He was arrested by the officers here on a letter from Sheriff P. A. WORTH KNOWING.

At this season of the year.

Any cough accompanied by expectoration, and lasts over three or four days, requires attention and treatment; this does not mean a visit to the hospital, nor to your physician nor whole-sale drugging with patent medicines, but it means that some simple, harmless, effective, antiseptic remedy like Stuart's Catarrh Tablets should be used to ward off any possible termination in pneumonia, chronic Catarrh, Bronchitis or Consumption.

All of these formidable diseases start from a common cold, neglected or allowed to run its course and it is only the exercise of common sense day after day to cure a cold as quickly as possible, not so much for what it is at the moment, but what it may become if neglected.

Perhaps no remedy is so safe, reliable and convenient to stop a cold or obnoxious cough as Stuart's Catarrh Tablets. The extract of blood root contained in them combined with the red gum of the Eucalyptus tree serve to put the mucous membrane of the nose, mouth and throat in a condition to throw off the germs of catarrh, bronchitis and pneumonia, and as they are taken internally they permeate the whole system and place the body in that condition of health which resists, and throws off the germs of disease.

A person in perfect health rarely catches cold and if he does, throws it off in a day or two, but where the cold hangs on, stopping up the nostrils, irritating the throat or there is persistent coughing, it is evident that the system for some reason is unable to throw off the disease germs which cause the trouble; a little assistance is necessary, and this is best given by the use of some harmless germ destroying antiseptic like Stuart's Catarrh Tablets which are also palatable and equally so for children and adults.

Bruggs sell these tablets at 50 cents full size package, higher in price than troches and cheap cough syrups, but Stuart's Catarrh Tablets contain antiseptic properties which actually cure colds, catarrh and throat and lung troubles while it is a notorious fact that cough drops and cough syrups are largely composed of opium, cocaine and similar drugs that have no curative power.

It is also true that many popular liquid medicines and tonics for catarrh depend upon the alcohol they contain which give simply a temporary stimulation, but it is a danger for any trouble catarrhal or otherwise.

at the residence from 10 to 12 o'clock, and at 12 o'clock the remains to the tabernacle. It included the Priesthood of the Third ward, of which the deceased had long been Bishop, members of the Indian war veterans, the teachers and pupils of the district schools, in recognition of the services of the Bishop on the board of education, the city council, of which Bishop Tanner was a member, and the faculty and students of the Brigham Young academy, of which he was one of the trustees from the organization of the school up to a few years ago.

Six of the Bishop's sons acted as pallbearers.

The speaker's stand in the tabernacle was draped in white and evergreens, and the remains to the tabernacle were placed in a casket.

President David John presided at the services and was one of the speakers. He spoke in terms of the highest praise of the departed, who was always ready to help in advancing the work of God by his labor and means, and many instances of his liberality and earnestness in this direction were given. President John spoke of an experience in the life of Bishop Tanner, when he was a boy ten years of age, as related by him to the speaker. He was in Kirtland at the time of the dedication of the Temple and saw angels descending and ascending to and from the edifice. He called his mother to see them, but she could not see them. This manifestation, Elder Tanner had told the speaker, was in a great measure the cause of his return from the Mormon mission, of which he was a member, had been discharged. He remained for some time in California, and prepared financially but the memory of the vision of his childhood caused him to come back to the body of the Church.

Apostle John Henry Smith spoke of the friendship that had existed between his father and Bishop Tanner and bore a strong testimony to the integrity and loyalty of the departed, referring to the many acts of kindness and the country's call and citing it as a refutation of the charge that "Mormons" were not loyal.

The remains were viewed by friends

Other speakers were Elders La John Nuttall, President J. W. Taylor, who spoke of the ability and goodness of the deceased.

Beautiful vocal selections were rendered by the choir. The remains were followed to the cemetery by a large number of mourners.

DRAPER.

Picture Agents Galore—Moses Garff Recovering—Missionary Benefit.

Special Correspondence.

Draper, Salt Lake Co., Jan. 13.—During the past two or three weeks the town has been infested with picture vendors. And now that they have all gone the people are wondering if they will ever see the cherished picture entrusted to them by the picture vendors. One thing to be learned from the incident is that it is not only a foolish but a risky thing to pay an unrecommended stranger in advance for a picture.

MISSIONARY FAREWELL.

Elder Jos. L. Smith leaves today for a mission to the Eastern States. He has been a faithful young man in Church affairs and goes into the field with the confidence of the ward that he will do a noble and commendable work.

A farewell party was given the departing missionary under the management of the Elders' quorum. Elder Garff, the young man who was recently visited at a few days ago, is slowly improving.

The thief, or thieves are, no one knows, but an attempt will be made to capture the outlaws and place them where they belong.

The animal stolen Monday night was a brown horse, weight 1,325 pounds, nine years old, small white band below knees on the front legs, caused by boots. It had very short mane and tail to both sides. Mr. Nielsen offers a reward of $25 for the return of the horse and an additional reward of $75 for evidence to convict the thief.

The court considered that he had already been confined in the county jail two months. Mrs. Annie Bemus was arraigned on the same charge, pleaded guilty, and waiting time was given thirty days in the penitentiary. Mrs. Bemus has a husband living, is a young woman and not unattractive. LOOK OUT FOR CATARRH

When the cold wave flag is up it means the beginning of winter in earnest: keen, cutting winds, rain, sleet, snow and slush. It takes just such weather to produce and develop Catarrh and bring out all its humiliating and disgusting symptoms. The slight cold becomes a stubborn and protracted one, while the discharges from the nose are most offensive and sickening. As the inflammation extends further up into the head and the delicate mechanism of the ear is attacked, there is a continual buzzing and ringing in the ears, and frequently the hearing is partially or totally lost. Headaches are almost constant, with sometimes acute pains in the eyes, and the nose becomes so plugged up that the patient must breathe through the mouth while the filthy secretions are forced back into the throat, requiring almost continual hawking and spitting to dislodge them. At certain stages of the disease, the odor of the breath becomes fearfully offensive, to the great mortification and embarrassment of the sufferers and disgust of all who come near them. Little by little the foul matter finds its way into the Stomach, ruining the digestion, and a most miserable form of dyspepsia or Catarrh of the Stomach is the inevitable consequence. The blood becomes contaminated by the foul secretions and unhealthy matter, and these are distributed through the body, and Catarrh is then a deep-seated, dangerous constitutional or systemic disease, and its effect upon the general health and system is soon apparent—appetite and strength are gone and the disease frequently settles in some vital organ or terminates in Bronchitis or dread Consumption.

While sprays, washes and the many other local remedies so diligently used give temporary relief, chronic Catarrh sufferers know that they possess no curative properties and fail to reach the true source of the trouble and all the benefits received from such treatment are swept away by the first breath of winter.

To cure Catarrh permanently, the blood must be purified and the system cleansed of the accumulated poisons, and for this purpose nothing equals S. S. S. It reaches cases in this way that seem almost hopeless and beyond the reach of medicine. S. S. S. not only purges the blood of the effete matter and catarrhal secretions, but at the same time invigorates and builds up the entire system, and as rich pure blood begins to circulate through the body, the inflamed membranes and other parts of the system affected by the Catarrh, begin to heal, the mucous discharges gradually grow less and finally cease, and all the disagreeable and disgusting symptoms of Catarrh disappear.
