Ever since then Sammie and Dick have been chums, but now Sammie is locked in the city jail. His health has been held until he is in a more sober condition. Some time ago Sammie was found suffering from delirium tremens, but while in the hospital recovering, he escaped and once more enjoyed a glorious evening, with the result that he is in a serious condition. POLITICS WILL SOON COMMENCE

Judicial Conventions in May Assure Unusual Spring Activity.

NATIONAL AND STATE ISSUES.

They Will Combine in Fall Campaign Following National Party Conventions.

Approaching political dates: March (probably), opening of season, with choice of Democratic national committee to succeed Henry Perry. May 9, Judicial convention, Third district.

May—Conventions to choose delegates for Republican and Democratic national conventions.

June—Republican national convention, Chicago.

July—Democratic national convention, Denver.

August (probably)—Democratic state convention.

September (probably)—Republican state convention.

October—State and national campaign in full force.

November—Election and close of season.

Politics in Utah will soon be on in full force. Those who play the game through the whole open season, and burnish up their weapons during the closed months, have already been out on practice marches and engaged in target shooting.

The pre-season activity is more marked than they have ever before, and when the open work commences, it is probable that there will be no let-up through the summer at all, although ordinarily the opening should be a fall one.

The circumstances which combine to start things early in the spring are the fact that the Democratic state committee will have to come into session to choose a successor to Henry Perry, national committeeman for Utah, before the actual work of preparing for the Denver convention is far under way.

Added to this additional impetus will be added by the judicial convention, for which candidates are already being groomed. The "Americans" on their part are discussing the matter of whether or not to put candidates in the field. The four Republican judges now on the bench, Richie, Morse, Lewis, and Armstrong, are candidates for re-election. Against them the Democrats are preparing a list of four candidates to be named at a May convention.

NATIONAL CONVENTIONS. The Republican national convention occurring so soon after this local convention will call for two more conventions, to name delegates both for Chicago and Denver. These out of the month later the Democratic meet in Denver will draw the same interest, while what the Socialists will do is one of those dark questions to which there is no answer, and which incites this year more curiosity than ever before.

IN THE STATE. As soon as the people of Utah turn from the national conventions, and the keynotes of the big campaigns are struck, there will be no jobs for local statesmen and near-statesmen. A big state campaign will be on, with a spice of interest thrown in through the fact that it is the biggest kind of a campaign, and the account of the potentiality which will rest in the legislators selected to name the next United States senator.

HOLD-OVER SENATORS. On the election rest a full set of state officers, a delegate to Congress, 45 members of the house of representatives, and nine senators. Of the members of the senate, the nine who survive for the next session, and thus hold a right to vote for United States senators are Herschel Bullen, Jr., of Logan; E. T. Hulanski, of Ogden; Ben. X. Smith and William N. Williams, of Salt Lake; John Y. Smith, of Lehi; Henry Gardner, of Spanish Fork; John H. Sealey, of Mt. Pleasant; Albert E. Miller, of St. George, and Alonzo Brimchorn, of Emery.

Who the various candidates will be for the positions on state and legislative tickets it is still early to forecast, but Salt Lake is full to the brim with booms and boons, and the thing that is apparent is that the season is almost ready to open, and that once opened it will never know a slow day until after the votes are counted up in November.

Constitution causes headache, nausea, dizziness, languor, heart palpitation, and other physical ailments, weaken the bowels and don't cure. Doan's Regulax act gently and cure constipation. 25 cents. Ask your druggist.

WILL KEEP RATING BOOK. The Retail Butchers and Grocers' Association Starts a Collection Agency.

The Retail Butchers and Grocers' association now has a collection agency of all of its own to replace the rating work formerly done by Secretary Lorenzo Jensen.

E. C. Eggen, who has run a collection agency in Salt Lake for the past two years is to be the man in charge of the work, and he will have two assistants, one a physician and the other a lawyer. A secretary is also to be employed, but without a salary. He is George W. Fassall, and he will do the correspondence formerly carried on by Mr. Jensen in his combined position of secretary and manager.

The new bureau will keep a rating book for all people in Salt Lake who run "charge" accounts at butcher and grocer stores. It will not only keep their names, but a private report and estimate on their ability to meet their bills. Besides this work, when a bill becomes delinquent the dealer may report it to the association, and he will have it collected for him by the expert bureau chief.

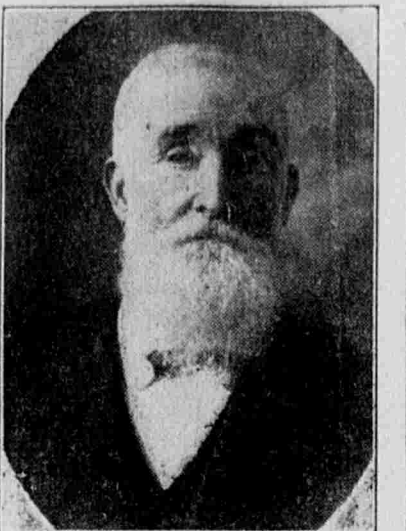

CHILD'S LIFE SAVED BY CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY. Mrs. John Englehardt, of Gera, Mich., tells of the anxious moments spent over her little two-year-old daughter who had taken a hard attack of whooping cough. She says: "I am satisfied that it had not been for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, my child would have choked to death, gave this medicine every ten minutes and she soon began to throw up the phlegm. I can recommend it to the highest terms as having another child that was cured in the same way."

Sold by all druggists.

FUNERAL OF A VETERAN

George W. Ramsey, G. A. R. Man, Answers Final Call—Obsequies Largely Attended.

The remains of George W. Ramsey, veteran soldier, were laid to rest yesterday afternoon, after impressive services in the Seventeenth ward chapel, commencing at 12 o'clock. The obsequies were very largely attended.

GEO. W. RAMSEY.

among the congregation being many members of the G. A. R. Bishop Franklin S. Tingey had charge of the services.

The speakers were Elders Nephi L. Morris, George M. Cannon, James, Mrs. Susan Young, Col. M. M. Kaighn and Bishop Tingey, all of whom spoke feelingly of the deceased and the upright and patriotic course that marked his life.

Music for the occasion was rendered by the choir and a mixed quartet. The latter was composed of the Misses Kelly and Holt and Messrs. Fred C. Graham and Hugh W. Douglall, the selections being "I Need Thee Every Hour," and "Nearer My God to Thee." The numbers sung by the choir were "We thank Thee O God for a prophet" and "Come let us anew our journey pursue," two favorite hymns of the deceased. A short time before he breathed his last, Mr. Ramsey asked his daughter, Mrs. Emma Ramsey Morris, to sing the first named hymn, a fact referred to by some of the speakers.

Elder Alma Clayton offered the invocation and benediction was pronounced by Elder David L. Davis, who also dedicated the grave. The pallbearers were members of the G. A. R., and many of that organization marched in line from the late home of deceased to the chapel. The casket was covered with the American flag, for the preservation of which Mr. Ramsey fought for a period of three years during the Civil war.

FOR RHEUMATIC SUFFERERS. The quick relief from pain afforded by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm makes it a favorite remedy for rheumatism, sciatica, lame back, lumbago, and deep seated and muscular pains. For sale by all druggists.

TEACHERS FOR ISLANDS.

President Kingsbury Receives Information Concerning Requirements.

In answer to inquiries submitted by President Joseph T. Kingsbury, of the University of Utah, to Colonel Frank McIntyre, of the Philippine Commission, relative to the requirements of teachers for the islands, the following outline of examination has been received:

A thesis of 500 words on one of two subjects: correction of a rough draft manuscript, or a short story, or a paragraph in arithmetic, algebra and plane geometry; history and civil government of the United States; general history and geography; colonial growth and general government of the United States; political economy; education; experience and an original question on agriculture, mechanical engineering or education.

Announcement was made a short time ago that the American people are in far away Pacific were in need of 500 additional pedagogues, and it was for the purpose of securing such a campaign of benefit of numerous inquirers that President Kingsbury placed himself in communication with the proper island authorities.

WORK OUT.

WILL TRY IT AGAIN.

The Manufacturers and Merchants' association through its secretary, is soliciting memberships in a Freight and Traffic bureau, which it is proposed to establish. The move was recommended by former President Orson Hewlett in his annual address, and the matter has since been in the hands of the executive committee and President J. A. Valentine.

L. J. Johnson, an employee of the traffic departments of several railroads is considered the most likely manager of the bureau, and he has written to the M. & M. an explanation of what he considers its purposes and possibilities.

ARRESTED.

a cough that has been hanging on for over two months by taking Ballard's Horehound Syrup. If you have a cough, don't wait—stop it at once with this wonderful remedy. Splendid for coughs, cold on the chest, influenza, bronchitis and every other kind of cough. Price 25c and $1.00 a bottle. Sold by Z. C. M. I. Drug Co., 112-114 Main Street.

IMPROVED CARS.

All of the street cars, except one, are now provided with the latest improved motors, rated at 40 horse power each, and largely provided with the best style of gear which makes a car run with comparatively little noise. The reason why such a loud whirling noise is heard in some cases is because the gears do not mesh well into each other. The pinions are more or less loose. The storms have not delayed travel since the acquisition of the new cars, and the pinions are being replaced. The road is well equipped to act promptly in case of emergencies.

FRED WILD, JR., OPTIMISTIC.

Fred Wild, Jr., general freight agent of the Denver & Rio Grande, was in the city for a few hours last evening waiting for a western connection. He is on his way to Los Angeles on a short trip. It is Mr. Wild's opinion that the conditions generally are going to become better gradually from now on. He admits the Rio Grande suffered an enormous decrease in freight traffic but is slowly getting back to old conditions.

BABY HANDS.

MAYOR DISLIKES SMOKE INSURANCE

Urges All Owners of Business Blocks Down Town to Install Consumers.

HE TELLS HIS EXPERIENCE.

One Eastern Plant Proved a Failure While a Second Experiment Was Entirely a Success.

What is the best way to attack the problem of making Salt Lake a less smoky city?

Mayor John S. Bransford declares that this is the most serious problem confronting the people at this moment, and he believes that the only way to effect a betterment of conditions for the public is to have the city grow in favor of such betterment, together with a thorough investigation of all known methods of controlling smoke.

Complaints from residents on the bench lands that it seems like going down into a smoking crater to come down into the city in the morning have been growing more numerous during the past few weeks. An interview with a Salt Lake lawyer who declared that Salt Lake was a smokier town than New York, recently attracted general notice to the smoke problem.

"I can tell you the result of my own experience," declared Mayor Bransford this morning in urging that people individually take up the matter, without the necessity of resorting to the alternative of warrants, fines, and imprisonments, "and perhaps that will suggest a possibility for others."

MAYOR'S EXPERIENCE. "When the Bransford apartments were nearing completion we began to consider the matter of smoke, and I made a trip all over the country, in favor of the 'smoke' if the city took a correspondence with various firms handling them, and finally we received almost unanimous endorsement from leading engineers to me about the success down east, with their coils and their atmosphere pressure, still in this attitude and with our coal it wouldn't work."

"In addition to saving my money, we were pretty puzzled and our old chimney, I can tell you, sent out a mighty black cloud of smoke. Then a city official told me that he would tell him if he would tell me what to do. I would guarantee to spend $10,000 trying to do it."

"To the end of my rope," I explained to him, "and if the city knows any way to move, it's more than I do."

PROBLEM SOLVED. "Well, after things had run along that way for a while, we tore out the expensive Wilkinson stoker, and put in the American stoker. Now you can look at the chimney any time, and you will find it is no longer so heavy as a good sized house stove. I know that a stoking device is impracticable for small buildings with low pressure boilers. Where it works is in the high pressure boilers, and I think every building with such a boiler should put one of these devices under it."

"There are already a number of buildings supplied with them. The Troy laundry, the Dookie block, the Y. M. C. A., the Bell telephone building, some of the newspaper plants, and quite a number of other buildings already have the stokers."

"In addition to saving my money, I can add a personal endorsement that a stoking device in a building I have under my personal control, saved 40 per cent of the coal bills during its first winter."

The situation as to chimneys is that a city ordinance provides for smoke consumers, and it is the city's duty to see that it is not planning a campaign of arrests and fines for owners of some of the more smoky chimneys.

A WARNING.
