

ment. The jury, the supreme authority in the matter, has by its verdict declared Thaw innocent of any crime in the deed of the homicide, and that verdict must be respected, at least by all public officials. In the hospital he must be regarded as an unfortunate person afflicted with mental derangement, there not to be punished for any crime, but solely to be cared for, protected and guarded so that he may not injure another or himself, but always with the distinct hope that he may ultimately be cured, however great or small that hope really may be.

CAUTION TO AUTHORITIES.
"It is well, doubtless, that care should be exercised by the authorities that Thaw be not favored because of the wealth and social position of his family. It is equally well, however, that care be exercised that he be not treated any worse on those accounts. It may well be that this court, in the exercise of its plenary chancery powers, has the authority by order to make specific directions as to the treatment of any inmate in such an institution."

"However that may be, I venture to suggest to the authorities there that when he is returned to their custody the privileges, so-called, which he was permitted to enjoy in his first three months' stay, be restored to him, if such a procedure be not found to be clearly incompatible with due discipline, and further, that his venerable and most estimable mother be at all times treated with the utmost consideration. Her sorrowful condition commands the profound sympathy of every normal individual."

"Having out of consideration for the mother's feelings," continues Justice Mills, "permitted her as a witness to make a will for her son and in so doing to give certain incompetent testimony which embraced criticism of Mr. Jerome, I deem it my duty to say that these criticisms seem to me to be mistaken and unwarranted, although doubtless sincere. In the very complete record before me I find no evidence of any heartlessness or undue zeal upon his part. If he made the remark remembered by Mrs. Thaw that he has said her son would never be released from Matteawan, I am confident it was made in good faith and not out of a conviction that he would not recover."

HORRIFIED MOTHER FINDS BABY SLAIN

Little Anna Cook, Ogden, Wanders to Railroad and is Run Over and Killed.

(Special to the "News.")
Ogden, Aug. 12.—Anna Cook, the 18-month-old daughter of Mrs. J. Cook, residing on West Seventeenth street, was killed by an Oregon Short Line freight train at 7 o'clock last night. The mother left the house for a few moments and the little one wandered from the yard to the railroad track. Upon returning home shortly afterwards Mrs. Cook began searching for the child and was horrified to find its mangled remains strewn along the track about a block and a half from the house.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The intense heat of yesterday continued over today; but this afternoon, there is a breeze that somewhat tempers the situation. The indications point toward local showers for tonight and tomorrow.
Unsettled weather conditions still continue over the Plateau and Rocky mountain regions, causing showers or thunderstorms over a large area, including portions of Utah, Arizona, Idaho, Wyoming, Nebraska, Minnesota, North Dakota, Lake region Ohio and Mississippi valleys, Atlantic and Gulf states. Heavy rains are reported at Atlanta, 101 inches. The temperature changes are generally slight and unimportant. Over the Pacific and Atlantic states and Colorado the barometric pressure is high.

MATINEE FOR VETERANS.

In honor of the veterans the Colonial theater will give a special, free matinee tomorrow afternoon. The performance will begin at 2:15 o'clock and all persons who belong to the Grand Army of the Republic will be admitted free to the performance of "Corianton."

LOSES HIS FOOT.

While making a coupling in the yards at Caliente Ed Furtur, a freight brakeman on the Salt Lake route, slipped and fell under the cars yesterday afternoon, losing his left foot. He was brought to the Holy Cross hospital on train No. 2 this forenoon, accompanied by Dr. Phillip Stevens, the company physician and Sam Blunt, a brother-in-law of the injured man and yardmaster at Caliente.

AMUSEMENTS

One could gain no real idea as to the actual number of strangers within our gates yesterday and last night, without attending the various places of amusement and seeing how they were thronged. Not only the lake and out-of-town resorts, but every theater and moving picture house was crowded and many people were turned away, unable to gain admission. As noted elsewhere, the tabernacle held a very large audience. The Wildcat show attendance in the afternoon simply dumfounded its promoters, and in the evening up till mid-night, Main street was thronged with people watching the fireworks and admiring the illuminations. It was truly a "night of nights" in Salt Lake, and one that visitors and residents alike will never forget.

Theater—"The Merry Widows" their third and fourth presentations in the afternoon and evening delighted audiences, though the matinee attendance was hardly what had been expected. The charm of the music, and the wit of the dialogue, and the wit of the dialogue, will no doubt go on filling the house for the remainder of the week.

Orpheum—The current week's bill at the Orpheum theater, closing on Monday, includes many outside attractions, including packed houses to that popular playhouse. The Camille Trio, Grotesque European Farce Artists, have an act which is a scream from start to finish, and the wonder is that they manage to get through it without seriously hurting themselves. James Thornton is an entertainment in himself, and his act is the most popular on the bill.

Colonial—"Corianton" at the Colonial is running much more smoothly now than at the opening, and indications are for strong business the remainder of the week.

Grand-Manager Eldredge reports people turned away from the presentation of "Hold by the Enemy" last night, and a heavy reserve demand for the remainder of the week. The company headed by Mr. Mack and Miss Douglas is doing specially good work in this play, and the artistic finish of the hospital scene in particular excites warm commendation even from old timers who saw the original company in the play.

Bungalow—Miss Anna Cleveland is winning new laurels for her work in the play entitled "At Valley Forge," which will run out the week at the Bungalow theater.

BOOM FOR ST. LOUIS.

A. G. Peterson, who is in charge of the St. Louis delegation and of the boomlet of that city for the 1910 encampment, this morning held open house at the headquarters at St. Louis in the Commercial club building to all delegates at the encampment. Mr. Peterson expressed his confidence in landing the 1910 convention for St. Louis, and said that the delegations from Ohio, Missouri, Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Kansas, Oregon and California were practically sold for the Missouri town with much support promised from other states.

WILLIAM HODGE'S FUNERAL.

The funeral of the late William Hodge will take place Sunday, 1 p. m., at the Sixteenth ward meeting-house. Friends of the deceased will be given an opportunity to view the remains during the half hour preceding the services, the casket being closed promptly at 1 p. m.

UTAH WOMAN HEADS NURSES

Mrs. Mary E. Lacey Chosen President of the Red Cross Veterans.

IS A RESIDENT OF SALT LAKE

Mrs. Catherine Taylor of New York City is Elected Senior Vice President.

One of the most interesting meetings of the entire encampment was that held this morning at the Colonial hotel of the Army Nurses. The silver haired, noble women who endured untold hardships in the great war, who cared naught for the din of battle and the scream of shell, and who heard only the cries and moans of the wounded, gathered at the hotel this morning to talk over old times, and like the good angels they are, plan for the care and comfort of those who have been spared unto this generation.

The nurses are in session again late this afternoon. This evening they will be given a reception at the Commercial club and hope to meet Senator Reed Smoot as Mrs. Mary E. Lacey and Miss Kate M. Scott desire to discuss with him a pension law. The Wildcat show this morning's meeting, officers for the ensuing year were elected, and it fell to the lot of a Utah woman, Mrs. Mary E. Lacey, to be chosen president of the organization. The organization is a national one and has a membership of nearly 200. Few of the members are able to attend the annual encampments because of the great distance to be covered and the fact that many of them are in Europe and most of those in this country are too old to stand the journey.

SEVENTY-NINE YOUNG.

Among the nurses who met today was Mrs. Elizabeth Chapman, the oldest nurse here. She is 79 years of age, but is just as anxious now to do her duty as she was in the days of 51-52. Miss Kate M. Scott is another nurse who is distinguished in the order, as she has been secretary of the same for 12 years and now enters upon the thirtieth year. She is also chairman of the committee on pensions. Mrs. S. A. Squire, Wisconsin; guard, Mrs. Elizabeth Chapman, Illinois; surgeon, Miss Nancy Hill, New York; and Miss M. C. Kiser, Mrs. W. Edward Fife, Mrs. Herman A. Prosser, Mrs. James C. Dick, Mrs. Frank Knox and Miss Bess McMillan.

Mrs. T. C. Bailey entertained at a porch party for the parade yesterday followed by a luncheon, the rooms and table being decorated in the national colors. Assisting the hostesses were Mrs. W. H. Dickson and Mrs. C. S. Vadner. About 40 were entertained.

Miss Gladys Frink and John V. Buckle were married yesterday at the Phillips Congregational church. Rev. P. A. Simpkin performing the ceremony in the presence of the relatives and friends, Mrs. W. M. Rash attending the bride, and Mr. Rash the groom. A reception followed at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. M. E. Frink, which was elegantly decorated in green and white, with roses, sweet peas and ferns. The bride wore a handsome gown of pale blue silk and carried a large bouquet of white and pink roses. Both wore large picture hats. Assisting in the pretty affair were Miss Irma Watson, who rendered the bride music at the church, and a few intimate friends and relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Buckle left later for California and will return here to reside.

CITIZEN SOLDIERS AT WORK AND PLAY

Govnor's Day at Camp Utah Tomorrow—Strenuous Drill Sweetened by Sociable Sport.

The members of the National Guard of Utah, in camp at Crisman farm this week, settled back into their daily routine of drill and camp life this morning after their strenuous day of yesterday. With but two days more left for their camp instruction, the time until Sunday morning will be fully occupied. The feature of the encampment will occur tomorrow, which is scheduled as Governor's day. During the forenoon competitive company drills will be held, and in the afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock they will be reviewed by Governor Fry and his staff of the Utah National Guard, including the battalion of the Fifteenth infantry, U. S. A., which is quartered with the guardsmen.

Saturday the competitive drills will be continued, and on both days, as well as tonight, a feature always of charm to the civilian visitors, will be the dress parade and review by the commanding officer of the regiment at 7 p. m. Though so the drill has been passed, there will be a ceremony on officers row that is not included in the regulations or manual, but which will be participated in with keen appreciation. In school they call the ceremony hazing, in lodges they call it "riding the goat," but in the army it is simply letting the new officers know that their older brothers in the service appreciate the entry of the new men into the brotherhood of the sword. What is going to be done to the new officers tonight isn't given out, and it isn't likely the new officers will ever tell it.

At the camp today very little of an unusual nature was doing. The officers of the Fifteenth infantry took charge of the guard companies and drilled them in squads under regular non-commissioned officers, while the guard officers were assigned to duty with the companies of the Fifteenth and took part in the drill under command of Maj. Arrowsmith. The battery was out for mounted drill on the county road south of the camp, practicing formations, firings, etc. The signal corps is running a "buzzer line" up Parley's canyon. There will be mounted firings on the line, and mounted men are out with the reel cart laying the wire. The platoon is in charge of Master Sergeant Electrician Flower. Details of the V. M. C. at camp, John Fletcher, Spence of the executive staff of the G. A. R. will address the regiment after retreat parade. To Lieut. Walthal has been assigned the duty of instructing the guard infantry officers in saber drill and in giving commands. Major-General Thomas, commanding the department of the Colorado, with headquarters at Denver, is looked for to inspect the camp in the afternoon. Tomorrow being Governor's day, it is expected that the full official family will accompany the commander-in-chief on his visit to the camp. The party will be received with the customary honors and will also be the recipients of some social attention. Everything is running smoothly and proving to be decidedly successful and beneficial, especially to the infantry organizations, owing to the excellent instruction imparted by the officers and enlisted men of the Fifteenth. There are three drills a day, besides which there is today a thorough brightening up of clothing and equipment, and a chance to demonstrate that he is willing to and will work at his trade. Mitchell was arrested two days ago while attempting to pawn a Remington typewriter that had been stolen from the office of the Bell Telephone company. Mitchell first pleaded not guilty this morning to petty larceny. When he pleaded guilty, that he would have to remain in jail until Aug. 24 awaiting trial, he changed his plea, and in extenuation explained to the court that while he had attempted to pawn the typewriter it had been given to him by another man whose name he did not know, but with whom he had "had a few drinks." On Mitchell's explanation and statement that he could go to work immediately in Salt Lake, Judge Bowman continued the case 10 days to give Mitchell a chance to prove his good intentions.

CELEBRATING SQUAD TOLD TO MARCH HOME

Out of Sixteen Hilarious Drunks Eight Are Allowed to Go Free This Morning.

There were 16 over-enthusiastic celebrators of the big G. A. R. day yesterday. Fourteen of them admitted that they had taken a little too much stimulant to excite their enthusiasm, six of them paying a forfeit of $5 and eight appearing so penitent that they were let off after their night in jail. Two had not recovered from their enthusiasm this morning sufficient to appear in court.

Those who did appear in court were all working men, mostly from the adjoining towns, who had spent the holiday in Salt Lake, and the holiday night in jail. They were all advised to return to their work by tomorrow morning. The court this morning believed the story of W. R. Mitchell, an operator that he had been the innocent participant in the attempted theft of a typewriter, or, at least, believed it to the extent of giving Mitchell the 10-day chance to demonstrate that he is willing to and will work at his trade. ### LOSES HIS CASH.

Lozan Man Reports to Police That His Room Was Entered.

William Fereday of Logan reported to the police this morning the loss of $71 under circumstances that point to its having been stolen from his room at Third South and Second West street. Mr. Fereday had his money, consisting of gold and silver coins, in a purse along with his ticket. He missed the money and ticket from his purse this morning while dressing, and later the chambermaid, while cleaning the room, found the railroad ticket lying in a corner where it had been thrown. Mr. Fereday had the money when he retired last night, and the supposition is that his room was entered during the night by thieves who rifled his clothes.

A private safe may be rented in the fire and burglar-proof vaults of the Salt Lake Security & Trust Co., 32-34 Main street, $2.00 per year.

FUNERAL SERVICES OVER GEORGE REYNOLDS

deceased had lived and performed his work under the literal inspiration of God. His life had been dedicated to divine work and he had been true to every spirit to his Heavenly Father. No more noble legacy could have been left his family than the record and memory of his good life.

PRESIDENT JOHN R. WINDER.
Robert Siddoway sang, "O My Father," and President John R. Winder closed that had gone before. Many had known him longer and more intimately, perhaps, than himself, yet he had been associated with him in the mission field long enough to be able to concur in all that had been said of his humility and devotion. He sympathized with the family in their bereavement, yet rejoiced that a good man had been released from suffering to receive the reward awaiting him. He prayed that those left might be comforted and follow his example.

ELDER H. J. GRANT.
Elder H. J. Grant said that he also could endorse the previous tributes and spoke especially of his fine learning, that he could go to him to solve almost every problem without disappointment; that he knew him to be as warm a faithful devotee at every task as upon him that he could not endorse. No higher eulogy nor encomium could be pronounced of him than the simple truth. He had known him chiefly in his public life, but he had seen how more could be done than he had done in his life work. He has been faithful to every trust and no more can be said of any man. He had seen in the losing of George Reynolds had lost a great man and a great helper. He himself had been associated with him in a trying and arduous work, that of selecting missionaries to the various fields and his judgment had been invaluable. He had held positions of trust with every president of the Church, since coming to Utah and under no one of them had he been found remiss. As for the acceptability of his work there can be no doubt. He has kept every law, ordinance, covenant and every key, and gift and authority bestowed on the holy priesthood. In any dispensation known in time, this means that nothing more nor less than authority to administer the ordinances of God and to receive for his faithfulness dominion and power and eternal life, without an end. These gifts are of more concern to the children of earth than any worldly thing. Better to receive one gift bestowed by divine authority than all the riches of the world. You may search in vain for these divine gifts the world over outside those divinely ordained and appointed to administer the ordinances of God. A duet followed by Mrs. Lizzie Thomas Edwards and Mrs. John Winder, with chorus by choir "Who Are These Arranged for Me?" and the benediction pronounced by Elder Levi S. Richards. The pallbearers were the presidents of the seventies. A brief service was held at the cemetery.

PROHIBITION LAW STANDS IN IDAHO

Judge Wood Admits His Imperfections But Holds It Constitutional—Increased Assessed Valuation.

(Direct Wire to the "News.")
Boise, Ida., Aug. 11.—Judge Wood of the district court today held that the local option law passed by the last legislature was constitutional. The measure was attacked by the liquor interests. The matter was brought before the court in the form of an appeal from the order of the Ada county commissioners in ordering an election for Sept. 8. It was contended by the liquor interests that the law was unconstitutional under the decision of the supreme court in the Eighth judicial case. While Judge Wood admitted that the law was imperfect he declared that the present inconsistencies were not sufficient in justifying him to declare it void. An appeal may be taken to the supreme court of the state before the election. The total assessed valuation of Idaho as computed by the clerks of the state board of equalization is $78,399,962 exclusive of railroads, telegraph and telephone companies, which will bring it up to $118,000,000. The board has agreed to increase the assessment of sheep $3 cents a head, making it $2.50.
