WISCONSIN, Oct. 5.—The Republicans of that State have adopted a resolution to withdraw from the Union. John W. D. Pritchard, who is the principal speaker, has been frequently interrupted by enthusiastic applause from the large audience present.

President Eliot opened with an outline of Wisconsin's history and a review of her political condition. He said that she was in a crisis now. In Political Science and a review of her political education and invited model it appears to the war with Spain and the problems before us.

He reviewed the opposition in California. Wisconsin's leaders, he said, are not to be blamed for their failure to do more effectively than they did. The speaker stated that the state had done its duty in the interest of justice and honor, and that the people of Wisconsin were advancing and improving.

FRUIT, especially apples, is showing great promise in Central America, according to the latest information received.

"Our interests will not prosper if we do not help them to succeed," said the author.

"The interests of the country are represented by Aspinwall, who is to be commended for his labor in the promotion of Central American fruit.
