DISEASED HOG CASE IS ENDED.

Arguments Closed at Noon Today in Judge Diehl's Court.

VERDICT OF NOT GUILTY

Was Returned at 1:45 This Afternoon, Therefore Herbert and Barton Were Discharged by Court.

Arguments were closed at noon today in the case against T. M. Herbert and H. A. Barton, which has been on trial for several days before Judge C. B. Dichl, in the criminal division of the city court, and the jury retired fo consider a verdict.

The principal endeavor of the defense yesterday afternoon was to impeach the character of Arthur Waller, who was the most important witness for the state. Joseph Muir was the main person depended upon for this purpose, and today the prosecution took turn by trying to break down the reliability of Muir.

W. C. A. Smoot occasioned much merriment while testifying along the lines last indicated. In answer to a question by Attorney Weber as to whom he had heard question the truth and veracity of Muir, he said that he could more easily enumerate the ones whom he had not heard criticise that

Assistant County Attorney Willard Hanson addressed the jury on behalf of the state, maintaining that a clear case had been made against the ac-cused, and asking that a verdict be rendered accordingly. Attorneys Hutchinson and Weber spoke for the defendants, drawing the jury's attention to the fact that their clients had used the hogs from their ranch for their own use, as well as placing some on the market. If the animals were discased, it was all un-beknown to the defendants, and they therefore asked that the accused be found not guilty. The jury retired, in charge of a balliff. and at 1:45 p. m. returned a verdict of not guilty in both cases, and Messrs. Herbert and Barton were discharged.

SUIT FOR DIVORCE.

NO APPOINTMENT MADE.

Benner X. Smith's Name Mentioned But He May Not Accept.

No appointment of an adjutant general for the National Guard was anschools. nounced today, and while there is an unconfirmed rumor that the office has been tendered to Benner X. Smith, judge advocate general on the staff. of former Gov. Heber M. Wells, it is not yet determined whether he will accept, or even if the tender has been officially made.

Mr. Smith, however, was one of half dozen men suggested by the of-ficers' association for the place, upon invitation of Gov. Cutler. The invineers association for the place, upon invitation of Gov. Cutler. Instea it was held back by Acting Adjt-Ger Instead Joseph Geoghegan, who addressed a communication to all officers of the guard asking them to add their endorsements to the men named or to add other names if desired. Col. Wil-lard Young, Maj. R. W. Young, and Benner X. Smith were regarded as the most desirable appointees by the association's recommendations, but the recommendations of outside officers have just been received, and the matter has been placed before the gover-nor, formally through regular military channels.

Geoghegan left several days go for the coast, and before leaving had all of his affairs ready to turn over to a successor. It is expected that an announce-ment will be forthcoming in the near future, and it will probably be one of the men suggested by the guard, as the governor pledged himself to ap-point a man agreeable to the officers, and one who will work out the present plans in regard to the National Guard.

FIRE AT MILFORD.

Saloons and Roominghouse Burned Down-Town in Danger.

From a gentleman who arrived in Salt Lake today from Milford it is learned that at last midnight a portion of the town was in flames, and that the fire was still raging, though somewhat abated, but owing to the high wind prevailing at the time it looked as though a wide section time it looked as though a wide section of the town would be wiped out before complete control of the situation was gained. The district being devised and already two saloons were burted down. The situation was terribly diarming, and there was every evidence of great excha-ment on the part of the ethacens of Mil-ford, who turned out on masse to high the fre. The gentleman mentioned was on his way home from a visit to St. George, and had intended to stay over in Micford, but upon arriving there he learned that owing to the heavy snowstorm raging over that portion of the country, the sheemen had been driven into the city for shetter, and consequently accommodations were ex-tremely meager. When the had laid waste portion of the country, the sneepmen has been driven into the city for sheiter, and consequently accommodations were ex-tremely meager. When fire had laid waste a portion of the town, the outlock for incing a suitable place in which to stay was all the more discouraging, and it was decided to continue on to this city. The "News" informant stated that the whole southern part of the state has been in the storm fiend's grap for several days past, with no sign of abatement when he left there. At St. George the fruit trees were in bloom, lawns were green and vegetables were well undr way. Monday it began to rain copiously, but whether the rain was succeeded by snow, he did not known, but snow was encountered all the way northward after the rim of the basin was reached. The heavy preci-pitation in the higher regions caused the lowlands to be almost completely sub-merged, the water on some tracts of level country being from one to two feet deep for a distance of half a mile at a stretch. The roads were washed out in many places, and teams traversing the roads were crupelled to make long detours in order to get around impassable washouts. Wednesday morning the wind blew S9 miles an hour at Modena, and the station agent there declared that in one week they had had 4000 miles of wind, which means that the wind had averaged more than 25 miles per hour for a continuous seven days. This side of Lund show was at least a foot deep on the level, and a man, step-ping from the train as it stopped at a station, went up to his waist in a snow-drift.

DR. VINCENT'S LECTURE.

Spoke Interestingly to Students at the University This Morning.

Dr. George Edgar Vincent delivered a lecture to the students of the University of Utah this morning, in which he touched upon the vital question of consolidation of educational interests. The question is one that has been of large imortance since the Legislature took it up a year ago, and Dr. Vincent epoke dtrongly in favor of cobmining educational work wherever it is pos-sible. There is a national movement, he declared, in this direction, which is doing a great deal of good, as it com-pells the student specializing in one branch to realize the importance of standing of other branches, and thus gives them a broad and general educagives them a broad and general education. The general theme of Dr. Vincent's talk was the Evolution of the Present Educational system. He said that edu-cational systems reflected the profes-sional and business life of the era. At first there was the priest, teaching men for all professions from that of a law, yer to that of a dector, and then came gradually, the professional schools, growing out of specialized professional work, and as the resources of the na-tions grew, the educational system changed to meet changing conditions. Recently the mining industry created a need for mining engineers and the mining school grew up to answer the demand. Agriculture is now a science. Its followers are no longer scoffed at and made the but of objectionable jokes. About one-third of the men who now make their living do so through agriculture, and the agricultural courses are offered in the schools to prepare men for the schools to prepare school experts are the center of the in-dustry, and shape its course. Today the great need, he continued, is for schools of many departments, all concentrated where each specialist may learn what the other specialists are doing, and why. He congratulated the University on having associated with it the state school of mines, and the normal school for the reason that the teachers turned out of the normal school would be broader in their views than if they can a in contact there with only students studying to be teachers. Dr. Vincent closed with a few words of pralse of the Utah State Normal school, which he said was one of the best in the country. He delivered the facture as the guest of Prof. William M. Stewart, principal of the Normal school.
