Gen. E. S. Otis Says Have Not
Wreaked Revenge on Filipinos.

INSURGENTS DISPERSED.

Soldiers and Constabulary Closely
Pursuing Them—Major Waller and
Lt. Day to be Court-Martialed.

Manila, March 10.—Reports of insubordination among American troops in dealing with Filipinos are discounted by Gen. E. S. Otis, who declares that an American soldier is not capable of the brutality which has been ascribed to him, says The Tribune. "Revenge was not wreaked upon Filipinos by United States troops while I was in the islands," said Gen. Otis. "What was not the spirit of the troops. Whenever occasional cases of cruelty came to the ears of officers right investigations were made and adequate punishment given."

DISPERSING THE REBELS.

Manila, March 10.—Lieut. Howland of the Twenty-first Infantry, an aide on the staff of Gen. Otis, was sent to report on the recent outbreak there, reports that the insurgents have been dispersed and that the soldiers and constabulary are closely pursuing them. There is but a small force of insurgents in the province, and they are gradually being driven out. It is claimed that the troops consisted of six companies and 220 men of the Fifth cavalry.

Active Gov. Wright and Maj. Henry Allen, chief of the native constabulary, were intended to leave Manila tomorrow on a tour of inspection through the southern archipelago. They have postponed their departure until next Wednesday. The tour of the marine corps will be presided at the court-martial to try Maj. Littleton W. Waller and Lieut. John A. Day, of the marine corps, March 17 next, on the charge of executing natives of the island of Samar without trial. The court-martial will be composed of army officers and officers of the marine corps. The charges against Maj. Waller and Lieut. Day are that they killed three natives of Samar, without trial. These soldiers were among those who accompanied the disastrous expedition of Maj. Waller and a detachment of marines to the island of Samar last December.

It is claimed that these soldiers murdered and proceeded to the foothills where they dug camoules (a variety of sweet potato), and that they then proceeded to the foothills and killed the natives. The charges are that they should have a good supply of arms and ammunition.

Sympathy is expressed for Maj. Waller, who at that time was suffering from mental and physical strain. Lieut. Day apparently obeyed Maj. Waller's orders.

GOLD MEDAL FOR BRAVERY.

Kokomo, Ind., City Council Voted It
To Engineer Frank Wyatt.

Kokomo, Ind., March 10.—The city council has voted a gold medal to Frank Wyatt, a Pan Handle Railway engineer, for bravery. The local friends of the orders of Odd Fellows and Red Men also voted medals and a cash prize, although Wyatt is not a member of either order.

HEALTH CONDITIONS BETTER

Outlook Much Improved Over a Week Ago Saturday.

For the week ending March 8, 18 cases were reported to the board of health, 12 of which were male and 6 females. For the same period 21 deaths were reported, 14 males and 7 females, of which 2 were shipped to other points for internment. In addition to these 6 bodies were brought here for burial.

The health conditions as regards contagious diseases are more encouraging than for the previous week. At the close of last report there were 46 cases of scarlet fever in quarantine. During the week 11 new cases were reported, and 11 having been released, left 35 cases at the close of this report. Compared with last week new cases decreased 3, of diphtheria there were 11 cases in the city at the time of last report. During the week 5 new cases developed, 1 died and 6 were released, leaving 10 cases in quarantine. Compared with last week the new cases decreased 4.

At the close of last report there were 6 cases of smallpox in quarantine in the city and 2 cases were reported and 4 were discharged, leaving 4 cases in quarantine at the close of this report. Of measles there were 12 cases reported; chickenpox, 2; typhoid fever, 1.

AFTER THEIR TRAVEL PAY.

Philippine Volunteers to Take Action on Once.

ALSO WANT BURIAL GROUND

Will Appeal to Congress for Benefits of the Free Homestead Act—Other States to Organize.

The Philippine volunteers met again yesterday afternoon in the council chamber to take further action in the matter of securing travel pay from the government for their return from the Philippines after being mustered out of service. There were about 30 members present, including representatives from Oregon and Wyoming.

A resolution was passed favoring the passage of the bill providing for travel pay for the volunteers as introduced in Congress by Representative Bell of Colorado.

In addition to the question of travel pay, a resolution was passed providing for an appeal to be made to Congress for the extension of the benefits of the free homestead act to the veterans of the Spanish war, as was done to the Civil War veterans. Messrs. Thompson, Bouton, Lester, Hampton and Lyngberg were appointed as a committee to take action in the matter and push it to a conclusion.

Comrade Meyers stated that his committee had received promises from Utah's representation in Congress that the matter of a cession of 20 acres of ground off Fort Douglas reservation to the G. A. R. for a burial plot for the soldiers dead would receive every possible consideration. Mr. Meyers stated in this connection that Utah is the only state in the Union that has not a soldier's burying plot.

President Nyström stated that the Idaho volunteers would organize a society this week along the same lines as Utah. Messrs. Waller and Lieut. Day, who were present, were charged with the duty of making inquiries as to what action the Utah boys have taken since their organization. It was suggested that the Idaho volunteers in other states be induced to urge their representatives in Congress to support the matters proposed to be legislated upon in favor of the volunteers.

A committee on finance was appointed, consisting of President Nyström, H. H. Smith and F. C. Peterson. After a vote of thanks to the council for the use of the rooms and to the press of the city, the meeting was adjourned until Sunday, March 22, at which time the question of adopting a constitution and by-laws will be considered.

WHITE WOMAN ASSAULTED.

Black Man Suspected and Thrown in Jail for Offense.

Late Saturday afternoon it was reported to the police that a brutal assault was made upon Mrs. Anna Nielsen during the forenoon.

According to Mrs. Nielsen's story she was engaged in household duties when the fellow appeared at the backdoor and asked for a drink of water. As the woman turned to get the water the fellow, who was dressed in a house coat, closed the door and looked in. Before Mrs. Nielsen could recover from her surprise the man sprang upon her and attempted to pin her arms behind her. A terrific struggle ensued during which Mrs. Nielsen was thrown to the floor and severely bruised and beaten. Her frantic screams attracted the attention of several persons who were passing and the fellow fled before accomplishing his fiendish purpose. He fled, however, he flashed a knife and told Mrs. Nielsen if she breathed a word of the affair he would return and kill her. It was towards evening before she mustered up the courage to notify the police.

Officers were detailed to work on the case, and yesterday afternoon, John Groesbeck, a colored man, who is a plasterer, was arrested. He was charged with assaulting Mrs. Nielsen. He positively denied all knowledge of the crime, and declared he did not know the man who threatened to kill him. He lived and could prove by his wife and children that he was at home and not at the time the assault was made on Saturday.

Against these statements of the man, the police say circumstances of which they are informed, point to him, and that Mrs. Nielsen unhesitatingly declared that Groesbeck is the man. "I remember his face only too well," she said, "I have seen him around my place two or three times, and I know he is the man who threatened to kill me. I said anything about the assault."

DEATH OF MRS. PALMER.

Expire of Heart Disease at Stockton —Interment in East.

Word of the death of Mrs. J. H. Palmer, wife of the former owner of the Palmer House of this city, was received here yesterday afternoon. The demise occurred at Stockton where she was visiting with friends, having gone there a few days ago with her husband, who has recently returned here.

The cause of Mrs. Palmer's death was heart disease from which she had been suffering for some time. The remains were brought to Salt Lake today and prepared for shipment east, where they will be sent for interment, tomorrow.

BURIAL OF MRS. GRUNDORF.

The funeral of Mrs. Andrew Grundorff was held yesterday afternoon from her late residence at 726 West Sixth North street. The services were held under the auspices of the Danish Brotherhood and the room was filled with the friends and relatives of the deceased. The burial was in the city cemetery.

KING AND MACE ARE OLD PALS.

Such is the Information Officially Received in Salt Lake.

TOGETHER IN CALIFORNIA.

Did Mace "Sneak" on Strange Out of Revenge?—If So, Many Will Believe In "Convict's Trick" Theory.

It will be recalled that several days ago the "News" published a statement to the effect that Sheriff Naylor would probably meet with some delay in securing John Strange as his prisoner. It was pointed out that under the laws of Colorado, a man released on parole either has to be pardoned or a bond given in order to take him to another state. Strange has already been paroled, but upon the order of Gov. Orman of Colorado, he is still held at the Canyon City prison.

Before leaving here Sheriff Naylor stated to a "News" reporter that he thought the authorities of the neighboring state would pardon Strange in order that he might be brought back here. Sheriff Naylor is now in Denver to make arrangements, if possible, for the release of the prisoner.

The prosecution and possible conviction of Strange, may and may not affect the position of King whom Atty. Wainwright hopes to clear of the charge of murdering Col. Provine. It is proved that King was mistaken for Strange all through, the probable effect is obvious. But on the other hand, it may be shown, as certain officials have hinted, that both Strange and King were implicated in the Sheep Ranch affair.

This paper has received information from an official source that evidence has been received here within the last week which goes to show that John Mace, the man whose affidavit is responsible for the investigation now under way, and King, the convicted murderer, are old pals; and that they served time together in California. If this is established beyond doubt and taken with the admission of Mace to Sheriff Naylor that he "sneaked" on Strange out of revenge, it would indicate that the whole scheme, so far as Mace and his statements are concerned, is as Atty. County Atty. Loofbourough terms it, "a convict's trick" to free a friend.

It is said that correspondence is now going on between officials of this and other states for the purpose of proving that King and Mace are old friends, and that they have "done time" together.

Atty. Wainwright says he is content to let the officers go ahead and make all the investigations they want, because he is confident that in the end it will result in the vindication of King, whom he declares is innocent of the crime against which he has been sentenced to shot to death.

The affidavits of Mace, Wittenburg and a second affidavit from Wittenburg which was secured by the county attorney yesterday, have been sent to the governor of Colorado. In the second affidavit, the former messenger boy says nothing whatever about King. He says that one of the two men whom he followed to the saloon, and the one who asked him to drink, was Strange.

In the meantime, it is said efforts will be made to bring Willie Meyers back to this city and it is believed he will not recognize Strange as the man who bought the satchel and other articles from him just prior to the murder.

LITTLE DOUBT OF GUILT.

So Says Sheriff Naylor who is Now in Denver.

Denver, Colo., March 10.—"There seems to be little doubt of the guilt of John Strange in the murder of Col. Provine, according to the information obtained by us at Canon City," said George H. Naylor, sheriff of Salt Lake county, Utah. The sheriff is awaiting the arrival of papers to secure the extradition of Strange to Salt Lake City for trial for the crime of which an Italian named Pagnini, a "Jug" King, was convicted and sentenced to death.

How to Prevent Pneumonia.

You have good reason to fear an attack of pneumonia, when you have a severe cold, accompanied by pains in the chest or in the back between the shoulders. Get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and use it as directed and it will prevent the threatened attack. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for colds and influenza, we have yet to learn of a single case that has resulted in pneumonia, which shows that this is really a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. MORMON ELDERS IN LOS ANGELES.

ELDERS' DIGNIFIED REPLY.

Controvers Treatment in the Land of Sunshine and Flowers—Preachers
Worst Opponents of Missionaries.

And now six busy proselyters are trying to make salutes of the angels!

It will be remembered that Elder D. H. Grow created a sensation at Simpson Auditorium Monday night at the close of the lecture on the "Ins and Outs of Mormonism," by Rev. Dr. Thomas C. Hiff of Salt Lake City.

Elder Grow is a young Mormon missionary, full of the zeal of his church. He sat through Dr. Hiff's lecture, and heard his Church denounced until his ears tingled. When the lecturer had concluded, the young missionary arose, after having first obtained leave to make a church announcement, ascended the platform and proceeded to characterize Dr. Hiff's statements as falsehoods, which he said would be answered at the meeting of the Latter-day Saints in Knights of Pythias hall, No. 108 North Spring street, next Sunday evening.

"I have known Dr. Hiff for some time," said Elder Grow, yesterday, "and have heard him preach some excellent sermons. He is a very able man, and has many friends in Utah, where he has received the best of treatment from our people, and has often partaken of Mormon hospitality. I knew, of course, that he was opposed to our religion. I was greatly astonished to hear him make such sweeping statements about the Latter-day Saints. He made many assertions that he must know to have been false, and I felt it my duty not to let such untruths go unchallenged."

Elder Grow is but 22 years of age, but has several years of experience in his ministry. He is of the face and figure of a fluent speaker. He is a type of the Mormon proselyter of the present day, and has himself admitted himself an able champion of the peculiar faith to which he adheres with the steadfastness of a martyr.

Representative Lacy of Iowa in making a favorable report on his bill for a public park of a small tract of the petrified forest in Arizona says: "This tract of land is unsuitable for cultivation and has no value outside of its scenic beauty and fossil localities. The wanton destruction by the use of powder and dynamite will continue until the region is protected by law. Reckless men will destroy these great curiosities with explosives in search of the beautiful crystals from the interior of the trunks of trees. It would seem that all that would be necessary would be to let the people of the American Congress to this remarkable region in order to secure its preservation to our posterity."

THE HEAD AND TAIL.

William A. Richards, assistant commissioner of the general land office and perhaps destined to be commissioner of the general land office of the United States, was at the time of the meeting of the city of Salt Lake, and at a social gathering the other night it was developed that when Senator Perkins was elected governor of the golden state Richards was at the tail of the ticket and elected surveyor-general. "How was it you left California?" asked Speaker Henderson. "Because I wanted to go to some place where I could be elected governor and saw no opportunity for anything of that kind in Perkins' state. In fact, I just kept moving around from state to state running for office. I am not what you would call a 'jiner,' but a 'runner' from way back."

THE IRISH DISTRICT.

Probably the average man would assume that the Irish congressional district of Congress would be one in New York or New Jersey. The real Irish congressional district is in Boston, the Ninth Massachusetts. Years ago it was represented by Joseph O'Neill, and a big, brainy Irishman was Joe O'Neill, who for several years he had John Fitzgerald, a fighter from the start was he. He was into everything and made himself felt in the house. Now have Joseph A. Conry, tall, blond son of Erin, who has not been in the house long enough to show what is in him.

A MICHIGAN PARAGRAPHER.

Representative Hamilton of Michigan is a paragrapher. He made a speech on trusts, tariff, prosperity, etc., and in seven pages of The Record had about 500 paragraphs. Some were one line, some were two, three and more, and some of more than a dozen lines, but there were few of that length. Mr. Hamilton intended to work off that speech upon the war revenue repeal bill, but that measure went through with such lightning speed that all the prepared speeches had to be worked off in another way. Mr. Hamilton and some score of other members used the Indian appropriation bill as a vehicle to carry their unused speeches.

SECTARIAN SCHOOLS TO GO.

Probable Senatorial Committee Division
on Canal Report—To Preserve
Arizona's Petrified Forests.

Special Correspondence.

Washington, March 6.—It was supposed that when the government withdrew all financial support from the sectarian schools on Indian reservations there was an end to the church question that had been so troublesome in connection with the education of the Indians. The government made provision for purchasing the school buildings which the churches had erected, and it seemed as if the "young Indian idea" would have been "taught to shoot" by a paternal government. But not so. The churches would not sell the school-houses, especially the Catholics. They provided a fund for Indian education and carried on the schools on the reservations. This has caused trouble for the Indians go to the church schools, officials leaving the government schools without pupils. Complaints have been made and a strong effort is being put forth to stop the sectarian schools altogether. It is claimed that the government officials lose control and discipline is injured by the double system; that Indian children should not have the right to elect where they shall go, but that they should go where directed by the agents and school superintendents. There is talk of legislation which will have the effect of removing the sectarian schools from the reservations and confine the Indian education strictly to the government.

PLATT REFERS TO GIANT.

It is more than certain that when the committee on intercommerce can make it report it will be in favor of the Nicaragua route. Senators Morgan, Harris, Trimmer and Foster of Louisiana, minority members, are for the Nicaragua route, while it is known that Hawley, Platt of New York, and Mitchell of Massachusetts are of the same opinion. This leaves the United States and the Panama proposition, there was some doubt as to the position of Senator Platt, but he has given unmistakable evidence of his preference recently by having presented as a pamphlet a magazine article by Gen. Ulysses S. Grant, published 21 years ago, in which the two routes are compared and strong preference given to Nicaragua. Gen. Grant also urged the importance of the canal as a great benefit to the United States.
