C. O. WHITEMORE RETURNS TO TOWN

Relates His Experiences in the Grade Conflict at Uvada.

WIRES IN HANDS OF ENEMY

Had No Telegraphic Communication With Outside World and Men Were Hard Run for Want of Water.

C. O. Whitemore returned this morning from Uvada, where he has been for the past few days endeavoring to head off the invasion of the Oregon Short Line track layers under General Superintendent Calvin on the disputed grade over the Nevada line.

When seen shortly after his arrival Mr. Whitemore's appearance indicated that he had been having busy times in the south, so much so that during the press of business incident to traveling around the country in search of a judge to issue an injunction he had apparently not had time to shave.

ARE STILL WORKING.

"We are working on the grade down in Nevada," he said, "and have ten teams and scrapers employed and will continue doing so until the matter is decided in the courts. Then the Oregon Short Line will either make a present of the steel and ties that are being laid to the Los Angeles road or we will donate our grading to the Short Line people. While it is our intention not to resort to any physical clash, at the same time we will fight this matter out to the bitter end in the courts. We are doing this work now in order to prove that we were first on the field and start work first upon the grade which, according to the decision of the United States land office in Carson, rightly belongs to us. I have returned to Salt Lake so that I can get into contact with the brother-in-law of Captain Samuel Paul, in Los Angeles and St. Louis. Until I hear from them the work of grading will be continued by the force of men under Adam Paul."

Proceeding Mr. Whitemore stated that he had two camps of graders stationed about three miles and the other twelve miles from where the Short Line gangs were laying steel. It was necessary, he said, for the men to work at these points as it was impossible for them to secure water anywhere else along the line. The Short Line force have their own water tanks along with them, and needless to say that the San Pedro men could not obtain a drop from them. Naturally, the invading force is throwing every obstacle in the way of the rival force, and among other things Mr. Whitemore found that it was impossible to send out telegrams from Uvada, as the wires were in the hands of the enemy.

Mr. Whitemore stated that by the time he left Uvada yesterday that the Short Line had laid a little over ten miles of steel and had a bridge force on the ground together with the necessary timbers to commence building a trestle across Normie Hill. Trains of material and supplies, he says, are coming in at the rate of from five to seven a day.

STORY OF THE BATTLE.

The story of the bloodless battle of the grade is one which will be of interest to everyone who has followed the moves made in the southern part of the State. At 10 o'clock Saturday morning a party of men, acting under instructions from Mr. Whitemore on behalf of the Clark road, on Tuesday last. This was immediately after the decision had been rendered by the court. On Saturday he started with a gang of eight men and six teams to work on the grade according to the word received from Salt Lake to that effect. This move was wired to Salt Lake by the agent and the Short Line force to a gang and sent them to the scene, giving the train the right of way over the passenger train and everything on the line. This force arrived at 4 o'clock on Sunday morning and by daylight they had commenced to lay the ties and rails. By noon Mr. Whitemore had arrived at Uvada and acting under his instructions, his men cut a trench across the road, and the invading force was forced to the Short Line to cross it. That night the gap was filled up and some 500 yards of track greeted Mr. Whitemore's gaze when he returned to the scene the next morning. "Think down the grade," he said, "and the men are working at the present time."

Mr. Whitemore is silent as to what he will take in the dispute, now that he has returned to Salt Lake, but he intimates that when he does make another move that it will count. In the meantime the Short Line is putting down rails and has some 250 men at work on the job.

SURVEYORS RECALLED.

Burlington Engineers on the Salt Lake Extension Are Called Off.

Chicago, April 11.—The Burlington has recalled its corps of surveyors which have been selected a route from Guernsey, Wyo., to Salt Lake City. "This action," says the Evening Post today, "is taken as showing that the managing authorities of the Burlington system have received an intimation that the control of the road has practically passed to other hands, or is likely to do so."

DRAFT ARRIVES.

Balance on the Filing Fees of the Clark Road Paid Today.

When C. O. Whitemore returned from Uvada this morning he found a draft for $3,750 among his mail from Vice President J. Ross Clark of the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake road. This amount covers that due on the balance of the filing fees for the articles of incorporation of the Clark road which were increased the above amount owing to the act of Governor Wells in the investigation signing the Wamam-Howell bill before the papers were filed. Mr. Whitemore this afternoon handed the draft over to the secretary of state.

DENVER & R. G. WESTERN.

George Coppell May be in Charge of the Consolidated Lines.

Denver, Colo., April 11.—The Republican today says:

The Denver & Rio Grande Western is said to be the name under which the consolidation of the Denver & Rio Grande and the Rio Grande Western will be known. It is reported that two roads will be operated as one road and that George Coppell, chairman of the Denver & Rio Grande board of directors will be in charge of the consolidation.

dated lines. Just what foundation there is or this report is not known, and it is probable that nothing will be certain until after the formal purchase of the Rio Grande Western at the stockholders' meeting at Denver & Rio Grande in Denver, May 15.

SPIKE AND RAIL.

It has been definitely decided that beer will be sold out at Saltair this season.

Judge Marshall, attorney for the Southern Pacific, left for the east this afternoon.

No. 522 is the latest big switch engine to be received by the Oregon Short Line from the locomotive works in the East.

The Oregon Short Line has received during the past week quite a large consignment of new machinery for the Pocastello shops.

Engineer E. A. Vail, of the Salt Lake, Ogden & Hot Springs railroad, went down to Uvada last night in the interest of the Clark road.

The new Union Pacific $9,000 capacity box car, some of which are being hauled over the Oregon Short Line, are causing considerable favorable comment in railroad circles.

Officials of the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad are now busy denying the statement published in New York to the effect that that road had been acquired by George J. Gould and his Missouri Pacific associates.

Pocastello Advance: The Oregon Short Line has leased four of their 770 class of engines to the Southern Pacific and they went south Monday to be put into service. Short Line crews will go with the engines and remain on the Southern Pacific with them.

J. R. DeReener, of Denver, the well known boiler maker and contractor, spent a few hours in this city this morning in consultation with General Manager Bancroft, of the Oregon Short Line. He left for the north over the noon train. It is said that he will go down to Uvada tonight.

Caught a Dreadful Cold. Marlon Kooke, manager for T. M. Thompson, a large importer of fine millinery at 1833 Milwaukee avenue, Chicago, says: "During the late severe weather I caught a dreadful cold which kept me awake at night and made me unfit to attend my work during the day. One of my milliners was taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for a severe cold at that time, which seemed to relieve her so quickly that I bought some for myself. It acted like magic and I began to improve at once. I am now entirely well and feel very pleased to acknowledge its merits."
