IMPORTANT TO THE TRAVELING PUBLIC.

It is the duty of all persons before starting on a journey to ascertain by what route they can reach their destination with the least trouble, and if there are two or more roads leading to the same point, to decide which is the safest and pleasantest to travel.

We take pleasure in stating, that the CHICAGO & NORTH-WESTERN RAILWAY is the oldest, and several miles the shortest, route between Omaha and Chicago. Within the past two years the road bed has been put in admirable condition, and almost the entire line has been re-laid with steel rails.

The Depot in Chicago is centrally located, and as their trains arrive there thirty minutes in advance of all other lines, passengers can always be sure of making Eastern connections.

Close connections are made at Chicago with the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, Michigan Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Pittsburg, Fort Wayne & Chicago, Kankakee Line and Pan Handle Routes, for all points EAST and SOUTH-EAST.

If you are going to Chicago, or East, you should, by all means, purchase your tickets on the Old Pioneer Route—

The Chicago and North-Western.

You will find on all through trains Pullman Sleepers, new and magnificent Day Coaches, and the best Smoking and Second Class Cars now on any road in the United States.

Particular information with maps, time tables, etc., may be had at any of the Through Ticket Offices in the West, or upon personal or written application to J. W. Irons, Ticket Agent, Salt Lake City, A. H. Earl, Ticket Agent at Ogden, or to J. H. Mountain, Western Traveling Agent, Omaha, Neb., or to W. H. Stennett, General Passenger Agent, Chicago. d84

EVENING NEWS.

Friday, . September 17, 1875.

Local and Other Matters.

THERMOMETER 84 degrees F in the shade at 1 p.m. to-day. Fine.

At Kanab. — Prest. Wells and party reached Kanab at half past four last evening, all well. They were accompanied to Prest. E. Snow, by Bishop McArthur of St. George and by Bishop Spencer and other brethren from Long Valley. At the last named place they had a very interesting time. The company held meetings at Kanab last evening and to-day.

Returned. — Elders George Q. Cannon and Angus M. Cannon returned on Wednesday evening from Cache Valley. Elder John Taylor stopped over at Ogden. Those brethren visited and held meetings in the settlements of Cache County, and had an excellent time, their preaching being powerful and spirited, creating a good effect in uniting the people.

No More Use for Him.—Some time since a man named Lund was bound over to await the action of the grand jury as to a charge against him for stealing mules from an Ogden man. Mrs. Cotton, of Bingham, wife of the late Cotton, who was killed by S. Butcher, went surety for him. Since then Lund has been gratefully aiding Mrs. C. in getting in the farm crops, but that labor is done with, Mrs. C. has no further use for Lund and she now surrenders him to the custody of the officers of the law, and the deluded man now languisheth in jail.

Cultivation.—Last evening Bro. Hocking, of the 12th Ward, showed us the effects of fruit cultivation. He exhibited some specimens of the common wild of Pottawatomie plum, of the ordinary size, and then some from a tree to which he had given some attention, by way of cultivation in his orchard. The latter were about three times the size of the common ones and of improved flavor. This kind of plum is generally thought but little of, but it appears that it can, by cultivation, be made a very inviting fruit. They make excellent preserves.

Youthful Predilection.—A ten year old little fellow who has been at work some time carrying drinking water to the workmen on the new bank building, has had, for a long time, an absorbing desire to be the possessor of a live horse. It was the theme of his talk by day and his dream at night. Yesterday he espied a man astraddle an animal, ringing a bell and calling for people to assemble and bid on a mare and colt, so the little chap dropped his water bucket, ran to the sale, bid $20 on the mare and colt, which was knocked down to him, and marched off with them triumphantly. He was afterwards offered $6 for the colt, but he treated the offer with contempt. Horses are the ruling passion of that little fellow and he had been saving his quarters for months to indulge it.

Mysterious Disappearance. — A few days ago there was in the employ of Mr. Whiting, who runs a soda water factory, on Commercial Street, a young man named Emmet Foutz. Last Tuesday Mr. Whiting found on his desk a card, on which was written a note, about as follows:

"Mr. Whiting — Please forgive me; I will die to-day.

"EMMET FOUTZ."

"P. S.—God forgive me."

Since that time diligent enquiries have been instituted concerning young Foutz, but up till this time, not the slightest trace of his whereabouts has been found, and the suspicion that he has carried out the intention, indicated in the note, of committing suicide, gains strength. His employer does not appear to know of anything that he has done that would require his forgiveness, and is not aware of any circumstance that would be likely to cause him to abruptly leave his employment. Foutz is said also to have been, so far as his friends know, inclined to be steady in his habits. At present the affair seems to be enshrouded in mystery.

A Credit to the Territory.—The prejudice that has existed to some extent against home manufactured woolen goods is fast disappearing before the assaults of stubborn facts, and the importance of that branch of home industry is thus forcing itself upon the public. Cloth is being made at the factories of the Territory, the like of which, for excellence of quality, cannot be imported and sold as cheap as the home article is offered at. Although we have been aware of this fact for a considerable time, it has been more clearly impressed upon us by examining a consignment of that class of goods lately received by Z. C. M. I. from the Provo Manufacturing Company. Besides cloths, there are flannels and woollen dress goods that are good enough for anybody's wear, and the material of which they are made being all genuine, no shoddy, the home produced goods are by far the most profitable, lasting longer than the same priced imported articles, and looking better too. This state of facts, together with the plain duty of every good citizen to sustain home institutions, should surely induce the people to patronize home manufacture.

Madame Le Vert's Readings.—A goodly and appreciative audience assembled in the Presbyterian Church last evening to hear Madame Octavia Walton Le Vert read a number of her own descriptive writings, referring to the time when that lady was a belle and a bright particular star in Washington and southern political society. A lady of intelligence, ability, culture, and grace, her entertainment could not be other than attractive and agreeable. Her voice was not well suited to the building, being of a character and pitch that caused it to unite with the echo of the room, and consequently to become rather indistinct to a large portion of the audience. Notwithstanding this, the lady's reading proved very interesting and pleasing to the critical audience present, and would undoubtedly have proved more so under more favorable acoustic circumstances. She certainly is a very accomplished lady, highly qualified for drawing room entertainment. A gentleman who was present forwards us the following notes of the entertainment—

"No higher encomium could be conveyed to the distinguished American traveler and author than that accorded her by the presence on that occasion of so large a representation of the cultured portion of our citizens. The exercises were opened with some fine piano music by Joseph J. Daynes, Esq. Madame Le Vert, having been introduced to the assembly in his happiest manner by Judge Tilford, read 'An Hour with His Holiness the Pope of Rome,' her first production for the lecture stand, which was received with hearty applause. Then followed her 'Personal Souvenirs of Distinguished Americans,' in which she gave personal recollections of Jackson, Clay, Webster, Calhoun, Preston, of South Carolina, and McDuffie, which were listened to with almost breathless interest. Her 'Episode of My Early Life' was a glowing resume of her first acquaintance with one of the most distinguished literary men of America. This effort disclosed the lady's wonderful powers of description, and involved dramatic effects rare and enchanting. The evening's readings closed with 'A Bull Fight in Spain,' during which the vividly drawn views of these horrible amusements—only paralleled by the gladiatorial shows of Rome—transported the absorbed auditory to her side as she sat at the great arena of this bloody sport in Seville more than a quarter of a century ago.

"The readings of Madame Le Vert will never be forgotten by those who listened to her last evening. Her polished, womanly dignity, the purity, elegance and sublimity of her language; the electrifying charm of her personal presence, though past the meridian of life, added to the attractiveness of her voice, a finished diction, with perfect composure, combining grace in attitude and animation in gesture, place her at once among the foremost of lady readers in America."

Meetings—Runaway—School Exercises.

BRIGHAM CITY, Sept. 16, 1875.

Editor Deseret News:

Elders John Taylor and George Q. Cannon held two meetings here yesterday, which were well attended, and much valuable instruction was imparted, to which the Saints listened very attentively.

On the same day Bro. W. H. Booth's horses, which were left outside the fence, hitched to the carriage, while he had stepped into the field, took a wild run and damaged the carriage considerably.

Various exercises were performed on the stage last eve, by the pupils of B. F. Cummings, who had just closed a quarter of school, in which very satisfactory results have been reached.

Most respectfully, A. C.

DIED.

Twenty-five years in successful use and still the popular Family Machine! The beauty of its work and wide range of application on all kinds of material, sewing with either cotton, silk or linen thread, and its never getting out of order, have made it the pride and joy of nearly

ONE MILLION HOMES!

Its claims for simplicity of construction, ease of operation and management, quietness of movement and durability, are beyond controversy. Give it a trial and you will buy no other. Thorough instructions given in its use.

The No. 7.

This machine is especially designed to fill a want long felt by manufacturers of Clothing, and is constructed upon the same principle as the No. 6. It is capable of higher rate of speed than shuttle machines, is lighter running and can be regulated for work quicker than any machine heretofore used by

TAILORS.

By a simple change of the presser foot it can be used for all kinds of Family Sewing or Dressmaking. Like the No. 6, it will speak its own language, and we solicit from the TAILORS of Salt Lake an examination of its merits.
