The portrait is of a standing figure, and every line speaks of character and power. The pose is graneful, natural and casy, and, according to those who knew President Young bert, is very characteristic of the man. He is shown standing by a table of pioneer model, his left hand resting on a book and his right spacefully holding the land of professorship of art at the Brigham Young college. It will be remembered that Mr. Wright won the state prize of $200, last year, for the best painting right gracefully holding the lapel of his frock coat. The face and form are well modeled. The likeness is a striking one. It is pronounced the best that was ever painted of him. Special Correspondence. Coalville, Summit Co., June S.--We had a very heavy windstorm fast eve-ning, winding up with a nice rain. The county board of equalization was in session Monday and Tuesday; very few complaints were made. A number of people took advantage of the excursion rate to the Y. M. M. I. A. conference and went to Salt Lake.

Thursday afternoon was a general holiday here, all the business houses closing up. The Co-op, employes and a nine picked from the rest of the merchants in town crossed bats at the City park The game was hotly contested, the score being 27 to 32, in favor of the Co-op, team. Many of the people took Friday was "Woodruff day," com-memorated in honor of the first coloniz-ers to this stake. A spiendid meeting of all the people in the stake was held in the forenoon. The afternoon was pent in sports, including a children's lance and ball in the evening. There was a perfect unity of spirit manifest during the day, also Saturday and Sunday during conference. The practical instructions and interesting inci-lents related by President McRae were
