

SLASHES GIRL'S THROAT AT DEPOT

Vicious Attempt at Murder Followed by Deliberate Suicide at Helper.

BY INSANELY JEALOUS LOVER.

Passengers Arriving from East Tell of Tragedy at Lunch Counter on Rio Grande Main Line.

Passengers arriving from the east over the Denver & Rio Grande railroad this afternoon report a vicious attempt at murder, followed by a deliberate suicide, at Helper. The crime is alleged to have occurred last night, when an attractive waitress known as Lena, employed at the Helper depot lunch counter, was assaulted by her jealous lover, James McCleary, who slashed the girl's throat with a razor.

Although badly injured and in a critical condition from the loss of blood, the girl will recover. The remains of McCleary were taken in charge by the authorities, who are investigating the crime.

FARMERS ARE WISE TO IT.
They Appear to Have Heard That Hay Is Scarce.

It is evident the fact that there is a scarcity of hay in Salt Lake has reached the rural districts where festive farmers are scrapping all their loose stuff, good, bad and indifferent, together, expecting to receive $20 to $25 per ton for hay that in times of ordinary plenty would go for $10. Six loads of loose hay were seen on the streets this morning in a two blocks' walk. Much of it was yellow stained stock, not extra good for nourishment, but it was disposed of without trouble. One farmer went into a west First South street commission house, where he demanded $20 per ton for baled hay on the cars. He would guarantee nothing, but he would get $20. The dealer refused with some emphasis, and he said the chances were that two or three tons of the hay would prove worthless, as such a thing has happened before. The farmer affected to scoff at the commission man, and said "We've got you fellows, and you've got to take what we get at our prices." He, however, failed to get any price at all in this case, and went off to find a victim somewhere else. However, in 30 days the first crop of this year's alfalfa will be ready to harvest, and then prices will go down with a dull and sickening thud. The immense amount of construction work now in progress along all lines is keeping every team going at profitable figures and resulting in the consumption of a great amount of hay.

BURGLARS AND DIPS ABROAD.
Two Robberies Reported to Police—Pocket Picked on Street Car.

Two cases of burglary and one of pocket picking are reported to the police today. Howell & Grant, plumbers, report that a quantity of material and tools were stolen from a house in Barclay court, where they were working, during last night. Mrs. Margaret Jorgensen, 223 East South Temple street, reports that her apartment was entered last night and a gold watch, rope chain, a valued ring and several other trinkets were taken. Mrs. Jorgensen suspects a newsboy, S. M. Boyd reported that his pocket had been picked by dips while he was on a depot car bound for the D. & R. G. depot yesterday. The police are said to be in hot pursuit and close to the right trail.

DEATH OF MRS. WOODRUFF.
One of Early Pioneers of Utah Passes Away—Funeral Tomorrow.

The funeral of Sarah Brown Woodruff, who died at Smithfield, Cache county, last Sunday, will be held in the Smithfield tabernacle tomorrow at 2 p. m. It is expected that a number of near relatives will leave the city this evening to be present at the services. The body will be brought to Salt Lake City for burial on Friday, reaching the city on the noon train. A procession will be formed at the depot, and the body will be taken immediately to the city cemetery and interred in the Woodruff lot beside the remains of the late President Woodruff.

Dinwoodey's

the early pioneers of the west. She reached the city about two or three years after the arrival of the pioneers in 1847. Her birthplace was Henderson, Jefferson county, New York, where she was born January 1, 1834. On her arrival in Salt Lake and for some time after her marriage to President Woodruff, March 13, 1853, she turned her ability as a needlewoman to good account. She might be called the pioneer milliner of the new city. Her shop if it might be so called, was at the old Valley house corner, where she was sought by many of the women of those early days for their new bonnets.

She was a pioneer during a great part of her life, having been one of the early settlers in Randolph, Bear Lake, and in Smithfield. She had six children of whom David P. Kimball, the eldest is living in Canada. Newton and Mrs. Belle W. Moses, at whose home she died, live at Smithfield. Mrs. Sylvia Thompson, another daughter, lives at Sunshine, Wyoming. The children who died are Brigham Y. and Mary.

HITCH IN JAIL CONTRACT.
Commissioners, It is Affirmed, Cannot Legally Deliver to Pauly Company.

Because the plans and specifications for the new county jail building calls for the use of the "Pauly interlocking round bar construction of five-ply, tool-proof steel," it is possible that the county commissioners will be unable to deliver the contract to the Pauly Jail Building company under the law. This is declared to be in contravention of the act passed in 1907, which says:

city, town or municipal corporation shall adopt plans and specifications for any public improvement which require the exclusive use of any patented article or process, or any article or process protected by any trade mark, or any article or process wholly controlled by any person, firm or corporation, or combination thereof, until this might have been avoided by adding to the words naming the patented device "or something equally as good."

FORGERIS ARRESTED AFTER BRISK CHASE
F. G. Starr, Former Street Car Conductor, Makes a Good Brief Run Ahead of Detectives.

F. G. Starr, a young man formerly in the employ of the street car company as conductor, was arrested this forenoon by Detectives Golding and Wilson on a charge of forgery.

Starr, who is 30 years of age, is alleged to have forged at least two checks, using the name of The Conger Gold & Copper Mining company of Brigham and victimizing A. J. Bryson, a saloonkeeper at No. 274 South State street, for $27, and the American Lumber company, 36 East First South street, $17. Detectives have trailed Starr for the past two days, and only captured him this morning after an exciting chase.

He was seen by Detectives Golding and Wilson in the Mission street, on Main street, but as the officers were not armed, they did not attempt to arrest him. Starr made a quick escape through the rear of the saloon and ran to Second South street, where he was caught by his heels. He was caught as he turned into Second South and taken to the city jail.

Starr does not seem to be emboldened after his successful work with the two checks, as he endeavored to cash several others yesterday. The full extent of his operations has not been learned yet, however.

"UNDESIRABLE CITIZEN."
Caroline Hazzard's Charge Against Soldier Lucas Proves Boomerang.

The charge made against W. E. Lucas, by Caroline Hazzard of assault with a deadly weapon, and which was tried in Judge Bowman's court yesterday and resulted in the acquittal of the soldier, proved to be a boomerang, and the young woman is now a defendant under a complaint filed by a neighbor.

Miss Hazzard, judging from the wording of the complaint made against her, is an "undesirable citizen" in her neighborhood. She is charged with "committing the misdemeanor of permitting disorderly conduct upon the premises of the defendants as follows: said Caroline Hazzard did then and there unlawfully and wilfully permit and suffer quarreling, noisy, riotous and disorderly conduct upon her premises."

The complaint is sworn to by John McPhee, one of the witnesses for the state in the prosecution of Lucas, who is the outcome of the incident which led to the arrest of Lucas on the charge of assault.

LAST LUNCHEON IS HELD.

Enthusiasm is Shown When Committees Report That $114,000 Had Been Subscribed and More in Sight.

With a report of a total of $114,150.42 and a promise that the balance needed to make up $150,000 will be subscribed by 9 o'clock tonight, a call for a special meeting and a dinner at the Commercial club at 6:30 this evening; a rousing speech by Rev. P. A. Simpson and several gratifying reports from committees, the last noon-day meeting of the Y. M. C. A. campaign committees of the Commercial club adjourned at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

An amusing feature today was the rivalry shown between the committees headed by Howard and Lippman. The latter declared he would beat Howard and when he made his report, Howard said: "Mr. Lippman, you cannot beat me that way so I shall add $50 to my subscription." Lippman replied by saying that the situation reminded him of what a certain politician used to say, namely, "I get the delegates, but Lippman gets the votes." Mr. Lippman said he was glad he had made Howard come through with the money. The committee headed by Spencer and Badger visited the car barns shortly after 4 o'clock this morning and secured $10, and 20 members of the D. S. C. faculty subscribed more than $100. The subscription of $10,000 by Samuel Newhouse was reported by the special committee to the D. S. C. faculty.
