

SUPREME COURT IN BEDFORD CASE

Second District Judge is Sustained in Action Involving Homestead.

BANK BROUGHT ACTION.

Claims Unpaid Were Alleged and Recourse Was Had to Law.

An opinion was handed down this morning by the supreme court, affirming the judgment of the court below, which in this instance was that of the second district at Ogden. The matter of contention was the disposition of the estate of C. A. Bedford, deceased, the Commercial National Bank of Ogden, appealing from the decision of the court confirming the right of the widow, and minor son, to the estate of the said deceased as a homestead. The opinion is written by Chief Justice McCarthy, and is concurred in by Justices Strain and Justice Erick.

Bedford died Jan. 4, 1898, leaving certain real estate in Weber county and a stock of hardware, and real estate appraised. The stock was sold and the amount received used in paying off a mortgage on the real estate and settling the cost of probate. Bills were presented against the estate that were never paid, among them being one for $500 presented by the applicant company. The widow made application to the court to have the real estate set apart to her and her child as a homestead, under an appraisement of $2,500. The court granted this petition and the executor of the estate was discharged after the order was carried into effect.

HOME WAS SOLD.
In 1907, the property set apart as a homestead was sold by the widow for $1,200, and the bank thereupon filed a petition with the court, asking that probate proceedings be reopened on the ground that further assets had been discovered and had come into the hands of the widow and that the bills owing by the estate should be paid from the proceeds of the sale. The court granted the petition and the executor of the estate was discharged after the order was carried into effect.

PIERCE GETS TWO SUSPECTS.
At 2:45 this morning Police Officer Pierce arrested Fred Howat and H. Smith on the charge of burglary. It is alleged that the couple entered the American house on Commercial street several nights ago and stole two watches from a negro. The time pieces were located and recovered and the two men were arrested as a result of a "tip" given the police by an inmate of the house.

STATES CASES GO OVER.
There were but two state cases before Judge Diehl in the criminal division of the city court this morning, and they were continued.

BRIEFS IN CREAMERY CASES.
In Justice of the Peace Dana T. Smith's court this morning, the cases of the state vs. the Elgin Creamery company and the Elgin Dairy and Creamery company, charged with selling impure butter, came up for argument on demurrer. It is alleged in the complaint that the companies sold butter that was impure. No ruling was made on the questions involved as counsel for the prosecution and defense will submit briefs to Judge Smith. The matter was set for Tuesday next.

WIFE ALLEGES CRUELTY.
Jennie Valentine filed suit for divorce from her husband this morning, alleging that he had treated her cruelly and caused her great suffering and distress in that four weeks ago he sold all their property and drew all the money he had from the bank and accused her of being unfaithful to him. The couple were married in Kansas in 1901, and three children are the issue of the union. Plaintiff asks for the custody of the children and $20 per month for their support.

NEW INCORPORATIONS.

Articles of incorporation were filed in the secretary of state's office this morning of the Stoddard Lumber company, of Ogden. The company is capitalized in the sum of $100,000, divided into 1,000 shares of the par value of $100 each. The stockholders are George Stoddard, of La Grande, Oregon, David Eccles of Ogden, Utah, Henry H. Stoddard and Joseph Stoddard of Baker City, Oregon, and LeRoy Eccles of Lewiston, Utah. George Stoddard is named as president and Joseph Stoddard secretary and treasurer. The principal place of business is designated as Ogden, but the main property, mill, etc., is located in Oregon. Among the items of the latter held by the company enumerated are 1,000 acres of timber land, valued at $10,000.

An amendment to the articles of incorporation of the Deseret Building society was filed this morning, by which dividends on the paid up stock of the concern are made payable quarterly, instead of annually, as heretofore. An amendment to the articles of the North Union Irrigation company of Utah county were today filed in the office of the secretary of state, by which the duration of the life of the company is placed at 75 years instead of 25 years, as given in the original articles.

TOO SLOW FOR THE MAYOR.

Ordinance Providing for Speed of Automobiles in Parks is Vetoed.

Mayor Brandford this morning vetoed an ordinance passed March 23 relating to the speed of automobiles in parks. The ordinance provided for the prohibition of bathing, fishing and exceeding the speed limit of six miles an hour for automobiles on the park roadways. The mayor thinks that this restriction of automobiles is too severe and further restricts the use of the park. The ordinance that certain provisions contemplated conflict with others provided for already in existing city ordinances. The mayor also expressed a request from an enterprising firm which wanted to stretch a banner across Commercial street for advertising purposes.

SPREAD OF TUBERCULOSIS.

Third Session of State Health Officers Brings Out Valuable Addresses.

The state health convention held a third session this morning at the county building, being called to order shortly after 10 o'clock by Chairman D. O. Miner. A considerable falling off in the attendance was marked, but this was due to the fact that many of the members having only calculated on remaining over one day.

The meeting this morning was largely occupied by discussion, general subjects of disease and sanitation coming in for their share of consideration. Dr. Stewart, of Mt. Pleasant, had some decided ideas as to the spreading of tuberculosis or consumption. He said that the disease was often caused by the common usage of the communion cup, and by consumptives who come into the country to settle. He also advocated the keeping out of schools of consumptive children, who he claimed, should not be permitted to attend schools for their own, as well as the benefit of others.

A. M. Israelson of Hyrum said to many people the expense was a considerable item, and even in the reporting of diseased animals farmers were sometimes slow, for the reason that they could not afford to stand the expense of the loss of the cow, or horse, or hog. He thought the state should stand part of the expense when any animal was condemned for disease, and farmers would be more likely to report their diseased animals.

AMUSEMENTS.

Theater.—The largest audience which has greeted Charles B. Hanford for a number of years in Salt Lake came out last night to see his presentation of Shakespeare's "Antony and Cleopatra." The greater part of the turnout was made up of country visitors, who are more inclined to serious entertainment than the average first nighter of the Salt Lake theater. "Antony and Cleopatra" is the play which has made the boards in this generation. Fanny Davenport gave a modern rendering of it some years ago under the name of "Cleopatra." Her version came from the pen of Sardou. The Shakespearean version is less dramatic and vastly more talky, but Mr. Hanford has mounted it with generosity, and gives a fine presentation from the production standpoint. As for his own role, he has the necessary physique, but his voice contains too much of the jolly New Englander to make him an ideal delineator of Shakespearean hero-roles. Neither can it be said that Miss Wilson, who was cast for the role of the Egyptian Cleopatra, is entirely "to the manner born." The supporting cast ranks from the good, down to the indifferent, but the costumes, the dancing, and the incidental effects were all of a high grade.

Orpheum.—Society night, plus the conference attendance, will make a great jam at this house this evening. The strong bill will run unchanged through the week.

Grand.—Mr. Lorch and Miss Fay are still presenting "Only a Shop Girl." The customary Saturday matinee will be given tomorrow.

Lyric.—The Zinn company are winning new laurels in the presentation of "The Telephone Exchange." The next bill will be "The Jolly Musketiers."

NEGRO DROPS DEAD.

Oldest Waiter in West, W. H. Banks, Meets End On Public Street.

W. H. Banks, colored and 70 years of age, dropped dead at 2:10 this afternoon. He fell to the pavement at the corner of Commercial and Second South streets. The police patrol was called and the body taken in to Evans' undertaking establishment. Heart failure, superinduced by old age, was regarded as cause of death. Banks was the oldest colored waiter in the west. He was the first negro to be employed by the Knottford hotel, where he worked continuously up until three months ago when he went to work for "Coke" and Dr. Williams, proprietor of a place in Commercial street.

CONTRACTORS START WORK.

Big Projects Are Started Today With Excavations on Two Streets.

The Messrs. Simon of the Paris Millinery company have started a well defined movement to centralize the whole sale interests of the city on West Temple street, and make that thoroughfare the wholesale district. They are making a beginning on the west side of West Temple street, on the site of what is known as the Harry Hill property, 82 feet front by its feet deep.

Contractor William Snowball is tearing down today the old Hill residence preparatory to excavating for the new five story wholesale house that is to cost $50,000.

Excavations began today, for the new building, south of the Amusements block. The building will be 30 feet front by 100 feet deep, three stories and perhaps five eventually.

The addition to the McCormick building will be all brick. Mr. McCormick thinks, conform with the elevation of the McIntyre building to go up adjoining, as it is only a matter of time whether a match that of the main bank building can be had.

OFFICER CARLSON ARRESTED.
When He Gets to the Station, However, He Wins in a Walk.

Patrolman Carlson was arrested last night by a man known as Ed Cromer, who is also known as a cocaine fiend, but Carlson was not taken to the station. He found himself locked up to answer to a charge of drunkenness. The unknown Cromer came about in a somewhat peculiar manner.

Carlson "stood there" for a minute and watched his man go to a telephone. Number was called and soon the patrol wagon was on the scene. Patrolman Carlson permitted his man to put him in the wagon and he was followed in the steps by the man, who seemed to be under the influence of the drug. Carlson persuaded the man to alight and accompany him into the desk sergeant's office, where he was taken to a room and was introduced to the bookkeeper and was "roomed" by a turnkey. He will answer Judge Diehl's drunkenness.

FOUR THOUSAND SOLDIERS.

Captain Meyer of the Fourteenth cavalry, in charge of the recruiting station in this city, is in receipt of the February record of enlistments in the regular army. The record for Salt Lake and Ogden shows 11 enlistments for infantry, and 8 for cavalry service. The enlistments at Fort Douglas were one for staff, 17 for infantry and 10 for cavalry. The total of enlistments amounted to 4,782. The Twenty-second infantry appears to be the most popular regiment, with men enlisted 825 that command in the field. Captain Meyer accepted a single drummer from the named Crank from Maine, who has been working in the northwest. Crank was sent to Cuba in the Twenty-second infantry cavalry band. There are now two battalions each of the Fifth, Eleventh, Seventeenth, Twenty-second and Twenty-seventh infantry regiments, and two squadrons each of the Eleventh and Seventeenth cavalry regiments. The third battalion of infantry and third squadrons of cavalry remaining in the United States.

HOST OF UNEMPLOYED.
Army of Three Thousand Men Walking to Ogden.

Ogden, April 3.—Word has reached Ogden that 3,000 men without work have left Montana and are trailing toward Ogden in a steady stream. The men are not troops, by any means, but have been recently at work in Montana mines and other places. They are looking for work and here and there along the line may have found farm work and have deserted the advancing host.

The fact that this great number of unemployed men is coming here is viewed with some alarm by the police department. They do not fear that they will add to the criminal population, but the department realizes that certain precautions must be taken. At the next meeting of the council, if not sooner, application will be made for authority to appoint additional policemen.

BABOON TO HAVE ALLOWANCE OF TOBACCO

New York, April 3.—A liberal allowance of chewing tobacco is likely to be included in the daily rations of a new baboon freshly arrived at the Bronx menagerie from South Africa and immediately christened by the keepers "Handsome Harry."

When Harry, who is a rare Hanay-dras baboon, reached the zoo, Dr. W. Reed Blair, veterinary physician there, consigned him to a large cage in the monkey house. The baboon immediately began to make trouble. He dashed himself against the bars and the best efforts of the keepers could not make him subside. He dashed offerings of sugar, peanuts and other dainties and was growing more and more violent when he suddenly paused, threw a huge paw around Frank E. Berhardt, one of the keepers who was trying to soothe him, and fishing from the keeper's coat pocket a bag of chewing tobacco thrust it into his mouth and retired into a corner of the cage apparently in supreme content. There was no more trouble with him after that, and Dr. Blair concluded that the baboon got the habit from the sailors on the voyage from Africa. Hereafter a portion of chewing tobacco will be served with Harry's meals.
