THE PRESIDENT'S CONDITION.

Blaine to Lowell.

WASHINGTON, 23. — The President's condition is more encouraging than at this time last night. During the last 24 hours he has swallowed 10 ounces of extract of beef and 18 or 18 ounces of milk, retaining and digesting both. He has twice asked for food, which he has not done before for several days. Pulse and temperature both somewhat lower. Swelling of parotid gland not especially changed. Its long continuance at its present stage increases fear of suppuration. At this hour, 11 p. m. the physicians report that the president has rested quietly the entire evening.

Bulletin.

Executive Mansion, 10.30 p. m.—The President has had a rateer better day than was generally anticipated. The somewhat discouraging tone of Secretary Blaine's telegram to Minister Lowell last night seemed to prepare the public for the worst, and although the official bulletin this morning was not unfavorable, a general feeling of anxiety and apprehension prevailed both at the Executive Mansion and throughout the city. It seems to be generally conceded that the condition of the President was in the highest degree critical and alarming, and on the streets if four persons were asked what they thought of the President's chances three would have redlied that death was a question of a few days if not a few hours. For this excitement and alarm, however, the real facts of the case hardly furnish sufficient justification. The condition of the President was the subject of grave anxiety to the surgeons, his attendants and Mrs. Garfield; but not more so than yesterday, and not so much so as on Sunday. That afternoon there was really greater reason for discouragement than at any time since then, because there seemed then to be only a very faint hope that the patient's demoralized stomach could be brought to resume its functions. As soon as the President began to swallow food again, his condition, to that extent at least, became more hopeful. Without adequate nourishment death from exhaustion seemed inevitable; while with proper nourishment he might live. In a qualified sense, therefore, he was better this morning than on Sunday night; although his general condition had not materially changed. Before the morning examination he had swallowed six ounces of beef juice, without nausea or discomfort, and this increasing ability to take nourishment, encouraged the surgeons to hope that the danger from exhaustion, might be avoided. The President passed a quiet morning, taking nourishment frequently, in the shape of beef juice, heptonized milk, and milk porridge, with enemæ every five or six hours. Up to noon he had swallowed-sixteen or seventeen ounces of food, but there had been no indication of an increase in strength, with the exception of a stronger and slightly improved pulse. The glandular swelling still remained hard, and showed no change in size or appearance, and the amount of mucous secreted in the back part of the mouth was about the same as yesterday. Generally speaking, the patient at noon was holding his own, but making no perceptible progress. He slept about as much as usual during the afternoon, and continued to take nourishment at intervals, until at 4 o'clock he had swallowed more than twenty ounces. At 4.20 p. m. Dr. Reyburn reported his condition somewhat slightly improved. This information is confirmed by the evening bulletin, which showed a lower pulse than the patient has had at any evening examination since the 13th.

Very Critical.

NEW YORK, 23.—The Tribune's Washington special says: Members of the Cabinet with their families remained at the White House last night later than usual and did not leave until nearly 11 p. m. They were agreed that while the situation is a little more encouraging than it was Sunday night, the President's condition is still very critical. Windom said he seems to be a little better than last night. While we see no real reason to be encouraged, we are a little less discouraged. MacVeagh said we feel that he is better than he was last night. Lincoln plainly and frankly said we are waiting; we are a little more hopeful or a little less discouraged than last night, but we are watching and waiting with great anxiety. These statements explain the situation better than any official bulletins.

Executive Mansion, 23, midnight.—No noticeable change in the President's condition since 11 p. m. He is now resting quietly.

Executive Mansion, 24, 1.30 a. m.—No change in the President's condition is reported since midnight. At this hour he is resting quietly, the physicians are dozing, and the members of the President's household are asleep.

A Washington special says: As very considerable nourishment has been retained upon the stomach in the last 48 hours without the least gastric disturbance and without increasing the strength of the patient in the least, evinces that he is showing unmistakeable signs of growing exhaustion, and fear is expressed that there is a lack of ability to assimilate even such easily digested food as has been given. That the President is noticeably weaker than at any time during his illness is admitted, even when his condition is compared with that at the close of his sixty hours starvation on Friday last. When awake, he lies still, scarcely turning to look toward his attendants, unless it be necessary to take something from them. Only to his wife does he attempt to offer greeting. To all others he is indifferent. There is evidently an effort to keep his consciousness. An attendant describes him as lying this morning with his knees drawn up, and his right arm passed over his head, just as he lay on the stretcher when brought to the White House, that fateful Saturday, seven weeks ago. He slept a feveish sleepy which is all he has had to rest him since Wednesday night. The great head moved slowly from side to side, and the once eloquent lips muttered unintelligibly; such a picture will give to the public, dazed with conflicting reports, some idea of how low lies the President.

Snubbed.

WASHINGTON, 23.—The alleged Greek doctor Tsakmyntys, one of the men committed to jail since the assassination, for making threats of personal violence to A. B. Newcome, of the Secret Service Division, Treasury Department, was released by Judge Bundy to-day, on his personal bonds to keep peace to Mr. Newcome, and all other citizens of the United States. He was placed under escort of two government officers and was taken to the house where he lived when arrested, his trunks were packed and then carried on a train for New York, where he will be placed on a steamer for Europe. He protests that he has committed no crime for which he should be banished.

Howgate's Villainy.

The Evening Critic, at the instance of General Hazen, says: A further charge will be made against Captain Howgate, for additional embezzlements of $50,000. The evidence upon which this charge is made comes from New York. Detectives found vouchers for payment supplies in large sums furnished by parties in New York. These parties positively disclaim all knowledge of the transactions, making affidavit that the supplies in question were never furnished by them, and that no such money had been received from the disbursing officer of the signal office. In one instance a forged voucher for $10,000 was discovered. The amount specified in this further charge, covers what has been unearthed up to date. It is charged with a double set of vouchers obtained by Howgate on the plea that the funds of various years has been kept seperate.

On the War Path.

The following dispatch from Col. Hatch, giving a report of the fight with Indians in which Lieut. Smith was killed, was received this morning:

August, 20.—Lieut. Smith, whom I had pushed out of Cummings to head off the hostiles, struck the band 15 miles west. A severe fight followed. Our loss is Lieut. Smith and four men killed, and seven men wounded. Geo. Daly, with a party of citizens, joined Smith when in pursuit of the Indians. Daly was killed. Lieut. Taylor, with 90 of the cavalry detachment and scouts, came up after the Indians were driven off last night, and will take up the pursuit. The Indians were going toward Mimbres. I ordered troops yesterday from Bayard and Cummings to watch the country between Cummings and Bayard.

Home Dues 30.—Foreign 50.

The Treasury Department issues a circular to customs officers regulating tonnage dues on vessels. The rate per ton on vessels of the United States whose officers are citizens is fixed at 30 cents, and those whose officers are not citizens at 50 cents.

Indian Plenipotentiary.

The Commissioner of Indian Affairs, in view of the report of Inspector Haworth, will recommend the detention of Agent Eastman, of the Navajo Agency, New Mexico.

Vennor we to Get Him?

CHEYENNE, 23.—The Leader has information that a movement is progressing in official circles to have Vennor, of Canada, supercede Hazen as chief of the signal service. Prominent military men and scientists are said to be interested.

Gambling in Grain.

NEW YORK, 23.—The extent of the recent grain speculation, may be inferred from the fact that Rufus Hatch is known to have carried at one time, 1,700,000 bushels of corn. A prominent down town merchant, who preferred to keep his name out of print, has 3,000,000 bushels, more than the entire supply in store at Chicago; and Keene, it is said, had 1,000,000 purchased at 45 cents and sold at a profit of $200,000. According to rumors the Armours, of New York and Chicago, held even more, and are credited with having made a handsome fortune. Among the shorts who have lost large amounts of money a prominent German banker is spoken of who for himself and customers has dropped $700,000 within a week, mostly on foreign account. The losses among small operators who had sold the market here, have been very large in the aggregate. Speculation in grain, although diminished yesterday, was never so large as within the last week. It has become enormous in volume, a craze having seized upon the people, and orders come not only from every city in the country and from the commercial countries of Europe, but from towns and hamlets in the country districts of the west. The farmers have not been able to resist the temptation of speculating in the staple, and brokers say that they have a class of customers now who are entirely new to the business. The gambling is done on a margin just as in Wall Street, 10,000 bushels of grain being the equivalent of 100 shares of stock, and the grain broker requires a margin of about $500, just as his brother of the stock exchange.

Retiring Gracefully.

Mayor Grace to-day removed the Police Commissioners, after their trial on charges of failing to keep the streets clean. The Mayor has sent the Governor a long review of the testimony taken.

Reckless Extravagance.

The Tribune reports a case of a man named Lautens selling to a carpenter named Jansen his (Lautens') wife for one dollar. Mrs. L. had been unfaithful, and the bargain seemed to please all parties.

Tussle.

PHILADELPHIA, 23.—The Ledger's New York special says: I hear from good authority that the British Consulate cabled home to his government the substance of the address of the so-called Irish Revolutionary Convention, which has been holding secret sessions here during the past few days. That address, without the slightest qualification, proclaims the intention to destroy British vessels wherever they can be found, and declares that it is just as well to begin the work which is most easy of accomplishment, and by the time a few English merchant vessels are destroyed, the world may witness the beneficent results. The shipping merchants and insurance companies of England are presenting a petition to Gladstone to reconsider the Irish question.

Contingent Precaution.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., 23.—A special to the Republican from Bayfield, Wis., gives an interview with Senator Beck, of Kentucky, in reference to the course of the Democrats in case of the death of the President. The senator said: "It will be a time when love of country should rise above all party questions. As to my own course, I would be in favor of the election of some conservative republican, say Henry B. Anthony, of Rhode Island, to the position of President pro tem. of the Senate, and thus avoid any inducement for any insane person or political fanatic to desire the death of Arthur. In such a contingency, that would be a graceful recognition of the fact that under the great calamity which had befallen the nation, the intensity of party spirit and the eagerness for spoils were for a time forgotten."

Sold.

ITHICA, N. Y., 23.—The Daily Journal says: Shinkel, of the Cornell crew; Michael Casey, saloon keeper, and Samuel W. Reed, liquor dealer, made up the party that had to agree Cornell should lose all races abroad after the first Steward's or Visitor's, which, it was expected, the crew would win. The Journal says: There is documentary evidence of treachery, and states that Shinkel wrote to Casey from London, before the Cornell crew had started for Vienna: "Bet the Cornells will lose the Vienna race."

He stole $5,000.

CHICAGO, 23.—Chas. Wright has been arrested here charged with embezzling $5,000 from Fred. S. Jones & Co., insurance agents, for whom he was cashier. He has confessed, attributing his fall to gambling.

Drawing the Line.

NEW ORLEANS, 23.—The Democrat's Monroe special says: Early this morning unknown parties entered the jail and took Perry Mason and Alexander Wilson, (colored,) charged with murder, and hanged them.

FOREIGN.

French Elections.

PARIS, 22.—Latest accounts of the elections minutely verified show 547 elections were had, and 483 deputies were elected, and 64 second ballots will be necessary. The 483 members comprise 38 Monarchists, 42 Bonapartists and 403 Republicans. Of the latter, 34 belong to the Left Centre, 157 to the Left, 187 to the Republicans Union and 25 to the Extreme Left. The Monarchists gain 11 and lose 18; the Bonapartists gain 3 and lose 40; the Republican gain includes 18 secretaries formerly belonging to the Monarchists, 38 Bonapartists and 12 in new electoral districts.

The Temps, referring to the election, says: Gambetta has become the representative of a large majority in the country. The elections have placed him almost under the necessity of assuming power, and will necessarily result in the formation of a ministry with Gambetta at its head.

The final results at 548 elections held, are that 483 members have been elected; 65 second ballots are necessary. Of the former Chamber, 364 deputies are returned, including 61 Right, 303 Left. The Republicans elected 398 candidates. Of the Monarchists and Bonapartists, the Republicans gained 54 seats—14 from the Monarchists and 28 from the Bonapartists, and 14 in new electoral districts; the Bonapartists gained two seats from the Republicans and the Monarchists gained seven; the Republican gain is therefore reduced to 45. The Monarchists gained two seats from the Bonapartists. The 398 Republicans elected may be classed as follows: Right Centre, 41; Left, 159; Republican Union, 170, and Extreme Left, 28.

PARIS, 23.—The Mayor of Belleville has disclosed that Gambetta has been elected in both divisions, but the Temps says that the voting is questioned and will be submitted to a commission.

A fire occurred in a petroleum refinery near Paris; loss estimated 800,000 francs.

Crops of Europe and United States.

LONDON, 23.—A volume of reports on the harvest of the different countries throughout the world, brought out annually, is now being issued. Reports of the wheat crops in France are this year from over a larger area and indicate a better crop than last year. This year's barley is not as good as in 1880, but it is fairly good. Corn very ordinary, oats and rice fair. On the whole, crops are not up to those of last year, but wheat is not much below the average. None of the crops will be very bad, none very good, and none of the crops of average. In the Prussian States the crops are fair. Swiss wheat crop, very poor in quantity owing to the drought, but in quality it is very fair, oats and barley good in quantity and quality, but there is small areas sown of the latter. Belgium wheat is far below average. Barley good, and oats fair. All crops in Spain are bad, all cereals in Holland are good. The condition of all reports from the United States agree that the yield will be under the average.

French in Tunis.

A dispatch from Tunis says: The Bey's troops, which left Galetta yesterday, have gone to Kairwan in the hope of inducing the tribes there to yield, and thus obviate the necessity of entering the town. The French, however, are determined to occupy it, as they desire to quell the disaffection in adjacent provinces of Algeria, for which purpose they must subjugate the southern portion of the regency. The French are entering upon the most difficult part of their enterprise. The entry into Kairwan will be seriously opposed. It is feared that, in the event of a collision, the Bey's troops will side with the rebellious tribes

Gunpowder Plot.

A basket, left at Midland Railway station by two men, who immediately decamped, was found to contain a large quantity of gunpowder and cartridges.

English Grain.

The Standard says: Since harvest became general, the rain has fallen almost daily up to Monday, and there is no longer any hope of the superior quality or condition of our crops.

Newspaper Libel.

In the House of Lords the newspaper libel bill for the American newspapers was read the second time.

The liabilities of Judah Lee Simmonds & Co. are estimated at £100,000.

DUBLIN, 23.—The Kilfinane, County Limerick, branch of the Land League, has emphatically pronounced in favor of the land bill. The district has been the centre of fierce agitation.

DUBLIN, 23.—The Land League received £1,315 during the past week, of which £50 were granted by the two Whelans, acquitted of the Boyd murder.

Another Wandering Assassin.

BERNE, 23.—By order of the Federal Council, the Nihilist Russian Krapatkine has been expelled from Switzerland.
