STILL HUNT FOR BOX CAR THIEVES

Believed Now That Murderer of Officer Clark Was Member of Gang.

PITIFUL STORY OF DESERTION

Washed and Sick Children Foreseen—Death of Mrs. Wm. H. Watts—Court Hearings—News Briefs.

Ogden, Dec. 5.—While the officers at work on the mystery surrounding the identity of the man who fired the fatal shots which caused the death of Deputy Sheriff Seymour Clark at Uintah a week ago declare that there are no new developments in the case, there is a feeling that the clues which have been followed by detectives, patrolmen, deputies, sleuths and near-sleuths from the day after the tragedy until the present time will in a short time disclose the guilty parties to the tragedy. It is generally admitted that while but one man was seen by Deputy Sheriff Murphy and the Italian who was riding in the conveyance with him and Clark, the assassin had one or more accomplices who were nearby when the unknown man fired the fatal shots which caused the death of the deputy. With this belief ever in mind, the search has narrowed down to a still hunt for a gang of box car thieves who have instigated the Union Pacific from Morgan to this city for many months, and who have given the detectives of that road no end of trouble prior to the murder of Clark. That the man who committed the murder was a member of this gang of box car thieves who have been acting as a "fence" for the box-car thieves.

Friday, Antonio Frazzini, the Italian consul stationed at this city, visited the Italian who was with Clark and Murphy when the former was killed and endeavored to ascertain what he knew of the tragedy. The Italian was so frightened at the time that his remembrance of just what did take place was vague and disconnected and but little was accomplished by the interview.

DESERED HUSBAND AND CHILDREN.
Accompanied by three young children left motherless by the heartless desertion of their parent at Rock Springs, Wyo., last Tuesday, W. J. DeForest, father, arrived in Ogden yesterday on his way to Millville, where he will endeavor to persuade Elizabeth D. Olson, sister of the mother, to take care of them.

The story as related by the husband and father is a pitiful one. Without any apparent cause, the mother of his children gathered a few personal belongings and most of the wearing apparel of the older children and with the few old babies disappeared. His whereabouts are unknown. When DeForest learned that his wife had deserted him and their children, he decided to bring the

The Last Great Fire

Did not cause so much suffering to the homeless as many a case of eczema causes its miserable victim. And the relief fund did not bring so much joy as Hood's Sarsaparilla has given thousands of times, in relieving the agonizing itching and burning of eczema-tortured people.

In a Bed of Fire.—I lived in a bed of fire for years, owing to blood poison. All over my body itching intensely. Hospital treatment did not help me. I tried Hood's Sarsaparilla and continued taking it until I was entirely cured. Mrs. J. T. Williams, Carbondale, Pa.

Tied the Hands.—We had to tie the hands of our two-year-old son on account of eczema on his face and limbs. No medicine helped until we used Hood's Sarsaparilla which soon completely cured. Mrs. A. V. Wyck, 123 Montgomery St., Paterson, N. J.

children to Millville to be cared for. To add to the untimely actions of the woman, two of the children were sick in bed when she took her departure. DeForest is a stationary engineer employed in the coal mines at Rock Springs. When he reached Sarsaparilla he was obliged to purchase the children clothing from a local store before he continued his trip to Millville.

INFANT STRICKEN WITH APPENDICITIS.

One of the most unusual cases ever heard of in surgical history and one for which it is believed there is no parallel, came under the observation of Dr. G. A. Dickson and Dr. C. E. Coulter Thursday when an operation was performed upon the 3-months-old babe of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lamar Knowlton. The physicians were called by the parents of the little one who was found to be suffering from a swelling on the right side. An incision was made and the appendix was found to be in a bad state of decomposition. Suppuration had set in and the appendix had burst. The physicians were surprised to find such a case in a child so young, but the only hope for the baby's life was an operation. The child lived until early yesterday morning when it died from peritonitis. The funeral will be held from the residence of the little one's grandmother, Mrs. Adeline Green, 2422 Monroe avenue, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Both of the men were arrested in Salt Lake by Patrolman Cass and Lieut. Shannon of the capital city police department and brought back to this city. Attorney A. G. Berze and his companion were put out of the place and later Berze was found dead. The state attempted to show that Logar followed Berze from the saloon and killed him with a piece of scotch.
