DESERET EVENING NEWS: SATURDAY, MAY 14, 1904.

of the Tabernacle choir going to the world's fair. In its revived form the matter is being given serious consideration by the First Presidency. While the details are yet entirely in a formative state, it has been decided that in the event of favorable action, the trip shall be undertaken late in the fall, which, as already explained by the "News," will preclude the possibility of its participating in the great choral contests. It is also likely that several concerts will be given in the larger cities along the line of travel, and that "Mormon" music, both com. positions and words, will largely predominate, through some standard productions will be carefully interspersed, in order that there may be room for intelligent comparison between "Mor. mon" and other music, Prof. Stephens is under the impression that this can be done without the work of home composers suffering. Meanwhile members of the choir and their friends, will hope for and work for a favorable outcome of the plans for the proposed journey.

Prof. Stephens spent last Sunday in Prof. stephens spent last study in ogden in the interest of music. During the day he spoke at the Weber stake tabernacle, which was crowded to the utmost. A choir of juvenile singers from the various Sunday schools fur-nished the vocal music for the occa-sion, and Prof. Stephens declares that sion, and Frot. stephens declares that it was supprisingly good. He com-mended the efficiency of their work, and had a kind and encouraging word to say in behalf of Prof. Ballantyne, to whose untiring and systematic training the excellent results are due. Prof. Ballantyne has followed the practise of selecting two thoroughly musically inclined young women from each Sunday school and drilling them along cer-tain lines. Then when all the schools get together, their work in concert is quite easy and remarkably effective The stake authorities have given much assistance and encouragement in this direction, and Prof, Stephens mildhints that other stake authorities could get like results by pursuing a similar course.

Friends of Lizzie Thomas Edward are hoping that they will hear her voice in public in the near future. It is well known that she has been attending the Chicago Conservatory of Music for the greater part of the past year, and that she was called home by the death of her father, a fact that prevented her from completing her course this year. However, it is said she has made pronounced improvement and that her structor, Madam Fox, had hoped structor, Madam Pox, and hoped to have her enter the contest for the grand prize that is to be awarded to the possessor of the best voice, at the end of the school year, only a few weeks hence. Mrs. Edward has been much missed during her absence, par-ticularly from the Tabernacle choir, A plano recital of unusual interest will be given next Wednesday evening, in the Salt Lake theater by pupils of Prof. J. J. McClellan. Doors will be Prof. J. J. McClellan. Doors will be locked at 8:05 sharp, and none will be admitted except upon presentation of invitations which are now being issued. The following compositions will be given: Concerto in E minor (first inovement), Chopin; concerto in E flat indor (first movement). Beethoven; concerto in G minor (second and third avorements), Mendelssohn; concerto in D minor, Mendelssohn; concerto in D minor, Mozart, Assisting the pupils minor, Mozart. Assisting the pupil in these numbers will be a string quin let composed of George E. Skelton first violin; Alfred Masterman, second violin; H. Green, viola; J. P. Olsen cello: Chris Jesperson, bass; second plano, by J. J. McClellan. Fred C. Graham, tenor, will sing a number. Among the other numbers to be given will be noted works by such composers as Moscheles, Moszowski, Para-disl. Liszt, Leschetizski, Schubert, Chopin, Nevin, Godard, Jones, Mozart; and there will be also given the sonata in D major (first movement) Schubert two planos; and the sonata C mino (second and third movement) Mozart two planos; (second plano part 'by Grieg). The doors of theater will oper at 7:30 and close at precisely the hour

ONCE again there is strong talk | services cheerfully given. Miss Ramsey is touring the coast in concert and will be heard here several times before she returns to her Utah home.

Regarding the appearance of Miss Judith Anderson of Salt Lake City at the big Berlin charity concert mentioned in this department a week ago, the German Times says: "This young American student of Madam Corelli was heard for the first time in this city, and created a fine impression among the listeners.' . . .

look here. The letter has been referred to Prof. Stephens for reply. The inquiry suggests the fact that Utah's fame as a music center has spread afar.

The Christensen string quartet, as-sisted by Mrs. A. D. Melvin and F. H. Ford (clarinet) will give a concert next Friday evening in the First Presbyterian church. This is the first quar-tet concert given by a local organization. . . .

It is encouraging to note that the Utah State band proposes to continue, notwithstanding the small audic that attended its recent concerts, and feels confident that future perform-ances will so establish the organization with the public that a guarantee of generous support hereafter will be ob-tained. The band appears on the eve-ning of May 15 at the new Utahna Gar-dens, when the following program will

March, "Soldiers and Sweethearts"

.Hall Overture, "Oberon,"......Weber "The Bell Gavotte"Watson "Pizzleato Polka" "Albion" Fantasia Strauss.

The pupils of Mrs. A. D. Melvin and George E. Skelton will give a song play at the same place on the evening

A Musical Student Who is About to Leave Salt Lake for the East,

Mr. Clarke, who came here from Newcastle, Pa., for his health, is the posessor of a fine baritone voice, which he has been cultivating under the tuition of Prof. Kent, who thinks his future as a singer is a promising one. He will leave Salt Lake to locate in Akron, O., where he will enter business.

and violin recital next Tuesday evening, | of May 22, after which it will fill the First Congregational church, summer's engagement at Calder's park, when the following will take part; song, Miss Jeanette Luman, Miss Flos-de Holmes, Miss Isabelle Johnson, Miss Lucy Lewis, Miss Kathryn Riddel, Miss At tomorrow evening's band concert to be given in the Grand theater by Held, Prof. Schettler's mandolin quin-Lucy Lewis, Miss Kathryn Riddel, Miss Linnie Rutt, Miss Edyth Ellerbeck; violin, Miss Lena Broaddus, Miss Janet Wittick, Miss Helen Hartley, Clarence M. Burton, Edward Fitzpatrick, Miss Marjorie Brooks, Miss Romania Hyde, The "Lost Chord" will be sung by Mrs. Melvin, Mrs. Andrews, Mrs. Kelsey and Mrs. Cook, with Prof. Radcliff at the organ. The accompaniats of the even-ing, will be Mrs. L. G. Burton and Miss Hattle Wishard. tet will appear. This club has been heard before, in the Congregational church where it made a great hit, and its reappearance will prove a matter of marked musical interest. The general program will be as follows: program will be as follows: Grand selection, "The Chaperones" "Sleigh Bell Serenade".....Brooks "The Consiler" (by request.) Ladies' String Quintet-"Prince of the Antilles" Reiter Hattie Wishard. Prof. Schettler says that Berlin is not the place to study voice culture that Paris and Milan are. There is March from "Carmen"......Bizet Misses Mulvey, Florence Symons, Evan Symons, Maud Sy-mons, Prof. Schettler, conductor, Grand selection from "Dolly Var-den"Julian Edward Duet for saxaphone and flute, total Prussian vocal instructor in Ber-lin; all the teachers are of other na-tionalities—Dutch, Scandinavians, Aus-trians, French, Italians, Bavarians, etc. But they all seem to think that in order to make a success, they must teach in Berlin. Prof. Schettler says that but for the superior opportunities to hear fine concert music cheaply, it would not pay American students to tudy in Barlis II. Serenade Titil. Messrs, Mackay and Bendixen. Tenor solo--"A Whispered vow"Jov "There's Nobody Just Like You" study in Berlin. He thinks a students to study in Berlin. He thinks a student can do just as well in this country, at the great eastern centers, as the cause of music is so well established and de-veloped there. Many American students "Andalusia" Molin "Concert Waltz" Siegel Miss Mulvey and Prof. Schettler. Grand overture, "Seige of Rochella" at Berlin are deliberately robbed by their teachers in not giving the instruc-tion supposed to be covered by the fees.

year

consider your husband a genlus." The composer's wife smiled deprecatingly. "Oh, no, Richard is not a genius. He is bigger than the rest of the men who writing music, but he isn't a genius.

The labors of Theodore Thomas for the cause of music in the United States during the last half century will soon be published in an elaborate work. It will be both become biographic to the state of th be published in an elaborate work. It will be both biographical and historical in character and the product of George P. Upton, whose writings on musical subjects are widely known. The work will probably be issued in two volumes, one dealing with the events of Mr, Thomas' career as a musician and con-ductor, the other containing the pro-grams from 1855 to the present time under his direction, showing the re-markable growth of popular musical education in this county. education in this country.

In the death of Antonin Dvorak the In the death of Antonin Dyorak the musical world lost one of its greatest composers. From 1852 to 1895 he was at the head of the National Conservatory of Music in New York, and the work which he accomplished there was more than of a transient character. Many gifted young American composers had the neitleze of studying counterproint the privilege of studying counterpoint Lak and composition with him and fielshing some of their studies under his very ere, and with the aid of his willing and kindly counsel. Dvorak's interest in they anunnun munnunnun munnun munnun munnun m

Controversy Over the Gregorian Chant

failure, declare that unless the custo mary church music (reformed, if necesthe sounds of the Gregorian Chant." The strangest thing in the present situation is that the pope's chief adviser and portege is Perosi, who writes

so many women are obliged to earn their own living and help support their families. Perhaps, too, there never was CALT LAKE Catholic and Protestant | man newspapers, commenting on this musicians alike-in fact musiciana and singers of every crede, and no creed at all, continue to be interested in stored, the churches will become the reand discuss the late papat decree with sorts of old maids who will slumber to reference to women vocalists in the churches. Apropos of the controversy the correspondent of the Berlin Tagethe correspondent of the facth Tago-blatt at Rome comments on the ill fa-vor with which the new pope's order regarding the revival of the Gregorian chant in churches has been received there. Few seemed willing to give up the operatic and other socular tunes that have hitherto delighted them in the churches. "The town musicians, loath to see their scant income still furloach to see their scant income still fur-ther diminished, the countless music-lovers who went to the churches to hear bright music gratis, the priests, the congregations—in short, everybody protested. And it actually happened that not a few bishops, in view of the threatening attitude of the public, begged permission of the vatican to nostaone the change. Not so in Rome. postpone the change. Not so in Rome, where on the day of the St. Gregory jubilee the Gregorian Chant was first introduced with a choir including 1,200 to 1,500 boys. The results unfortunately, did not meet expectations. On the contrary, notwithstanding the excellent training of the singers, the Roman pub-lic found the performance of the Missa lic found the performance of the Missa degli Angeli so monotonous and primi-tive that thousands left the church or the music of Liszt? He is the Palestrina St. Peter's before it was over. The Ro. the present situation seems to call for negro and Indian melodles will be renembered, and also the historical con-roversy that was stirred up when he corporated some "American" melo-s of his own into the "New World" symphony which received its premiers by the New York Philharmonie society under Anton Seidl on Dec. 16, 1903 Alice Nielsen has made good her ambilion to sing in grand opera, for she was one of the stars at Covent Garden last week, and her name has been spoken prominently in London ever since. A peculiar thing is that this triumph should come to Miss Nielsen in ame upon the stage and bowed with Elizabethan grace. The audiences at Yiddish theaters are the very city that refused to see her at all in comic opera, and practically caused her retirement from that field. Several seasons ago Miss Nielsen, in the height of her success with "The "tune "Peller." took her cot ) London and played at the Shaftsbury theater. It was a losing venture, and, plaued by this failure, Miss Nielsen sickened of comic opera and went to Italy, where she took up her advanced Italy, where she took up her advanced vocal studies. After hard preparatory work there she has returned to London, and in "Don Glovand" last week was warmly welcomed to the ranks of grand opera. A few years ago Miss Nielsen was an unknown chorus singer in Salt Lake City. She joined the Bostonians, and from that organizatiin was elevated to the position of a star in comic opera under the management of Frank Per-

JULIA MARLOW IN "WHEN KNIGHTHOOD WAS IN FLOWER."

The audiences at Yildlish theaters are niways partial to the writer of the play that makes a hit. Especially is this true of the "patriots." those stage mad young men who form themselves into-bands of chacquers in the walce of stars and playwrights. They will thunder for their belowed actors during the presentation of the play, but at the end there will arise united clamor for the playwright. "Hambel" was produced at the Thalia. "Hamlet" was produced at the Thalia in the season of 1895. Sophie Karp was the Ophelia, Boris Tomevsheysky was the Hamlet, Sigmund and Dinah Kats-finah, respectively, king and queen. The play met with fair success, and in the closing scene the enthusiasm rose to a great pitch. The general slaughter, to a great pitch. The general shaughter, the lively dueling the flashing of swords and the sobbing of death cries simply set the patriots crazy. Here was a roughhouse just to their faste. After baving left the burden of applause du-ing the subtler parts of the play to others, they now kook charge of the oc-caston.

time some chronicler may write them up and produce a work that will throw light into that strange little world, the Yiddish stage. And one of the most light into that strange little world, the Yildish stage. And one of the most interesting of the tales told may be re-peated here—the tale of Shophie Karp's appearance in a memorable production of "Hamlet" at the Thalia theater, when the audience arose in its enthusiasm at the end of the performance and howled "Author! Author!" and would not be appeared until William Shakespeare

They thied to get a speech out of him-but he declined that honor, and afte-exhausting their enthusing, and en-joying their triumph over the managers the audience dispersed. No doubt they had though! the man-agers would not produce the author be-cause of some quarrel, or because they did not want to flatter his vanity. A flattered playwright's price goes up of the Bowery as well as on Broadway. The determination of the patriots to see the author of a play that please them has aften resulted strangely, and brought about queer causatrophes. Ja-cob Clordin was far a long time at out with a manager of a theater who had a play of his. The play was put on. The audience hewled for Gordin, and worked themselves into a fury when he was not produced. Mr. Gordin was then in a cafe on, Grand stracet wild friends. A messenger dispatched in hot haste from the theater to fetch him came running in breathessity and im-plered him to come and show himseli-to the audience.

the audience. Gordin refused point-blank, The

Finally, the star came imploring the dramatic to save them all. Gordin will shook his head. And at tast the haughty munager arrived and hum-bled himself before the writer, and Gordin went und showed himself and sent the patriots away happy from the thater they had seemed bent on wreck. ing a few minutes before.

Their clashing of palms made the Their classing of paims made the air rock. Sophie Karp, Tomevshevsky and the rest were brought out time and again. The manager, stars and the players down to the substitute Gbost were happy and beaming with delight, but beginning to be a little tired of walking upon the stage to bow, when suddenly they were dismayed by a strange cry should aeross the din of the house:

Shakespeare! Shakespeare! "Shakespeare! Shakespeare!" The cry was at once taken up by most of the house. The knowing ones laughed, but the majority of the play-geers, understanding that the writer of the play which had so pleased them was called to take his meed of applause, joined with right good will in the cries of "Author! Author! Shakespeare!" Shakespeare!"

church compositions (oratorios) which are as operatic as they could possibly be. Signor Peresi ought to know that music is a progressive art, and that it is as useless to try to make modern congregations go back to the old-style Confusion reigned behind the scenes.

church music as it would be to force the old Italian operas of the seven-teenth century Monteverdi on audiences Well, the managers and the actors knew that when an East Side audience demands to see an author, the author nust be produced. accustomed to the nineteenth century Verdi. The expulsion of women from church choirs is, moreover, a measure greatly to be deplored at a time when

Still, here was a case when com-pliance was out of the question. The manager sent out Sophie Karp once more. The audience gave a round of applause. Then they nowled for Shake-applause, Then they howled for Shake-speare again. The manager sent out Boris Tomey-shevsky. Hamlet was applauded until the big chandelier shook, but the dodge of trying to draw off the attention of the patriots didn't work. They wanted Shakespeare. They would have nebedy due. The king and a time when the church stood more m need of the aid which the divine an has always rendered to religion. If the Gregorian Chant failed to stir the Romans, under the most favorable con-ditions, what can be expected of it else-where? If operatic music is to be ban, ished from the churches, why not sub-stitute something equally reverent, but they would have nobody else. The king and the queen and Laertes and the Ghost -who made another hit-the Gravedig-ger and all the rest of the cast were

beet

17

It is not generally known, but it is nevertheless a fact, that one of the most renowned organists of England, the regular organist of one of the great est cathedrals of the British empire, I a member of the "Mormon" faith. Prof. Stephens, who frequently writes to and gets letters from him, declares that he is also a composer of marked ability and that his compositions are real mulcal comp real musical gems.

above glven,

There arived in Salt Lake ysterday an English singer and teacher of note an English singer and teacher of note who has come to cast his lot with the musiclans of this city. He is Mr. Moly-neux Worthington of London. He reached New York on Monday and came direct to this city and is located temporarily at the White House, being a particular friend of Proprietor Mul-ford. Mr. Worthington is a baritone, and his literature sets forth that he was a former pupil of Mr. Charles Santley, England's greatest baritone, William Shakespeare, the well known voice builder, and Signor Romili of Italy. He builder, and Signer Romili of Italy. He names as patrons and patronesses names as cores of the real aristocracy of Eng.

. . . . Prof. C. D. Scheitler Is giving In-struction at the Sisters' academy, where he has many pupils. His brother Herman, who has been studying the violin for some the Herman, who has been studying the violin for some three years in the Ger-man capital under Hollaender and Bar-mas, will be home next month. He has made good progress and will be lis-tened to on his return by many friends with interest. Mrs. C. D. Schettler and children will accompany him back. On his return a trio will be organized, with him as violinist, his brother as celloist and C. F. Stayner as planist. and C. F. Stayner as planist, oncerning Miss Emma Ramsey, who Concerning Miss Emma Ramsey, who has been in Los Angeles for the past few weeks, the Times has this to say in an account of the conference of the "Mormon" Church, just held at that place: An interesting and pleasing fea-ture of anthe session was the simula of sormon" Church, just held at that place: An interesting and pleasing fea-ture of each session was the singular of Miss Emma Ramsey, the "Mormon" isongbird, who has entertained music of the world. Miss Ramsey has a volu-tive, rich and full in the lower regis-ter, even, and pure in the higher. She phrases with intelligence and taste, and mood of her songs. She sings the songs of zion with a fervor that prompts de-to the first Presidency, asking many ful spirit and unction that thrills. It was by chance that Miss Ramsey was in the city at this conference season, it mot being a part of her mission to evan. selize, but wherever and whenever her Church calls there and then are her

A piano recital will be given in the A plano recital will be given in the First Congregational church next Thursday evening, by Miss Gratia Flanders with her advanced pupils, as-sisted by Miss Agatha Berkhoel. Other participants in the program will be Miss Geneva Ellerbeck, Miss Stella Cohn, Miss Miriam Brooks, Miss Elsie Cohn, Mrs. Harry Ganz, Miss Edna Coates, Miss Watson, Miss Pearl Roths-child. child. . . .

Miss Mary Olive Gray leaves in June for Berlin to study the piano under not-ed instructors for one year. She will give a farewell recital later in this month. Her pupils' recital of last Tues-day evening, was well attended and en-tanced joyed.

. . . Local admirers of the Wagnerian music drama will be pleased to know that Prof. Goldmark was so gratified with Froi, Goldmark was so gratified with his reception in this city, that he pro-poses to visit Salt Lake next year to lecture again. He told a friend here that he did not like to lecture on "Tannhauser," because the music spoke so clearly for itself, that lecturing on it was superfluous. It is safe to say, how-ever that the professor need not let ever, that the professor need not let any such sentiment as that deter him from lecturing on "Tannhauser" when he comes this way again.

The Tabernacle organ recitals will be resumed next Tuesday afternoon, at :20 o'clock, . . .

Held's band will begin its summer work at Liberty park in the afternoon, and at the Salt Palace in the evening, beginning on the 22nd inst.

There was a well attended musicale last evening in the hall of the Royal Arcanum, under the auspices of the order, and Miss Agatha Berkhoel, Willard Welhe, the Imperial Men's quar-tet and other talent participated. The evening was much enjoyed.

SHARPS AND FLATS. Melba and Nordica have both been signed by Manager Conried for the Metropolitan Opera house season next After the death of Dvorak there are still five great composers in the land of the living: Saint Saens, Grieg, Bruch, Guldmark and Richard Strauss, The long run of "A Chinese Honeymoon" in London has been brought to an end. The continuous run of the piece is said to have yielded a clear profit of $300,000.

A sum of £2,000 has been bequeathed to the Royal Academy of Music by Miss Maria Seguin, a niece of Madame Pare-pa-Rosa, for a vocal scholarship for singers born in Great Britain or the United States United States, structure tractionstations. Supp

"Masters in Music" devotes this "Masters in Music" devotes this month's space to consideration of Jo-hann Strauss, the walts king. There are many interesting articles in the connection and the musical illustra-tions include some four of the compos. er's most popular waltzes.

The opera senson in London opened on Monduy, May 2. While the absence of the king and queen in Ireland de-tracted somewhat from the brilliancy of the event, the opening was record-ed as a great success. The feature of the night was Alice Nielsen who ap-peared as Zerlina in "Don Giovanni."

Two famous old Scotch harps were recently sold at auction in Edinburg. One of these is the celebrated "Annie Marie" harp that belonged to Mary Mary harp that belonged to Mary Stuart. It was bought by the Edinburgh Museum of Antiquities for nearly $4,000. The other, the so-called "La-mont" harp, was purchased by a dealer in antiquities at Edinburgh for a little Miss Julia Marlow, now applicing at the Empire theater in "When Knighthood was in Flower" is scoring an unqualified hit. She is supported by some of the best of the Charles Frohman forces.

FAMOUS FAMILIES OF AMERICAN PLAYERS

annow www.www.www.www.www.www.www.www.

THE Theater Magazine for May , another contribution describes the per contains the first of a series of articles to be devoted to "Famous Families of American Players." The opening paper is taken up with the Booths, giving the history of this celebrated theatrical family, from the time. of Junius Brutus Booth's historic quarrel with Edmund Kean down to the death of his illustrious son, Edwin, in New York in 1893. The article is pro-fusely illustrated with rare photo-graphs and engravings borrowed from important collections, and they include a very scarce autograph of John Wilkes a very scarce altograph of John Wilkes Booth, who killed President Lincoln. Other articles in the series will be de-voted to the Jeffersons, the Drews, the Hacketts, the Bouclcaults, etc. In the same issue of the magazine there is fin Interesting Interview with Wilton Lackaye, in which that artistic player-explains the metchology of acting and sonalities of the three funniest women now on the stage. Millicent Moone con-tinues her amusing letters to actors she has never seen, and there is an account with pictures of the Greek play acted by Greeks in New York recently. The article descriptive of "How Theaters Are Managed" is continued, the second installment dealing with the man who guards the stage door. There is also the second chapter of the "Confessions of a Stage Struck Girl," interesting and amusing pen pictures of the rea theatrical life.

The plctures include a full-page plate of Clara Morris in "The Two Orphans," in addition to two other pages showing scenes from the famous melodram There are also scenes from Willie Collier's new farce "The Dicta "Saucy Sally," Margaret Anglin in "The Dictator mille," the "Shepherd King," "Piff, Paff, Pouf," and the "Superstition of Sue," The colored cover shows Miss explains the psychology of acting, and | Eleanor Robson in "Merely Mary Ann."

The Great Shakespeare's Last Appearance on Any Stage.

VER on the cast side, in the jout the reserves of several police sta-Grand street Rialto, in the ca- tions, because Jacob Adler feared that fes and other resorts of the Yid- there might be a repetition of the Rabdish actor folk, they are telling bi Joseph riots, says the New York many stories about the late Sophie Sun.

Karp, the actress whose funeral a little | Sophie Karp's life and adventures are Karp, the actress whose funeral a little Sophie Karp's life and adventures are (Late of New Zealand and England.) while ago was the occasion for calling of great interest, and in the fullness of 642 East Second South.

gกกณณบบนากบนนากกลากกณ์บนนากกลากบนกลากบน หากกณบบนนากกลาก