

OUR COUNTRY.

Our country—ours!—the light
Of Freedom's sacred torch were fled;
Our country! the latest spark
That burns in Honor's truest dead;
Age, that laurel wreaths were thrown
Aside for white sepulchral flowers,
To twine about thy glory's tomb,
Our country still—forever ours.

Our country—ours!—the tiniest flower
That lays a spangle on thy dust,
And gleams amid thy turf, is ours!
And ours to guard, a sacred trust;
But, tho' the latest blossom dies,
When madness tramples thro' thy bowers;
Still shine the stars in thy blue skies!
Our country still—forever ours.

Our country! ours!—thy glory shines
Upon the lowliest one, whose claim
Is but a portion of thy god,
A heart-thrill woven with thy name;
But, were the shaft of ruin thrown,
That flashes where the storm-cloud lowers,
Thy hour of sorrow is our own!
Our country still—forever ours.

CALIFORNIA PRESS ON UTAH AFFAIRS.

[From the Daily Alta California, March 11.]

We have some strange news to-day from Salt Lake, viz New York. It is to the effect that there is danger of a collision between the Mormons and our troops there. The dispatch goes so far as to state that Gov. Harding and Associate Justices Waite and Drake have called upon Col. Connor to arrest Brigham Young and some of the Mormon leaders. It is strange that we have heard nothing on this side of these important events, and that the first intimation we should have of what is going on should reach us via New York. We had, to be sure, a report, recently of some angry meetings which had taken place there, but we had no idea that anything serious was going on.

To get at the facts of the case we telegraphed to Salt Lake last night. The telegram which we received does not clear up matters fully. Our correspondent speaks of an anti-bigamy law as the cause of the trouble. We do not know of any except the one providing for the admission of Utah as a State, provided polygamy was abolished. The whole affair therefore is still enveloped in some confusion. There is one thing, however, that we do know; Colonel P. Edward Connor and his regiment were sent across the mountains to protect the telegraph and the overland mail, and to fight the Indians, and not to kick up trouble with the Mormons or any other class of persons. The Government has enough of fighting now on its hands and there is no necessity for increasing it. Perhaps an expenditure of a few more millions of dollars in a Utah war is deemed necessary to promote the happiness of somebody behind the scenes.

[From Sacramento Daily Union, March 12.]

It seems that matters at Salt Lake are in an unsettled and uncertain state. Some difficulty has grown up between the Governor, the United States Judges, and the head of the Mormon Church, which may—though we hope not—terminate in a collision. We never deemed it particularly an act of wisdom to order a single regiment to Salt Lake. It was not needed there for protection, and in the event of a collision was too weak to be of any particular use. We fear, too, that the Governor has been imprudent. The Mormons should, of course, submit to the laws, but laws ought not to be forced upon them which are repugnant to a very large majority of that singular people. A conflict at this time would prove a great misfortune to California. It would also prove fatal to the Mormons, and hence we reason that they will avoid any hostile demonstrations except in self-defense. The pretty-much-let-alone policy is the one which should be adopted toward the Mormons.

[From the Daily Alta California, March 14.]

In our columns to day will be found an interesting letter from Salt Lake. It gives an account of the commencement of the troubles there. Our next will, in all probability, bring down the narrative to the late proceedings. Mr. Lincoln, it must be admitted, has been very unfortunate in the selection of office-holders. If his intention in sending Harding to rule over the Mormons was to kick up a row there, he has succeeded. The policy of such a proceeding, just at this juncture, however, may very well be doubted. We have enough of fighting on hand at present.

MORE INDIAN DIFFICULTIES.

From telegraphic intelligence we learn that a band of hostile Humboldt Indians attacked the mail stage from the West on Sunday forenoon, about ten miles west of Deep Creek, killing the driver, Henry Harper, and very seriously wounding a passenger named John Liverton. Judge Mott, the delegate to Congress from Nevada, was also passenger by the stage, but was uninjured, and brought on the stage that was attacked, and arrived in safety at Deep Creek. He arrived here yesterday afternoon. Mr. Cook and Mr. Gooding of the Overland Mail Company, with their characteristic energy, immediately made arrangements for protection to the line, and on Sunday evening, soldiers ordered by Colonel Connor, were en route by stage from Ruby Valley, and reached the point attacked in twenty-four hours: others followed by succeeding stages. From Salt Lake City one stage load of soldiers also went out on Monday. We also learn some have been sent from Ruby Valley to station west, under supposition that Indians may make an attack on that part of the mail and telegraph line. Subsequent information states, that two men, named Wood and McCarty at Eight Mile Station, were killed soon after the stage was attacked, eight horses stolen, and stable and hay burned. The two bodies were found on Monday, scalped and stripped. The same band which committed these enormities, also ran off about forty horses belonging to Major Egan, from Deep Creek Ranch.

Dr. Anderson of this city was sent out immediately to render aid to the wounded passenger.

From measures taken by the mail company with the aid of Col. Connor, we do not expect any interruption to the mails, or to passenger travel.

Major Gallagher left Camp Douglas yesterday, to resume his command at Ruby, though still suffering from his wound.

We understand that a company of cavalry from Camp Douglas, will leave to-day to pursue the Indians.

We hope they may be caught and punished for their savage work.

STOCK RECOVERED.

We have been informed, that the pursuit of Capt. Knowlton and his party, who went after the Indians who committed the depredations at Garr's herd ground in Skull Valley, and drove off a large amount of stock on the 13th inst. was successful, and that all the cattle, with the exception of three or four head which the band had killed were recovered from the marauders. They were overtaken the same day before night, and just in time to prevent them from getting their booty into a canyon where it would have been comparatively safe, and the Indians would have had a decided advantage over their pursuers. A few shots were exchanged, but as the redskins, who were all mounted, left the cattle and kept off at a long range, there were none of them killed and but one wounded. The party returned with the recovered stock in safety. Report says, that the savage thieves cut out the tongue of an ox and a piece of flesh out of one of his thighs and left him alive. It was fortunate that the band was overtaken and the stock recovered, but it would have been better still if some of them had been required to enter into bonds, with approved security, conditioned that they should commit no further depredations. It is believed that the Indians were from the Humboldt country.

PUBLIC MEETING IN SANPETE COUNTY.

We have received a report of a public meeting at Ephraim, Sanpete county, held on the 14th instant, which was numerously attended by citizens from every town, village and settlement in that county. The assemblage was called to order at the designated hour when William S. Seeley, Esq., of Mount Pleasant, was called to the chair, and H. F. Peterson, chosen secretary.

The object of the meeting was briefly stated by the chairman, which was to take into consideration the course which had been pursued by Gov. Harding and the Federal Judges Waite and Drake. Several spirited speeches were made, in which the officials in question were handled without gloves. A committee of three, consisting of Caleb G. Edwards, Walter Cox and C. G. Larsen, was appointed to draft resolutions expressive of the feelings of the meeting in relation to the matters under consideration. The committee retired and, after a short absence, returned and reported four short, pointed, pithy and very expressive resolutions, fully endorsing the movements of the people in other counties in relation to the specified obnoxious representatives of the Federal government, and strongly urging their removal from office and the appointment of more suitable men to fill the vacancies thus created, which were unanimously adopted.

—A baby was out with the nurse, who walked it down the garden. "Is it a laddie or a lassie?" asked the gardener. "A laddie," answered the maid. "Weel," said he, "I'm glad o' that, for there's ower mony weemin in the world." "Hech, mon," said Jeasie, "there's aye maist sawn o' the best crap!"
