[Special to the DESERET NEWS.]

In Telegraph.

Worcester, Mass., 19.

Walter Brown, the champion of America, yesterday pulled his shell boat three miles, against time, in 23 minutes. A single scull race, two miles, was won by John McKeil, in 15 minutes and 54 seconds. The Yale crew won the freshman race, three miles, in 19 minutes and 38 seconds. The Harvard crew won the prize in the university race, three miles, in 18 minutes and 12 seconds, the best time on record.

Washington, 20.

The President's veto message was approved by all the members of the Cabinet, except Stanton.

New York, 20.

A Nashville special says Gen. Curtis' official report of the Franklin riot asserts that the murderous attack on the colored league was preconcerted by the city authorities, who voluntarily delivered the city to mob violence.

Washington, 20.

The House passed a bill to establish peace with cert. in Indian tribes, reviving commissioners to examine and select a district or districts of sufficient area to receive all the tribes now occupying territory east of the Rocky Mountains, and not now peacefully residing on permanent reservations; said districts to be tillable or grazing land, to enable said tribes to support themselves by agricultural and pastoral pursuits, and to forever remain homes for said Indians, and no person, not a member of the tribes, is to be permitted to enter thereon, without permission of the tribes interested, except officers employed by the United States. The districts are to be located so as not to interfere with travel on the highways located by the United States, nor with any railroad route to the Pacific.

The Committee of conference reported a resolution that both Houses adjourn, at 4 p.m., until Thursday, the 21st of November, which was agreed to by 71 to 40.

Paris, 20.

Napoleon continues to buy large numbers of horses for the use of the French army, and the military workshops in France are overtasked with work.

Concord, N. H., 19.

Eight locomotives and the machine shops and woodsheds belonging to the Northern Railroad, valued at $500,000, were burned this evening.

Washington, 20.

The Senate adjourned to November 21, by a vote of 17 against 14.

Paris, 20.

Late Russian journals evince the utmost dissatisfaction at the verdict in the case of Berezouski, and the leniency of the sentence imposed on the intended assassin of the Czar.

London, 20.

The great review of the Royal volunteer force, for which extensive preparations had been made, came off to-day at Wimbledon; 12,000 men in line were reviewed by the Sultan, and the precision with which the field evolutions were performed was much complimented.

Frankfort, 20.

The remarkable degree of activity noticed in the French workshops and the continued purchase of horses for the French army create a great deal of distrust in financial circles here, and fears of approaching war are openly expressed.

New York, 21.

A Fort Wallace special says Custar's command reached there on the 12th and 13th of July, and had found the bodies of Lieut. Kidder and 10 men of the 2nd cavalry, who had been sent with dispatches from Sherman to Custar. The Indians overtook them at Beaver Creek. Gen. Custar then left Fort Wallace for Fort Riley, with 70 picked men, and reached there in 55 hours.

Galveston, 20.

Headquarters are overwhelmed with reports of outrages in the Red River country; colored people dare not accept an appointment as registers, for fear of their lives. Judge Latimer, a prominent Texan, resigned his appointment in the Freedmen's Bureau, being afraid of the chief outlaw named Grist; the colored people flee to the woods on his approach. He was once arrested, but escaped. In Sterling, Robinson county, a colored church was assaulted, and two men and one woman killed. Capt. Randall, a Bureau agent, raised 100 freedmen, and arrested two of the ring-leaders.

New York, 21.

The glut of money in the London money market is unparalleled, and will probably force the Bank of England to reduce its rate of discount to the lowest point ever known.

A Turkish dispatch, dated Sphakia, Crete, 6th, says nearly all the districts have succumbed to our troops; the insurgents have given up their arms. The Owl says no intervention by European powers will take place. The latest official accounts from Crete give terrible reports of the cruelties of the Turks; the Cretans having inflicted severe punishment on one of Omar Pacha's spies, this General retaliates by actually crucifying a Cretan priest, to satiate his revenge and at the same time to cast odium upon the Christian religion, from which he apostatized. He next beseiged a cavern in which Greek women and children had taken refuge, and closing the cavern with stones he left them to die of starvation. This renegade is repeating in Crete the scenes of carnage which made him so infamous in Koordistan, Syria and Montenegro, and boasts that he will exterminate the Cretans.

The Turkish Government, staking its faith in this General, declines to yield to the remonstrances of the Foreign Powers, but declares, however, that it will consult the Cretans' wishes, in the event the revolution is not quelled before July 24.

Denver, 21.

A guide belonging to Gen. Custar's party came in to-day, and reports that he discovered the bodies of twelve men who had been killed, scalped and horribly mutilated on one of the forks of the Republican River, Kansas; they are supposed to be the party under Lieut. Kidder, sent from Ft. Sedgwick in June, with dispatches for Gen. Custar.

Washington, 21.

The Senate yesterday confirmed a large number of promotions and many brevets. It is believed that all the bills passed at the recent session of Congress will become laws, either by the approval of the President, or passage over the veto, with the exception of the bill striking out the word white in the statutes of the district of Columbia, so as to remove the present discrimination against color. The full vote which passed the supplementary reconstruction bill was 109 to 25.

New York, 21.

Peru is in a very unsettled condition; robbers infest the country, and the road from Callao to Lima is again taken possession of by bandits, rendering it unsafe to travel even that distance. Congress has decreed the continuance of the war against Spain, which is received with dissatisfaction, as ruinous to the commerce of the country.

St Louis, 21.

A train of seceding Mormons arrived from Utah at Julesburg on the 18th. The steamer Antelope, from Ft. Benton, was fired into by Indians below Ft. Buford.

Vienna, 21.

The Austrian Reichstag has adopted a resolution in favor of political equality in religious faiths, and of acknowledging the legality of the ceremony of marriage when performed by civil magistrates.

New York, 21.

A New Orleans special says that late advices from Vera Cruz state that the body of Maximilian will be delivered to the Austrian Legation; the remains are now on the way to Vera Cruz. There is no truth in the report that the foreign consuls have been molested in Mexico.

A Fort Phil. Kearney special says that Judge Kinney, a special Indian commissioner, has just concluded a highly satisfactory council with 1,800 Crow Indians at this place. They are anxious to join in an expedition against the Sioux. While in council the Cheyennes ran off their horses; the Crows pursued them, killing three Indians.

A Toronto correspondent says the local government for the province of Ontario, in the dominion of Canada, was completed Saturday evening, by the appointment of Cameron, Secretary, and E. B. Wood, Receiver General. The election preparations continued with great vigor; the reformers are greatly divided.

HOME ITEMS.

JUVENILE PARTY.—To call attention to the Juvenile Party on Saturday, in the Theatre, will, we presume, be sufficient. There is no question but the interesting future men and women will be anxious to turn out en masse, while their parents will be happy at the opportunity of so gratifying them. Let them crowd the building by all means; while those "youths and young maidens" can have a good time as well—all in the afternoon. We like the idea, and hope to see a capital party.

TELEGRAM.—The following telegram was received on Monday:

Parowan, July 22d.

President B. Young: Last night, at dusk, the Indians made a descent upon our stock on Little Creek. The guard gave notice, and the cavalry reached the mouth of the canyon, gave a shot and a yell, charging on the stock and the Indians, scattering the outfit. Yet the Indians rallied twice, and got defeated. They lost two horses, blankets, &c. Two of the brethren's horses were wounded. The cavalry then took up the canyon east of Elk Horn Springs, aiming to come down Little Creek. This morning the tracks of about 20 head of stock were seen going up Little Creek. The brethren of this ward rallied forth manfully. Just at the call they were ready and fought all night between shots from the mountain and from the valley, and within talking distance on either side. The Pah Ede language was used.

W. H. DAME.

PROGRESSING.—A visit to the new Tabernacle reveals the fact that the call for men to nail laths, plaster, lay doilies and shift scaffolding on that building has not been unheeded. The lathing has been done on all that part of the roof which is up, and about three days more will finish the plastering on it. The brethren have responded to the call made with a promptness and energy which speak strongly in their favor. It is better than gold hunting, brethren, at any season of the year to help build up and beautify Zion.

GOT BACK.—Messrs. H. W. Lawrence and C. H. Bassett, reached the city by stage on Friday evening, from the east, where they had been purchasing goods, and attending to business. Messrs. F. T. Perris and C. R. Barratt, arrived since, they having also been east on business. Their friends will be gratified to know that these gentlemen still retain their scalps, and have returned to their homes in safety. Mr. A. C. Bassett, Division Superintendent of the Telegraph line, has also arrived in the city.

ADDRESS.—For the benefit of those who may wish to write to Elder Lorenzo D. Rudd, now laboring in the east, we give his address:—Lorenzo D. Rudd, 2310, Franklin Avenue, St Louis Mo.

CHIEF JUSTICE PARSONS was one of the ablest men that Massachusetts ever produced. His power with a jury was extraordinary. He avoided, from principle all attempts at oratory, being convinced, as was often said of Choate, that a reputation for eloquence was a formidable obstacle to success. He talked directly to the jury in simple language, with great consciousness, putting the case with clearness, pressing it with strong logic, and making them feel that they had no doubt they must agree with him. His most elaborate arguments did not exceed an hour, and rarely went beyond half an hour. An eminent lawyer tells an amusing story of one of his earliest pleas. The case was an important one, and Parsons was unknown to most persons outside the bar. When he began his argument he leaned one foot on a chair, and one elbow on his knee, and began to talk as if he were explaining the matter to a company of neighbors, and there could be no doubt about his version of it. The lawyer saw at once that he was winding the jury round his finger, but they were unconscious of the process, for when they had given him the verdict, one of them came to the lawyer, and said naively: Who is this Mr. Parsons? He is not much of a lawyer, and don't look or talk as if he would ever be one; but he seems to be a real good sort of a man."

THE Columbus (Miss.) Sentinel predicts that the corn crop in that section will be the largest made for many years, and that the cotton crop will be larger than that of last year. Wheat is doing remarkably well. The freedmen in that neighborhood are industrious, and behaving with propriety.

THE New York Evening Gazette tells the young ladies what to beware of if they would have a fresh, healthy, youthful appearance: "Late hours, large crinoline, tight corsets, confectionary, hot bread, cold draughts, pastry, decollette dress, modern novels, furnace registers, early carriages, late suppers, thin shoes, fear of knowledge, nibbling between meals, ill temper, haste to marry, dread of growing old."
