Again After the Yaqui Indians .-Advices from Mexican sources in So-

"Three columns of Mexican troops were set in motion against the Yaquis last week—one column of 1,200 men under Generals Leiva and Carrillo with two mitrailleuses from the west, and General Camano, with a force about equal in number and two howitzers from the southeast. A heavy column of cavalry is also moving from the fortified town of Buena Vista on the northeast. This demonstration is toward the Yaqui fortifications at Agaa Callente, and is intended to facilitate the movements of General Camano's column. General Martinez, the commandant, will soon take up his headquarters at Barolica. General Otero, the owner of the great Almo rancho, has the position strongly fortified, and the rancho is sufficiently manned to boid it against any demonstration from the Indians. Barolica on the southeast. Buena Vista on the northeast and Cruz de Piedras on the west are also fortified. It is an admirably planned campaign. There will be four heavy columns of troops moving upon them from different directions. This will tend to concentrate them into their fortified strongholds, thus freeing the them from different directions. This will tend to concentrate them into their fortified strongholds, thus freeing the towns and cultivated portions of the valley of their presence, and allowing them to fall into the hands of the national forces almost without a shot. The town of Torin, as Cajeme well understands, is the key of the whole githation. This place will doubtless be occupied by General Martinez in less than two weeks. Then the Ysquis will concentrate on a strongly fortified place only three miles from Torin, where Martinez will probably allow them to remain in pests until starved into complete submission."

DEATH IN A SNOWSLIDE.

BONAPARTE JOHNSTON MEETS WITH A SUDDEN AND

For a good many years past, probably ever since about the time of the my came up against Utah for the urpose of exterminating the Latterday Saints, there has resided in this region a peculiar individual who rejoiced in the rather distinguished litle of Napoleon Bonaparte Johnston, and was sometimes called "Bony" for short. He claimed to be a son of General Albert Sidney Johnston, the gen City, well and favorably known in commander of the army before this city, where here he formerly lived, mentioned, and as he was evidently an octoroon, or possibly a quadroon, he probably had good reason for doing so. He had no family or settled occupation or place of abode, another, apparently with little ambition more than to live. He had a pretty fair education, was very fond of talking, was quite enthusiastic in religious matters, and was regarded by many people as a good-natured, harmless kind of a "crank." During the past year or two he has been mostly employed in Lamb's canon, but occasionally found brief spells elsewhere, latterly sometimes in Big Cottonwood Ward. About three weeks ago a resident of that ward by the name of Nielson having agreed to buy some timber of him if he got some out, he started up Neff's canon for that purpose, though he was warned against doing so by a man named Anderson, who narrowly escaped being buried in a snowslide there three

Some of the residents of East Mill Creek who knew of his going up the canon felt concerned for his safety during the snow storms that occurred shortly afterwards, but their fears were allayed by a rumor that he had returned to Big Cottonwood. On Tuesday morning last, however, they learned that this was not correct, as he had not been seen since going up the canon, and two of the brethren from East Mill Creek—Christian Nielsen and Isaac Moses-went up in

THE UTAH GOVERNORSHIP.

IT seems there are a good many aspirants for the office offGovernor of Utah, the Coast papers from Washington, the parshals called on Joseph H. Dean, of fight for the appointment has already begun. It is said that as usual, Kentucky furnishes several candidates, the most prominent of waom is Judge Kale, who is a well-known lawyer of that State. At the last State election he was a candidate for the nomination of Secretary of State, but was defeated. Carlisle took him to see the President on the 22d, and urged his appointment. As a result of the conference, West filed an application for the office. The same dispatch says here several months during the winter. He was then warmly urged by Judge

LAWFUL COHABITATION About 11:30 a.m. to-day Deputy T. F. Smith served a warrant of arrest upon John Bergen, engaged at the U. O. of Tailors, on the charge of unlawful cohabitation. He was taken before Commissioner McKay, and Mariah Mettson, Anna Black, Johanna Witzell and E. J. Witzell were supposnaed as witnesses. The complaint is made by the deputy, Tom F. Smith, and alleges that from April 1, 1888, March 26, 1886, the defendant lived and claimed as his wives, Mrs. John Bergen, Mrs. Jane Doe Bergen, and Mrs.

E. J. Witzell, testified to having heard the two women spoken of as the defendant's wives. The Commissioner ruled that there was sufficient evidence to make conviction probable, and placed the defendant under $1,500 bonds, which were furnished, as was also $200 bail for each of the witnesses.

GOVERNOR MURRAY'S RE-MOVAL. JACK MORMONS" CHARGED WITH PROCURING IT.

The following was published in this morning's Tribune as a special: Washington, March 25.—It is believed that Governor Murray's removal is due to the backing given the Mormons by what are known as "Jack Mormons." Prof. Holden filed an opinion with the President to the effect that the Territory of Utah needed no legislation. He set forth that Utah needed only schools and churches. Postmaster W. C. Browe, while here, hobnobed with John T. Caine, and said that the bringing in of the soldiers to guard the city, the ordering of cannons to be brought into Salt Lake, and the placing of an additional battery at Fort Douglas, were all unnecessary

It is stated that the chairman of the House Judiciary committee (J. Ran-dolph Tucker, of Virginia,) and which committee has now under considera-tion the Edmunds bill as it came from the Senate, has a brother in this city who has been retained as the paid at-torney of the Mormon Church. Delegate Cain feels confident. His private secretary is exultant over the prospects that legislation can only be had by a hard and bitter fight.

Mr. (Springer introduced the old veteran, General John A. McClernand, to the Presidentito-day, who was very complimentary in his references to the eminent service of the General. He declines to state what was said by himself or the President on the subject of the Governorship, but it is known that he was formally tendered the place which his friends say he will decline, as the Governorship of Utah at the present juncture of affairs is not considered by General McClernand's friends as suitable to a man of his age and physical condition. It is understood he has expressed a disinclination to assume the annoyances and close. stood he has expressed a disinclination to assume the annoyances and close application required of the Governor of Utah, but might probably accept the chairmanship of the Commission. Mr. Springer's interest is prompted by the fear that McClernand will rnn for Congress from his district.

THAT BREWERY NUISANCE AGAIN. AN APPEAL FROM ONE OF THE SUF-FERERS. SALT LAKE CITY, March 26th, 1886.

If there is such a thing as an acme to subtlety and imposition, then the Salt Lake City Brewing Company are entitled to the appellation.

A petition was presented in the City Council last week, by a committee who represented the citizens of the First and Tenth Wards, calling the attention of the City Fathers to an intolerable nuisance arising from and through cer-tain fifth which flows from the Salt tain fifth which flows from the Salt Lake Brewery. I am not aware of anything having been done to remedy the evil, although they (the brewing company) have turned their rubbish, as heretofore, from one street to another, and promised certain citizens in the Tenth Ward that they would not be annoyed with the nuisance any longer. Mr. Moritz, one of the proprietors of the brewery, acknowledges that the stench referred to does exist, and in order to do justice (?) to the residents of both wards, he has turned one-third of the brewery refuse down to the canal, and two-thirds down to the abominable cesspools.

where Martinez will probably allow them to remain in peace until stayed into complete submission."

Penitentiary Guard Beaten.—
Shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon a) sanguinary conflict occurred on a street car in the Eleventh Ward, in which one of the penitentiary guards was beaten unmercifully. A number of soldiers were on the car, It is about time that the evil was suppressed. Could that company not be sued for damages by citizens who are and have been suffering through sickness on account of the -n sickness on account of the nuisance, which I believe and can prove has been caused by the death-dealing matter?

The quarantine officer erected a yellow flag on the premises immediately west of the cesspools yesterday. I would suggest that he come down as quickly as possible and erect several yellow flags on the cesspools, which are full and reeking with the odious stuff. The smell is oftentimes unbestable to those who live below, and was ble to those who live below and west of the place mentioned.

I earnestly and respectfully claim protection at the hands of the proper authorities, and trust that my appeal rill not be in vain.

Please to insert the above in your aluable paper, which is an able hampion of right and righteousness, lige yours, etc. JAMES D. STIRLING,
