

HOW LABOR CAN GAIN ITS ENDS

Can Better Obtain Them Through Politics Than by Means Of Strikes.

SO DECLARES W. R. HEARST.

Invited by Gompers to Give His Views To Federation Executive Council.

Washington, June 20.—"I believe that labor can better obtain its ends by entering into politics and making any reasonable demands of the people and of the government as a national factor than by resorting to force, such as by calling strikes. By that I mean that labor can gain a great deal by entering the political arena." This was the opinion expressed by Representative William R. Hearst of New York, after a brief visit today to the meeting of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor held in session here.

Mr. Hearst had been invited by President Gompers to give the council his opinion as to the question of labor entering into politics in the effort to obtain the ends for which it works. "The laboring men, knowing my attitude on this question," said Mr. Hearst, "desired to question me as to how, when and where labor could derive the best benefits by entering politics. I told the council that it was my opinion that laboring men should enter politics. I said, 'I have been practically all the same lines that I have expressed in my newspapers, and that it was desirable that they make a showing of their numerical strength and of their power. I would not have them enter politics as partisans. The labor movement should disassociate itself from partisan politics, and then labor people should regard themselves not so much as Democrats or Republicans, but as labor men, and use their strength and their influence to elect to Congress candidates favorable. After showing the great power the labor element possesses they will receive respectful consideration of their demands.'"

Three Officials to Determine Responsibility Instituted.

MUST CHECK BAGGAGE.

House Passes an Important Bill on The Subject.

Washington, June 20.—A bill of great importance, both to the railroad and the traveling public was passed today by the house under suspension of rules, regulating the baggage of passengers by common carriers. The bill compels common carriers to check baggage in interstate commerce to check baggage in its destination. It also provides for the issuance of tickets to the destination of the baggage. The bill is intended to overcome the practice of roads which now refuse to check baggage to the destination where a ticket is the junction point or termination of the road is a forced and a mileage book is issued. The bill makes a refusal on the part of the carrier to carry its terms a misdemeanor, and provides a penalty for infraction.

S. L. FEDERAL BUILDING.

Alterations Can Now be Made From The General Fund.

Washington, D. C., June 21.—Representative Howell has secured passage in the house of a bill which has passed the senate, providing that the salary of the surveyor of customs of the port of Salt Lake City shall be increased to $3,500 per annum.

Senator Rutherford, who has been making an effort to secure an appropriation to make alterations in the Salt Lake City public building, has received information from the secretary of the treasury that the desired alterations, which will cost $500, can now be made from the general fund which is at the disposal of the treasury department for general repairs and alterations of the federal building.

MERCURY A DECEPTIVE TREATMENT

Mercury and potash are very deceptive treatments and the blood poison sufferer who depends on them for a cure is sure to be disappointed. These minerals will remove the external symptoms and shut the disease up in the system for a while, but the trouble will surely return and the loathsome symptoms of sore mouth and throat, copper-colored spots, falling hair, sores and ulcers etc., will be accompanied by the disastrous effects of the treatment. The continued use of these strong minerals will completely ruin the health and weaken the system to such an extent that the original disease often becomes incurable and sometimes fatal. Mercury and potash eat out the delicate lining of the stomach and bowels, destroy the gastric juices, producing chronic dyspepsia, cause mercurial rheumatism, salivation, and where they are taken in large quantities cause necrosis or decay of the bones. S. S. S. is the only remedy that can cure Contagious Blood Poison surely and safely. This remedy of nature, made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, antiseptics and destroys the powerful virus of the disease and by purifying the blood of every particle of the poison and enriching and strengthening this vital fluid it removes every symptom and leaves the body in a strong, healthy condition. When the blood has been purified with S. S. S. the cure is complete, and not one vestige of the poison is left for future outbreaks. Do not waste valuable time, and damage your health with the mineral treatment, but cure your case with S. S. S., an absolutely pure vegetable.

TO PAY PRESIDENT'S TRAVEL EXPENSES

Bill Providing for Them Causes Debate on Constitutional Point.

COCKRAN FOR THE MEASURE.

Question Largely Whether He Travels In the Interest of the Public.

Washington, June 20.—The bill appropriating $25,000 to defray the traveling expenses of the president for the next fiscal year, was called up under suspension of the rules today in the house by Mr. Tawney (Maine), chairman of the appropriations committee. The sundry bill carried an item appropriating $25,000 for the traveling expenses of the president, which went out on a point of order.

Mr. Underwood (Ala.) demanded a second, which was ordered, and a debate of 40 minutes ensued. Mr. Underwood asked if the appropriation was for the present president or for the future president. Mr. Tawney replied that the aim was to make it a permanent bill, and that with the passage of this bill the point of order against an appropriation carried by the sundry bill would not lie.

Mr. James (Ky.) wanted to know what official duty carried the president abroad. "Isn't it true that there is no official duty requiring him to leave the capital?" he asked.

Mr. Tawney said that, while he could not recall any official duty just at present that might take him outside the capital, he could easily conceive how as commander-in-chief of the army and navy he might be called upon at any moment to travel.

Bourke Cockran (N. Y.) supported the bill, saying he was willing to make a partisan matter out of the measure. Mr. Cockran remarked that the gentleman could not violate the Constitution of the United States if he tried. "There happens to be in the Constitution the means of asserting itself against even the gentleman of the house of representatives," he added.

Continuing, Mr. Cockran said: "The point I wanted to submit to the gentleman on our side here and to the entire house of representatives is this: That in the operation of our constitutional system the president has become a great leader of public thought and public opinion quite as much as any executive of the laws, and if the circulation of the president throughout the country adds practically in the direction of improved legislation giving effective direction to public opinion, whether that be not an expense that ought to ultimately be borne out of the public treasury."

I think, interposed Mr. Underwood, "every public man in the United States, cabinet officers, senators and members of the house, give their time literally and freely to the people of the United States in great discussions, and there is no reason why this house should make an exception of the president. We are going to deny passes to every man in this house. I believe we are, and I know we will if the conferees on the rate bill carry out what I believe to be the will and the sentiment of this house."

Mr. Cockran—Would the gentleman deny mileage to members?

Mr. Underwood—No, I would not.

Mr. Cockran—Then, if the president travel the public service is it fair to tax him and compel him to pay expenses that would be ruinous in their amount out of his own pocket?

Mr. Underwood argued that as Congress had provided a home furnished and maintained for the president at the White House, it contemplated that he should reside here.

In concluding Mr. Cockran said: "I hold it as a very auspicious sign that this suggestion comes from the majority of this house. Mr. Roosevelt's speeches throughout this country have been, I think, by the consensus of everybody, the strongest force in the development of public opinion in favor of the railroad bill." (Applause.)

W. I. Smith (Ia.) discussed the legality of the measure from a constitutional point of view, citing many cases to show that this appropriation could not be held to be an "emolument" under any construction of law.

The bill was passed, 176 to 68, the yeas and nays being demanded by Mr. Underwood.

The following Democrats voted with the Republicans: Broussard (La.), Clark (Fla.), Cochran (N. Y.), Davey (La.), Fitzgerald (N. Y.), Goulden (N. Y.), Glass (Va.), Granger (R. I.), Hunt (Mo.), Kelliger (Mass.), Kline (Pa.), Lindsay (N. Y.), Meyer (R. I.), Randall (La.), Ruppert (N. Y.), Ryan (N. Y.), Sherley (Ky.), Sullivan (Mass.).

WATCHING FOR MURDER.

St. Louis, June 20.—On information received by a private telegram from New Orleans six detectives have been assigned to watch incoming trains from the south for Prof. Muenster, formerly instructor of German at Harvard university, wanted on a charge of having killed his wife at Cambridge, Mass., on April 16 last.

The dispatch was from a professor of Harvard university whose name the police refuse to make public. He states that he saw Muenster board a train for St. Louis just after it was pulling out of the station and too late to inform the New Orleans authorities.

From the same source it is learned that Prof. Muenster placed his two children in charge of a nurse and sent them to Germany, where he has relatives.

CONVICTS MAKE ATTEMPT TO ESCAPE

As a Result Four Men Are Dead And One Probably Fatally Wounded.

PRISONERS INVOLVED DEAD.

One Guard Killed—A Trusty Fired On Gang—Trouble Was at Angola, La.

Natchez, Miss., June 20.—Four men are dead and one perhaps fatally injured, all white men, as the result of an attempt by three life-term convicts to escape from the Angola, La., state convict farm, 70 miles down the river from this city, today.

DEAD.

Capt. J. W. Block, former of state convict saw mill.

John Singleton, convict.

Bird, convict.

Ditch, convict.

WOUNDED.

J. W. Gibson, guard, shot through the body, the ball passing through the liver.

All of the convicts were sent up from New Orleans, and were working in the saw mill. This morning at 6 o'clock while Capt. Block was reading a paper, Singleton secured his revolver, and, in company with Ditch and Bird, was making off when the attention of the guard, Gibson, was attracted.

Gibson fired on the party and Singleton returned the shots, shooting Gibson through the body, and as Gibson fell, Bird secured his revolver. Compelling the foreman, Block, to accompany them, the convicts started toward the river, and had placed their captive in a skiff when they were fired on by a trusty named Deeth. Singleton then shot and killed Block.

Pay Guard J. T. Ogden joined Deeth, and in the fusillade of shots that followed three convicts were killed.

BRITISH ROYAL PARTY ARRIVES AT TRONDHJEM.

Trondhjem, June 20.—The event of today in connection with the preparations for the coronation of King Haakon VII and Queen Maud was the arrival of the Prince and Princess of Wales and their children on board the British royal yacht Victoria and Albert, conveyed by the British second-class cruiser, the ship of the line, the British vessels entered the harbor at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon, and the June and Talbot fired a salute, to which the Norwegian cruisers and shore batteries replied. For half an hour the sound of guns resounded for miles along the fjord. The Victoria and Albert had anchored in the harbor before King Haakon, Queen Maud and Crown Prince Olaf boarded a launch and steamed out to meet their relatives, the representatives of the British nation. The close kinship of the king and queen of Norway to the Prince of Wales made the meeting particularly sympathetic. The Prince of Wales embraced his sister and warmly greeted his brother-in-law, and took the little crown prince Olaf in his arms. Later the members of the two suites were presented to each other.

The royal party remained on the Victoria and Albert until 1 o'clock, when they returned to the landing, where they awaited the coming of the Prince and Princess of Wales. The departure of the king and queen from the British royal yacht was the signal for another series of salutes. A great throng surrounded the landing and gave King Haakon an ovation. When the Prince and Princess of Wales arrived at the landing King Haakon took the arm of the Prince of Wales and marched up the landing and along in front of the guard of honor, the band playing the British national anthem and the crowd cheering enthusiastically. Queen Maud and the Princess of Wales and their children entered a carriage to which King Haakon and the Prince of Wales followed. The British minister and the members of the suites and aides followed, and the party drove to the palace through crowded streets. The crowd was specially demonstrative because of the relationship of the Prince of Wales to Queen Maud.

BIBLE RETURNED.

Class of '76, U. of M. Sends Back One Stolen 30 Years Ago.

Ann Arbor, Mich., June 20.—The feature of the alumni meeting today at the University of Michigan, when a number of classes were holding reunion, was the recovery of the old chapel Bible which mysteriously disappeared 30 years ago. The class of 1876 today returned the book to the university. It seems that one night in '76 the seniors mischievously locked a decrepit old horse in the chapel. Fearing that the horse might chew the pages of the Bible, they took the book away with them to preserve it. The affair then aroused such a storm in college that nobody dared to return the book, and it has remained in possession of the members of the class until now.

DOWIE'S FATHER.

Starts for Chicago to Establish His Identity.

Des Moines, Ia., June 20.—John Murray Dowie of Essex, Ia., father of John Alexander Dowie, left for Chicago this morning, carrying with him important documents, which he will present to the Chicago courts in an effort to establish his identity and relationship with his son of Zion City.

"I expect to set to rest forever any and all doubt as to my relationship with Zion's prophet," declared Mr. Dowie today. "My son, for reasons not apparent to me, has sought to discredit the relationship of father and son. I have the documents with me and will be able to prove conclusively that I am just what I have represented myself to be—the father of John Alexander Dowie."

Mr. Dowie refused to say whether or not he would make any claim to the estate owned by his son, but that is believed to be his intention.

PANAMA ASSERTS RIGHTS.

Panama, June 20.—Serious differences may arise between the United States and the republic of Panama regarding the right of the former to import into the canal zone commissary supplies of tobacco free of duty. Panama denies this right, claiming that tobacco is not an article of first necessity nor one required in canal construction. The last Panama assembly established a duty of 12 per cent on tobacco, thus making its importation practically prohibitive. President Amador says that when the assembly meets next September, he will ask for immediate legislation reducing the duty on tobacco. It is reported that should the canal commission insist on importing tobacco, Panama will protest and endeavor to stop the importation as an infringement of the law of Panama and the treaty with the United States.

MAINE DEMOCRATS NAME DAVIS FOR GOVERNOR

Bangor, Me., June 20.—Cyrus W. Davis of Waterville, twice its representative in the lower branch of the Maine legislature and two years ago Democratic candidate for governor, was nominated by acclamation today at the Democratic state convention as the gubernatorial candidate for the September election. The nomination of Mr. Davis and the adoption of a platform was the only business before the convention. Maine has no lieutenant-governor, and the other state officers are appointed by the legislature. The platform adopted dealt almost entirely with state issues.

STACKPOLE ARRAIGNED.

He is Charged With the Murder of Joel Schock.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 20.—Ernest G. Stackpole was formally arraigned in police court this morning and charged with the murder of Joel Schock, who was shot to death in his home in San Julian street here ten days ago. Stackpole did not plead and his preliminary hearing was set for next Friday.

Mrs. Aurelia Schock, widow of the murdered man, who is charged with being an accomplice, was not arraigned today owing, it is stated, to her physical condition being such that she was unable to undergo the strain. The information alleged that Mrs. Schock and Stackpole conspired against the life of Schock and murdered him.
