Gov. Wells Signs the Bill That Will Enable Them To Do So.

MET WITH SCHOOL BOARD.

Levy of One and a Half Mills for Maintenance This Year and Haif a Mill Annually Hereafter.

Governor Wells today signed the much-talked-of school bill, which authorizes a levy of an extra mill and a half this year for maintenance and half a mili annually thereafter for build-

The propriety of the bill becoming law was discussed at a meeting of the board of education held in Governor Wells' office today, the State executive being anxious to ascertain the views of the members in relation thereto. It transpured that they were much divided in regard to efficiency of the measure. Most of the members, how-ever, were heartily in favor of it be-coming law and law it now is.

Speaking of it to the "News" this af-ternoon Clerk Moreton of the board of education said that the board would now be able to realize all the money necessary, and more than enough, to keep the schools going until June 7th which would require about $32,000. Th leving, though, will not be made until next year, but it is this levy which the needed funds will be bor-rowed from a local bank.

ABOUT BRIDGE TRUST.

Not Much Faith in Announcement That it is Coming Here.

Telegraphic dispatches have been received here to the effect that the great American Structural Iron company, or in other words, the bridge trust, will establish its western headquarters in Salt Lake, It was a geneally known fact that the trust proposed to place its plant in Denver, but it is said that the recont bill by the Colorado legisla-ture making employers Hable for injuries or damages received through the carelessa as of another employe fright. ened them away, and they now have their eye-on Saji Lake, H. A. Fitch, the local agent of the trust, is very much inclined to laugh at the report. The theory is that the telegrams that have been sent out announcing that Salt Lake instead of Denver will be favored, was solely for the purpose of bringing the Colorado people to time, in other words, to abrogate the law that is obnovious to the trust rather than lose it to the State.

WM. FOLSOM LAID TO REST.

Funeral of the Venerable Patriarch from th Fourteenth Ward.

Last Sad Rites Over the Remains of the Architect of the Tabernacle -Services at the Grave.

The funeral of the late Patriarch William H. Folsom was held from the Fourteenth ward meeting house vesterday at 12 o'clock. The building was crowded with friends and there was every manifestation of esteem and love for the venerable man whose body lay before them, on a bier laden down with beautiful flowers. The works of William H. Folsom stand as among the most enduring monuments of the State . of Utah, and while his achievements are recorded in the archives of the Church, his sterling character and uncompromising fealty to his people under the pain of death are written in the hearts of the people, and ages shall pass away quicker than the memory of him. He was a humble man and shrank from publicity and for that reason he preferred to be buried from the old meet. ing house where he has worshiped for so many years, rather than in the Assembly Hall. Although he chose the humbler building he was none the less honored, for some of the leaders of his people were there to testify of his worth as a man, a brother and a citizen. The services were presided over by Bishop George Taylor, and they were opened by the choir singing the hymn, "O My Father." Prayer was offered by Elder Seymour B. Young, and the choir then sang. "Let Me Go, Where Saints Are Going." Are Going

The first speaker was Bishop George Romney, who was for years a partner of the deceased. He referred to his as-sociation with the departed, in former O. T., was the highest since November. Receipts and range of prices by days were as follows is always pleas ant. He admonished the posterity of the deceased to follow in the footsteps of their progenitor and they would reeive the reward that he has gone to eive. John T. Caine was associated with Mr. Folsom in the early days, and he knew him to be a man of genuine worth, and one of the kindest and most knew sympathetic men he had ever known. He closed with a few words of comfort to the bereaved family. Miss Edna Dwyer and Fred Butler then sang "My Faith Looks Up to Thee." The selection was rendered in beautiful manner, President Angus M. Cannon followed in a culogy on the deceased. He spoke of his friend's decisiveness of character the firmness and courage with which he stood by his convictions. Apostle Brigham Young followed, and bore high tribute to the departed. He said that he had known him since the days of Nauvoo and never knew to do an unkind or dishonest act, and never knew him to make an ene-President Joseph F. Smith made the closing remarks, in which he related the trying ordeal the deceased had passed through in being hanged three times because he would not renounce his faith, and concluded with a tribute of regard for the deceased and a few words of comfort to the family. The choir sang "Go To Thy Rest in Peace," and the closing prayer was of-fered by Bishop Sheets. A large cortege followed the remains to the city cemetery, where the choir sang a selection and a quartet com-posed of Mrs. Anderson, Miss Edna Dwyer, Fred Butler and Allie McKnitt, rendered a piece composed by George Careless entitled "Repose." The grave was dedicated by Elder William Eddington.

Irwin vs Salt Lake county came up today before Judge Marshall in the Federal court, and judgment was rendered for the plaintiff as per stipulation that was filed some time ago. The stipulation reads that judgment shall be rendered for the statistic of the stipulation the dirt from the well and in its rest-lessness backed into the well and fell about fifteen feet and lodged. Young Briggs was terrified out of his wits and reads that judgment shall be rendered for the plaintiffs for $14,619.88, and in-terest at the rate of 4½ per cent per an-num, until paid and that each party shall pay his own costs. The plaintiff sued to recover on four county war-rants aggregating $20,522 55 tunned over started to climb the rope. He reached the horse, but it was impossible to the horse, but it was impossible to pass, and presently the animal in its frantic efforts to get out, loosened it-self and fell to the bottom, a distance of about fifty feet. The young men at the top were unable to do a thing but go and get help. After a force of men came it was seen that it would be impossible to get the horse out wth-out chopping it up. The ax handle was broken in two so it could be wielded, and then the animal's head was cut off, the body was cut up, and after five rants aggregating $20,973.85 turned over by A. H. Andrews & Co., to said plain-tiff, for valuable consideration. The amount due from the county was for the furniture placed by Andrews & Co., in the county building.

ON TRIAL FOR ROBBERY.

Charged With Depriving a Japanese of His Money.

Harry Wilson was put on trial before Judge Stewart this morning charged with robbing Nishizawa Yashikane, a Japanese of $300 on last Christmas evening. W. T. Wanless, counsel for the defendant, made a motion for a continuance on the ground that he could produce a witness, Grace Rey-noids, living in Boise, Idaho, who could prove an alibi for Wilson. District At-torney Elchnor fought the continuance and finally the motion was overruled and the impaneling of a jury commenced.

AFFAIRS OF THE COUNTY.

The board of county commissioners met this morning at 10 o'clock and after a short session took a recess till 2 o'clock,

Robert Harman of Mill Creek, appeared before the board and called attention to the fact that former district No. 4 had been taken off the plat and given to the district of Murray.

He asked that it be re-transferred. The matter was referred to the committee on roads and bridges Stenographer J. R. Davis of Judge Morris' court told a tale of wos to the board regarding a table and chair which he uses in the court room. He purchased the articles from the Freed Furniture company January 7th, and charged to the county. His predecessor, Miss Hartley, had removed her table and chair and he was given to understand that the county would furnish the necessary articles for him. Chairman Aderson informed him that his claim should have been made through the county clerk. This will be done by Mr. Davis.

A communication was read from County Treasurer Edwards of Boxclder county to the effect that some time county commissioners of that county had forwarded to Salt Lake county a claim for taxes for sheep which had ranged in the vicinity Brigham City, a portion of the year 1900 and which were assessed in Salt Lake county. The clerk reported that no such claim had been received by him.

A letter was submitted from Fish and Game Commissioner Sharp in which the board's attention was called to tion 5 of the fish and game law which provides for the appointment of county wardens. The clerk was ordered to notify Mr. Sharp that Horace S. Eldredge of Sugar ward had been ap-pointed for Salt Lake county.

DEATH AT THE INFIRMARY. John King, an Old Miner, Passes Away-Two Other Deaths.

John King died at the county infirmary yesterday of general debility. King was taken to the infirmary about a month ago, suffering from the grip, He was for many years a familiar figure in the mining camps of Utah and Nevada, and while working in a mine at Deep Creek, he lost his sight in a premature explosion of a blast. After that King traveled from one camp to another, but finally came to Salt Lake, where he became a ward of the public. He felt that he was a burden to the people and of no use himself, and so longed for death release him from his sufferings. He was been in Cornwall, England, 62 years ago. Judge Hart today granted John Smith a divorce from his wife Sophia Smith, on the grounds of desertion. The plaintiff was represented by Attorney N. J. Sheckell; the defendant was in default.

In Judge Ball's Court.

Trial was commenced before Judge Hall today in the case of G. Lavagnino vs Edmund A. Uhlig et al. The suit is to quiet title to a certain area located between Lavagaino's "Yes You Do" mining claim and the defendant's "Uhlig No. 1" and "Uhlig No. 2" claims and to restrain the defendants from working the area in conflict pending the action. Counsel on each side only got as far as making the opening state-ments this morning. Judge Street is associated with N. W. Sonnedecker as counsel for the plaintiff and Arthur Brown and E. B. Critchlow with A. W. asey for the defendants.

Lavagnino has a similar case against M. Garney and others which will be taken up after the above case is disposed of.

In the case of John J. Schieb James Thompson, executor, Judge Hall ordered that the defendant may take an apeal to the Supreme court from the judgment denying a new trial without giving any undertaking in addition to the $10,000 bond as filed March 11, 1901, in probate.

Schedule Will be Completed at This Evening's Session.

It is expected that at this evening's meeting of the baseball league the sea-son's schedule will be completed. The son's schedule will be completed. The feature of yesterday's session was a long and thresome discussion as to the merits and demerits of the various baseballs now on the market. Some contended for the Spalding, some for the Victor and others for the Reach. Finally the question was put to a vote and the Reachists won out by a score of 3 to 1. Those present were Clip-pinger, for the Railways: Griffin, for the Salt Lakers; W. J. Shealy, for Og-den, and Judge Henry Shields, for Park Clip bly

It was learned last evening that about eighty games will be played, begin-ning on April 13th. The first game be played here between the Lakers and Railways, and in Ogden between the Lobsters and Park City. Ogden gets twenty-three games, Park City thirteen and Salt Lake the rest.

ing arrangements to launch Shamrock II and the ecremony has been definite-ly fixed for April 20. The Marchioness of Dufferin will christen the yacht.

The attempts last week to dredge the channel deep enough to float the challenger failed, owing to the shifty nature of the bottom. For a time it looked as if this might give rise to se-rious difficulties because the long fin and heavy ballast demand twenty feet of water which it is impossible to get and heavy ballast demand twenty feet of water, which it is impossible to get. In this diletama Mr. Watson devised an ingenipus plan. This involves a huge water tight box of sufficient buoyancy to carry the whole weight of the yacht. The box is being built around her under body in such a fash-ion that the whole of the helicy be
