

Are all good? No, you know that many of us do many things that are far from right. Let me say unto you that our only safety is in obedience to the laws of God. You need not fear the clamor that is now being raised against us, nor any of this nonsense, this spite of the world; you need not fear the illiberality of religionists who are clamoring to deprive you of your liberties, you need care nothing about that.

You all know that they are proclaiming falsehoods against us, and that we are misrepresented by them. No matter, they are in the hands of God, and we are in the hands of God; and while we seek to maintain righteous principles, virtue, purity, and the laws of the land, we can afford to leave them in the hands of God, and let Him be their judge. Let us be for God, for righteousness, for virtue, for purity, for truth and integrity, and if our enemies prefer to wallow in their iniquities, and lend themselves to vice and falsehood, we can stand these things if they can, it is better to suffer than do wrong. The Lord will judge both them and us, and all will be well with those who cleave to the truth. We need not be troubled about their intrigues and mendacity. God will protect the right and will save and bless and deliver us despite their mendacious assertions, if we fear Him, observe His laws, and keep His commandments. They, nor any other men, nor any power, can go further than God permits them, and when He says stop, they must stop. He will control all things according to the counsels of His own will. It is for us to be willing to obey His laws, to preserve our bodies and spirits pure, to cleave to righteousness, to honor the Lord our God, that we may always have His spirit to be with us. And if we are faithful by and by, it will be said of us, Well done, thou good and faithful servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, and I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy Lord.

May God bless you and lead you in the paths of life, in the name of Jesus, Amen.

A DIGEST OF THE SALT LAKE CITY CHARTER.

The following is a digest of the new charter of Salt Lake City, as read in the Council on Friday:

The boundaries shall be: Commencing at a point on the south side of a four-rod street, running east and west, 150 chains and 50 links due south from the juncture of the Salt Lake base and meridian lines of U. S. Surveys, thence east 381 chains and 50 links; thence north 433 chains and 75 links; thence west 668 chains to a point one mile west from the west bank of Jordan River; thence south 521 chains 75 links; thence east 180 chains to the east bank of Jordan River; thence northerly down said Jordan River and along the east bank 90 chains to a point due west from the place of beginning, thence east 111 chains and 25 links to the place of beginning.

The government is vested in a Mayor and 15 Councilors, two at least of whom shall be chosen from each municipal ward.

There shall be five municipal wards.

At the general election to be held on the first Monday of August, 1883, and every two years thereafter, on said day, there shall be elected one mayor, fifteen councilors, one recorder, one marshal, one treasurer, one assessor, one collector and two or more justices of the peace for said city. The term of such officers shall commence on the first Tuesday in January following.

The registration of voters, the keeping of the poll lists, the canvassing such votes and all other things relating to the election shall be conducted and performed in the same manner and by the same officers as are or may be prescribed by law for conducting elections for territorial, county and precinct officers.

There shall be appointed an auditor, attorney, engineer, supervisor of streets, watermaster, superintendent of waterworks, chief engineer of the fire department, sealer of weights and measures, quarantine officer, sexton, inspectors, and other officers as the council may deem necessary. All officers appointed by the council may be removed by a two-thirds vote of said council. Vacancies in office may be filled by the council.

For judicial purposes the city shall be divided into two or more districts; in case of absence or disability of any of said justices one of the others shall act in his place.

The recorder shall keep accurate records of all doings of the city government, which records shall be open to the inspection of the electors of the city. He shall have power to appoint a deputy.

The City Council shall hold at least two regular stated meetings each month and special meetings when called by the mayor or president of the Council.

The City Council shall prohibit every kind of fraudulent device and practice, gaming and gambling, prevent riots, disturbances of the peace; restrain, suppress and prohibit bawdy houses and punish the inmates, patrons and keepers and owners of the buildings used for such purposes; to license or prohibit billiard tables and pin alleys.

To license the manufacture and selling of liquors at a sum not exceeding $1,200 per annum.

To license all merchants, peddlers, professions, etc.

To prohibit opium smoking, and depositing or keeping in the city any unwholesome or noisome nuisance, and declaring what is a nuisance.

To regulate and prohibit the running at large of cattle, horses, sheep, etc., in the city and impose penalties for violation of any such ordinances.

To distribute, control and regulate the waters flowing into the city, throughout the public channels, and make and maintain ditches and canals for conveying such water into the city; to acquire by gift or purchase any land necessary, inside or outside the corporate limits, for the construction or maintenance of such canal or ditch.

To provide for public schools, for the officers and teachers thereof, provide for a school fund by direct tax or otherwise, provide for the election of trustees and appoint a board of education.

To provide for the safe keeping and education of all children who are destitute of proper parental care.

To borrow money, the interest of all of which borrowed money shall not exceed one-fourth of the city revenue during the preceding year.

To levy and collect taxes not to exceed ten mills on the dollar.

To levy on real estate in any district within the city, a sufficient tax to defray the expense of constructing water works, laying pipes, etc., for benefiting such district; for leveling, paving or macadamizing, or planking and opening and keeping in repair the streets and sidewalks, constructing sewers, ditches, flumes, bridges, drains, erecting lamps and lighting the streets in such respective districts or divisions.

That two days' work, or $3 in money, is levied annually, upon every able-bodied man resident of the city, over 21 and under 60 years of age, as a poll tax.

If the mayor vetoes a bill passed by the Council, said Council may pass the same by a two-thirds vote, and the same shall be signed by the president of the Council.

The Council shall have power to fix the compensation of all officers, jurors, witnesses and others.

All ordinances now in force, not inconsistent with this act, shall remain in force until altered; and actions, surveys, etc., of the city shall not be invalidated.

This act shall be in force on and after the first day of July, 1883.

A STATE GOVERNMENT FOR UTAH.

The following was unanimously adopted by the Council, and afterwards by the House of Representatives of the Legislative Assembly this morning:

RESOLUTIONS IN RELATION TO A CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

Resolved by the Council and House of Representatives of the Territory of Utah,

That the Territorial system is unadapted to the conditions of a community numbering many thousands of citizens, who ought to enjoy the privileges as well as bear their share of the burdens of popular government;

That Utah possesses all the requisite qualifications to entitle her to admission into the Union as a free and sovereign State;

That any further hindrances on the part of Congress to such admission would be unjust and partial, and unwarranted by any facts or circumstances, or by the Constitution of the United States;

That it is the right and the duty of the people of Utah to plead for and demand a republican form of government, so that they and their posterity may enjoy the blessings and liberties, to secure which the founders of this great nation lived and labored, struggled and died;

That the citizens of this Territory have the right not only to assemble and petition for redress of grievances, but also to meet in person or by authorized delegates for the purpose of organizing a State Government, providing for the election of Senators and a Representative to Congress and such State officers as will be requisite, and of taking measures to secure that recognition as an integral portion of the United States of America, as circumstances may render necessary.

That the people of Utah are authorized to meet in their respective precincts to consider these matters and select delegates to county conventions to be held in all the counties in this Territory for the purpose of appointing delegates to a general convention, to meet in the City Hall, Salt Lake City, on Monday, the 10th day of April, 1882, at 12 o'clock m. And the several counties are authorized to send to said convention the following number of delegates, to wit:

Beaver, 2	Rich, 1
Bor Elder, 3	Salt Lake, 15
CACHE, 6	Sanpete, 3
Davis, 3	Searles, 3
Emery, 1	Summit, 3
Iron and San Juan, 3	Tooele, 3
Juab, 2	Utah, 2
Kane, 2	Wasatch and Uintah, 2
Millard, 2	Wasatch, 2
Morgan, 1	Washington, 5
Plute, 1	Weber, 5
Total, 72

That said delegates may be qualified by any person authorized to administer oaths and may organize by electing a president and secretary and such other officers as they may deem necessary. The convention, when organized may frame a State Constitution for the new Territory of Utah; name the proposed State and define its boundaries, elect or appoint delegates to proceed to Washington and urge the claims and rights of Utah to Statehood, nominate and provide for the election of a Governor, Legislature, Judges, Secretary and other State officers, and a Representative to Congress; to provide for a session of the Legislature for the purpose of electing two United States Senators; and said convention may take such other steps and devise such other measures as may be considered wise for the accomplishment of the object in view.

That the Constitution framed by said convention and nominations for State and other officers shall be submitted to the people, for their approval or disapproval, at an election to be held at such time and under such regulations and provisions as said convention may determine.
