

GEN. CHAFFEE AGAINST LOOTING

But Missionaries Complain Because Pekin Was Not Treated Worse.

JAPAN OPPOSES BRUTALITY

Discussion as to Chinese Policy Grows
Warm Again—Uncertainty as to Future Purpose.

Peking, Sept. 3, via Taku, Sept. 7, via Shanghai, Sept. 13.—(Copyright, 1900, by Associated Press.)—Looting in Peking continues, both authorized and unauthorized. Few houses are guarded except those occupied by foreigners, the palaces and those in the sacred city. Almost every house is destitute of furniture.

Gen. Chaffee says he could not have believed that any city would ever be given over so completely to looting, and he earnestly desires the co-operation of all nations to prevent this.

On the other hand, the missionaries complain because the sacred city has not been looted. They urge that the royal family and other highly placed Chinese personages who were behind all the trouble should be made to suffer more than those who blindly followed them.

JAPS OBJECT TO BRUTALITIES.

Gen. Fukushima, the Japanese commander, informed Gen. Chaffee that looting outrages were being committed in Tientsin. He told the American commander that many women had been killed under peculiarly atrocious conditions. He requested Gen. Chaffee to investigate and then to cooperate with him to check these barbarities as far as possible. Gen. Chaffee ordered Major Muir to proceed immediately to Tientsin and to report.

ONLY A RUSSIAN SCARE.

At a council of generals today the Russian general Linovitch said he had received information that two thousand of the other four thousand, were marching from the South to endeavor to cut the communications of the allies between Peking and Tientsin. It was finally decided that the line was sufficiently guarded, as the allies would certainly receive definite tidings of the approach of the Boxers in time to mobilize at any given point. The council merely issued orders for increased vigilance on the part of the outposts.

AGAINST ALL THRIPLING.

Yokohama, August 28.—The absence of anything like enthusiasm on the part of the Japanese over the good work which their army has done in China is attracting universal comment. The news of the fall of Peking caused surprise, but a ripple of excitement. The feeling was that the cause is undoubtedly the deep-seated distrust of the outcome of the Chinese complications and the popular conviction that its results will be a humiliation like that forced on the nation in 1857.

There is, however, a decided resolve that the slightest attempt to trifle this time will be resented with all the force that a self-respecting nation can muster. Japan wants no territory as a reward, but will insist, first of all, upon the preservation of the integrity of China, not with any desire to form an alliance with the latter as a menace to the West, but rather as the fulfillment of the national hope that China shall become a corporate member of the body of civilized powers, as Japan herself has become.

Another imperative demand will be such a guarantee by the powers of Japan's paramount influence in Korea as shall effectively prevent any encroachment thereon by Russia and thus remove all possibility of a future clash with the latter.

Apart from the manifestation of good feeling which has come from the fraternizing of the Japanese and Russian troops in China, a strong conviction has arisen that Russia's power has been very much overrated and Japan's confidence in herself in the event of a conflict has been correspondingly increased.

SINGLE PLANK PARTY.

Margate Ito's long expected manifesto placing himself at the head of a new party has been a surprise. It is especially notable owing to the fact that its paramount issue is the promotion of civil service reform. It will be interesting to note whether a political party based upon a single plank can sustain itself.

If it can, it will be the most signal victory Japan has gained in its extraordinary history.

According to a Nagasaki paper, the Mitsui Bussan Kaisha has signed a contract with the American authorities in the Philippines to supply sixty thousand tons of Japanese coal for the use of the American men of war.

RUSSO-GERMAN COMBINE.

New York, Sept. 15.—A dispatch to the Tribune from London says: Lord Salisbury has been at the foreign office, but there are no immediate signs that the situation in China has been cleared. London editors certainly are as dark as the night as to what the time is looking ahead with Dr. Morrison rather than following any of the cues in forecasting and condemning a secret understanding between Germany and Russia.

It has been the current belief in diplomatic circles that an understanding of this kind would be brought about, but it has been based upon natural inference rather than upon definite information. Russia and Germany acted in concert at the close of the war between China and Japan, and obtained naval stations and territory. It has been the natural suggestion that they would repeat this process in the existing crisis, and there has been nothing in the recent moves from Peking to modify this inference. Practical diplomats have been convinced that the German emperor, after supporting England strongly in South Africa during the last year, cannot be depended upon to take up British interests in the East, but will be more likely to make terms with Russia.

SALISBURY KEEPS QUIET.

The validity of Dr. Morrison's inference is accepted by well-informed men in diplomatic circles. It is in the natural order of events that the German emperor, who has ambitions of his own in the far East, should have a good understanding with Russia respecting the far East.

Lord Salisbury's own policy remains

BOTH PRONOUNCED INCURABLE. Pe-ru-na Made Them Strong and Happy.

Women everywhere are writing Dr. Hartman concerning the ailments peculiar to their sex. The two following letters, published by the consent of the writers are specimens. No wonder these ladies are enthusiastic. They had been sick a long time. Their cure was unexpected. The first one, Mrs. King, of North Carolina, writes: "I was afflicted for twenty years and did not know what ailed me. My husband employed three doctors, but they did me no good. I took different kinds of medicine, all to no effect. In 1895 a friend told me I had catarrh. I had a bad cough and running at the nose all the time. I was advised may use my name whenever you please."—Mrs. M. M. King.

Mary P. Bartholomew, of St. Francisville, Ill., says: "About twelve years ago I was afflicted with female trouble (pelvic catarrh). I doctored with several skillful physicians, but kept getting worse until I became bedfast. I remained in this condition about two years, under the attendance of four physicians.

"I concluded I would write Dr. Hartman for advice. I owe my life to Dr. Hartman and Pe-ru-na. My friends and neighbors never expected to see me well again. I am now able to assist with my household duties. I think my recovery is a surprise to every one who knew me. My appetite was so poor I could eat scarcely anything; but I can eat anything now without pain. I cannot recommend your medicines enough."

Catarrh is the bane of womankind. Nearly every case of so called female complaint is due to catarrh of the pelvic organs. A woman free from catarrh is generally a well woman. Catarrh of the pelvic organs makes most women miserable than all other diseases combined.

For Dr. Hartman's latest book on female diseases, address The Pe-ru-na Medicine Company, Columbus, Ohio. Sent free for a short time.

Mrs. M. M. King, Waterbury, N. C.

to try Pe-ru-na and I took four bottles. I am now well of the catarrh. I believe Pe-ru-na saved my life. The doctors and all others failed. I can recommend your Pe-ru-na to all my friends. It is the best medicine in the world. You a mystery, and only one thing can be ascertained with any degree of confidence. That is that the British forces will remain in Peking indefinitely. England, being without a diplomatic ally in the Chinese complication, will naturally maintain an attitude of masterly inactivity, and decline to send away her troops until the imperial government has been re-constructed and some effective measures have been taken for securing the punishment of the guilty mandarins.

Press dispatches are filled with forecasts of the peace negotiations at Peking and the conditions which Russia and the other powers are likely to impose. Most of these summaries are ingenious guess work, and all are premature. The demand for the return of the emperor to power, is accurately stated without doubt, but this leaves the question of the empress influence unsettled, and that lies at the bottom of the present complications. The leaders of the Boxer revolt and the imperial army can never be punished if she retains any influence at the palace.

SHANGHAI FEARS TROUBLE.

Shanghai, Sept. 15.—News of the contemplated withdrawal of the allies from Peking has caused a great mistake which is likely to eventuate in disturbances in other parts of China, where the people are certain to attribute the evacuation to a defeat of the European forces. Even here the Chinese, as a whole, do not believe that the allies ever reached Peking. They think the story a fabrication concocted for the purpose of imposing upon the officials.

Competent observers believe that a lesson must be brought home to China now in order to prevent serious outbreaks in the future.

BOXERS HAD SKIPPED.

Taku, Wednesday, Sept. 12.—All the Boxers against whom an expedition of allies was sent to the westward, had left the vicinity of Taku four days previous to the arrival of the troops. The German and American legion guards have returned to the ships.

Indians Give Up.

Phoenix, Ariz., Sept. 14.—A dispatch tonight from the Sacaton agency states that the trouble with the Pima Indians has been adjusted and that the bucks, who rebelled and threatened violence if their children were forced to attend the government school, have subsided. The ringleaders were arrested.

WITH POLITICAL LEADERS.

Bryan and Roosevelt in Vigorous Campaign Speeches.

Views of the Respective Nominees on Issues Presented to the American People.

Columbus, O., Sept. 14.—The Ohio Democrats opened their campaign here today with a meeting in the afternoon at Goodale park and in the evening at the Goodale auditorium. William J. Bryan made speeches at both meetings and there was a large attendance of Democratic leaders from all parts of the State. Previous to the afternoon meeting Mr. Bryan was tendered a reception at the Great Southern hotel, and he was escorted to the park by a number of State marching clubs.

Mr. Bryan spoke for an hour and a quarter. His audience numbered many thousands of people and they gave close attention as well as frequent cheers. The speech was a general review of the political situation and it was evidently intended to set a pace for the campaign in Ohio. He began with a reference to the local conditions, touching briefly near the outset upon the stand taken in behalf of the Democracy by Mayor Jones of Toledo and then launching into national affairs.

Declaring that he believed the Democratic ticket was entitled to the electoral vote of Ohio, Mr. Bryan said: "Measured by the principles for which the party stands, there is every reason to support our ticket and if any feel like being restrained by a matter of State pride, you should remember that you have had pride enough for this State to satisfy any reasonable pride and then one term is long enough if a man does what he ought to; and if he does not, it is too long."

Mr. Bryan then referred to the announcement of Mayor Jones of Toledo that he would support the Nebraskaan, speaking of the Toledo official as a friend of the laboring man.

Referring to the "full dinner pail" Mr. Bryan predicted that it would not last through the campaign. "In the first place," he said, "the Republican who meets every argument made by the laboring man with a full dinner pail, insults the laboring man because he assumes that the laboring man is all stomach. My friends, if the Republican party wants to make its full dinner pail argument good, let it go into the anthracite coal regions, where the year has been less than $250. This morning's paper, this morning's

More Severity Against Boers.

BURGHERS WITHOUT HOPE.

Pressure of Overwhelming Numbers
Cannot be Resisted—Effect of War on British Politics.

New York, Sept. 15.—A dispatch to the Tribune from London says:

Lord Salisbury is not known to have made any sign respecting the dissolution of parliament, but Lord Roberts is evidently hastening the general elections. Dissolution is written large across the proclamations and bulletins which have been received from Macadodorp in the last twenty-four hours.

The British commander-in-chief's proclamation to the Boers respecting Mr. Kruger's retirement from the Transvaal and his resignation from office is an adroit and statesmanlike document which can hardly fail to be helpful in accelerating the disbandment of the guerilla troops.

The statement that fifteen thousand Boers are prisoners of war causes surprise here, where the number of the Dutch was not supposed to be over ten thousand.

The veiled threat respecting the employment of rigorous measures sanctioned by the House of Commons, with satisfaction by the English press, which, too, has lost patience with Lord Roberts' leniency.

Bulletins from Macadodorp all point to the speedy collapse of the Boer army. Sir Redvers Buller's immense seizure of Boer stores at Spitzkop, Gen. Botha's retirement from command, Gen. Pole-Carew's successful advance eastward along the railway with Gen. Hamilton within supporting distance behind him, Gen. French's steady advance toward Harbortown, and various operations by Generals Hart, Clements and Dundee, are proofs that the pressure of overwhelming numbers is irresistible, and that the Dutch burghers are fighting without hope and are gradually breaking down.

Military experts expect that the last real battle of the war will be fought at Nelspruit, and that Commandant Viljoen's forces will then disperse. Their forecasts have been falsified so often that little importance can be attached to them, and it is a fairly safe conclusion that there will be little except police work after Komatiport has been occupied. The general elections will not be deferred for the completion of the police work, since, unhappily, that is likely to go on for several years.

ALL IN FAIR SHAPE.

Working Forces in Galveston—Rehabilitation of the City.

Galveston, Sept. 15.—So much progress has been made here toward the rehabilitation of Galveston and so harmoniously are the various forces working that General McKibben, who was ordered here with his staff to assist the authorities, as soon as the storm disaster befell Galveston, has decided that his presence is no longer necessary, and he has made arrangements to leave for Houston. After having largely assisted in the restoration of local confidence, the withdrawal of Gen. McKibben, taken to mean that little is to be done here but to care for the distressed, until normal business conditions have been resumed. In this connection the information was made public through the local federal authorities that the war department would undertake as soon as possible the restoration of its property at this point.

Associated Press dispatches, quoting eastern financiers on the future of Galveston, were read with much interest. The idea, however, that the status of the city will be changed, finds no local adherents. The various railroads entering here have determined to assist the citizens of Galveston to the full extent of their ability in rebuilding the city.

Col. L. J. Polk, of the Santa Fe, has received a very enthusiastic and encouraging message from the headquarters of his road, declaring confidence in Galveston, urging the business community to proceed on with the work of reconstruction, and promising every help in their power. As a result of the receipt of the message, Col. Polk said to the representative of the Associated Press:

"The railroad interests have decided to combine their forces in order to rebuild as quickly as possible a bridge from Virginia Point to Galveston. A large number of men will go to work in the morning with this end in view. You may say that the country that in six days a bridge over the bay has been built and trains running over it. I have had a consultation with the wharf interests and they have promised us that they will be prepared to handle in-going and out-going shipments by the time the bridge is finished. The bridge will be of substantial and permanent character. We shall subsequently replace it with a more enduring structure. There is no reason why Galveston ought not commercially to resume normal conditions in ten days."

Col. Prather, president of the board of regents of the Medical college here, and Col. Breckinridge, a member of the board, were among the late arrivals. They met Gen. McKibben and were driven to the institution. They found the building in a badly battered condition, but on their return it was announced that the college would be immediately reconstructed by private benefactors if the State was unable to bear the cost.

Large gangs have been at work in the business district and splendid progress made in clearing away debris. The street car company has a large force of men at work cutting up and removing obstructions, and putting their track in condition.

Adjutant General McCaleb announces that by tonight the water supply will be equal to every need and to perform the functions of modern sanitation.

Widespread Destruction.

St. Johns, N. F., Sept. 14.—Tales of widespread destruction wrought by yesterday's gale continue to pour in. Six vessels were wrecked near St. Pierre and six in Placencia bay. It is also reported that the Boers were lost in Renova harbor, two in the Straits of Belle Isle, and four near Cape Bonavista.

Thus far fourteen lives are known to have been lost, and it is feared that the loss of life will prove to have been much greater when full information is at hand.

Severe on the Boers.

London, Sept. 15.—The Imperial government, says the Capetown correspondent of the Standard, intends at an early date to declare a state of peace in South Africa, and to issue a proclamation that the Boers refusing to lay down their arms will be treated as outlaws.

Mr. Foreman, whose picture is given above says: "I am 77 years of age, and have lived in Salt Lake City about 43 years. I have of late been the victim of Asthma, which affected me so I could not sleep or rest. I coughed all the time, and at night could scarcely get my breath, frequently being obliged to get up to catch my breath. I saw Drs.
