A suit which is likely to develop some very sensational episodes was begun in the U. S. Circuit Court at San Francisco, on April 20th. The action is brought by Alice H. Valensen against Glulio Valensen, the plaintiff and defendant being man and wife. Mrs., or, rather, the Countess Valensen is the daughter of John F. McCauley, swealthy citizen of California, and while traveling abroad several years ago she met and wedded Count Valensen, a young nobleman of Florence, Italy. Her infatuation for her titled husband did not last long, however, for soon after the couple's arrival in San Francisco, there were many disputes, which finally led to the wife's suing for a divorce on the ground of cruelty and infadelity. The divorce was denied, as there was not sufficient evidence to back the allegations. Mrs. Valensen, however, now sues her blue-blood husband to recover 510,000, which it is alleged was appropriated by the defendant, out of the plaintiff's ranch to feed the stock of the defendant. As prima facie evidence that the property is her separate estate, the Countess produces a deed of gilt from her mother, of 180 acres of land and a good bank account before her marriage. The plaintiff is a woman of about 30 years of age. She is very handsome, but there is a worried, sad expression on her counteuance, which somewhat robs it of its natural prettiness. The defendant is a rather short man, well A suit which is likely to develop Ou April 18th, Mrs. John Isaacs, for-merly of Salt Lake, and swife of the editor of the San Bernardino Times, through a mistake took a teaspoonful of carbolic acid, thinking it was from a prescription bottle.
