SWORN EVIDENCE.

The following Cure is probably the most remarkable ever effected by any medical preparation for the treatment of Catarrh:

Gentlemen,—I hereby certify that I have had Catarrh for ten years, and for the last six years have been a terrible sufferer. I was rendered partially deaf, had buzzing in the head, pains across the temples, dizzy spells, weak and painful eyes, swollen and ulcerated tonsils, hard and constant cough, severe pain across the chest, and every indication of consumption. My head ached all the time. The matter accumulated so rapidly in my head and throat that I could not keep them free. Frequently at night I would spring out of bed, it seemed to me, at the point of suffocation. I would then have recourse to every means in my power to dislodge the mucous from my throat and head, before being able to sleep again. For a period of six years my tonsils were ulcerated and so much inflamed that I could with difficulty swallow. I finally consulted an eminent surgeon in regard to an operation on them, but at his request postponed it. The constant inflammation and ulceration in my throat caused by the poisonous matter dropping down from my head had so irritated and inflamed my lungs that I coughed incessantly,—a deep, hard cough. Meanwhile my system began to show the effects of this disease, so that I lost flesh, grew pale, and showed every symptom of an early death by consumption. When my matters had reached this stage, or about six months ago, I began the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, and from the first dose I began to improve rapidly. The first dose seemed to clear my head as I had not known it to be for years. It seemed gradually to arrest the discharge. It stopped my cough in three days. By using it as a gargle soon reduced the inflammation and swelling of my tonsils, so that they soon ceased to trouble me. The soreness across my chest disappeared, the buzzing noises in my head ceased, my senses of seeing and of hearing were completely restored, and every symptom of disease that had reduced me to the verge of the grave disappeared by the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH.

I have been thus explicit because, as a druggist, I have seen a great deal of suffering from Catarrh, and hope to convince many that this is a great remedy.

I am familiar with the treatment of Catarrh as practised by the best physicians, and have consulted the most eminent about my case. I have used every kind of remedy and apparatus that have appeared during a period of six years past, and have, while following their use, taken great care of my general health, but obtained no relief or encouragement from any of them.

CHRONIC PLEURISY CURED.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—Having for many months past suffered with a very large side, called by my physician Chronic Pleurisy, caused by a former injury and strain, and for which I used many prescriptions and liniments, as well as the so-called rheumatic cures, without the least benefit, my physician recommended one of your COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTERS, which, to my great surprise, relieved the pain and soreness almost immediately, and I have been able to attend to my household affairs ever since with perfect ease and comfort, whereas, before the application of your invaluable Plaster, I was scarcely able to do anything. I consider them inestimable, and shall with pleasure recommend them to the afflicted. Yours respectfully, Mrs. FRANCES HARRIMAN.

EVENING NEWS.

Friday, . . March 28, 1879.

Correspondence.

PAWTUCKET, R. I., March 20th, 1879.

Editors Deseret News:

I left Boston a fortnight ago, and have since been visiting different towns in this State, calling on scattered Saints and other friends, and expect to baptize one or two persons shortly.

Before leaving Boston I baptized a Cuban gentleman, formerly of rank and fortune, but now a citizen of the United States, having long been a resident of this country. He is a representative of an old and titled family of Spain, was an officer in the Union army during the rebellion, and for some years has practised law. An accomplished linguist; he has traveled extensively through various parts of the world, and possesses a thrilling personal history, a finished education, and a vast fund of information upon history, countries, men and nations.

At length, Providence took him to Utah, on business, and while there he received impressions that led him to read some of our works. He continued his investigations after his return to the east, made my acquaintance in Boston, expressed his conviction of the truth of our religion, and requested baptism, which I accordingly administered to him. He designs having his future home and fortunes with our people.

While in Boston I attended, one Sunday evening, a conference meeting of a sect called Age to Come Adventists. It was one of the queerest worshipping assemblies I ever mingled with. An audience of perhaps 200 persons of both sexes had assembled, when some one suddenly, and in stentorian tones, broke out with a hymn. A few joined in, and during the singing, the "elder" who was going to speak, entered. The singing soon ceased, and he stood up in the pulpit, read a prophecy from Ezekiel relative to the gathering of Israel to Jerusalem, basing a discourse upon it. He continued for nearly an hour, and the purport of his remarks was to the effect that the time had now come for Israel to gather. That they, his hearers, were of Israel because they were of the Anglo-Saxon race, which race was descended from the ten tribes. That when Israel, including his hearers, and all others of the Anglo-Saxon race who would believe and gather, should be assembled in Palestine, the Lord would pour out His Spirit upon all who dwelt in that Holy Land, "ungodliness should be taken away from Jacob," i.e., the descendants of Jacob assembled there, and the millennium would be ushered in upon them, they would dwell in palaces, wear the costliest apparel, etc., while all other parts of the earth were being deluged with terrible judgments. He seemed to think that not very many people besides the Jews proper, would believe or gather, and urged his hearers to prepare for an immediate exodus to Jerusalem, that they might be there and among the few to enjoy the millennium after the dawning of which, Christ would come and reign over them, while the rest of the earth's inhabitants should be destroyed. He spoke of the manner in which they could sustain themselves till the millennium should commence, as though it would be but a short time. At length he asked all who felt a desire to emigrate to Jerusalem, to rise to their feet. I estimated the number of those who stood up to be about fifty.

He then invited others of "the brethren" to speak. One of them did so, and engaged in a somewhat severe criticism of the manner in which the first speaker had interpreted certain prophecies. A warm debate ensued, in which a number of "the brethren" took part, and it soon became an acrimonious altercation, no two persons seeing the meaning of the Scripture alike.

For half an hour it was "give and take" at a pretty lively rate, some of the speakers using very absurd arguments, and expressing views that were little short of insane. At length the excitement subsided, the "elder" made a few remarks, and then told the congregation it might consider itself dismissed. There was no prayer during the entire service.

At the close a gentleman whom I had accompanied to the meeting, introduced me to the "elder" who, by the way, was a Mr. Cummings, and a leading lady of the society, formerly editress of its paper, named Mrs. Davis. While I was talking with Mr. Cummings, Mrs. Davis hastily whispered the fact among the dispersing congregation that there was a "Mormon elder" present. She then introduced me to a Jewish lawyer named Mr. Angell, and his wife, who invited myself, my companion and Mr. Cummings to accompany him home. We did so, and a few minutes after, being seated in his drawing room, there entered about 20 or more persons, whom Mrs. Angell had invited to "come and see the Mormon."

The company were soon seated. All of them had attended the meeting, and some of them were among the number who desired to go to Jerusalem. I readily perceived myself to be an object of interest to the company, and, in answer to questions, I laid several principles of the gospel before them, and expounded, as well as I could, some prophecies which related to the establishment of the kingdom of God in the last days as well as events that must take place before the gathering of the Jews to Jerusalem.

Thus, the evening passed until midnight, when all the company, except two gentlemen and myself, on whom Mr. Angell had pressed his hospitality for the night, departed. We four remained in the room and continued our conversation, over some refreshments, for two hours longer, Mr. Angell manifesting deep interest in what I said to him. I dwelt upon portions of Isaiah's prophecies, the 4th chapter of Micheal, the 107th Psalm and other portions of the Old Testament, which he, being a Jew, accepted as of Divine authority, though he did not so accept the New Testament.

The two gentlemen, who shared with me Mr. Angell's hospitality, had come in from the country to attend the Age to Come Conference and meditated going to Jerusalem.

Our host was a highly-educated Jew, born in England, who for nine years had practiced law in Boston. He had studied five years in a German university, and three years in the universities at Jerusalem. He defended polygamy by saying that it was according to the law of Moses, and beneficial to the race, and, as a lawyer, he pronounced the anti-polygamy law of 1862 unconstitutional, and expressed the certainty that the courts of England, under the same circumstances, would never have convicted George Reynolds.

When I testified that God had raised up prophets in these days, and quoted the prophecy on war, and certain other modern prophecies which have been literally and astonishingly fulfilled, he seemed deeply impressed, and expressed an earnest desire to investigate further.

At length our host conducted us to our rooms, which were elegantly furnished, and next morning, as I accompanied him up town, he urged me to spend more time with him, which I could not at that time do, but may hereafter.

Very respectfully, B. F. CUMMINGS, JR.

Some Chinese Remedies.

The witches in "Macbeth" seem to have had a hand in making up a Chinese pharmacopœia, an account of which comes over from the Paris Exhibition. Among the most highly-reputed drugs and medicines which the Celestials have taken to Paris, are a variety of exceptional medical curiosities. The larvæ of grasshoppers, for instance, dried and roasted, are prescribed for headaches; dried fowls' gizzards for indigestion; the inside of a stag's horn for rheumatism and bronchitis; a glutinous decoction of donkey's skin is labeled as having a great reputation, being taken in cases of pulmonary diseases; while a powder, prepared from the skin of the elephant, is recommended for rheumatic pains. One of the stimulants, according to the London Globe, is a tincture of scorpions; and for tonic purposes, the best, though a very costly medicine, is the gelatinous decoction of tigers' bones; for a general antidote, in many cases, the bear's gall is much admired. The gem of the whole collection, however, is curious enough. A number of live toads are imprisoned in a jar, half filled with flour, and when the flour is moistened with the saliva which these creatures emit, it is dried and kept as powder. The special use to which this preparation is put is to take it as snuff to produce sneezing, and in that way it is regarded as invaluable in restoring persons suffering from fainting fits, convulsions or hysterics.—Ex.

"What decoration is that you are wearing?" said an Austrian sergeant to a new recruit. The man blushed deeply, and replied: "It is a medal our cow won at the cattle-show."
