"Sunset Cox" created considerable amusement, to-day, by his ridicule of Hewitt's corn-kitchen proposition, but this had already been eliminated from the bill by the committee, and his elaborated speech against the measures in general was not worthy of his repu-tation, either for wit or erudition, and fell very flat.

Homestend Entries. Copp's Land Owner, issued a few days ago, contains a full report of the recent decision by Secretary Schurz, in the case of Homas vs. the St. Joseph and Denver City Railwry Company, which settles certain questions of very general interest, affecting numerous claims of individuals and of corporations that are grantees of public lands. The main points established by it are as follows: A valid homestead entry is an appropriation of the land covered by it, and remains such until a forfeiture is declared in accordance with the law and with the rules and regulations of the general land office, and until the reservation is removed. These regulations in regard to the method of declaring a homestead claim abandoned and the entry cancelled, are necessary to an efficient execu-tion of the homestead law. Cases adjudicated under a different view of the homestead law are not to be pened. The rule now announcdid not exhaust his power before calling in military aid. They had been unable to trace the authorship or authority of the proclamation issued in Gov. Hartranft's name beyond the Pennsylvania Railroad Depot. The Governor certainly did not authorize its as he was along Depot. The Governor certainly did not authorize it, as he was alumbering in his car near Baft Lake City. In their summary they lay the blame on a lack of judgment and coolness in the commanding officers; in the control which railroad officials exercised over the troops; on the presence of the Phil-officials of the New Haven and Norfolk fire departments were go-ing over the building inspecting the new fire extinguishers which had new fire extinguishers which had recently been put in. It spread so rapidly that they hardly had time to get out. The fire extinguishers and other appliances were of no avail. The very combustible nature of the contents caused the flames to progress rapidly, and the efforts of the firemen could only save the adjoining buildings. The man for lack of work. The fire started in the cementing room. Some cement in use by the workmen was ignited by a gas jet, and in an instant the whole room was in flames. About 300 men at work, some in the third story, could get out only by dropping. Those who dropped were the only ones hurt so far as known, although it is feared some were burned with the building. Five were considerably injured. The works were mostly of brick and covered three acres. The loss is about $500,000. The company will rebuild immediately. The total insurance is $325,000, of which $100,000 was placed in New York agencies, and the remainder mostly in eastern and foreign companies. of attack the time of road efficials exercised over the troops; on the presence of the Philadelphia troops without authority; on the absence of the State civil authorities, and on the insolent course of the State civil and military efficials. Throughout they denounce those who have thwarted their investigations, and intimate that those persons wish the truth suppressed. They allude to the massing of troops in Pittaburg, after the riots, as a mark of disrespect and contumely to the citizens not called for, in view of unparalleled promptness with which they crushed out the rioters and brought them to punishment.
