L. B. MATTHEWSON, formerly of "Mattison & Johnson," announces to the Farmers and Freighters of Utah, that he is "general agent" for the "Mitchell Farm, Fight and Spring Wagons." I ask of those who are wanting wagons, to examine the New Patent Steel Spring Wagons. My stock of Spring Wagons, used only on the "Mitchell Farm," used only on the "Mitchell Farm," will be complete, from the largest, down to the most stylish top Buggy. I shall carry a full line of the famous "Champion Reapers and Mowers," which are too well known to need comment. I will mention the "New" "Champion Haymaker Mower," something new in Mowing Machinery. Call or send for a circular. I have just secured the agency for "Russell's" Mowers, Ohio, "Thrashing Machines," and "Portable Steam Engines," and can furnish them at a reduced price. LOANS AND OTHER MATTERS.

High Council.—All the members of the High Council are requested to meet at the Council House on Wednesday morning, the 27th inst., at 10 o'clock a. m.

Wm. W. Taylor, Clerk.

Lecture.—We are requested to announce that Brother James Burges will deliver a lecture, under the auspices of the T. W. L. A., on Thursday evening, at 7:30, in the Tenth Ward School-house, on the "History of the Government of the United States." Admission free to all.

Lecture.—To-morrow evening Prof. J. G. Jones will deliver his lecture on "National Reminiscences of the Late War," under the auspices of the Seventh Ward Improvement Association, at the assembly room of that ward. Seven o'clock is the hour for opening. The public are invited, free of charge.

Health.—Pangloss is an excellent place for people to go to who are out of health. Bishop Seelye, of Salt Lake, is in town. He presided at the 18th Ward Meeting house yesterday afternoon, and in the course of his remarks, stated that the population of Pangloss is about 500, that there had been no deaths, and scarcely any sickness among them for the last half year. The climate is somewhat colder than here, but is remarkably healthy.

Lowetab.—Number 9 will contain the latest part of the 11th and 12th parts of the 12th chapter, the contents of which are as follows:

The spirit of apostasy is still preventing at Kirtland—Joseph, Sidney Rigdon and Thomas B. Harnett perform a mission to Upper Canada—John Taylor baptizes—Frederick C. Williams, three of the Twelve, and Martin Harris are rejected—Vain attempt to re-convert them—Church—Joseph and Sidney Rigdon start for Far West—Oliver Cowdery, David Whitmer and others are out of the Church—Martin Harris and Oliver Cowdery unite themselves again with the Church—Their last testimony.

Fire.—About eight o'clock last night a great blaze was seen a few miles south of the city. It proceeded from the Wash Building, which was in flames. The works were situated immediately east of the line of the Utah Southern Railroad, and had not been running for two weeks. There appears to be little room for doubt that the fire was incendiary, but what could have set it on fire is a mystery.

The buildings and machinery were largely consumed, with the exception of the granary. We are informed that the value of the property destroyed amounts to something over $40,000.

Fatal Snowslide.—There was a snowslide in the neighborhood of Turner's Cove, sawmill, Centre Canyon, near Provo Valley, Wasatch County, on Tuesday, February 19. Nels Jonasson was completely buried. A young man named Parley Munkie was also caught, but fortunately his head remained clear of the snow. After a hard struggle he succeeded in extricating himself and procured the assistance of three other men, from the mill. After about seven hours assiduous labor they succeeded in digging out the body of Nels Jonasson, quite dead. He was a married man. This is said to be the first accident of the kind that has occurred since the settlement of the valley.

We learn the following facts by letter from a Brother Alexander Fortie, J. of Idaho City.

Sunday School Jubilee.—There was a delightful jubilee yesterday of the co-located Sunday Schools of the 3rd and 5th Wards, at the school-house of the latter. The exercises consisted of singing hymns, speaking verses from the history of the Church, and the faith and doctrine. A little daughter of Brother Joseph Green and one of Brother W. W. Johnson, each being three and four years of age, repeated distinctly and without error, the Lord's Prayer. A couple of children sang a song very nicely, some recitations were rendered, and brief addresses were delivered by Brothers George Goodard and S. L. Evans.

Both schools are in good condition. Brother John Cowan is superintendent of that of the Fifth Ward and Brother Frederick Goss of the 3rd.

Obituary.

We have to record the death of another noble daughter of Zion, Sister Josephine de la Harpe Uremanbach. She was a native of Switzerland, and of a very ancient family, one of the noble members of which have left an honorable name in the history of their country, as military men. General de la Harpe served under Napoleon the first. Her father was Seigneur de la Harpe, a man of wealth and position. She was reared in affluence and received a liberal education; early in life she married. Monsieur Uremanbach, a Russian official at the Court of St. Petersburg, and she moved in the highest ranks of society. In a few years she was left a widow with three children. Her two daughters are now residing at St. Petersburg in high life; her son Joseph is at the time in New York; she embraced the Gospel in her native land, and shortly after emigrated to Utah, bringing her young son with her. She crossed the Plains in the "Hand-Cart Company," and suffered much, drawing her hand-cart all through that long journey. She has borne her testimony to many of the nobles of the earth, among them Victor Hugo, who once visited her under her own hand, giving her credit for being a shrewd and noble woman. She has lived and died in obscurity, being but little known or appreciated. But she made her calling and election sure, and her name will yet be held in honorable remembrance in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Republished in part. H. T. K.

Salt Lake City, February 15, 1878.

Whopping Cough.

This malady is very prevalent in some portions of the City just now, whole families of children, in many instances, being affected with it. People who assume to know what this time of the year is the most favorable season to have the complaint, as it generally wears off with the approach of warm, genial weather.

To-Night.

The famous play of Manappa to-night at the Theatre, Miss Fanny Louise Buckingham makes no common hero of the wild-horse ride. She has made the character a specialty and given to it new features. Her splendid stand, James Melville, is a highly trained performing animal and seems to join in the spirit of the piece. There will most likely be a large audience to-night and a very enjoyable entertainment.

A CARD OF THANKS.

In behalf of the relatives of Sister J. Uremanbach, I express my sincere thanks to all those who have made her last days pleasant by attending to her wants. I especially thank Elder Joseph F. Smith, who kindly consented to deliver the funeral address. Thanks also to the authorities of the 16th Ward, the choir, and all those who paid their last respects to the departed, and I am sure that in publishing this I meet the wish of her children, who dwell in foreign lands.

E. SHONFELD.

A Heavy Affliction.—It will be seen, by obituary notice in another column, that three more children of Brother George B. Bailey, of Mill Creek, have died of that dreadful malady, diphtheria, in three successive days, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. These make seven in the same family within the short space of one month that have succumbed to the fearful disease, the demise of five of them having occurred within one week.

Everything that could be thought of to arrest the progress of the disease was done for the suffering little ones, but all of no avail.

The remaining members of the family are in deep sorrow because of the bereavement, and a widespread sympathy is felt for them.

Steam and Air-Heating.

The ordinary method of heating buildings, by stoves and open fire-grates, is going gradually into disfavor, and the steam and air-heating processes are being gradually adopted instead. Our well-known townsman, Mr. David James, who recently returned from a trip to the east, has secured the agency for Warner's low pressure steam-heating apparatus, which is manufactured under the Gold patent. He is also agent for Gold's patent hot-air furnace.

While east Mr. James visited numbers of buildings heated by the low pressure steam system, especially dwellings. Some of the latter, three stories high, were kept at a uniformly agreeable temperature, in every room, at a very small expense for fuel, from six to seven cents being the amount consumed first of May. In such houses the only open fire is kept in the kitchen, for cooking purposes. It is generally conceded that of steam and air, the former is the better method, the latter creating an atmosphere, that is too dry to be healthful.

The improved apparatus dispenses with the services of an engineer, and can be attended to by an ordinarily careful hired woman, to keep the fuel up, at stated intervals. The advantages of this system of heating over open fires must be apparent to everybody. No dust, no carrying about of coal, no comparatively small danger of fire, no going to bed with the air warm, and having to get up in the morning when it is down to zero, etc.

Feeding Horses.

A writer in Country Gentleman gives the following valuable information upon this subject:

"For a period of 30 years, more or less, horses have been under my control. I personally supervised the feeding. During that time no horses have died, and I have had little sickness, straw cut with a saw-horse roller, has been in continual use till the present time. In the cutting of the food for two meals, enough is saved to pay for the purchase. While the horses are eating their dinner, enough can be cut for the next meal; then watered, to moisten it and destroy the dust, and with it four quarts of meal is ample for each horse. The meal is one-third corn, one-third oats, and the other shorts. A variety is made by giving a few small portions of carrots weekly. The benefits resulting from this manner of feeding, are that we have no sick horses, they being always in good health and order; there is no danger of founder from hard meal feeding, when too warm; they can eat it sooner, and are ready to go out; neither is anything wasted by throwing from the manger, etc."—The highest praise more or less, as no whole grain is passed or lost.

CROSS BARRET

marked with tin, wood, leather, or other tags, or in any other manner are solely for the benefit of the manufacturer.

It saves interest, as a single package gives the dealer all the sizes he requires, it is not necessary to keep six or eight open at a time as is usually the case.

The manufacturer is able to make a better chew in a pound lump than in a smaller one for the same money. No loss can accrue from change of styles or variation in prices. Most dealers know by bitter experience how great an advantage this is. It is manufactured with the utmost care and each plug is perfect in chew and style.
