MINING, BUSINESS AND STOCKS

LIKE OLD TIMES ON THE EXCHANGE

Two Brisk Sessions Held During Forenoon With Sales Aggregating $45,000.

PARK CITY STOCKS ACTIVE.

Daly-Judge and Others—Largest Half-Day's Business in About Three Years.

It seemed a little like old times on the floor of the Salt Lake Stock & Mining Exchange this forenoon. Trading was decidedly brisk and after the calls were over, James Shorten, secretary of the stock exchange organization, made the statement that it was the busiest forenoon that had been experienced in about three years. A total of 34,905 shares were transferred, which had a selling value of $45,078.38.

The first sales of the day were made by Carisa, which moved up a cent a share. Daly-Judge started off in fine order, the first lot going at $8; this was followed by a drop to $7.60. Little Bell another of Park City's stars, touched the $5 mark, and then sold down to $4.72½. Beck Tunnel opened strong and it went up at a rapid pace, closing with 300 shares going at 61½. New York stiffened slightly and Wabash displayed a tendency to go forward again after a season of comparative quiet.

The big feature of the open board sales were furnished by Columbus Con. The stock was active, but the price fell from $4.85 at the start to $4.52½ at the close. There was some dealing in Thompson at an advance.

The closing quotations and sales were:

BINGHAM'S GREAT FUTURE.

Prediction as to What Camp Will Do In Two Years.

After communicating to some length on the marvelous development of Bingham mines and the plans of the Utah Copper and Coston Con., on their proposed mill construction, the New York Commercial adds:

"Two years from the beginning of this great era of development the output of copper from Bingham will exceed 150,000,000 pounds annually, having a value of $20,000,000 to $25,000,000.

"This does not include the output of other Bingham companies, not included in the combine, which last year exceeded 31,000,000 pounds. The total production of the Amalgamated Copper company last year was 240,000,000 pounds, while the entire state of Michigan second on the list of copper producing states, turned out 206,000,000 pounds, or 56,000,000 pounds more than the one Bingham company can place on the market annually after two years.

"This production means for Bingham the sending of 600 cars of ore a day from the mines. It also means the employment of 4,000 men in milling and shipping ore and 3,000 in milling ond smelting, and will require a payroll of nearly $7,000,000 annually.

"In addition to these properties the Utah Consolidated company will contribute almost 20,000,000 pounds a year to the Bingham output, while the United States, Bingham Consolidated, Ohio Copper and Utax Apex companies will make large additions to the copper producing figures of the camp."

SILVER KING MAY HAVE TO ANSWER

Big Park City Mining Company Said to Have Extracted Ore Unlawfully.

PROPERTY OF JAS. McGREGOR

An Associates Involved—The Magnolia and St. Louis Patented Claims —Where They Are Situated.

Mining litigation of a sensational character, which, if brought, will involve one of the greatest producing mines in the state—the Silver King at Park City, is among the possibilities of the near future, unless a settlement between James McGregor and associates and that company, is brought about in the meantime.

Rumors have been afloat for several weeks to the effect that trouble was brewing in Park City, but no one seemed to take it seriously until the fact came out and Mr. McGregor had gone east for the express purpose of conferring with associate owners of the St. Louis and Magnolia patented lode mining claims, in which, it is alleged the Silver King company had trespassed and had extracted ore of the value of probably several hundred thousands of dollars.

By way of explanation: It is well to state that the location of the claims in dispute are right in the heart of the vast territory under the ownership and control of the Silver King company. The Silver King owns everything around these claims for several thousand feet.

Any more than to admit that he is the owner of a controlling interest in the claims and that there is a dispute pending over the property, Mr. McGregor had nothing to say when seen by a "News" representative during the day.

But the story is told from another source that some time ago Mr. McGregor had very good reasons to believe that the Silver King was extracting ore from the Magnolia and St. Louis claims But to confirm these suspicions was the question.

It was necessary to get permission from those in authority to enter the mine. That is one of the rules of the company. But through strategy, it is alleged, Mr. McGregor succeeded in obtaining the information he desired. Whether he gained entrance to the Silver King workings personally, or his agents did so, is not definitely stated. Nevertheless, Mr. McGregor came into possession of enough data to give him a very good idea of what the underground workings of the Silver King really consist of and particularly that portion of them in the vicinity of the two patented claims, and that his suspicions were well founded. Surveyors were afterwards set to work on the surface and when they completed and submitted their reports, it is alleged, a demand was made on the Silver King officials for compensation, which was met with a counter proposition from the latter, not entirely satisfactory to Mr. McGregor and associates.

AT THE CITY ROCKS.

Work Was Inaugurated by the Michigan Syndicate This Morning.

The Michigan syndicate which recently purchased the City Rock mine at Alta under a bond and lease has organized the City Rocks Mining company to operate it.

Work was started at the mine today under the direction of R. S. Edwards, secretary and general manager. Mr Edwards left for camp yesterday morning accompanied by Dan Doyle, who has been installed as foreman of the mine.

PRODUCTION OF COPPER.

High Prices for Metal is Predicted for Next Year.

The president and director of half a dozen copper-producing properties is quoted by a Boston paper as saying:

"Never before in my experience in copper mining have I witnessed such conditions as today exist in the metal market.

"I figure that America is producing copper at the rate of over 1,000,000,000 pounds per annum, as follows:

	Pounds.
From Butte	300,000,000
From the lake	220,000,000
From Arizona	275,000,000
From Mexico	100,000,000
From Utah	50,000,000
From California	50,000,000
From British Columbia	30,000,000
From miscellaneous sources	50,000,000
Total	1,075,000,000

"With a monthly copper production of 85,000,000 pounds of copper, it hardly seems possible that we can have a copper famine, but 18 cents for copper demonstrates that such a condition practically exists. December is a month of stock taking and all the large brass manufacturing concerns, electrical machinery manufacturers and other companies generally carry small stocks of copper over the first of the year, consequently with the turn of the year the large consumers are forced to re-enter the market. I predict that before Feb. 1 the copper production of this country will be contracted for up to July 1. The production is now practically sold ahead to April 1.

"My information from abroad is that the foreign consumers are carrying small stocks and that the electrical development abroad will not stop with 17 or 18-cent copper; in fact, a good foreign demand for copper next year seems assured.

"It is an interesting fact that the telephone interests of the country have consumed 100,000,000 pounds of copper this year.

"I see nothing but high-priced copper for 1906."

LOCAL MARKETS.

The local markets are quiet at the opening of the week, and with but few changes. Turkeys continue to hold their own, as to quantity, although there has been a big demand for them, and enough remain to supply the ordinary market call. Some dealers talk of forcing up the price, but others say that if this is done, there will be large shipments in here from Kansas and Nebraska, where growers are ever ready to take advantage of high markets in Colorado and Utah; and then down will go prices. So the present retail price, 20c is likely to remain, though some retailers are asking 22½ cents. There are lots of fresh fish in the Salt Lake markets, and a large assortment of salted fish arrived this morning from Chicago. Chickens are arriving freely, with live hens wholesaling a cent higher.

Oranges are riper and sweeter, and are selling at a lively rate. Cranberries are moving slowly, with a small wholesale supply, but enough to cover the Christmas trade. Lemons are lower and in good condition.

California sweet potatoes are being received in excellent condition, as they are being selected and handled with greater care than formerly. Fresh tomatoes, too, are arriving from the coast in fine shape. The market has been rather oversupplied with bananas, and considerable cheap stock has been disposed of, but the prime article has commanded a good price. Celery continues on good demand as this season's article is considered the best ever grown in this state. There is also a good demand for dates, so that all of the Hallowe'en variety has been used up, leaving the market ready for a car that is expected today.

PRICES BROKE VIOLENTLY.

Chicago Bank Failures Caused Extensive Sales at Big Losses.

FEVERISH AND UNSETTLED.

Semi-Demoralized Conditions in Large Part Overcome, Supporting Orders Coming In.

New York, Dec. 18.—With the news of the Chicago bank insolvencies to face, prices in the stock market broke violently all through the list, the wide opening declines being rapidly extended. First sales of U. P. were of 18,000 shares at 142⅝ and 141½, compared with 143¾ on Saturday. St. Paul and Smelting lost 3 points, Reading 2¾, New York Central 2⅜, Kansas City Southern 2⅝, Lead 2¾, Colorado Fuel 2, People's Gas 1⅝, Sugar 1⅞, Missouri Pacific 1⅞, U. S. Steel preferred 1¼, Kansas & Texas and Canadian Pacific 1¼ and generally throughout the list from a large fraction to a point.

The market showed evidence of supporting orders within a few minutes but was very feverish and unsettled.

While the prominent market interests were bending their efforts to support the usually active leaders there was a constant flow of second grade and minor stocks which made the market highly feverish and rendered the upbuilding process difficult. In fact, there were some standard stocks that showed but slight recoveries. Eventually the market overcame in a large part the semi-demoralized conditions that were prevalent earlier and rallies of a point or more were common. Amalgamated Copper which, for instance, had sold at the opening from 100 down to as low as 98½ or 7½ under Saturday's closing, rallied to 99⅜.

When the support eliminated the panicky spirit and afforded a basis for selling liquidation was renewed in a more orderly but even more compressed manner and prices fell lower. Sugar fell 5¼, Tennessee Coal 5½ and Sloss-Sheffield Steel 3.

Bonds were heavy at noon.

The free liquidation of the morning seemed to have cleaned up the urgent selling and prices were permitted to retrace themselves without encountering any active opposition. Rallies were not by any means as extensive or as general as in the forenoon, market interests preferring to induce a degree of steadiness and confidence rather than speculative advances.

COMMISSIONER WACTHORN ON IMMIGRATION AND LABOR

New York, Dec. 18.—At the People's Church of the Epiphany yesterday, the principal address was delivered by Immigration Commissioner Robert Wacthorn on "Immigration and Labor."

Referring to the relation of immigration to labor he said:

"The statement that immigrants arriving here in large numbers tend to decrease the wages of American wage-earners is open to doubt.

"The official records in the labor departments of the various states and also of the federal government, ought to settle that question officially. I don't suppose that anything will ever settle it satisfactorily.

"It does seem to me, however, as a general principle, that the immigrants were essentially laborers and wage-earners also constitute a market, and occasion as much labor as they perform. And it is unquestionably a fact that a very large portion of the foreign born workmen in the United States comprise the membership of a great number of important labor organizations."

Commissioner Fachthorn said that great care should be taken as to the quality of immigrants admitted, and that he believed those who developed defects within three years after arriving should be deported."
