

THIRTY MEN ARE WORKING TODAY

Rio Grande Western Says Strike Of Shop-Men Is Not Bothering.

SIX MEN JOIN THE STRIKERS.

One of Latest Recruits Tells His Side Of the Story and His Hunt For Work.

The Rio Grande Western says the strike of shopmen is not bothering freight or passenger movement at all. Some of the more talkative strikers say the company is having a difficult time of it.

From Colorado come the same two reports from the same two sources. Trains came in on time to the dot yesterday, and No. 5 is reported an hour late, only today. No. 5 is traveling in several sections and each section is a big train in itself; hence the delay, reports the company.

A morning's visit to the shops shows about 30 men at work repairing rolling stock. The yards are quiet and few idlers are to be seen about the depot.

Reports from various points in the east bring the information that idle men are easy to come west for work and presumably authentic dispatches say several hundred men are now being distributed along the line.

SIX JOIN STRIKERS.

The 20 men who reached Salt Lake day before yesterday are at work, with the exception of a half dozen who joined the strikers. Some of those at work this morning were questioned. An asserted that attention of staying at work as long as good wages were paid them. Several said they have been out of work for several months, and it was a welcome opportunity to get much-needed bread and butter that was offered them through the strike of the Rio Grande shopmen.

STRIKE BREAKERS' SIDE.

"I am a man that wouldn't do another workingman a bit of harm knowingly," said an elderly man. "I'll share my last bit of bread and butter with anyone that's right, but I've got a family, and we haven't been eating too heavy for some months. I hunted for work day after day, but could get nothing more than an occasional job. We did manage to stay healthy until I was given a chance to go to work and I took the job without hesitating. It was my family that I was thinking about. Maybe if I was alone in this world, it would be different, but with times so blamed hard a man's first duty is to those dependent upon him."

STRIKERS' ATTITUDE.

Here, on the other hand, is how one of the most prominent strikers explains his attitude: "I confess I don't like strikes, but there was nothing else left for us to do. For years and years we have been bettering the condition of the working man by organizing and bringing the standard of workmanship higher and to continue working under the set of rules created by the Rio Grande company would have been to relinquish everything which has helped us."

DIRECTIONS IN DENVER.

An Associated Press dispatch from Denver says: Of 120 strikebreakers who arrived here from the east yesterday to take the places of Denver & Rio Grande striking shopmen, 37, the union leaders say, have already decided to quit. The rest, it is said, will be distributed along the system. The 300 strikebreakers who were reported to have been shipped from Chicago Wednesday night did not arrive here this morning.

POLITICAL POINTERS.

April 6—Republican state meeting, Salt Lake.
April 30—Nevada Republican delegates convention, at Winnemucca.
May 9—Republican judicial convention, this district, to nominate four judges and a district attorney.
May 12—Democratic judicial convention.
May 12—Idaho Republican state convention to choose delegates for Chicago.
June 3—Idaho Democratic state delegates convention, Twin Falls.
June 16—Republican National convention, Chicago.
July 7—Democratic national convention, Denver.
Aug. 27—Nevada Republican state convention, to nominate a state ticket, at Goldfield.
Aug. 4—Idaho state convention at Wallace.
Sept. 1—Idaho Republican convention to name state ticket, Boise.
While "American" party Chairman J. E. Bernier has not yet announced an "American" call for a judicial convention or conventions to send Democratic "Americans" to Denver, or Republican "Americans" to Chicago, still it is certain that when the persuaders get ready to pull the strings jerry will cut. The "American" policy calls for contesting delegations and for a judicial call in this district.

The Republican state committee is the next general political center about which interest will focus. Chairman Wesley K. Walton has announced the date, and it will be April 6, and the place, the rooms of the state land board, in the county building. The committee while in session will arrange a call for the convention to choose delegates to the Chicago national convention. The matter of selecting these delegates is harder in this case than ordinarily, on account of the division of sentiment and the consequent fight for place that will result, in case the Chitcheow wing can lead itself into the convention in numbers sufficient to be a voting potentiality. The Chitcheow sub-committee of seven has been appointed for the purpose of meeting with the state committee and suggesting the proper breadth for the call to the convention. What result the meeting will have will be apparent in the document which issues after the meeting of April 6.

Tomorrow night a debate between Major Kneer and Atty. R. E. Evans will be a feature together with a general program.

WHY INSURANCE IS MUCH TOO HIGH

Mr. Bywater, and have not faith in it under Mr. Vail, since the Redman fire; also that they would have more faith in the insurance company than in the insurance company. I say this absolutely in the interests of no man, and without favoring anyone, but to merely put on record on what basis insurance rates are fixed. We are naturally interested in seeing that the department is efficient, or so figuring it if it is not, but we do not care what means are employed to make it so.

HELPLESSNESS OF MAYOR.

The helplessness of Mayor Bransford to successfully oppose the machine within his party, and the disregard of the general welfare shown when this machine's schemes are involved, is well illustrated by the statement of Councilman Fernstrom, given below:
Mayor Bransford left for San Francisco some time ago for the purpose of finding out why our fire insurance rate was not lowered. When he came back he stated to me that he had been promised a $10,000 bonus, if he provided the fire department would be reorganized. He said that he would bring the matter before the council, and that as far as he was concerned he was ready to have the department reorganized, and to return to the office of chief, former Chief William H. Bywater. Mr. Bywater later said to me that he had been approached by Mayor Bransford, who had asked him if he would accept the position of chief of the fire department.

"AMERICAN" CAUCUS.

Shortly after this the matter was brought up in an "American" caucus, and in this caucus this offer, on the conditions named by the fire insurance board was flatly rejected. That was my reason for making the charge in the city council that the American party stands responsible for the fact that the people are paying 25 per cent more for fire insurance than they should. The American persuaders had left Mayor Bransford alone, free to perform the duties of his office.

MINORITY HOLDERS MEET NEWHOUSE

Present Their Request for Representation on the Cactus Board of Directors.

WILL CALL AGAIN TOMORROW

Head of Cactus Mine Says No Information Has Been Withheld from Stockholders.

Probably the busiest man in Salt Lake today is Samuel Newhouse. The mining magnate arrived home last evening at a late hour somewhat fatigued as a result of the journey across the continent and suffering the annoyance of a bad cold, which came as one of the emoluments of an ill-ventured and heated Pullman. Nevertheless, he was at his office in the Dooly block early in the day, ready for business and where he was simply besieged with callers.

He had hardly stepped off the elevator on the sixth floor of the building when he was confronted with the committee appointed by the local shareholders of the Newhouse Mines & Smelters corporation at the meeting held in the Mercantile block a few days ago and who had called for the purpose of a conference relative to giving them representation on the board of directors of the company. The meeting was held in New York on the 27th inst. Mr. Newhouse met the members of the committee, consisting of Frank B. Cook, ex-Senator Joseph L. Rawlins and Charles A. Reed, cordially, and the greeting from the visitors was equally so. The chairman of the committee, Frank B. Cook, stated briefly the object of the call, to which the chief shareholder and president of the Newhouse company replied that he was only too glad to have someone else from Salt Lake City as a member of the board directed the company's affairs and assured the visitors that the request would be granted.

He also made it clear to the members of the committee that it has been the policy of the company to increase as it will be in the future, to conceal nothing from shareholders. The mine and mill, he said, are open to inspection at all times, and officials of the company are ever ready to give the shareholder, no matter how great or small his holdings may be, any information they may desire relative to operation and condition of the company's affairs. The committee will meet at the Newhouse offices tomorrow morning, when the matter will be further discussed and a decision arrived at as to who will be asked to represent the minority shareholders on the new board.

INFORMATION GIVEN OUT.

"I don't know how the impression got out," said Mr. Newhouse to members of the press, "that information about the mine is being withheld from shareholders. But there are no substantial grounds for any such belief and I only wish every owner of stock could visit the Cactus properties and see for themselves the actual condition and what the future possibilities really are."

"What of the future of copper?" was asked.

COPPER OUTLOOK.

"I think the outlook for copper," replied the mining man, is very much better. In New York the other day I met Mr. W. H. Broughton of the United Metals Selling company and took lunch with him. He told me that all the available copper in the country had been sold, and that before people could be supplied with more, it would have to be made. While the demand is perhaps not as great as it was a year or so, owing to the effects of the late financial depression, Mr. Broughton expressed the opinion that conditions will soon brighten and the demand for copper is that we have seen the worst. There is general anticipation of better copper prices and events of the past few days only go to confirm this statement."

HAS A SMELTER STORY.

It will be good news to the mining state if the state of Utah and Boston Newhouse has some important news bearing on the local smelting situation. The information will probably be released within a week. Any more than to say that the news is important, he refused to discuss the matter when questioned regarding the matter by a representative of the "News." Neither would he indicate his plans for the future regarding the improvement of Poperton Place in the northeastern part of the city which deal was closed just before he sailed for Europe. "I prefer to wait and show what I am doing rather than to say what I am doing," he said. For the present, however, I have my hands pretty full with other affairs and Poperton can wait."

IT IS THE INTENTION OF MR. NEWHOUSE TO VISIT BOTH THE CACTUS AND BOSTON CONSOLIDATED MINES WITHIN A SHORT TIME.

CIDDEO GOES BACK.

Special Officer Devitt Takes Italian Dynamiter to British Columbia.

Special Officer Devitt left Salt Lake at noon today for British Columbia with Francesco Ciddeo in custody. Ciddeo goes back to Canada to face trial upon a charge of dynamiting a hotel and killing the proprietor's daughter. Officer Devitt has made hosts of friends during his extended visit in Salt Lake, and a small army of Salt Lakers were down to the train to see him off. He has found a fondness for Salt Lake growing greater each day and says he will come down for a visit as soon as possible. The next time he comes to Salt Lake he will be accompanied by Mrs. Devitt.

MURRAY PLAYS HIS TRUMP CARD

Produces a Contract Between City and Bell Company Dated May 1, 1904.

PHONES IN LIEU OF LICENSE

Explains to Committee That the Corporation Has a Perpetual Franchise Granted Wm. Jennings.

Manager D. S. Murray of the Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone company appeared before the license committee of the city council last evening, and asked that the proposed license against that company be not enforced.

Mr. Murray had two reasons to advance as to why the Rocky Mountain Bell should not be compelled to pay to the city something like $4,000 for the privilege of doing business, the first of these reasons being that the ordinance, in so far as it affects telephone companies, is illegal. Cause number two was to the effect that the municipality is receiving the free use of 40 telephones, which if paid for would bring to the company $3,120.

SHOWN A CONTRACT.

The committee was shown a contract entered into between the city and the Bell company May 1, 1904, stipulating that the free use of 40 telephones by the city should stand in lieu of a license. It was explained by Mr. Murray that the agreement had tacitly been continued in force up to the present time.

As to the charge that the Rocky Mountain Bell has no franchise or charter, Manager Murray explained that the company holds, as successor, a perpetual franchise granted to William Jennings and others in 1879, and that its underground system is covered by a franchise granted in 1898. It was stated by Mr. Murray that his company has not realized any profits in Salt Lake City for a period of 15 years. The matter of the enforcement of the license will not be pressed until an opinion is received from the city attorney, to whom it has been referred.

JUDGE A. B. HAYES OF OGDEN RESIGNS

(Special to the "News.")
Washington, D. C., March 20.—Judge A. B. Hayes of Ogden, Utah, solicitor of internal revenue, today sent his resignation to the president, and will enter the employ of a large corporation with offices here.

AMUSEMENTS.

Theater—There were not many people out last night to greet the company sailing under the name, "Painting the Town." The title itself, perhaps, made theatergoers just a bit apprehensive. That their fears were well grounded a very few moments at the show sufficed to demonstrate. The entertainment is one of the cheapest and in places the coarsest, which the theater boards have held for a long time past. How the eastern people who make bookings for the western houses, even allow such an aggregation to blow into Salt Lake, is one of the marvels that only the eastern people can explain.

Theater—Wilton Lackaye opens tonight in "The Bondman." The management desire to impress on patrons that in order to allow Mr. Lackaye to make his San Francisco connection in Ogden, tomorrow night's performance will begin at 8 o'clock sharp. The curtain will rise at the usual hour tonight, and at 2:15 tomorrow afternoon.

Orpheum—Tonight is society night at this popular place of entertainment. The headline, the orchestra and the kindred are the most interesting features of the bill.

Grand—Theodore Lorch and his company wind up the week in "The King of the Opium Ring" tomorrow night. The next bill will be "His Terrible Secret."

Lyric—The new bill which the Zinn Comedy company is presenting is "Pecky Weezy," adapted from a Weber and Fields sketch. It is a new and up-to-date performance of "Olivette" will be presented.

Music Festival—Commencing tomorrow morning the students of the universities, colleges, high schools and the district schools can make their reservations for seats for the Music Festival. During the week 10,000 student tickets were distributed among the various schools of the city, and will be used by them in obtaining the special rate. High schools and universities will be given a 25 cent rate and the district schools a 15 cent rate. The 25 cent tickets will be reserved. It has been decided not to commence the afternoon concert until 3:45 o'clock, thus affording all teachers and students the opportunity of attending.

RAISED THEIR SALARIES.

And Now Royal Laundry Directors Are Suing Their Associates.

A suit between certain directors and stockholders of the Royal Laundry and other directors of the same institution, was filed today in the district court. The case is entitled, William H. Kilpatrick, Ray Van Cott and Harold Van Cott, plaintiffs, versus Albert Van Cott, Charles H. Miller, William H. Linnell, Caleb W. Chapman, William Lake, Seba Chapman, John T. Smith, David Gallifant, John Hinesworth, Rowland Williams and the Royal Laundry, a corporation, defendants.

The plaintiffs allege, in effect, that the Royal Laundry came into possession of the property and plant of the American Steam & Hand Laundry, Sept. 1, 1906, that a corporation was formed, and that at a meeting of the directors subsequently held, the salaries of all working stockholders were raised 15 per cent each in the complaint that on two occasions thereafter, at meetings of which directors W. H. Kilpatrick and Ray Van Cott had no notice, the said salaries were raised 15 per cent each in each instance, all of which is alleged to have been in violation of the duty of the directors who made the increase.

YOUNG MAN IS MISSING

Harry Ossler Left Salt Lake. Now His Whereabouts Are Unknown.

Harry Ossler of this city, a brother of Reuben Ossler, is missing, and for two weeks now word from or of him has been heard by worried relatives here.

Harry Ossler is 28 years old, and left Salt Lake about a month and a half ago. The last letter from him, mailed at Milford, was received about two weeks ago, but since that date he has not been heard from, and his relatives in this city are beginning to suspect he has met with foul play.

His fear is caused largely by the fact that Harry wrote every day whenever away from the city before. But they are unable to explain why they suspect foul play, as the young man was able to take care of himself and was of exemplary character. A chum left the city with the missing man.

FUNERAL OF MRS. QUAYLE.

Held at the Home of Alonzo E. Hyde This Morning.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Annie Quayle, who died in Salt Lake City, Monday morning, March 16, in her 84th year, were held this morning at 10:30 o'clock, at the home of Alonzo E. Hyde, North Temple street. Bishop Franklin S. Tingey, presiding. Mrs. Quayle was a sister of the late Richard Ballantyne, well known as the founder of the Latter-day Saints' Sabbath schools. She was born Sept. 2, 1823, in Scotland, and came to America in 1843, the whole family having joined the Church, except the father, who died in 1829, without having heard the gospel. With her whole family gathered to Nauvoo in 1846, and with them bore all the hardships incident to those days, and passed many trials without complaint and praised her sweet and helpful disposition were made by Annie Taylor and Thomas Anderson. The remains of John Ellis, the man who hung himself to a horse when he was in the city, were turned over to the medical students at the State University for dissection.

WAS NOT A SUBSCRIBER.

George Albert Smith Tells of Use of His Name.

In the soliciting of subscribers to the timber land tip deal, it now appears that the names of several prominent and highly respected citizens were used by agents for the tipster positively without their consent or knowledge. The several persons it was stated that George Albert Smith was a subscriber, and efforts were made to bolster up inducements that the persons approached subscribe by this representation, coupled with the use of other names equally as prominent.

"You can say for me," declared Mr. Smith today, "that I positively was not a subscriber to this matter, and furthermore, that I never used my name over a cent of money until they finally had title to their land, and the original proposition required such contracts."

"Several people mentioned it to me in Salt Lake and over the phone from outside points. They asked my opinion as to whether it violated any law. I told them that if they could actually get onto government timber land it was worth while to do it, and that if the parties manipulating this thing were honest there was no danger, but if they were dishonest there was every danger. I advised them that if they were honest they could not object to the entryman taking along his own surveyor, taking him openly to the registration office, and letting him check up his land, for otherwise he might be located anywhere from the middle of the Pacific to the bottom of some swamp. I told them, when they mentioned a plan to allow some other party to pay their filing fees, that this was clearly illegal; and also that it would be illegal to let any party furnish their railroad fares, for this, too, was one of the things mentioned as an inducement. It had the look of fraud to me from the first, and I at no time went into it or considered going in."

NEW COMPANIES.

The Myton Irrigation company of Myton, Utah, filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state today. To acquire and use the waters of Duchesne river, in Wasatch county, will be the purposes of the company, which has a capitalization of $50,000 in shares of the par value of 50 cents each. J. E. Bolebeck is president, and director; A. M. Todd, vice president, and director; J. O. Hahn, secretary, and director; C. T. Beggs, treasurer, and director; W. C. Odell, director. Articles of incorporation of the Manti Steam Shearing and Dipping company were filed in the office of Secretary of State Tingey today. The concern is capitalized for $5,000, or 200 shares, the par value of $25 each. In all there are 22 stockholders. Luther Tuttle is president; Jacob Winch, vice president; A. H. Christensen, secretary and treasurer; and E. A. E. Mariani and L. D. Voorhees, from the board of directors. The company will carry on a general sheep shearing and dipping business.

BURGLARS PLEAD.

George Morris, Pat Mullen and B. E. Sherwood, the three men who were arrested while in the act of robbing the fur store of I. C. Gloss on the night of the 17th, were arraigned this morning in the criminal division of the city court before Judge Diehl. They pleaded not guilty, but were too tired to go through a preliminary hearing, and consequently waived the examination and were ordered bound over to await the action of the district court. In default of $500 bail they were handcuffed and marched to Sheriff Emery's domicile on west Second South street.

FIRE AT LUMBER PLANT.

Sparks from a chimney at the Taylor-Romney-Armstrong lumber company's office on Second West and South Temple street this morning caused much excitement and wild rumors. The sparks set fire to the shingles on the roof, and after an alarm had been sent in, it was reported that the entire plant was on fire. The apparatus from No. 3 was first on the scene, and then a call was sent in for the apparatus from headquarters. The damage does not amount to more than $5.

DIED.
