LOCAL BRIEFS.

Phil Margretts Improves.—Phil Margretts is convalescent from his attack of inflammatory rheumatism.

Veterans Hear Sermon.—The G. A. R. veterans were addressed last evening in the First Methodist church, by the Rev. F. B. Short. The musical program was well received and the program printed in Saturday's News was carried out.

Grand Vice President Hove.—Grand Vice President Sullivan of the Electrical workers is in the city this afternoon, from San Francisco, to confer with the Salt Lake lodge over its troubles. He is also on a trip through the district to inspect the various lodges.

News Dramatic Agency.—The Deseret News Book store is now the agent of Samuel French, the New York and London dramatic publisher. All the plays, new and old, printed by the house, as well as royalty and unpublished plays, can now be secured through the book store.

Decorate Benefactors' Graves.—The graves of Patrick Phelan, Cornelius O'Keefe and James Hendricks in Calvary cemetery were decorated Saturday by St. Ann's orphanage children. The children were accompanied by Bishop Scanlan, and Reverends Liefly and Ryan. The deceased were benefactors of the orphanage.

Where is Mrs. Paul Ludlow?—Thomas Dixon of 21 Belknap street, Ashton-Under-Syde, England, is anxious to hear from his aunt, Mrs. Paul Ludlow, who left Halifax, Yorkshire, about 30 years ago for Utah. When last heard of, she was in England. Mrs. Ludlow was at Benjamin, Utah. A brother of Mrs. Ludlow, Levi Dixon, resides in Oldham, England.

Curry Away Cash Register.—Some time during last night, thieves entered the butcher shop of William Smith, Main street, Murray, and carried away a cash register, valued at $250. There is no clue as to who turned the trick, and it is presumed that entrance was gained by prying open a rear window. There was no money or valuables in the register, and so far as known, nothing else was stolen.

Record for Building.—May was a record month for building in Salt Lake. During the month there were permits to build for a total sum of $601,000. The record for May 1907, was $198,000, and that was not so bad, but the same period this year eclipsed the year previous nearly six times. The record for the period issued in May, 1907, was 64; this year they were an even 100.

Police Raid Policy Shop.—Saturday afternoon Detectives Sheets and Janney raided a policy game in the basement of a saloon at 41 Commercial street. The game was run by W. F. Bradley who was arrested and charged with operating the policy outfit. The officer confiscated the wheel and the other apparatus and had Bradley locked up at police headquarters. Bradley was released on $300 bail.

Danish Outing June 5.—At Wadsworth Friday, June 5, will be celebrated by the Danish people of Salt Lake and vicinity the Danish national holiday. During the day the President, Anthony H. Lund, Andrew Jensen and O. P. Olsen will deliver addresses. A program of sports including foot races, boat races, etc., will be carried out. Singing of Danish and American patriotic airs will also be a part of the program.

His Clothes on Another Man.—Joseph Johnson, a barber, was walking along First South street yesterday afternoon and was overtaken by a man wearing the garments, gave the name of George Seaman and denied that he had stolen the vest and trousers from Johnson. The latter was called by him, however, and called a policeman, who placed Seaman under arrest on the charge of petit larceny.

Major George Before Court.—Major Charles B. George, U. S. A., retired, who was stationed at Fort Douglas as a lieutenant in the Seventeenth Infantry, is being tried by court martial for alleged irregularities in his accounts while in charge of the recruiting station at Des Moines. The major was quite a figure in Salt Lake society while here. He was appointed to the army from civil life from New Hampshire in 1888, at the age of 23. He is now 48.

AMERICANS ALL ARE KINGMAKERS

Education Must Show the Way
For the Selection of the Present.

TRUE INCENTIVE TO LEARN

Rev. F. S. Spalding in Stirring Address to University Graduates Tells Them Why They Should Learn.

The baccalaureate sermon to the graduates of the university of Utah was delivered by Rev. F. S. Spalding, bishop of the Episcopal diocese, last evening. The services were conducted in the assembly hall at the U. of U., and were very largely attended by the faculty and students, while of the members of the board of regents there were present W. W. Ritter, Anthony H. Lund, Dr. C. G. Plummer, and Mrs. Rebecca E. Little and as visitors, Gov. John C. Cutler, Maj. M. A. Breeden, Judge D. N. Straup, Orson F. Whitney and George Albert Smith.

During the services musical selections were rendered by Miss Edna Evans, Miss Hazel Barnes and Kenneth Williams, and by the university choir. Present in the audience were the invocation and Dean Byron Cummings pronounced the benediction. Bishop Spalding said in part:

"It is a logical necessity that a republic should develop the best possible system of free education. If there is room for but one in the presidential office at a time, still all the millions are kings, and they must be trained to rule, and they must be taught to choose a man who will be worthy of the honor they bestow upon him. I am speaking tonight all the time to you, and I am speaking to all the men who have taken from the state to the new managers, Messrs. Robinson and Peterson, who have purchased the controlling interest."

"If you teachers think first of salary, you prospective professional men, of fees, you surveyors, engineers, etc., of personal rewards, of what you are going to get, not what you will be able to give, then you have been perverted, the state has been training you in vain. The rule is not ready to reign, or to choose wisely another to be king."

"We will not dwell on that, however, but rather on the fact that you will pay for value received. To whom can the debt be paid? If each and every one of you had been given an education, and if each and every one of you were a university founded by some one whose name was well known and who perhaps has his day on the school calendar, founder's day, you would know to whom you should give your money, and render grateful recognition. The university which has given you the education you wish to pay for was not founded in this way, but by the state, by impersonal thing, the existence of which we take for granted, the state. What the state does for us seems to be as a matter of course, and we are not grateful for it. We are not grateful for the postage stamps cost but 2 cents. Who appreciates the mail box on the corner and the postman at the door? As we think of sunshine and rain, mountains and the sea, we do not think of them. But how superficial this is. What the state does the taxpayer does, and the taxpayer is the poor man rather than the rich man. Workmen and women, who save their earnings and pay for a little piece of land and build a house, they pay the taxes. True, great corporations and rich men pay taxes, but they pay them by levying an indirect tax upon those poorer than themselves, and with their increased profits meet state requirements, and they pay the taxes. There is just one way in which you, graduates of the Utah state university, can save your self respect, and that is by rendering, to the limit of your powers, social service. In that way, and in that way alone, will you confer benefits as far-reaching as has been the taxation which gave you your education."

"I sometimes think that social ambition is the dominant ambition of the American people today. It is true, but it is not a healthy ambition. Men want money because it gives them and their families social prominence. To win social recognition in the business world is a common ambition, and men and women will today today and sell independence. And what a set of commonplace and conventional prejudices they become. They are set by rich idlers, and all follow. Could anything be more out of keeping with a democracy, founded on the principle that all men are created equal, and that a man's life is valuable because of what he has but of what he is? How the jealousies and vanities of the struggle for social celebrity shrivel up noble ideals. How they become a hindrance to the progress of the state. How they become a hindrance to the progress of the state. How they become a hindrance to the progress of the state."

WEEKLY VITAL STATISTICS.

Births exceeded deaths of Salt Lake City during last week in the ratio of nearly two to one, the record being 46 births and 25 deaths. Of the children born the report of the board of health shows there were 15 males and 22 females. Of the deaths, there were 15 males and 10 females.

There were reported during the week 15 cases of contagious and infectious diseases, consisting of 2 cases of smallpox, 8 cases of scarlet fever, 2 cases of measles, 1 case of meningitis, and 2 cases of whooping cough. Five cases of smallpox at the Isolation Hospital, 26 cases of scarlet fever, and one case of diphtheria, remain in quarantine at the ending of the week.

FOR A SPRAINED ANKLE.

As usually treated, a sprained ankle will disable the injured person for a month or more, but by applying Chamberlain's Liniment and using our directions with each bottle faithfully, a cure may be effected in many cases in less than one week's time. This liniment is a most remarkable preparation. Try it for a sprain or bruise, or when laid up with chronic or muscular rheumatism. It is not only to be delighted with the prompt relief which it affords. For sale by all druggists.

IN PARKER LEAVES ELGIN

Remarkable Showing During Years of His Management.

I. N. Parker, manager of the Elgin Dairy & Creamery Supply Co., since May, 1904, severs his connection with that institution today and turns it over to the new managers, Messrs. Robinson and Peterson, who have purchased the controlling interest.

When Mr. Parker took over the management of the Elgin company it was an insolvent institution. Its debts amounted to more than $34,000 and its assets were less than $5,000. At that time it was being operated at a loss of from $1,000 to $3,000 per month. Today the Elgin company is the leading corporation of its kind in the West. Its debts and obligations have all been paid in full.

Mr. Parker took over the new management an institution with net cash assets of more than $30,000 and a bank balance of upwards of $10,000. He has entirely paid off the debt. Daily in the markets of eight states, its products are sold, the monthly sales averaging $35,000. Two thousand farmers in Utah and Idaho buy the dairy products of the Elgin company.

In retiring from the management Mr. Parker desires to thank the cream and milk producers of Utah and Idaho for their generous support. He desires also to thank the merchants and dealers who have extended such liberal patronage and loyalty to the institution, and who have helped him to the limit of his powers, social service. In that way, and in that way alone, will you confer benefits as far-reaching as has been the taxation which gave you your education."
