AMUSEMENTS.

Last night was one of unbounded hilarity at the Theater. A brilliant audience below, and a fairly filled bouse above laughed through the amus-ing developments of "The Other Cirl," which it is high enough praise to say, is written in Augustus Thomas' best comedy veh. The story revolves around the adventures of a parson with sport-ing tastes and a nurlist, who casts a ing tastes and a puglist, who easts r glamor over a society belle and comer-very near eloping with her. The ef-forts of the puglist to cuter good so-ciety, and the trouble ha brings upor his parson friend, in so doing, cause the laughable complications of the coin-edy. The main interest, of course, centers around the character of the pugilist, portrayed by Lionel Barry-more, an actor of the highest sort of attainments. In fact, it would be hard to imagine a comedian who could more faithfully bring to the stage the real atmosphere of this particular part than Mr. Barrymore did last evening.

He was very excellently supported by a strong cast of players. Mr. Bur-beck who as the aristocratic father cannot be excelled. Grace Henderson, McConnel, reports that the de-mands from the various school dis-trictis in all parts of the state, which have decided to issue bonds for the con-struction of new schoolhouses, or for the improvement of existing houses, have been so numerous during the past two months, that the board has compelled to refuse to make fur-form the asture of a moot ques-tion, so that the courts could decided on the question of whether such en-dowments for public institutions could the used, so far as their earnings the used, for the improvement the used courts could decided to the used, so far as their earnings the used contained the user of the used of the improvement the used contained the user of the user of the user of the user of the user the user of the u tised, however, the atterney-general having given an opinion that the issu-ance of such bonds would be illegal, the 1 act providing for the issuance of these on the question of whether such en-dowments for public institutions could not be used, so far as their earnings were concerned, for the improvement of such institutions. It was expected that such an opinion as rendered could be taken before the supreme court on a motion for a writ of mandate to com-pel the state treasurer to advertise the sale of such bonds, and that the su-preme court decision would settle the whole matter. It is not known whether the board of regents of the university will take the matter up to the higher court for adjudication.

It is expected that the receipts for the months af April and May will be even frequer in prependion than these of greater in proportion than those of the first quarter of the year were,

CAPITOL BUILDING SITE.

Another meeting of the capitol build-ing commission will be held some time during the present week. W. E. Pierce, member of the commission who has been absent for several weeks, is ex-pected to return within a few days. It pected to return within a few days. It is now thought likely that the commis-sion will then decide on the permanent site for the capitol building. The com-mission is now considering three sites. These are, the present grounds, to-sether with the block of ground imme-diately to the west, and which can be obtained for $25,000, the Timer tract at the north end of Eighth street, which is offered to the commission for $40,000, and the McCarthy tract at the west end of Jefferson street, which is offered free. The present site including two blocks and Seventh street through these blocks, contains about five acres. The Timer tract is slightly larger, probthese blocks, contains about five acres. The Timer tract is slightly larger, prob-ably aggregating six and a half acres. The McCarthy tract, which includes the four blocks bounded by Biannock, State, Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets, contains something over eleven acres. It is clearly understood that the majority of the commission is favorable to the present commission is favorable to the present site provided that the additional ground on the north could be obtained at a reasonable price. This, however, it seems impossible to do, the owners of property that the state would be com-pelled to buy. The commission thinks otherwise, however, The three sites mentioned are all close to the present business center of the town.

UNIVERSITY FUNDS.

Attorney General Guheen has also rendered a decision which affects the university. He has decided that here-after all moneys disbursed on account of the university, must be upon proper vouchers, which have been passed by the state board of examiners. The past practise has been for the university authorities to draw lump sums from the state treasury for the payment of cur-rent expenses, which amount would be disbursed by the treasurer of the uni-versity, upon certificates drawn by the university authorities.

The law providing that all officers who are entitled to charge expense ac-counts against the state, shall with their claims present signed vouchers for all such expenditures, will go info effect about May 10, and the state audi-tor has issued a circular letter calling the attention of all such persons to the provisions of this law. provisions of this law.

DR. TALMAGE'S LECTURE.

It Results in Another Sum Being Added to U. of U. Gymnasium Fund.

A goodly sum was secured last night by the Authors' club for the gymnasium at the University of Utah, at the lecture in Barratt hall by Dr. James E. Talmage. The exact amount realized will not be known until later, as the tickets were sold by club members and a final checking is scheduled for tomorrow morning at the home of Mrs.

Rebecca C. Little. Dr. Talmage spoke on the subject of "Russia and the Russians," illustrating his lecture with numerous lantern slides, and he was listened to with the closest attention by a large audi-

Dr. Talmage dealt first with the geography of the country, then with its laws and government, and finally with the meaning to Russia of the present movement at home and abroad. On this topic he said:

"The supreme law of the land is the will of the case. Absolute power is sel-iom safe in the hands of one man, for It is more likely to be abused than well used. Though we all wish to see the Russians free, the majority of them are not yet ready for freedom. Liberty must come to them gradually. REUNION OF SEVENTIES. Members of 110th Quorum Enjoy Themselves in Social Capacity.

> An enjoyable reunion of the One Hun. dred and Tenth quorum of Seventy was held last night in the Sixth ward assembly hall, there being in the neighborhood of 200 persons present. A dellcious repast was served in the upper room, where tables were set for the accommodation of all attending. During the banquetting a program of songs.addresses, etc., was rendered, after which the guests repaired to the lower nom, where dancing was carried on till a late hour. The affair was in every way suc-cessful, and did much to bring the members of the quorum and their fam-illes closer together. The program rendered consisted of congregational singing; prayer by Bishop Carl A. Ek; duct. Mrs. A. G. Glauque and William Pardoe; essay.George D. Bennett; song, George Hickenlooper; solo, Mary Con-die; greeting, President James H. An-derson; song, William Pardoe; ad-dresses by Elder Hugh Watson and President Anthon H. Lund; congrega-tional singing, and benediction by Rish-op James C. Watson. Prest. Albert S.
