in the New York Tribune, October 18th-

No cause was ever improved by mis-representation. I am no Mormon or polygamist, as you well know, but I have spent some time among the Mormons, and I assure you that the present crusade against Brigham Young and his disciples is insfigated by prejudice and bigotry, and that the sayings and doings of the Mormons are continually misrepresented. From a knowledge of these people and their institutions, gained by sojourning with them, and strictly examining the workings of their government and their peculiarities as a sect, I assert that they are sadly belied.

The Mormons as a body are honest, industrious, God-fearing people. Their industry, temperate habits and perseresults than can be shown from the same causes in any part of your land.

They are peaceable, friendly, thrifty and an excessively hard-working peoverance have achieved more wonderful down competition in business; hence religious prejudice, bigotry and perse-cution are wrongfully brought against them, and our people of the East are misled by false reports concerning the Mormons. Many of the reports of doings in Salt Lake City that are sent to the East I know to be false. It was recently reported that one of Brigham Young's sons, in a speech before the Mormon Conference, made threats of war against the United States Government. I know positively that no such threats were made or intended in that speech nor in Lake City, used the most fanatical language, and breathed threatenings and slaughter against the Mormons. Two clergymen, whom this Judge had taken around the city, said to me in his presence, that every Mormon deserved to be hanged from the trace at the roadside and the Lake City, used the most fanatical lanfrom the trees at the roadside, and the Judge smiled approvingly. Religious fanaticism is pushing on a persecution against the Mormons, and imperceptibly the public at the East is being prejudiced against them through reports that are absolutely false. Gen. Grant is being told that it will add a laurel to his Presidency if he can stamp out these Mormons and their peculiarities during his Administration. Gen.Grant can gain no laurels by persecution. The laws of trade and population will bring these matters straight, unless vindic-tiveness and bigotry drive the Mormons to the wall. In that event, scenes may possibly be enacted that it is appalling to contemplate, and the cause will be unjust persecution. I hope that many judicious thoughtful people will visit Utah and devote time to examining this whole subject, without religious or
