

WILL HAVE STATE FAIR THIS FALL

Association Directors Discuss Plans and Propositions For Coming Event.

NEW FORM MEDAL ADOPTED.

Designs for New Merchants' and Kennel Buildings Considered—$5,000 For Horse Races.

The directors of the Utah State Fair association met last evening at the chamber of commerce, to discuss plans and propositions for the management of the coming state fair. Designs were considered for a new form of diploma and medals, owing to the change of title from the D. A. & M. society to the Utah State Fair association. The new medal will be a medallion, the size of a 50-cent piece, with a likeness of Col. John R. Winder on one side, and the name of the association on the other.

TWO NEW BUILDINGS.

Designs for new buildings were considered, $5,000 having been appropriated for the proposed merchants' building, and $2,000 for the kennel house.

The offer of prizes from the American Shorthorn Breeders' association, as well as the offer of the American Angora Goat Breeders' association, for special premiums were considered. The directors appropriated $5,000 for horse racing premiums.

THE CHARMING WOMAN.

Is not necessarily one of perfect form and features. Many a plain woman who could never serve as an artist's model, possesses those rare qualities which all the world admires: neatness, clear eyes, clean smooth skin and that sprightliness of step and action that accompany good health. A physically weak woman is never attractive, not even to herself. Electric Bitters restore weak women, give strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, beautiful complexion. Guaranty Bitters. DEATH OF NONOGENARIAN.

Ogden Valley Veteran Answers Final Summons.

Niels Anderson died at his home in Huntsville on Sunday morning, June 29, 1901. He was born in Basseby, Sweden, Feb. 14, 1816, and was therefore in his ninety-second year. He embraced the gospel in Billingsborg, southern Sweden, in 1841, together with his wife, Pehrilla, who died in 1901, emigrated to Utah in 1864, crossing the plains with William B. Preston, arriving in Salt Lake City in September. He stayed in Mill Creek, lived in Farmington a year or two, and then settled in Ogden valley, in 1868.

Deceased was a hard worker and aided in building houses, roads and canals, in the tilling and development of the land, by manual labor all his days. On leaving Sweden, he loaned all his available means to aid in emigrating the poor, and received no return. He was a firm believer in progress and education, a student in trial and pain, but ever cheerful and determined. He had a heart easily touched in sympathy, and he loved justice and industry. He was of the class of pioneers and builders whose sweat and toil laid the foundation of our commonwealth. He and his wife had no children, but they adopted as their son Edward H. Anderson, now of the improvement society, brought him with them to America, and until his death he was father and mother. Funeral will be held in Huntsville on Tuesday, July 2.

BIG FIRE IN DENVER.

Denver, July 2.—Fire, which was discovered in the Hardwood Lumber company's yards in this city at 1:45 this morning, did nearly $150,000 damage, before it was brought under control. The yards are in a thickly populated portion of the city and it was only by hard work that the flames were kept from spreading. As it was, nearly all the windows in the residences for a radius of a hundred yards were broken by the heat.

NUPRIAL TRIALS

Roosevelt's Rules Regulating Matrimony on the Strip Had To Be Revised.

HAPPY THOUGH NOT MARRIED.

Trouble All Came About Through Executive's Use of Words "Recognized Church."

Special Correspondence.

Washington, D. C. June 29.—President Roosevelt, in the absence of any formal parliamentary body to control affairs in the canal zone, is charged with all sorts of duties in connection with that strip of territory. Besides the military control of the strip and the executive management of the work on the big ditch itself the president must from time to time formulate regulations covering all sorts of civil conditions in the zone. Some time last winter it was discovered by the authorities that a law or a regulation governing marriages in the strip was necessary. In consequence the president issued an order in March last which empowered the minister of any "recognized" church in the zone to perform a marriage ceremony provided the contracting parties had first secured a license from the clerk of the circuit court. That word "recognized" in the executive order caused some trouble, and a good deal of worry and it might have led to very serious complications involving the legitimacy of the issue of any such marriages as well as the title to property.

About the middle of last May the daughter of Judge Stephens of Panama was married to a young American there by a Protestant minister residing in the zone. The affair was chronicled in society reports and everything was lovely until shortly after the bridal party had left for the United States. Suddenly one morning Judge Stephens had a thought. He was struck with the recollection that the old laws of the republic of Panama prevail in the zone where not otherwise specified that the duty of getting the big ship around on time. He performed his duty without fuss or feathers and his only reward, aside from the gratification which he felt was the acquisition of the big flag which he had seen at the ceremony, was the action in Panama. That flag was presented by Captain Nicholson to the Bohemian club in San Francisco and was probably destroyed during the earthquake last year.

Captain Nicholson is one of those officers of the navy who have been assigned to all sorts of service. He has been duty in the old sail vessel, on the modern cruiser, gunboat and battleship. He has had service in the hydrographical department and the various mechanical bureaus of the navy and is regarded as one of the most efficient men in the navy. He was assigned to duty in the zone within the past few days so that it is felt that in assigning him to the command of the Nebraska the navy department has given that battleship a man who will make good in any position in which he may find himself.

NEW NATURALIZATION LAW.

The new naturalization law went into effect on the 29th of last September. Under that law naturalizations of foreign born would-be citizens of the United States were practically suspended until the 29th day of December.

From that time on records have been kept here in Washington of all the immigrants who desired to become citizens of this country and who can be naturalized until his petition is passed upon by the federal authorities.

The process of creating an American citizen today is a somewhat complicated one. The applicant must declare his intention, must apply for citizenship in a court of competent jurisdiction and all the papers must be submitted to the bureau of immigration. The applicant in the department of commerce and labor upon regularly prescribed forms and three months later, provided he has lived five years in the United States, the applicant must appear in court and satisfy the court officers that he has complied with all the requirements of the new law. Should objection be filed against his devotion to their duties and rights and establish the fact that he is entitled to the benefits of the protection of the American flag.

The new law has been in effect practically six months. Its provisions are not fully understood yet by the immigrants generally, although they are rapidly "catching on." Since the first of January the average number of declarations of intention to become citizens of the United States have been approximately 10,000 per month. Twenty-five hundred petitions for citizenship are also being received each month since the first of January and in that period final naturalization papers to the number of 1,000 per month have been issued. This does not begin to approach the number of immigrants which have arrived in the various ports of the United States monthly in recent years but the figures indicate a very strong desire on the part of immigrants to acquire the rights of American citizenship and it is believed that as soon as the law is thoroughly understood and that all the officials become acquainted with the details of the statute, the number of naturalizations will very materially increase.

Up to the present time it is asserted the new law has been opened with very little friction. Court officers everywhere have shown a disposition to do everything in their power towards perfecting the machinery of naturalization and it is the general belief that the problem has been solved and that hereafter Uncle Sam will have a complete and perfect record of every foreign born resident who aspires to become a citizen of this great republic.

The largest affair of the afternoon was the tea given by Mrs. C. O. Whittemore, Mrs. Abner Luman, and the Misses Luman and Whittemore at the Whittemore home. The patriotic colors were everywhere in evidence, flags, bunting and flowers in the tri-colors being used throughout the rooms, red and white roses, carnations and sweet peas combining with bachelor buttons, and the table in the diningroom was spread with white lace over blue, the centerpiece being of flowers in the tri-colors, while flags and festoons of dainty bunting helped in the scheme. The tea, cakes and candies were in red, white and blue, and the only variation in the color scheme was the palms which made a cool background for the brilliant scene. Over 100 guests were present.

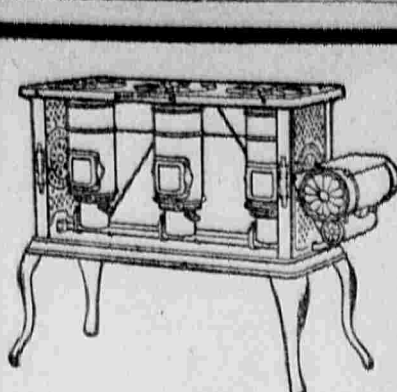

Feeding Ahead of Hot Weather.

"Not quite so much meat in springtime; use the cereals, as they heat the blood less." Seasonable advice from an old practitioner.

If one uses some care as to food, the hot weather will be passed as comfortably as any season. In fact, a person possessed of a perfectly balanced nervous system can be happy and comfortable under most conditions.

The truest food for building up the nervous system to a perfect condition is Grape-Nuts. The makers are skilled in their art, and knowing that nature fills the brain and nerve centres with a soft gray matter which is used up more or less each day and must be replaced, for nervous prostration sets in, and also knowing that this gray matter is made by the combination of albumen and phosphate of potash, they selected the parts of the field grains that contain the needed materials, manufacture them into a delicious food, ready cooked, predigested, and of a fascinating flavor.

The use of Grape-Nuts quickly proves that it really does rebuild and strengthen the nervous system in a most certain manner. Sold by all first-class grocers and in drug use in hundreds of thousands of the best families all over the world. "There's a Reason." Read, "The Road to Wellville," in page.

CONTINENTAL OIL COMPANY (Incorporated)

States and Spain commonly known as the Spanish-American war, will recall the wonderful trip made by the battleship Oregon from the California coast to Santiago when it was believed that every available vessel in the American navy would be needed in Cuban waters. The Oregon made the record trip for speed. Her engines were crowded to the utmost limit and she was brought around to John Sampson's feet and the announcement of her arrival was greeted with the shouts of eighty million people. "Bessy" Nicholson was the navigating officer on that trip. To him was assigned the duty of getting the big ship around on time. He performed his duty without fuss or feathers and his only reward, aside from the gratification which he felt was the acquisition of the big flag which he had seen at the ceremony, was the action in Panama. MURDERER MAN CAME FROM OHIO

Benjamin Davis, Whose Body Was Found in a Car at Glenn's Ferry, Was Traveling West.

ONLY NINETEEN YEARS OLD.

Lad Was On His Way to Huntington To Get $400—Four Shots Were Fired.

Additional details have been added to the story of the murder at Glenn's Ferry, as reported in yesterday's "News." The half-burned body discovered Monday morning in the blazing box-car was that of Benjamin Davis, a 19-year-old boy, who, in company with Arthur Hales was bound for the coast. A yard employee of the Oregon Short Line said he heard four shots some time Sunday night. The fire broke out later, Davis, Hales and a number of tramps went to sleep together in the car and the police believe Davis was killed by the tramps who set fire to the car in hope of covering their crime by cremating the body of their victim.

A letter from the boy's father contained the information that a money order for $40 had been sent to Huntington, Oregon, and it was to get this money that young Davis was making his way into the northwest. This letter made identification possible.

A number of circumstances connected with the fiendish crime are yet unexplained, or at least no mention seems to be made of them in the dispatches received here. Why Davis was shot is not known. He evidently was unarmed, for no valuables. His tramping across country to get $40 makes this certain. It is thought the shooting and firing of the car were the climax of a still more fiendish crime.

Arthur Hales claims to have gone to sleep with Davis and the tramps in the car. How he got out of the car without his companion is yet unexplained. He was located and identified the body as that of Davis. Hales is being held for additional information, and the police are looking vigilantly for the tramps who perpetrated three horrible crimes. Hales will probably be able to identify the men who were in the car.

Davis is from Ohio.

PILGRIMAGE OF THE UTAH PIONEERS SIXTY YEARS AGO TODAY.

TUESDAY, JULY 2, 1847.

The day was more pleasant in the pioneer camp than the preceding one, and the ferrying across Green river, which was commenced at daylight, proceeded more rapidly. Thus 47 wagons, including those in which President Young and Elders Kimball and Richards rode, were taken across the river. The mosquitoes were very troublesome.

In the afternoon the twelve held a council and decided to send four men back to act as guides for the camps of the saints in the rear and pilot them through. Orrin P. Rockwell, Phineas H. Young, Eric Gilman and George Woodward were chosen for that purpose. Samuel Brannan and first second the meeting and gave a glowing description of California.
