CURRENT READING.
The need of reading for information brings us to the consideration of a very important question, viz. How to economize time. Literature is multi-plied so fast in every department of investigation that he who could keep ahead of the times has

Other things should make rapid reading a matter of training in every school. Most, if not all, books should not be treated in this way. Some are to be "rehearsed and digested."

OTHER TOPICS.

Connected with this subject is learning to read in a foreign language. The ear and mouth, so often trained in the school, should be now followed. It is the only natural method. Thus, too, (line 10) we are given in space. It is looking for little words in a big dictionary.

President G. K. Villard of the United States has been elected to be responsible for this prediction. For a number of years the politician has been making notes of the rise and fall of the great lakes from his own observations. The great lakes are the government's survey. From these he declares the status of the lower end of Lake Michigan, one six miles in width, as the most important of the great lakes according to southern cities in the United States.

If his figures speak truly, the whole effort covered by the great lakes is undergoing a change of level, and by billions it will only be a matter of time before the ocean into the Atlantic is closed and a new one through the basin of the Mississippi is opened. As the head in the north, the foot of Chicago is the lowest along the lake shore; it is there Professor Gilbert has located the outlet of the future. But as the waters only rise at the rate
