That Rape Case .-- The examination of George Shurtliff on a charge of rape perferred by Mary H. Adams, took place at Provo before Justice W. H. Brown day before yesterday, when the evidence went to show that there was not one mitigating circumstance connected with the affair. There is no doubt that the crime was deliberately planned and diabolically executed by him in spite of the efforts of the girl to prevent, who at the time was not sixteen years of age. In corroboration of the statements made by the girls, Jesse McCauslin, who lives in a house adjoining that occupied by the Shurilif family testified at the exto prevent, who at the time was not amination that on the night of the offense he heard the party come into the house at 12:30, and afterwards indulge in boisterous laughter and talk, as if engaged in drinking and cardplaying, heard the girls called down stairs, and subsequently, about 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning, he heard a female in the house screaming that she was being killed. Shurtliff was bound over to swalt the action of the grafid jury, and not being able to find securities, languishes in jall. Clark, the companion flend of Shurtliff, has not yet had an examination and is also in jail.

Bribery at Provo .- Mrs. Minnte Shurtliff, wife of George Shurtliff, and Hyrum Dale, an employe of Shurtliff's, were arrested at Provo day before yeswere arrested at Provo day before yes-terday on a charge of bribery growing out of the other diabolical case, and had a hearing before Justice W. H. Brown. The evidence went to show that the couple called at the Adams family residence late on the night of the 24th inst., and tried to bribe Mary H. Adams, the victim of Shurt-inf's beastly outrage, to testify falsely fift's beastly outrage, to testify falsely to screen him. Mrs. Shurtliff offered all the property she had, valued at $1,200, if the girl would only answer the questions propounded to her in court as she directed, that is, to admit that she voluntarily submitted to the outrage. The offer was not entertained, but instead, complaint was made, upon which the would-be bribers were arrested. It appearing that, Mrs. Shurtliff did not know that she was breaking any law in what she did, but merely acted from a desire to save her husband from going to the Penitentiary, which she declared her intention of doing to the utmost; the prosecuting attorney and justice were both disposed to take legient view of the case and accordingly only a nominal fine-$10-was imposed. Judgment has not been yet passed spon Dale, but he will doubtless be subjected to a more severe penalty, as he richly deserves.

Crusade Work .-- Within the past few days, J. W. Snell, S. F. Ball, Isaac Langton, Hyrum Goff, Wm. J. Jenkins, Charles Livingston and J. C. Poulson were notified to be at the Federal court room at 9:30 sharp this morning, to be arraigned on indictments found against them by the grand jury. They were on hand at the appointed time,

Young. When the committee retired, a number of gentlemen were called on for speeches, but declined.

Mr. A. W. Carison finally responded. He expressed the desire manifested by the voters at the Third Preciact Primary, that the impassable condition of some of the streets be given careful consideration by the City Council. It of coal along the streets referred to. In the outlying wards of the city the number of inhabitants was increasing, Territory is honeycombed with fraud, and the report which be will make upon that sub-tect will contain numerous sensaand the matter of having good streets Was becoming more serious every year. Mr. Pike said he was reminded by

Mr. Carlson's remarks that the Third Precinct delegates had neglected their duty, as they had been instructed to see that nominations were made of men who would pay attention to the petitions of citizens for the grading and making passable of streets. Thou-sands of dollars had been expended to procure cars, etc., and they and been kept at work in portions of the city which were in better condition cil and advocate the cause of the pre-cinct. The charges made by Mr. Pike were incorrect. Thousands of dollars the city's revenue was devoted to street purposes. The city tax was very low, five mills on the dollar, while that of Omaha, for instance, was 3% cents, and then special taxes were levied for street repairs. The city railway track and cars were not in an unneeded portion of the city, and it was expected that they would remain until a good job was completed; when they were moved to another precinct, it was to be hoped they would do the same thing there. Mr. Pike apologised for the error same thing there. Mr. Pike apologised for the error be had made. Mr. Folland described the condition of the streets in the western part of the Third Precinct as being in a very bad condition in wet weather. Another cause of complaint was the railroads in that district; with these and tele-graph and telephone poles, a large portion of the rondway was occupied. Ten petitions had been sent to get a bed excavated by the Utah & Nevada kallway filled up, and it had not been done. It had also been said that the people is the upper portion of the city would complain if too much stention was bestowed upon the Third Precinct. The people is that precinet feit that they had been greatly imposed on by some of the railroads, in cutting up the streets; there were also two canals there without foot-bridges. The speaker hoped city councilors would be chosen who would consider this matter, but whatever the convention did, he would stand by and support the action of the party.
