"CUDDY" RUSSELL MARRIED.

J. Pariey Russell, better known here as Cuddy Russell, one of the most promas Cuddy Russell, one of the most prominent football and track men at the U. of U. for several years, has joined the ranks of the benedicts. Monday he secured a marriage license to wed Miss Daisy Dell Clark. Russell was one of the best track men the U of U had and on the gridiron he was a tower of strength. He captained his team and earned a place on the All-Intermountain eleven.

OCCIDENTALS WIN FROM ALL-STARS

The Los Angeles Times has this to say about the Occidental-Los Angeles All-Star game of Sunday: George Stovall, first baseman of the Cleveland American league team, hit a home run over the league team, hit a home run over the center field fence yesterday afternoon at the thutes grounds in the bail game between the Occidentals and All-Stars, but could not get any further than second base on the mighty swat.

This was not because George broke a leg in running as far as second, or was cruelly murdered from ambush as he touched that bag, but was due to the fact that a colored man named Taylor, who acted as umpire in the game, called the hit a two-barger, because it struck the roof of a building on the outside of the fence and bounded back into the grounds. The home run was off the first bail pitched in the first inning for the Stars, and after that decision of the umpire the Stars did not seem to care which team won, and the blacks did by a score of 3 to 1.

About 1,000 persons, principally colored, saw the gams, and it was a good one, after the second inning, when the Stars made enough bungles and boots to allow the blacks to make two of the three runs they got in that inning, the other one resulted from hits. The black boys covered themselves with glory in their neiding, for they grabbed everything that went their way and put up a much better game than when they were figulast the Los Angeles team, and were so easily beaten.

The Stars made their only run in the seventh on Moore's single to right, a passed hall and Tonneson's drive to right field. Both pitchers were fairly of fective, and the play was good.
