EVENING NEWS.

BY TELEGRAPH.

PER WESTERN UNION TELEGRAPH LINE.

FORTY-SIXTH CONGRESS

CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, 30.—Consideration was resumed of the bill establishing a retired list for non-commissioned officers, the pending question being Allison's amendment for the appointment of two colored cadets by the President to West Point.

Pending debate the morning hour expired and the naval appropriation bill was taken up.

Eaton stated that the Senate committee on appropriations had made no amendments and he thought there would be no discussion. No amendment being offered the bill passed.

Beck said the committee on appropriations had approved this bill and the army bill without crossing a t or dotting an i.

Conkling congratulated them on rising above partisanship for once and report an appropriation bill pure and simple.

Beck said that the majority were getting out of the bad habits that had prevailed for fifteen years past, as could be expected.

The Spofford-Kellogg case was taken up, Vance supporting the Spofford side. Pending his remarks the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, 30.—King said he would call up the question of the Monroe doctrine on Wednesday.

Singleton, from the committee on appropriations, reported back the consular bill with Senate amendments. The amendment appropriating $24,000 for salaries and expenses of commissioners appointed to negotiate with China a treaty relative to Chinese immigration was concurred in, with amendments giving the commission a secretary with $1,500 salary, interpreter with $1,500 and $1,500 for incidentals. The other amendments were non-concurred in.

The House went into committee on private calendar, and after passing several bills, adjourned.

AMERICAN.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Coinage at Carson.

WASHINGTON, 30.—It having been assigned as a reason for the temporary closing of the Carson mint last November, that sufficient bullion could not be purchased there to keep the mint in operation, Representative Daggett, on the 12th inst., addressed a letter to the Secretary of the Treasury, propounding sundry interrogations concerning the cost of transportation of coined and uncoined bullion from San Francisco to New York or Washington, from Carson to New York and San Francisco, and from San Francisco to Virginia City, with a view of ascertaining why bullion could not be purchased, coined and shipped East as cheaply at Carson as at San Francisco. Secretary Sherman has today sent Daggett a detailed answer from a letter from the Director of Mints. Its principal points are subjoined, and will be found of especial interest at the present time, by reason of their bearing upon the proposition now strongly urged in Congress for the removal of the mint from Carson to some city in the Mississippi valley. The cost of coinage at Carson is slightly in excess of that at San Francisco because of the cost of obtaining supplies is somewhat greater, but this fact was not taken into consideration in suspending coining operations.

A Congressional Muddle.

In the Donnelly-Finley-Springer case, Finley's father explained his letter to Springer, and was sharply questioned as to the expression "I hold close and confidential relations," and said he referred to Donelly's constituents in Minnesota, but confessed he had not been in Minnesota since 1877. He had written Hewitt that the air was full of rumors of money being used to keep Washburne in his seat, and Hewitt responded that Tilden was not interfering in the contest. Donnelly testified that he did not write an anonymous letter, inspire or know who wrote it. He first saw it March 9th, when he told Mrs. Springer that her hand-writing seemed like that of W. S. King, of Minnesota, who had promised to do his best to discover and punish the writer. Springer said he would rather give $10,000 than have the matter get into the papers. Springer thought Finley wrote it. The witness thought there was no similarity in the writing.

The witness further said that Springer acted strangely, and gave him to understand he should have his (Springer's) support. He intimated that the letter to Springer was written by W. S. King.

The Ute Reservation Invasion.

The House committee on war claims has directed a favorable report upon the bill providing for the return to H. Johnson and others the sum of $20,000, the surplus of amount assessed upon Southern sympathizers in Tennessee for damage done to public property during the late war.

At a meeting of the cabinet today, the threatened invasion of the Ute Indian reservation for mining purposes, was the subject of a somewhat protracted discussion. It was decided to send General McKenzie and his forces into the reservation to prevent a collision between the whites and Indians. It was determined to defer action on the army appropriation bill until the deficiency bill shall be received, at which time they will both be considered and disposed of together. Some allusion was made to Representative Morse's resolution, now pending before congress, providing "for the appointment of commissioners to ascertain and report the basis for a reciprocity treaty between the United States and the British provinces;" but no action was taken. Several members expressed the opinion that any measure touching a reciprocity treaty should be general in its character.

Unendurable Presumption.

BELLEVILLE, Ills., 30.—The owners of the coal mines here have tired of the dictation of miners and will make a fight at once and close the mines to-morrow night, until they can run them on their own terms. It is not a question of wages, but of policy on the part of the owners of the mines, which induces this action. The miners are insolent and unreasonable in their demands. An outbreak is feared; as the miners are threatening in a manner. The Governor has sent a sheriff to help preserve order.

Advices from Belleville late tonight are to the effect that two mine owners discharged their men to-day, closed their pits and that all operators who are members of the Coal Exchange will take the same action to-morrow. Operators who do not belong to the Coal Exchange, or what is known as the pool, will continue work. The miners feel incensed at the turn things have taken but so far there are no indications of an outbreak or any evidence that violence will be resorted to.

Hallock's Latest Mistake.

SAN FRANCISCO, 30.—M. H. De Young, surviving proprietor of the Chronicle, was arrested at noon today on the complaint of Mayor Kalloch, charging him with libel. The alleged libel was the reproducing in the Chronicle of an editorial which appeared in the New York World, which accused Mayor Kalloch of subordination of perjury in connection with the testimony given by Clemetshaw at the inquest on the body of Charles De Young. The prisoner was released on bail.

Drowned Miners.

A Seattle dispatch says: David Ball, Arthur Dempsey, Wm. Murray, Wm. H. Goucher, James Scanlin and Capt. Stephen Meanly, miners returning from the Skagit mines, while descending the rapids of Skagit river were drowned by the capsizing of the canoe.
