.

Lamentable Case.—To-day a man coming toward the city from north found a man on the road apparently in a dying condition. He brought him to the city in his wagon and left him on the market lot. His ghastly appearance attracted a number of people, and he was subsequently taken by Captain Burt, in a carriage, to the City Hall, with a view of having him properly cared for.

He appears to be in an advanced stage of consumption. He states that his name is Henry Hager, that he was formerly of Cleveland, Ohio that he came to this Territory in the fore part of last summer, since which time, until lately, he worked for a man at Sessions. He also states that his employer, after he was taken ill and unable to work, turned him off.

The Surrender.—The Indian war just concluded by the surrender of Chief Joseph to General Miles is probably unparalleled. Throughout the campaign the Indians have shown magnanimity, generosity and even bravery that have been worthy the emulation of their white antagonists. Such a man as Joseph is not a savage by instinct or otherwise. His entire conduct throughout this war, if it can be so entitled, has shown plainly that he was not fighting to satiate a desire to wantonly and savagely shed the blood of his fellow creatures. His frequent action in liberating women and children, and the fact that his enemies say, in speaking of the fighting Nez Percés, "they are credited with numerous acts of humanity to wounded whites," show plainly that he has not been prompted by a spirit of revenge. The object must then have been of a higher order, and one probably that would, combined with the intrepidity, bravery, ability and magnanimity he has displayed, have stamped him as one of the heroes of the times, but for the fact that he is an Indian.

Notwithstanding the higher civilization claimed by the Whites, in the war just ended there has been a transposition of the evidences of true civilization from the White to the Indian.

The best method of solving Indian difficulties is to take the position and maintain it that the Red Men have rights that demand as much respect as those of their white neighbors. They should be taught and generously aided in the cultivation of the arts of peace and industry. In these matters the Latter-day Saints are setting an example that is worthy of emulation by all.

Pistols This Time.—Something of a sensation was created on East Temple Street, about eleven o'clock to-day, by Major James H. Nounnan and Mr. Jeremiah M. Richardson trying to send each other to the world beyond by perforating each other with bullets.

Mr. Richardson was on the sidewalk in front of Siegel Brothers' clothing store, while Major Nounnan was in front of Clasby & Hogle's saloon. Each party claims that the other fired first. From what we can learn from parties who were near the scene of the shooting, it appears that Mr. Richardson dodged behind Mr. Robert Dye, Jr., the barber, fired, and then sprang into Siegel Brothers' doorway, while the Major fired and retreated toward the entrance of the saloon already named.

Major Nounnan was unhurt, but Mr. Richardson received a painful flesh wound in the forefinger.

Mr. Dye, who was an entirely disinterested party, was slightly injured and narrowly escaped being dangerously if not fatally wounded. One bullet struck his suspender buckle, made an indentation in it, glanced around and passed through his vest and coat without as much as inflicting a scratch on his body. Another ball struck his ear cutting it, and the temple near the eye was also slightly injured. Both parties were arrested and taken to the City Hall, and subsequently released on bail until an examination could be had.

It is only a few days since that we recorded the fact of Mr. Richardson making an attack upon Major Nounnan with a cowhide, and now both parties assail each other with more murderous weapons. The cause of the cowhiding assault is, as has been before stated, known to have originated from a difference between the parties in relation to the Richmond-Teresa mining suit, in which Mr. Richardson is interested and in which Major Nounnan testified adversely to his side of the cause. We refrain from commenting upon the affair of this morning, the facts not having yet been elucidated at a regular investigation.

Help or We Perish.

This is what neglected teeth would say if they could remonstrate with their owners; and mark this, the teeth cannot perish or become black or yellow if the SOZODONT is used daily. dsw

Economic Aspect.

The economic aspect is a strong point in favor of Dr. Price's Special Flavoring Extracts, Vanilla, Orange, Rose, Almond, Lemon, etc. They are three times the strength of the ordinary extracts; the bottles hold nearly twice as much as those sold for the same size. 2
