

POWERS PLEADS FOR DEMOCRATS.

Endorses Business-Like Administration of Mayor Morris and Answers Accusers.

BRAMEL CONFIDENT OF VICTORY

Closing Hours of the Convention Marked With Ringing Speeches And Enthusiasm.

The Democratic city convention concluded its labors at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and adjourned with the following ticket prepared for the city campaign:

- Mayor—Richard P. Morris, Fifth ward. Recorder—John S. Critchlow—Second ward. Treasurer—Joseph E. Caine, Fourth ward. Auditor—M. F. Cunningham, Second ward. Attorney—William H. Bramel, Fifth ward.

The closing hours of the convention were marked with a great increase in demonstrations as the orators of the party were called into service. When the excitement following the close contest between Lynch and Caine for the city treasurer had subsided, and the remaining candidates had been given their places without noticeable opposition, Judge O. W. Powers was called for. He was forced to the stand and given an ovation, after which he delivered a ringing speech, which was heard from all parts of the house.

JUDGE POWERS' SPEECH.

"Someone has said that somewhere this week there was a suggestion or an intimation that I linger longer in the Democratic party. I am glad to see that the fact is recognized that I am not, Aguinado-like, organizing insurrections. I am sorry that it was not my pleasure to be here this afternoon when you nominated me as your candidate for mayor Richard P. Morris. Three times it has been my pleasure and honor to place him in nomination for public office, and I regret that it was not my privilege today to say a word in his behalf. In every office that he has held he has been upright, faithful and honest.

You may send Richard P. Morris down to defend you people of Salt Lake—but if you do you will lose one of the best, if not the best, Mayor Salt Lake ever had. You cannot wipe out the fact that he has given to the citizens a business administration. His record is written in public improvements. If the people desire a business administration I ask them to endorse this ticket. You have gained a business administration, not the beating of one another, the lifting of hands one against the other. They desire an administration whose business is not the corralling of 'rebels' or the discussion of theological problems.

The advancement of a greater city is the interest of all people situated at the beginning of the end of strife that should not exist in Salt Lake City. I am glad that I may stand here and give the lie to the assertion that if defeated for public office I would join another party, as charged in the last election. Public office has little attraction for me, but the interests of my friends and the people of this city are very dear to me and I believe that they can best be served by supporting the Democratic party."

BRAMEL CONFIDENT.

Mr. Bramel the nominee for the city attorneyship was apologetic, and a speech was demanded before the delegates would close the convention. He responded briefly, telling of the work in hand in developing the city's water supply and street improvements.

PURE FOOD SHOW OPEN.

Butchers and Grocers Parade in the Rain and Make Good.

The Retail Butchers and Grocers' association paraded last evening, in spite of the rain, and made a success of what the weather had threatened with failure. The procession was carried out as intended, except that "at the critical juncture" the carriages for the honorable members of the city council failed to show up, and the "venerable city fathers" were forced to view the parade from the curbstone, just like ordinary mortals.

TRACKS ON MARKET STREET

Keyser Injunction Suit Will Be Settled Out of Court.

It is probable that the injunction suit filed by Aaron Keyser and other property owners on Market street against the Salt Lake & Ogden Railway company will be amicably settled out of court by a modification of the plans for laying defendant's tracks on said street without interfering with the rights of plaintiffs. Further testimony was heard in the case yesterday by Judge Morse and, after giving plaintiffs permission to file an amended complaint, the case was continued without date.

Absolutely PURE Government Tests

prove Royal Baking Powder pure and healthful, made from grape cream of tartar, absolutely free from alum or phosphatic acids and highest of all baking powders in leavening strength.

The Royal Baking Powder costs only a fair price per pound, and is cheaper and better at its price than any baking powder in the world. It makes pure, clean and healthful food.

Avoid Alum Baking Powders

"I am very strongly of the opinion that the use of alum and salts of alumina in food should be prohibited. It is well understood that the constant use of alum compounds exerts both a deleterious effect upon the digestive organs and an irritation of the internal organs after absorption."

EDWARD S. WOOD, M.D., Professor of Chemistry, Harvard Medical School, Boston.

It must be remembered that when alum baking powders are used in making bread, biscuit or cake, a portion of the alum is carried unchanged into the stomach. Ten-cent, twenty-five-cent, cent-an-ounce powders contain alum.

LAST NIGHT'S RAINFALL.

Washed Sand on the Street Car Tracks And Caused Trouble.

The first heavy rain of the season began falling yesterday afternoon, and continued through the night. At 9 a. m. today the official record was .56 of an inch, while around the benches the fall was heavier. The weather office reports the rain as pretty general. The wash from the north bench was quite heavy, and sand on the street car tracks caused trouble. A third street car ran into a sand bank near L street at 7:30 this morning, and remained there while the other cars took turns using the south track until the red wagon men could get the car back on the track again.

FEW PLATS FILED.

Owners of Cemeteries Fail to Comply With the New Law.

So far only one of the cemetery companies has complied with the new law requiring the filing of plats in the county recorder's office, showing the ownership of lots sold in the cemeteries. The directors of the Jewish cemetery have heeded the admonition given by County Attorney Christensen and have filed a plat of that cemetery as required. Unless the other cemeteries comply with the law within a few days the county attorney will commence prosecutions against the trustees.

AMUSEMENTS.

Those who attended the Grand last night at the opening performance of "Woman Against Woman" were surprised to find a number of old favorites in the cast. Harry Fahney, hero of the long string of Bitner plays which held the boards at the Grand last spring and summer, and Lansing Kovnan, who won many admirers as his leading lady, were both cast in the principal parts last night. Miss Rowan made a decided impression in the second act by producing a real old stove and cooking a real meal of eggs and sausages upon it, which she and Mr. Fahney enjoyed together while the pleasant odors of real food floated over the audience. To a number of friends who went back on the stage after the performance, Mr. Fahney confided the fact that the name of Miss Rowan is now only for stage use, and that a romance, which began between her and heroine in Salt Lake last summer, has culminated in Colorado. The wedding occurred a few weeks ago, and since then the rehearsals of the leading lady in domesticity account for her hit of last night.

STRANGE INDIAN BURIAL CUSTOM.

Go to Their Graves Taking With Them Blankets, Saddles and Other Equipment.

READY FOR FUTURE SERVICE

Believed That More Than Half a Million Worth of Blankets Are Buried On the Uintah

Major H. P. Myton, in speaking today of the peculiarities of the Uintah reservation Indians commented on the fact that at least a half a million dollars worth of blankets were buried in the graves with deceased Indians. The practice is to not only bury blankets, but saddles and other equipment, and accessories dear to the redskin heart in order that when the deceased rises at the last day, he will have all his traps again at immediate disposal. Moreover, horses are killed at the grave, that their late owner may be sure of having them handy at the proper post mortem moment.

The major said some of these sad-looking blankets were very costly, and he wondered that white men had not gone into the business of recovering those traps, as a vocation offered.

RAY SAYLOR'S FARM.

Ray Saylor will return to the Uintah reservation next month, and superintend further the erection of buildings and fencing necessary for the laying out of his prospective farm and ranch on the Duchesne river. He says the stream crosses the corner of his claim so that the entire tract can be irrigated from it, and he is more confident than ever that he has a good thing there. The public interest in taking up claims, however, does not seem to be maintained with that keen edge that marked the earlier stages in the game, for there are reported only eight entries a day, whereas the government has arranged for the filing of 111 at such times.

INDIANS TO LEASE LANDS.

The Indians in proposing to lease their new lands to white men, and live on the rentals. This old time custom, will make the redskins more worthless than ever, and promote general widespread idleness. It is with some such apprehension in view that the department has sent Capt and Agent Hall up into the Yakima country, to study out the system obtaining there of renting lands by Indians to white men. Some eastern people got the idea that all applicants for lands had to do was to file application for entry and then have 160 acres handed right out to them, on a piece of paper, to speak with knife, fork and napkin.

ABSCESSES.

W. H. Harrison, Cleveland, Miss., writes Aug. 13, 1902: "I want to say a word of praise for Ballard's Snow Liniment. I stepped on a nail, which caused the cords in my leg to contract and an abscess to rise in my knee, and the doctor told me that I would have a stiff leg so one day I went to J. F. Lord's drug store (who is now in Denver, Colo.) and recommended a bottle of Snow Liniment. I got a 25c. size, and it cured my leg. It is the best liniment in the world."
