G. Craig & Co., controlled the output of seven independent mills. STRANGE POISONING CASE.

Two Women on the Company Questioned as to a Death in Ireland.

New York, April 29.—The steamer Campania from Queenstown, was delayed at quarantine today until detectives from this city, at the cabined request of the Royal Irish constabulary had found and questioned Mrs. Margaret Clark and Mrs. Catherine Bowen of Claremorris, County Mayo, Ireland.

The two women were registered on the steamer's passenger list as Margaret and Catherine McCormick, but the detectives identified them by the cabined descriptions.

SUICIDE FOLLOWED BY SUSPENSION OF BUSINESS

New York, April 29.—Following the suicide last night of Charles Coster, a prominent broker and society man, the stock exchange firm of Coster, Knapp & Co., of which Mr. Coster was a member, announced its suspension today on the floor of the New York stock exchange.

A formal statement issued by a member of the firm says: "Owing to the death of Mr. Coster and the consequent conditions of the firm's affairs it has been deemed advisable to make a general assignment for the benefit of all creditors."

The relatives of Coster last night were at a loss to account for his act. Today, however, J. M. K. app. of the failed firm, issued a formal statement in which he declared that Mr. Coster had been speculating heavily, and that this speculation brought about the suspension of the firm.

NEW EMERGENCY CURRENCY BILL

Drawn by Rep. Vreeland Will Have Support of Republican Members of the House.

IT DOES NOT MENTION BONDS

In a Way Authorizes Asset Money—Circulation Allowed is $750,000,000, Progressively Taxed.

Washington, April 29.—Another emergency currency measure, which will have the support of the Republican membership in the house, has been drafted after a conference of house leaders and may be introduced today.

The bill eliminates practically the new secured circulation authorized in the Aldrich bill and in Mr. Vreeland's first bill. It does not mention bonds, government, state, municipal or county in express terms.

In a way it authorizes an asset emergency currency. It provides for the formation of clearing house associations, with capitalizations of $50,000,000 each, as originally proposed. It fixes the amount of emergency circulation to be issued at $750,000,000 to be taxed at the rate of 1 per cent the first month of circulation, increasing to 2 per cent the second month, and upward until the tax shall be at the rate of 10 per cent.

The bill provides that this emergency currency shall be based upon securities held by the banks, commercial paper, bonds, etc. A commission to devise a permanent plan of banking and currency is one of the features of the measure.

KNOX FOR PRESIDENT

Pennsylvania Republican State Convention Endorses Him—Platform Favors Elastic Currency.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 29.—The Republican state convention met here today to name one candidate for judge of the superior court, four delegates at large and four alternates to the national convention at Chicago and 24 presidential electors. Not in years has there been such a quiet state political gathering.

Before the convention there was a parade of Knox men which attracted a great crowd. Pennsylvania Senator Joseph A. Langfitt of Pittsburgh was chosen temporary chairman. The convention burst into cheers when he, in a brief speech, mentioned the name of William McKean, the favorite son of Pennsylvania in the presidential race.

"Knox," having not only given birth to the republic and the Republican party, but having continually and consistently contributed to the growth and growth of both, he is pre-eminently qualified by tradition and purpose to name the next president of the United States. And in view of the proved ability of her candidate to meet the greatest problems of government that have arisen in the past and are most certain to arise in future years, we believe that Pennsylvania should at this opportunity demand her rights in the national convention and assume her part among the states' selection of the nation's chief executive."

"We believe it to be her right and her duty to demand from the party the same treatment in the nomination as the party demands of her selection of her presidential candidate."

"If for no other reason, Pennsylvania has been sufficiently loyal in principle, sufficiently potent in performance to provide the balance of power necessary to elect almost every Republican president since Lincoln, surely she is worthy of recognition by her sister states when she doubly fortifies her claims by presenting the most available presidential candidate suggested by existing national necessity."

"When Theodore Roosevelt declared that 'in the solution of the many difficult problems we face, we need the common sense, common honesty and resolute courage which Mr. Knox has shown, the character that will refuse to be hurried into any unwisdom or precipitate movement, whether by either historical or demagogic and on the other hand the character that will refuse to be frightened out of a movement by any pressure, still less by any threat exposed or implied,' he asserted only that which the great Pennsylvanians achievements and attainments in the fullest measure justified."

"To the end therefore that the nation shall have a great president, that Pennsylvania shall receive fair treatment at the hands of the Republican party and that the whole laboring body the richest fruits to the party in the cabinet, the court and senate shall be given just recognition at their hands, we hereby instruct the delegates here selected to work for Philander Chase Knox as long as he shall consent to stand for the cause of Pennsylvania and until he becomes the chosen candidate of the national convention, for president of the United States."

The platform favors an elastic currency that will at all times be worth its full face value, advocates the improvement of water-ways and harbors, recommends that the next legislature elect United States Senator Penrose, approves the course of Pennsylvania's state administration and favors increased appropriations for good roads.

GOLD FOR EUROPE.

New York, April 29.—Further engagements of gold for export were announced today. The export took $1,000,000, the National City bank $1,000,000 and the National Bank of Commerce $500,000. This makes the total engagements to date in the present movement $14,000,000.

SAILORS WRECK A RESTAURANT

Outrageous and Robber Prices Charged at Santa Barbara Engender Bad Feelings.

WERE CHARGED $3 FOR MEAL

Men From Battleships Have Been Much Dissatisfied With Their Entertainment.

Believed That Shore Patrol Will be Able to Preserve Order Among The Men Tonight.

Santa Barbara, Cal., April 29.—The last day of the fleet's stay at Santa Barbara was marked by only one event of any importance as far as the official program was concerned. This was a field day of sailors from the fleet, held at Athletic park, under the auspices of the civic league. There were scores of events on the program. Lieut. Weaver, athletic officer of the fleet, had charge of the contests among the blue jackets. There were many entries for each event and the competition was keen.

An outbreak occurred on the street late last night in which several hundred sailors threw stones and clubs and partially wrecked a small restaurant at 121 State street, owned by John Senich. It was a culmination of numerous small difficulties which have occurred during the week the fleet has been here between sailors and local tradesmen. The bad feeling has been due principally to a system of overcharge in prices of meat and other purchases with which the sailors have been confronted.

Last night Senich attempted to charge two of the men $3 for a meal, a price which they deemed exorbitant. They demanded to the payment but the shore patrol compelled a settlement of the bill, because the men had not inquired the price before ordering it. Later they repeated the news of the incident to the liberty parties and finally a large crowd congregated in front of the place and commenced to throw stones and other missiles. Windows and glass fixtures were smashed, while the proprietress and the employees fled from the place. The shore patrol rushed to the scene and soon dispersed the crowd. The sailors have been disgraced by the attack on the place, and returned to their ships. Alleged over-charges of various kinds have been numerous and considerable ill-feeling has been engendered.

The front of the restaurant had been well covered with bunting and flags. Some of the sailors called attention to the national colors before they began the attack on the place, and the decorations. When the flags and bunting had been stowed away the rock-throwing began. No arrests were made by the shore patrol. This was due to the fact that in the large crowd which had congregated it was impossible to ascertain the real offenders. Senich, the owner of the restaurant, is a Russian. He is also the proprietor of another small eating house here and the sailors have been heard to make threats against this place. It is expected that the shore patrol will be unable to preserve order tonight which is the last night for the men ashore in Santa Barbara.

USING POLICE FORCE IN POLITICS

Indictment is Under Old Conspiracy Law Under Which Many Convictions Have Been Secured.

Chicago, April 29.—The trial of John M. Collins, former chief of police, and Frank D. Comerford, former police attorney, during the administration of Mayor Dunne, on the charge of using the police force in politics, commenced today in the criminal court before Judge Chetlain.

The specific charge in the indictment is that the defendants conspired to defraud the city of the services of its employees, by causing policemen to engage in political work against Busse and in favor of Dunne. Comerford announced his intention of acting as his own attorney.

The indictment is under the old conspiracy law, under which many convictions have been secured. The defendants are charged with conspiring to defraud the city of the services of its employees, by causing policemen to engage in political work against Busse and in favor of Dunne. Comerford announced his intention of acting as his own attorney.

Two French and some Algerian officers accompany Gen. Bardani.

NAT. G. GOODWIN FORBIDS THE BANNS

Bolts for Europe to Persuade Leading Lady Not to Marry.

MANAGERS ARE MYSTIFIED.

Another Story is That He is Seeking to Interest English Capitalists in Rawhide Properties.

(Special to the "News.")

New York, April 29.—Many telegrams are being received in New York making inquiry regarding the whereabouts of Nat. G. Goodwin, whom western managers claim as a nearby attraction, but whom they are unable to locate.

Mr. Goodwin sailed yesterday for Europe and did not register in his own name. His friends here give two reasons for his sudden departure, one is a desire to induce Edna Goodrich, his leading lady, to postpone her marriage to J. H. MacMillan, the former Salt Lake newspaper man and now a Nevada millionaire. This event is anticipated for June 10 in Oakland, Cal.

Another reason given for his departure is his desire to interest English capital in his mining properties at Nevada. Western managers can find no one who knows anything authoritative of Nat. G. Goodwin's future theatrical plans. Max Elliott, formerly Mrs. Goodwin's manager, will build a theater this year on Thirty-ninth street and Sixth avenue, and will remain devoted to her profession.

VISIT OF JAPANESE FLEET INOPPORTUNE

Hongkong, April 29.—The vicerey of Canton, fearing local disturbances, should the Japanese fleet visit the city, has advised the Japanese consul that he thinks the coming of the warships would be inexpedient. In reply, the consul explained that this was merely a routine movement—that it had been arranged for the larger vessels to remain at Hong Kong while the smaller ships came up the river to Canton. A few Japanese marines will land at Canton in the day time and will be given an escort of Chinese troops.

New York, April 29.—Hudson Maxim and Alexander Graham Bell were among the speakers at the Aldine club meeting last night. Both reported on the aeroplanes in which they are deeply interested. The Aldine club is composed of magazine editors, publishers and literary men.

Mr. Maxim made a forecast of the parts of the aeroplane and lighter-than-air-machine would probably play in the work and play of the near future. Mr. Bell devoted a large part of his speech to uncovering the ancient history of aeroplanes.

GOING TO WASHINGTON.

Governor Cutler and Party Leave for Capitol Next Week.

Governor Cutler has appointed the persons who will compose the governor's party which will visit Washington, D. C., at the invitation of President Roosevelt on May 13. At that time the governors and representative men from all the states in the union will gather at the nation's capital at the best of the chief executive of the country, to discuss the needs of the nation, and ways and means for the improvement of conditions requiring attention and for the furtherance of the welfare of the country in general.

Besides Governor Cutler himself, the party will consist of W. S. McCord, W. W. Ritter and J. H. Mays, of this city. The party will probably leave Salt Lake about the 7th of May, as it is the desire of the governor to attend the meeting of the National League congress to be held at Washington, May 12, and a reception to the governors, given by President Roosevelt at the White House on the evening of May 12.

SCARLET FEVER SPREADS.

Two additional cases of scarlet fever were reported to the health department yesterday, and placed under quarantine. The first was that of Hazel B. Jones, 10 years of age, residing at 447 Hazel avenue, which was reported by Dr. Lombard and placed under quarantine by Health Inspector Pettibone.

The second case was that of Erick Anderson, age six years, residing at 352 East Eighth, South street. Dr. Vio reported this case, and Inspector Evans visited the place and raised the quarantine flag over the house. No new cases of smallpox have been reported to the department, but only one case of measles in the last 30 days.

FRUITS DAMAGED BY LIGHT FROST

Utah County Orchardists Fear Loss Will Reach 85 Per Cent.

COLD WAVE IS NOW PASSING

Fair and Warmer Weather Is Predicted and General Conditions Are Filled With Promise.

Good news is contained in today's weather prediction for the next 24 hours. The forecast reads: "Tonight fair and warmer; Thursday, partly cloudy and warmer." What is music to the farmers and fruit growers of the state is the announcement that the cold wave has come to an end, at least it is thought no more frosty nights are ahead.

From Pleasant Grove and other fruit and farming districts comes the report that frost last night and during the past few nights, has nipped vegetation and foliage. Down in Pleasant Grove some of the heaviest raisers fear they have lost 85 per cent of a promised crop, but others believe the loss will be nowhere near this high figure. Fruit growers are now out in their orchards and farms checking up and by this evening some definite idea of the real loss will have been obtained.

Fruit growers in and around Provo were fortunate last year in having their crops saved by a breeze from the canyon but this year they are in the ranks of mourners. Some loss will be suffered in the Provo territory this season.

ICE APPEARS.

It was cold last night in various sections of the state, a thin ice being found on pools of water near this city early this morning. At bedtime last night the world outside had a frosty appearance and all residents desirous of saving tender vegetables and flowers took the news warning and covered their gardens. Had not this prediction been taken delicate sprouts would have been nipped, though the frost was hardly heavy enough to injure the hardier plants.

Accompanying the welcome news of warmer weather's return is the weather bureau's description of weather conditions generally. This follows: "The cold barometric pressure area from the Pacific has moved eastward to the plateau and Rocky mountain slope, causing frost and freezing temperatures over most of the country west of the Mississippi valley. Over the south Pacific and west Gulf states and lake region the barometric pressure is low. Light precipitation is reported over portions of Colorado, Wyoming, South Dakota, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Mississippi and Ohio valleys and lake region."

Fair and warmer weather tonight and partly cloudy and warmer Tuesday is indicated for this locality.

THE WEEK'S RECORD.

Another pamphlet from the weather bureau's printing establishment in this city is the general summary of the past week's weather throughout the state. This covers the aerology up to day before yesterday and reads as follows: "The week opened with clear weather, and temperatures much above the normal over all portions of the state. As the week advanced, however, temperatures prevailed, and the closing days were abnormally cold, and light to heavy frosts occurred over the northern half of the state, and the lowest districts of the southern half, but little or no damage resulted. The highest temperature reported was 88 degrees at St. George, Washington county, on the 12th, and the lowest 22 degrees, at Parowan, Iron county, on the 24th."

The precipitation averaged nearly normal for the state as a whole, and was very well distributed, being deficient over comparatively small areas in the central and eastern portions. Showers were quite general from the 21st to the 24th, and were accompanied by thunderstorms in some localities.

High winds prevailed over nearly all districts, and some damage to fruit trees in bloom was reported. Owing to the partly cloudy weather of the middle and latter portions of the week, the amount of sunshine was somewhat deficient over the northern districts, but was abundant in the southern districts where the showers and accompanying cloudy conditions were of shorter duration.

POLICE HELP ALSO.

Organizations of people today began to feel a responsibility to see that the plans do not fail. Policemen on the force, who walk the streets for a salary, are to have their share of the bounty, each thrown in their quarters and half dollars, until at noon the cadet committee was notified that $26 had been raised.

The alumni, declaring that their loyalty to their school is not less than that of the youngsters, still in the class rooms, today voted to give every cent in their treasury. This amounts to $65, and President H. J. Pitts immediately issued a call to all alumni to meet him in his office at room 1 Hooper-Edwards block, each bringing a contribution as large as he can spare. The total may be turned in to the general fund. President Pitts thinks $200 can be raised among the alumni.

TICKETS SELLING.

Clerks in the Oregon Short Line railroad office, having responsibility in the road's affair, but having a keen interest as Salt Lake men, in the city's boys, each began to feel for their spare change, and soon had $400 invested in tickets for Friday night's concert.

This concert is counted on to bring in enough of the 24,000 still needed to make it possible to bring the rest by concert measures at the eleventh hour. A small sale of concert tickets means more certainly than any one act, the final failure of the plan to send the cadets.

A program which includes musical features of the highest order has been prepared, and it will close with a rendering of "The Star Spangled Banner" by the band which will play the same tune aboard Admiral Evans' flagship a week after it is rendered in the tableaux. This fact will probably make the appearance of the cadet band the occasion of a general overflow of patriotic spirit and will result in a tremendous ovation as the city's farewell to her boys.

WORKING HARD.

The finance committee is working hard in the barroom, and its members declare that they will be the last of the city's citizens to say quit, and that if the boys stay home when Saturday morning comes it is because public support is insufficient to bring the total funds high enough to permit the boys to go.

WILL DANCE TONIGHT.

Tonight's ball at the Odeon dancing hall by the U. C. of Utah, has been turned into a general reception for contributions for the cadets. Wives of the cadets, and other friends, are being invited to make every arrangement to insure a great success. Tickets have been placed on sale at the Knutsford, Kenyon, Wilson and Cudahy hotels, and it is expected that 500 couples will be on the floor.

GENERAL FUNSTON INVITES CADETS

Wires Young Soldiers to Occupy Camp at His Private Fort Mason Headquarters.

TO GO OR NOT, IS THE QUERY

Unless Funds Come in With Rush Before Tomorrow Night Issue in Doubt.

Youngsters, Police and All Classes Helping Out So as to Assure the Boys Much-Advertised Outing.

BULLETIN—This afternoon General Manager Joseph S. Wells of the Utah Light and Railway company announced that his company would subscribe $500 towards the High School cadet excursion fund. The Alta club management also agreed to raise $1,000.

This morning it looked as if the splendid purpose of sending the High school cadets to San Francisco would be halted because the final $4,000 of the total amount needed could not be raised.

The finance committee of the cadet trip were gloomy because they had seen the High school boys dig into their pockets and into the pockets of their families, and bring in $4,500 for the trip, and had seen the merchants of Salt Lake respond handsomely with $5,000, and had seen the movement begin to halt with $4,000 still to raise.

The word of the city had been pledged by those who banked on what any good city would normally do with an opportunity such as that presented by the cadets, and the invitation extended to them from Utah's naval admiral. Today the city's faith was further pledged by the receipts of a telegram from Gen. Funston, commanding the land force of San Francisco, inviting the Salt Lake cadets to occupy a camp within his own private headquarters. These are at Fort Mason, overlooking the bay of San Francisco, at a most advantageous point. From this point Gen. Funston directed the operations of the federal troops during the critical weeks of San Francisco's recovery from the earthquake. It is beautifully parked, and will command an unexcelled view of the 40 great battleships and cruisers when they steam through the Golden Gate.

BOYS' FUNDS VOTED.

Today the rally towards the cadets has been swift and certain. No more beautiful gift was ever recorded than that of the widow who gave a mite when she was the extent that her heart broke to show by the size of her purse. Such a spirit as hers was shown today in the Salt Lake High school, where the entire junior class voted the entire contents of their class treasury to the cadet fund. This money has been accumulated to do honors to the senior class in a graduating banquet, and the school board of a decade will be broken, a school custom abandoned that those who would normally participate in it, might help a cause into which they have thrown their hearts. Hardly less of a sacrifice was that made by the Dramatic club, when it voted the $100 in its treasury to the cadets, and thus gave up a fund gathered
