

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

The boy Steve Axil that was struck by the switch engine at Evanston, died at the Union Pacific hospital October 18th. No operation was performed as it was found upon examination that recovery was impossible.

Robert Murdock, both of whose legs were amputated, in consequence of an accident at the Salt Lake depot, has been brought from Logan to the hospital, where he will receive every attention needed.

Thomas Matkin, of Hyde Park, met with a painful accident Monday while hauling potatoes. He attempted to step on to the road, missed his footing and fell under the wheels of the wagon. He was painfully bruised but no bones were broken.

Superintendent Smoot of the Provo Woolen Mills Co. brings the encouraging news from California that Provo Woolen Mills goods are gaining in favor among the Californians, and it is expected that shipments to the Golden state will increase from now on.

Mrs. Wm. Strong, of the First ward, has received information that her brother, Adolphus Young, of Kanosh, is dead, leaving a wife and five children. He formerly lived in this city, where many friends sympathize with his bereaved family.

Nathaniel Montgomery, of North Ogden, met with an accident while returning home from Ogden. When near his residence something went wrong with the harness. He jumped out of the buggy to attend to it when a colt which he was driving reared up and fell upon him fracturing his leg.

According to the report of the city sexton for the quarter ending September 30, 1894, made at the last session of the city council, the total mortality in Logan for the period given was 20, of which there were males, 12, and females, 8; ages of decedents: under one year, 9; one to five, 2; over 30, 9.

A most daring and partially successful attempt to break jail was made Friday in broad daylight. Charles Burdett and J. H. Munger, prisoners, removed some brick from the east wall under the window, through which they crawled. Jailor Baxter succeeded in capturing Burdett, but Munger made good his escape.

Profs. Paul and Richman, of the A. C. made a proposition to the city council Wednesday evening that, if the city would loan land for the purpose, the college would establish a forestry, to experiment in the raising of trees, more especially of the hard wood varieties. A committee was appointed to consider the matter.

Robert Hull, of Whitney, Idaho, came to Logan Tuesday for the purpose of securing surgical assistance. He was chopping wood Tuesday morning, holding the block with his left hand and wielding the axe with his right. Just as he was about to strike his attention was called aside, and the blade struck his hand, almost severing it. The member was sewn on, and the prospects are that it may be saved.

Mrs. Caroline Jarvis, wife of the late Henry J. Jarvis, of Burlington, Iowa, is in the city, visiting old friends and relatives. Mrs. Jarvis at one time resided in Salt Lake (from 1854 to 1857) and was well known. The lady expects to remain in this city until Friday or Saturday, when she will go to Cache Valley. Mrs. Jarvis is staying while in this city with Mrs. Cecilia Hyde of the Seventh ward. We wish the lady a pleasant sojourn while in our midst.

A very interesting conjoint session of the fourteen Mutual Improvement associations of Logan was held last evening in the Tabernacle. Elder John E. Carlisle delivered an instructive lecture on the founding and remarkable progress of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. A song, a recitation and two short treatises on Book of Mormon history completed a very entertaining program.

The Y. M. M. I. A. conference of the Salt Lake Stake will be held on October 28, 1894, in the Tabernacle, at 10 a.m. and 2 and 7 p.m. Addresses by Assistant General Superintendent Moses Thatcher, Elder B. H. Roberts and others.

Ward officers will please invite all interested to attend these meetings.

JOS. H. FELT,
ROYAL B. YOUNG,
JAS. W. EARDLEY,
Stake Superintendency.

The officers of the experiment station are carrying on experiment work in analyzing the water consumed by householders in this city. A great deal of light typhoid fever exists in town, much of which is attributed to the use of impure water. The tests are therefore of great interest and importance, as being the possible means of preventing similar diseases in future. It was found that the water furnished through the city mains is remarkably pure, while well water is almost invariably foul and impure.

A San Francisco dispatch of the 18th inst. says: "The American Beet Sugar Producers' association held their annual meeting here today and elected the following officers: President, Henry T. Oxnard of Grand Island, Neb.; vice president, Thomas G. Cutler of Lehi, Utah; secretary, James Coffin of San Francisco. Resolutions were adopted denouncing the Democratic party for enacting a tariff law which is declared to be antagonistic to the sugar producing interests of America and 'dishonorable, uneconomic and unpatriotic.'"

After an absence of about two years devoted to missionary work in the Scandinavian countries, Elder Charles Wahliquist, of Heber, Wasatch county, Utah, has returned, arriving in this city, on Friday, October 19. He left for his mission on August 6, 1892, and labored the first five months in Westermanland, Stockholm's conference, Sweden. He was then then called to Copenhagen, where he was engaged in literary work connected with Nordstjernan. Elder Wahliquist has enjoyed good health during his absence, and reports the Scandinavian mission in a prosperous condition.

Inquiry at the office of the Utah Commission discloses the fact that many of the registrars and election judges recently appointed by the Commission have sent in their resignations. The reason for this action is that they have been nominated for office by the respective political parties, and were therefore required, under the instructions of the Commission, to resign. All vacancies thus occasioned are being rapidly filled, and in some cases those retiring recommend their successor; in others the Commission appoints the first person on the list in their possession.

Prince Galitzin, a Russian nobleman of high rank, and a general holding an important command in the Russian army, who has been traveling extensively in the United States, arrived in this city Sunday evening. He spent a portion of today in sight-seeing about the city. He visited the Tabernacle in company with Elder A. H. Cannon, and called upon President Woodruff, with whom he had a pleasant interview.

The prince is understood to be a man of broad views, possessing the qualifications of a statesman and of a general.

It was high unto midnight on Saturday when the directors of the Bullion-Beck & Champlon Mining company ended a session which commenced at 1 p.m. on that day.

The matter of opening bids and awarding contracts for the building of a new mill at the mines was discussed at length and disposed of with apparent satisfaction to all after which an important change took place in the directorate of the company. It was brought about by the resignation of Mr. J. C. Cunningham from the board. That gentleman was succeeded by Mr. H. B. Clawson.

It was a large, good natured and enthusiastic audience, which assembled at the Theater Friday to listen to Republican doctrine as expounded by Hon. Frank J. Cannon, Judge Zane and Hon. John Henry Smith.

The Theater was packed from pit to dome and every aisle and passage was filled with those who were glad to find even standing room within the building. Hon. C. E. Allen was chairman and he introduced Judge Zane as the first speaker. Next came Mr. Cannon, whose address occupied an hour and a half. That gentleman was followed by Hon. John Henry Smith with whose words the meeting was brought to a close.

The gentlemen were all rewarded with frequent applause. A pleasant and enlivening feature of the evening's rally was the music of the Republican Glee club and drum corps.

The mystery surrounding the death of Charles Johnson (of Salt Lake City) who died at the county hospital last week from the effects of an overdose of opiate poisoning, says the Denver Republican of Friday, the 19th inst., still continues. The coroner's people say they are quietly working on the case, but are non-committal concerning their opinion, whether Johnson committed suicide or not. Johnson's death
