

MANY QUERIES MADE ABOUT FARM LIVING

Meeting to be Held Tomorrow Morning in the Office of Governor Cutler.

At 10 o'clock tomorrow morning there will be a meeting at the office of Gov. Cutler. It is for the purpose of talking over in the presence of the commission on country life, the agricultural and farming affairs of the state.

It is expected that a large attendance will be at the meeting. All horticultural and agricultural institutions of the state will be well represented. Among those who will be present are Thomas Judd, president of the state board of horticulture; J. Edward Taylor, secretary of the board; Fred J. Kiesel of Ogden, the prominent advocate of irrigation; C. J. Adney and W. H. Rowe of Corinne; P. A. Dix, of Davis county, representing the nursery interests of the state; J. G. Duffin of Provo, president of the State Horticultural society; all members of the state board of horticulture; Roy Marsh of Kaysville, W. J. Craig, representing the canning interests of the state; Charles Smith of Centerville and M. B. Sowles of Salt Lake City.

Among the questions being put before the people by the commission are the following:

"Are the farm houses in your neighborhood as good as they should be under existing conditions?"

"Are the schools of your neighborhood training boys and girls satisfactorily for life on the farm?"

"Do the farmers in your neighborhood get the returns they reasonably should from the sale of their products?"

"Do the farmers of your neighborhood receive from the railroads, highroads, trolley lines, etc., the service they reasonably should have?"

"Do the farmers in your neighborhood receive from the United States postal service, rural telephone, etc., the service they reasonably should expect?"

"Are the farmers and their wives in your neighborhood satisfactorily organized to promote their mutual buying and selling interests?"

"Are renters of farms in your neighborhood making a satisfactory living?"

"Is the supply of farm labor in your neighborhood satisfactory?"

"Are the conditions surrounding hired labor on the farms in your neighborhood satisfactory to the hired men?"

"Have the farmers in your neighborhood satisfactory facilities for doing their business in banking, credit, insurance, etc.?"

"Are the sanitary conditions of the farms in your neighborhood satisfactory?"

"Do the farmers and their wives in your neighborhood get together for mutual improvement, entertainment and social intercourse as much as they should?"

"What in your judgment is the most important single thing to be done for the general betterment of country life?"

The commission on country life has recently appointed by President Roosevelt for the purpose of investigating the conditions of the farmers and rural population all over the United States.

Prof. L. A. Merrill of the Utah State Experimental station at Nephi is in charge of the live stock and farming interests of the state. Representative shippers of the state and of the different commercial bodies will also be present.

There will be no speech making, but each member of the meeting who has anything to say will be allowed to do so and to make it brief. Sanitation and other matters will also be considered.

SCRAMBLE FOR DESERTER.

Man Gives Himself Up but Four Policemen Booked as Arresting.

The average Salt Lake policeman will go after an army deserter like a colored gentleman after 'possum and chicken. Whenever there is a deserter in town the bluecoats get busy, come out of a trance and act like real sleuths. Why? There's $50 in it for the arresting officer.

Last night Joseph P. Cowan walked into police headquarters, calmly announced he was a deserter from California and asked to be locked up. He voluntarily surrendered himself but immediately there was a rush on the part of the vigilant minions of the law. Although the man gave himself up and said he wanted to be turned over to the military authorities, Policemen Conyers, Smith, Pitts and Burton are on the book of arrests as the arresting officers. Jailor Ripley is seriously thinking of putting his name to the bunch so that each will get $10.

KOALA FUEL TROUBLES.

Another Suit Filed to Untangle Affairs of Concern.

The Koala Fuel company, organized in this city during the last summer, is still anxiously looking for some word from its decamping secretary, J. V. Wilson, who left suddenly between two days with something over $7,000 of the company's money. Several people who purchased stock from Wilson are now suing the company for the money they invested and the possibility that the company may disband as a result. Wilson carried things with a high hand while here. He was a good talker and to dispose of the stock used the names of prominent business men who were induced to become officers of the company. He did not turn a cent from his sales into the treasury and when he piled up about $7,000 he left for parts new. The company located Wilson in a little Pennsylvania town and immediately sent a message to the sheriff to arrest him.

"OLD HOSS" SALE A UNIQUE AFFAIR

Unclaimed Freight Offered Under the Hammer Proves An Alluring Attraction.

At the opening of the "old hoss" freight sale at the Denver & Rio Grande railroad depot this morning a novel spectacle was presented. A crowd of probably 100 people, most of them men, but containing also a liberal sprinkling of the fair sex, and the latter were among the foremost in the bidding.

The sale commenced at 10 o'clock, with auctioneer E. M. Oulton at the hammer. The sale was conducted under the direction of J. B. Caldwell, representing the freight department of the Denver & Rio Grande, and C. R. Aley, local freight agent of the company. Four carloads of unclaimed freight were lined up against the rear side of the freight platform, and the articles were taken from the car in the order they came, and were sold and disposed of in the manner most convenient to their handling.

Some of the freight has been held for a year or more, it being the custom of the road to hold these "clearance sales" once about every three years. The sale comprises all the freight which has been piling up at all of the stations on the road west of Grand Junction, Colorado, and the accumulation has been gathered up and hauled to Salt Lake for disposal at auction.

One of the articles which went for a song, was a 40 gallon barrel of triplicate, which was knocked down for $5.50. A large box of hosiery, billed to the American Fork Co., and weighing 200 pounds, was bought in by M. Levy for $77.50.

A box of poultry food, weighing probably 25 pounds, went for 50 cents, while three barrels of soda water bearing the stamp of a Salt Lake firm, was sold for $2.50.

One of the ladies present bid up as high as $3 on the machine, but did not care to go above $3.50, as there were other machines in the collection and she said she would wait.

Among the articles to be disposed of is a grand piano, several organs, several stoves, portraits, kegs, barrels and boxes of liquor, boxes of tools, and a large number of miscellaneous articles.

The sale will continue this afternoon and every day, until the entire lot is disposed of.

ALLEGED HOLD UP JAILED.

Percy Elliott, Negro, Charged With Robbing Man in a Hack.

M. F. Hight, employed as a driver for the Bamberger Coal company, and residing at 554 south Fourth West street, called at the police station last night and told a rather remarkable story of a robbery, himself being the victim. He said he had just been paid $71 and intended to use the money to send his wife to Kansas for the holidays. He said he had visited Nevada and was drinking and finally took a cab to go to his home. He said that two negroes and a soldier got into the cab with him but that he did not object to the soldier, as he was a regular cab driver, but the two negroes, one of whom he said was Percy Elliott, and the other was a soldier, declared that he was dragged from the vehicle by the two colored men and while the soldier stood by and watched, the two negroes took the money and fled.

Shortly after telling the strange tale, Patrolman Howell arrested a negro named Percy Elliott and the police are now looking for the other negro and the soldier. The cab driver was located and admitted that the robbery had taken place and identified Elliott as one of the men in the cab. The colored man denied this and Hight was unable to positively identify him this morning. Elliott is being held pending further investigation.

RAILROAD NEWS.

DECIDE CASE TOMORROW.

Bert Elwood Will Know More About Selling Liquor.

Justice of the Peace Anton Lundberg will decide tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock whether or not Bert Elwood is guilty of selling liquor to a young girl. The case occupied the entire afternoon yesterday, several witnesses being examined.

Elwood is a waiter at the Tunnel cafe, and was accused of having sold beer to a party of four young people on the night of Nov. 22. Mamie Williams, a girl 15 years of age being one of them. The party was in one of the stalls in the rear of the Tunnel which is called the Combination bar. The defense of Elwood was that he served sandwiches to the four and also beer, the liquid being paid for by others than the girl. He had made no investigation of her age, judging from her looks that she was above 18. The girl is now in the industrial school, and was brought down from Ogden to testify against the three persons accused of having furnished her with intoxicants.

One of the three, a messenger boy named Barlow, pleaded guilty and is now serving a term of three months in the county jail for his part in the episode. Another, Joe Young, has been found guilty and will be sentenced tomorrow at the same time that the fate of Elwood is decided.

The evidence went to show that the girl had misrepresented her age, but Justice of the Peace showed that he had no objection to the defense. The Williams girl was very sullen at times while on the stand, and at other moments she was defiant and insulting to counsel.

The one person who seems able to do anything with her is Mrs. Tracy, matron of the industrial school, who brought her down from Ogden. Only once yesterday did the girl seem to sense her position and that was when she was being assailed by counsel for the defense. She leaned toward the matron, and the latter, tears dimming her eyes, clasped the hand of her ward and held it firmly. From that time until the close of the hearing the girl was entirely changed in demeanor, and it was plainly to be seen that she had been conquered by kindness. Mr. Farnsworth was strong in denunciation of the Tunnel cafe and similar places, which he said were bringing to ruin many young people of the city. The evil should be rooted out, he declared, and he believed that this case would be the entering wedge to expose the menace to the people.

SUIT ON SPECIAL POLICY.

In a complaint filed in the district court yesterday, J. H. Bailey, Jr., seeks to recover from R. L. Davis the sum of $375, alleged to have been paid to the defendant on an insurance policy. Plaintiff claims that he paid the sum on a special contract policy for $10,000 promised by Davis, but that the company, the Kansas City Life Insurance company, sent him a different kind of policy, one that he did not want.

GRANATI DISCHARGED.

The case against Frank Granati, charged with robbing a poll tax collector, was dismissed yesterday in Judge Armstrong's division of the district court. The cause came up on appeal from the city court, and the assistant city attorney recommended that no further action be taken. Defendant was accused of having thrown out of his yard W. H. Dyer, when the latter came to collect poll tax, the exact charge being resisting an officer.

Additional Section.—A second section Salesmanship class at the Y. M. C. A. will be organized tonight. The two sections will meet Wednesday and Thursday nights, John D. Spencer being the instructor for both sections.

Excavation Begun.—Excavation begins next week at the Saltair salt plant for the new works to be erected there. Construction will be pushed as fast as the weather will permit.

Funeral of Mr. Walker.—The funeral services of the late Albert E. Walker were held in the First ward meetinghouse yesterday, Bishop Warburton presiding. A large number of friends and relatives were in attendance, and among the speakers who paid tributes were Governor John C. Cutler, who had known him many years, and Elders Mathoniah Thomas, Arnold Schulthess, and Bishop Warburton. Others whose names were not obtained also spoke freely of their experiences with Mr. Walker during his lifetime. The interment took place in the city cemetery.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

At the Congregational church today at high noon, Miss Clara M. Hall and John H. Roe were married, the ceremony being performed by Rev. E. I. Goshen, in the presence of a large number of friends. The bride was attended only by her father, and wore a gown away from of wistaria color with hat and gloves to match. The church was decorated in white and green, large white chrysanthemums being used with palms. Mr. Jack Beardsley presided at the organ. A wedding breakfast followed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Hall, on the corner of North State and North Temple streets. Members of the two families being present. The decorations were in the church colors, white and green, the table having for a centerpiece a vase of white chrysanthemums, surrounded by ferns. Covers were laid for 12. Mr. and Mrs. Roe will be at home after Jan. 1 at 763 Fourth avenue.

Nearly 200 guests enjoyed the dancing party given last night at Odeon hall by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Child in honor of their sister, Miss Olive Bartch, and the details were all delightful. The hall was adorned with palms, flowers and potted plants, the music exceptionally good and a popular program of dances carried out. Punch was served throughout the evening and supper in the lower hall. Assisting during the evening were Mrs. Windsor V. Rice, Mrs. W. H. Dickson, Mrs. Hal W. Brown and Mrs. E. V. Silver.

Mrs. M. H. Walker was hostess at an elaborate luncheon at her home yesterday, the decorations being in pink with a basket of roses as a centerpiece and long-stemmed roses at each place. Following the luncheon, a program of beautiful music was rendered by Prof. J. J. McClellan on the organ in the hall, and vocal selections by Mrs. C. G. Plummer accompanied by Prof. McClellan.

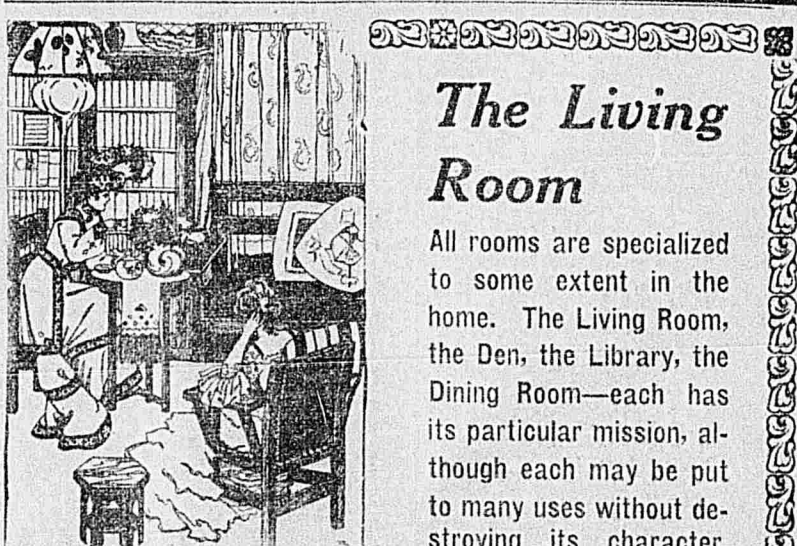

Thinking About Christmas Gifts?

Then you must be thinking of jewelry, for nothing else answers the real requirements of the occasion, and the question of the amount to be expended need not direct you to something less appropriate. Here is a store stocked with everything in the jewelry line, so that no matter how much or how little is available for gift-giving, there is something here to meet the requirement.

Away from the high rent district, but otherwise fully equipped for the accommodation and pleasure of the shopping public, it is an indisputable fact that we can give you the novel and the dependable in jewelry of every fashionable sort at a lower price than were we in a more expensive locality.

Our store and our stock will appeal to those who insist on quality, but by the gift of discretion will not pay more than is necessary.
