citizens of the United States wanted a ene-sided reciprocity treary any more than the citizens of his Dominion. The honerable intention of both governments was to secure a mutually advantageous bargain, and for such he would give his voice and influence. The Governor General was heartily cheered during his speech, and at the conclusion, by the members of the board.

Terrible Case of Hydrophebia. A remarkable case of death by hydrophobia occurred here on Sat-urday. A terrier dog, owned by John Sallett, of Western Avenue, became lazy and irritable the last week in June, and one day as Mr. Sallett's young daughter Lottie attempted to put it in its kennel, attempted to put it in its kennel, it bit her on the cheek, drawing blood. The wound healed and caused no alarm, but last Wednesday the child was taken unaccountably sick, and her malady gradually increased until, on the day of her death, when she began to gasp, and retching ensued. Her face turned livid, and her eyes started from their sockets, and she frothed at the mouth, and amid the most violent contortions of the body she died. A consultation of physicians decided that it was without don't a case of hydropholia. It is remarkable in that it dispresses the theory of Dr. Hammond's disciples, that children do not die of hydropholia, and that death ensued here phobia, and that death ensued here much sooner than usual.

Speech by Dufferin.

Lord Dufferin, during his visit to the Board of Trade, to-day, made a speech in which he said, though it did not become him as Governor General of Canada, and a legislator of the crown, to express his sentiments on political questions, he could not but acknowledge that the governments of Great Britain and Canada desired to pursue that line of policy that would tend to increase and develop the personal intercourse now existing with the U.
