The most interesting contest, and the one which created far the most disgust, was played at Lagoon. Interesting for the simple reason that the game was interesting and full of many close situations. Disgust, because of the manifestly untair decisions of Umpire Arthur Clarkson.
Think of a team making five runs of young Newmeyer striking out every man on the Ogden team, making a total of fifteen strike outs, and then losing the game in the last half of the ninth For every effect there is a cause and it is certain that one of Clarkson's decisons in the ninth inning contributed to the losing end of the event. Reference is made to the foul hit by Nagle, which was called fair.

At other times Clarkson gave Newnieyer the worst of it on balls and strikes, and the decisions were so raw that even Ogden rooters were disgust-ed. He gave Nagle bases on balls when he was clearly struck out. Re-fore Hausen was called out once the young pitcher had to throw five strikes. In the sixth inning Newmeyer knocked the ball over the fence as fair as it neded to be, but the umpire called

All this greatly surprised the spectators because Clarkson's work hereto-fore indicated a desire to be absolutely fair. It may have been one of his off days, but it is strange how all his undecisions were against the La-team. Newmeyer deserves great goon team. credit for holding up so well in the face of all this and he made a record which vill endure for years.

GOOD EXHIBITION GAME.

Close and Exciting Contest Between Salt Lakes and Park City.

The exhibition game at Walker's field Saturday afternoon was close, exciting and interesting all the way through.
The White Wings scored another victory but had a close call in the last three innings. All that kept the boys from over the summit winning the day, was the masterly pitching of Ed Kidder. He was there all the time and kept his fine control until the last man was Two measily hits, singles, had to satisfy the Miners until the eighth inning, when they found him for four, three in the eighth and one in the ninth. His support was excellent with the exeption of a couple of errors of Bert Margetts and one on a wild throw of Still they did but little damage, and the general good work of the two men more than atoned for their little mistakes. There was nothing very ensational in the game but everybody played their parts well. Williams par-took of a couple of Pendergraft's shoots and soaked them out for doubles. Tay-lor was also there with the stick get-ting a triple and a double. "Pink" Hawley bit off two nice singles at critical times and Kidder, Kimerer, Mc-Causland, Webster and Morrow got off with a clear single each. Webster's performance at short was great. He cut off three men at first by his timepresence when the ball shot across e diamond, besides getting a man out at third and eating up a couple of The Parkites played well and did not lose heart at any time. Pender-graft's work in the box was good but was withdrawn in the eighth in favor of Redmond, but the noble Cap-tain was too late. The game was already won and safely stored away for uture reference. AT OGDEN SATURDAY.

Lobsters Trim the Lagoon Farmer Boys-Score 4 to 3.

The Lagoon farmer boys went to Ogden Saturday to have a little settlement with a band known as Lobsters but it s said that the noise and excitement of the city completely unnerved the farmers and made them lose the game by a score of four to three. It is thought that, having gazed upon the fierce countenance of the Big Lobster in his den, and discovering that he is quite harmless, they will not become fright-ened again and will not be awed at the sight of those strange monsters that go whirling up and down the streets with-out horse or mule. Anyway they played a good game, and little Joe Kostol pitched a good game throughout. The Lobsters didn't do much with him until the latter part of the contestiand he came very near to

There were many close situations when a little hit would have won the game but Chief Borchers just wouldn't let them have one. Still they got off with nine hits to the others ten which is not so bad. Borchers struck out nine hands but it will not always be so. The batters are beginning to get on to his cute little tricks and it is predicted that before long he will be sighing for dear old 'Frisco. It may and may not come true. Time alone will tell. WON IN THE NINTH. Lobsters' Luck Did Not Desert Them in Yesterday's Game. A big crowd asembled at Lagoon yesogden and Lagoon. About 400 Ogden enthusiasts made the trip from their town to root for their pets.

The game was lost in the ninth inning. The score then was five to four in favor of Lagoon, but the Lobsters' luck failed not and they made five runs. It was done like this: Casey got to first on a walk and tried to smuggle second. Little Willie Hoffer got excited and tried to throw the ball got excited and tried to throw the ball away, and Bradley threw wide to third which permitted young Casey to come home. There was a home run on balls. Nagle hit a foul along third base line, and it was called fair. He was advanced on Hausen's single and scored on one of Clark. Hausen came home on another wild throw of Hoffer's on another wild throw of Hoffer's. Clark stole second and scored on Plake's hit. That cent stole two bags and scored on another wild shoot of Hoffers. That was all. Here are the details:

Webster's immaculates won a game yesterday that counted. It was a league game but was not so good as the exhibition game of Saturday afternoon. The score stood 16 to 5, and it might just as well have been 65 to nothing, judging by the work of both teams. was almost an errorless game for the White Wings, only one managed to creep in, while the boys from Park were guilty of 8,

WESTERN STOCK MARKET.

During the first three weeks of June, 1900, there were 18,500 cattle and calves received in the southern yards, while the corresponding three weeks this June have nearly 27,000 cattle and calves to their credit in the same divis-ion. Comparative sales show a pretty extensive decline in values but with the class of cattle that have been coming, it is a difficult matter to locate qualities and where a criterion is possible, the difference in worth does not appear so glaring. The decline during the past ten days, quality considered, extends from 5c, to 10c, on choice dressed beef and export steers to 60c. to 80c. on very common grass repre-sentatives. The bottom seems to have been struck, however, and on Wednes-day and Thursday many sales were quoted as naving been made at advances of 10c to 30c, per hundred. The reaction set in on Wednesday and after continued trading under tumbling val-uations for so long, it was hard for packers to scalize that they must pay more for cattle and equally as hard for salesmen to realize that the decline had been checked. Prices were uneven and as on local paper put it, "It would have taken a Dutch uncle to copper

Grass cattle bring $3 to $4.18, though most of the heavier $3 to $4.1$, though most of the heavier lots have known the taste of domestic feed and show it. As the season advances the range qualities will grow better and the range of values will, no doubt. improve. Range cows sell around $2.65 to $3.15 in the southern yards, while choice fed natives command all the way up to $4.75. Many prime helfers continue to sell around $5, but the general run of both cows and helfers sell 25c, to 30c, lower than at the high time early in the month. and heifers sell 25c, to 36c, lower than at the high time early in the month.

Stock cattle, unless very stylish, are not sought after, but good heavy feeders are in active demand at prices ranging up to $5 per hundred.

Light hogs, 125 to 200 pounds, change hands at $5.70 to $5.90, and pig weights at $5.25 to $5.60.

Sheep receipts were liberal during the week and the general decline on all grades was about 15c, to 25c. Texas sheep and Colorado lambs constituted the larger portion of the supplies and as about all of the latter have been sent to market, the lamb epicure will have to eat the cold storage article until the range lambs start. The wind up to the fed lamb market was disappointing to those who had he'd on expecting the clean up to command higher prices, and, as a matter of fact, the last of the fed lambs sold 50c, to 75c, lower than they would have brought a month earlier. Colorado wool lambs are worth $4.60 to $4.80; choice spring lambs, $4.75 to $5.15; fed western wethers.
