

WILL GO TO CHICAGO.

Executive Commissioner Emory on Utah World's Fair Matters.

PLANS FOR NEW BUILDINGS.

Distinguished Citizens of the Territory to be Personally Received by the Secretary.

Utah's World's Fair Commission held a meeting on Saturday night, all the members being present. One thousand dollars was appropriated to the credit of the body board of managers and a considerable amount of routine business transacted.

Executive Commissioner Emory submitted the following report, which was adopted and the recommendations agreed to.

Gentlemen:—In view of the fact that the time is fast approaching when, in accordance with the order of the commission, made last November, the office of the commissioner should be moved to Chicago, I deem it advisable to submit for your consideration the following recommendations:

I think the secretary should move his office to Chicago not later than March 1st, and under the direction of the commission begin at once putting the building under way for the residence of the secretary.

All exhibits in the residence buildings must be in place by April 1st, in order to have ample time to get everything in order, and general exhibits must be sent from here during the first week of March.

The secretary will have to attend to receiving and distributing exhibits to the several buildings, which when we take into consideration the delays that are liable to occur in shipping and delivering our exhibits at Chicago by the railroad will require considerable time, so that we shall scarcely have everything in Chicago ready for unloading before the latter part of March.

It is my intention to give my personal attention to the shipment of the exhibit from here, and when everything is in Chicago, then I will go and see that it is properly placed.

In regard to the buildings which it is our purpose to erect, I think the commission should carefully consider the matter between now and March 1st, and after having determined exactly what we will do, contracts can be let and the building put up during March, and the secretary will be on hand to look after the matter.

The architect has the plans for the remaining structures all ready, and it will be an easy matter for us to determine exactly what we will do.

There are a great many matters of detail in connection with our preparations for the opening of the Exposition which will present themselves as the work progresses, and it is to be expected that the secretary will have plenty to keep him constantly employed when he gets to Chicago.

I am not prepared to recommend any special rules for the regulation of the office of the secretary, but I think it would be well to say that the secretary will have plenty to keep him constantly employed when he gets to Chicago.

I submit herewith general rules for the government of the secretary in the discharge of his duties, which I think in connection with the general rules of the commission cover the case.

The secretary will, under the direction of the executive commission, have immediate charge of the building and grounds, keep a careful account of expenditures, see that the building and grounds are properly cared for and kept in good condition. He shall be in constant attendance at the building, attend to all correspondence, render such service and assistance to residents of Utah as may be in his power. He shall receive and care for all mail for residents of Utah sent to the Utah post-office, keep a register wherein all residents of Utah may register so that they can make an appointment to meet friends.

He shall, to the best of his ability, answer all inquiries received by letter or otherwise from Utah people inquiring concerning the accommodations, railroad rates, etc., and where possible, assist people from Utah to secure suitable accommodations during their visit to the Exposition.

He shall make a weekly report to the commission (furnishing each member with a copy) giving such information as will enable the commission to have a clear understanding of the conduct of affairs of the Utah building and the general status of matters pertaining to Utah at the Exposition.

In the absence of all the members of the commission the secretary will see that distinguished citizens of Utah are shown every courtesy proper for the commission to extend.

As chief of the Bureau of Information, the secretary will receive and carefully distribute all accepted information giving general or detailed information in relation to Utah. He will make proper provision for receiving and disseminating special information relative to any business enterprise in the Territory that invites the investment of capital. But he shall not under any circumstances solicit or receive subscriptions to the capital stock of any corporation or firm.

He shall be in attendance at the office a reasonable number of hours each day (the hours to be fixed by the executive commission), when he will be prepared to receive visitors in search of special information in regard to Utah.

The secretary will be held responsible for the conduct of the business of the office, and all employees in his office will be amenable to him. He may establish such rules for the regulation of the business of his office as he may deem proper.

N. A. EMERY, Executive Commissioner.

TERRITORIAL CONFERENCE

Discussion—"Am I My Brother's Keeper?"

OBJECT OF THE SOCIETY.
Since the notice of the Territorial Conference of Charities was published it has been frequently asked: "What is the object of the proposed conference?"

I answer, it is the same as that of the national conference, to which it is auxiliary. This is set forth in a late circular as follows:

"The National Conference of Charities and Corrections, which meets annually in one of the great cities of the nation, brings together a representative body of the people throughout the land, whose business it is to deal with the poor, the ignorant and the criminal, of who are devoted as good citizens to the work of private charity. Its object is the introduction of enlightened methods of dealing with the crime and misfortune of life. It does not conflict with any form of existing benevolence, but it aims to place before the country, by the aid of the press, such details of practical importance as cannot but be helpful to all."

From the report of 1892, I have copied a few of the subjects before the conference: Child Labor, School for the Feeble-minded, Reform Schools, for Adults, Relief of Poor Women in Philanthropy, History of Prisoners, the Indian Problem, Immigration, Education of the Blind and of Deaf Mutes.

It will be seen from the above that the members of the National conference are workers in a wide field; and truly, for those who believe in the welfare of the human race, the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man, "the field is the world."

Most of the problems before the national conference, confront us here. The benighted and the ignorant in this Territory have the same claim upon us as these classes have upon their more fortunate fellow beings elsewhere. The blind and the deaf have a right to expect that we will do what we can to dignify their affliction. The child-woman problem, one of the gravest that philanthropists are called upon to deal with, presents itself upon our attention.

It is hoped that the territorial conference, by its reports of charitable work, and by giving an opportunity for a free exchange of views on the important questions here outlined, will be the means of affording much help and encouragement to all workers along the lines of charity and reform.

I wish to call special attention to the clause in relation to membership, in the circular from which I have quoted. "The fact that you are dignified in the work of the conference makes you a member and entitles you to a seat and a voice in its discussion."

Confidence, Faith and Charity.

Secretary for Utah of the national conference of charities and corrections.

OLDEN PARAGRAPHS.

The Smelter and Reduction Works—The Case of Alfred W. Salt Lake City—Action for Industrial Arrest, Etc.

[Copy a Standard]

John A. Smith, western representative of the United States and Mining company, the combination which will erect smelters and reduction works in Ogden, was in Ogden on Saturday looking over the situation with a view to selecting the site for the mills. No decision was made, however, and the matter will not be until Mr. Smith's return from Chicago, where he will be in about twenty days. He leaves on Tuesday and will have personal supervision of the shipment of the necessary machinery, of which there will be about ten cars.

The company has secured a large number of propositions from parties interested in real estate in Ogden, and the company will be in the fact that the ground must have an elevation of at least one hundred feet, only certain localities can be considered.

To add to the inconvenience and trouble of the contractors on the Grand avenue school building the face of painters employed on the decorations directly on Saturday morning and refused to turn a hand until they received a guarantee that they would get every dollar due them immediately.

Monday the contractors will endeavor to obtain a new force.

William Best has sent Thomas C. Chubbuck for $25,000 for a mineral right and an improvement. On June 27th a dispute between the lessee and proprietor of the Brown Hotel and a result William Best was arrested on charge of disturbing the peace. After remaining in custody twelve hours he secured bonds and subsequently the case was dismissed.

In the Fourth District court, in the case of D. H. Alford et al., vs. Salt Lake City, the defendants on Saturday were granted two days additional time in which to prepare and serve a motion for a new trial.

The stockholders of the Lynne Tin Smeltering company held their annual meeting and election of officers with the following result: Thomas D. De- president; F. A. Cook, vice-president and manager; A. J. Woodberry, secretary. Louis, treasurer. Four gentlemen, with the addition of J. F. Pierce, constitute the board of directors.

The orange special which left Los Angeles on Friday will reach Ogden this (Sunday) evening and go east over the Union Pacific. This is not the forerunner of the season's shipments.

The police commission was in session on Saturday afternoon and discussed many matters of interest and importance, which had been referred by the council.

BLAIR IS CHOSEN ONE.

The Appointment of Probate Judge Falls to One of the Expected.

On Saturday evening a telegraphic dispatch from Washington, received in this city, announced the appointment of Attorney Jacob B. Blair as the successor of Judge Barish in the Probate court. Several names had been on everybody's tongue for the last month or more, but Mr. Blair had not even been thought of, until it came, according to his own statement that he had not made any application for the position, and he speaks of the favor conferred upon him as "a free will offering."

The new Judge is not without a substantial record. He was born in Parisburg, Mo., on the 11th of April, 1821, and was elected to the Thirty-seventh and Thirty-eighth Congresses from the Wheeling district. During the time he was serving his last term in Congress the state of West Virginia was created. Judge Blair was appointed minister to Costa Rica by President Johnson in 1869, and served four years, when he was relieved by the mission of the five Central American states, which made only one United States minister necessary. In 1870 he was chosen associate justice of the supreme court of Wyoming by President Grant. At the close of his four-year term he was reappointed by President Hayes. At the expiration of that term he was again reappointed by President Arthur, and thus served twelve consecutive years on the supreme bench of Wyoming. Judge Blair came to Salt Lake five years ago, and has since resided here. He is a widower and has two daughters living.

The newly-appointed Judge has received the hearty congratulations of his friends here and elsewhere—gratefully and joyfully.
