EVENING NEWS.

FROM THE FOUR WINDS.

Sound conclusion—a dying echo.

Carpenters generally talk plain.

A hotel is known by the company it keeps.

Shakespeare never billed his plays. Yet he builded better than he knew, Bill did.

A woman's beauty is most perfect when it is backed up by intelligence. A newspaper bustle is just the thing.

When an old maid gets married, the groom should ring a chestnut belle. There is no joke in marrying an old maid.

A coal stove is a cast-iron paradox. It won't burn unless you put it up and then it won't burn unless you shake it down.

When the husband slips in a front window and the other fellow slips out a back window, which is the most proficient slipper?

There is too much talk about the voting strength of the plain people in the papers. Give a good-looking man a chance once in a while.

Hotel Proprietor—"We don't allow any games of chance here." Gambler—"This isn't a game of chance. My friend here has no chance."

"My daughter," exclaimed a fashionable mother, "is innocence itself. You can't say anything in her presence that will make her blush."

A convict with a ball and chain attachment gave as an excuse for not taking a summer vacation, that he was too closely tied to business.

According to Professor Proctor, the sun is 1,200,000 times as large as the earth. They must have an awful time hunting for the north pole up there.

The Phrenological Journal says: "In choosing a wife be governed by her chin." A man is apt to be governed by the same thing after he gets a wife.

Female Teacher (in grammar recitation): "'I didn't have any fun at the seaside.' How would you correct this, Johnny?" Johnny—"Why, get a feller."

Belle—"Ma, do you know what cafe au lait is?" Mrs. Mushroom—"No, I don't know exactly, darling, but I suppose cafe au lay is coffee with an egg in it."

A New York paper says that a man who will cut an oyster will rob a bank. We never cut an oyster. In fact, we always attempt to cultivate an acquaintance whenever possible.

Even pious souls are sometimes tempted to lapse into the wanton spirit of little Imaiden who prayed: "Please, Mr. God, I am tired of being made good—won't you kill pa?"

Wife—"What do you suppose is the reason that there are no marriages in heaven?" Husband—"You stupid goose! It is to offset the fact that there is no heaven in marriage."

"I hope and pray," remarked a gentleman as he left the steamer, "that I shall never have occasion to cross the Atlantic again."

"Rough passage, eh?" queried a friend.

"Rough is no name for it. I had four kings beat three times."

Conductor—Is there a Prohibitionist in this car?

Passenger (promptly)—Yes, I'm one from the word go.

Conductor (coming forward and speaking confidentially)—Lemme take your pocket pistol a minute, will you. There's a lady fainted in the next car.

"Anything fresh yet on that big express robbery?" asked the snake editor.

"The detectives have several clews," replied the news editor.

"I am sorry for that. I hoped they would catch the robber, but now it seems impossible."

They were talking of the baby.

Visitor—I think he'll take after his father.

Gradmothe—Oh. dear me! I hope not.

Visitor (astonished)—Why not, Mrs. Flighty?

Grandmother—His father is in Canada.

They had been quarreling, and she was railing against marriage.

"But, my love," expostulated the husband, "marriage is made in heaven."

"I don't care if it is," she snapped. "It isn't made for home consumption, and they ship it down to earth as soon as they can fill the orders."

"Mother," said a little Rockland girl looking from her book, "what does transatlantic mean?"

"Oh, across the Atlantic, of course. Don't bother me, you make me forget my count."

"Does trans always mean across?"

"I suppose it does. If you don't stop bothering me with your questions you'll go to bed."

"Then does transparent mean a cross parent?"

A particular young friend of mine, more noted for his volubility than anything else, was describing many remarkable characteristics appertaining to an old colored woman who had charge of him years ago down South. It would be useless for me to enumerate the many admirable qualities with which she was invested. At the conclusion of his story, one of his auditors said: "She must be a lusus nature." "Lusus h—l," was the reply. "she's a woman."

Sam Johnsing—"Was yer at de ball ob de Dark Rosin' Sons of Liberty las' night?"

Jim Webster—"I vas dar."

"Seed me dancing wid a likely yaller gal, didn't yer?"

"O, yes, I seed yer."

"I'se gwinter marry her nex' mumf."

"Yer don't say so?"

"I say, what pleases yer most about dat gal?"

"Dat I don't had ter marry her myself."

It was an evening party. Mr. D. St. George Smith was reciting a poem consisting of 46 stanzas. Mr. Brown, a guest, comes in late.

"What's going on?" he whispered to Briggs.

"Smith's reading a new poem. He has just finished the 30th stanza," answered Briggs, savagely.

"What is the subject—the metive?"

"I don't know what the subject is, but I suspect his motive must be revenge. I can't see any other reason for it."

"My visit to England was one round of cordiality and sympathy. On one occasion, after I had spoken, I got into my carriage and prepared to drive across one of the Thames bridges. You pay a half-penny to get across, you know, and a penny for carriages. Well, as I got into my carriage crowds shook hands with me. They thrust their hands through the window, and I was kept busily employed in shaking them. As we were crossing the bridge a lank hand was thrust in at the window. I shook it. When I saw that hand for the third time I was astonished. But the owner had become impatient. 'A half-penny for your fare,' he said, and I saw my mistake.—Henry Ward Beecher.

Frank Carpenter and George Martin, two able and distinguished Washington correspondents, have taken as their offices the two rooms on F Street once occupied by the late Hon. Charles Sumner. Saturday they were poddering around getting things in shape, and Martin's business was to get a grate which he was ramming around among the bricks and loosening the whole wall.

"This is a very intellectual job," he said to Carp., out of the dust.

"Yes, and you'll pull the whole side wall out in a minute," replied Carpenter, pushing the mantel back in its place.

"Let her go," said George, "let her go. If Sumner's mantle falls upon my shoulders, I won't ask anything better."

Carpenter shoved a bushel of bricks over on him and he went to the window for air.

A DOUBTFUL MARKET.—"Now, my dear," he said, as he prepared to leave home after supper, "the market has been feverish all day."

"I see."

"If wheat should go up a cent or two this evening, I might not be home till late."

"Exactly."

"And in case wheat goes down, don't expect me before midnight."

"I see. Well, dear, you run along and keep your eye on wheat and stay as long as you care to, for I've asked Col. Hankins over to play whist this evening, and he'll be sure to stay until midnight."

The fever subsided and wheat stood still and the husband was back before nine o'clock.

CALIFORNIA PETROLEUM.

The known and prospected fields included in the oil belt of Southern California, begin at Pico Canyon six miles west of Newhall on the Southern Pacific, and follow a course a little north of west into Ventura County as far as Santa Paula, a distance of some forty miles, and to the southeast of Los Angeles in the Puenta hills. In both Ventura and Los Angeles counties, immense deposits of mineral oil are known to exist. Several important strikes have recently been made; a number of wells are now producing, and the yield of petroleum is annually increasing. In the section southeast of Los Angeles above referred to, there has been a good deal of activity during the year, considerable quantities of that crude oil having been raised and refined, mostly by the large company operating there. This company has just completed a 63-mile pipe for conveying the crude oil from its principal wells to the sea-shore, where it will be loaded on vessels and taken to their refinery at Alameda Point, opposite the city of San Francisco. The business of gathering and refining these oils promises to become one of the paying and permanent industries of the country. In 1884 about 8,000,000 gallons of petroleum were manufactured in California. The quantity made last year was much larger.

Making Provision Against Tight Money.

At breakfast time yesterday morning one of Pittsburg's best citizens looked uneasy and suspicious. Finally he remarked to his wife as he sampled a roll:

"Sleep well last night?"

"Yes, dear, fairly well."

"Didn't find a man under the bed when you looked for him last night?"

"No, dear."

"And you didn't hear any burglars about the house?"

"Why no, dear."

"I thought you didn't," he replied with a sarcastic smile. "You didn't wake me up once to go down stairs to chase them out. I'd like to know, though, where that five dollar gold piece, those three silver dollars and those half dollars and quarters I had in my pocket last night when I went to bed have disappeared to?"

"I have them, my dear."

"The deuce you have!" he exclaimed, astounded by the openness of the confession.

"Yes, dear; I read in our paper that money is tight in the East, and you know it is just as likely to get tight here as there; so I thought it best to take it from you."

A HONEYMOON THAT LASTED THREE MONTHS.—Prospective bride—"How long ought a honeymoon to last, ma?"

Ma—"They usually last only a few weeks, but I knew one to last for three months."

"How delightful! Who was the bride?"

"I was."

"Perhaps mine will, too."

"I fear not. The country is not troubled with sectional issues now."

"Why, what difference does that make?"

"I was married to your father the day before he went off with the three months' volunteers."

AN EPICURE ON STAMPS.—"There is a great difference in postage stamps," said little Spit, emphatically. "I can tell 'em in a moment."

"So can any one, I should think," answered Slowcoach. "There's the one cent stamp, the two cent, the four and five, the ten, the——"

"Oh, yes, I know all that; any fool knows that, but I can tell 'em with my eyes shut by the flavor. Why, there's as much difference in the juice as there is between woodcock and calf's liver. For myself I like the lick of the ten-centers best, though the fives are not bad."

HE COULDN'T STAND THE EXCITEMENT.—"Mr. Gruff, I hear you are going to move from your present location. Is it true?"

"Yes, it's true."

"Ah! Why, I am surprised. That is a nice location."

"Yes, the location is nice enough, but there's a young married couple moved there lately, and they are all the time when he is home spoonin' in the front of their house, kissin' and huggin' and sich, till it makes me fidgety. I can't stand it no longer. So I thought I'd move."

DOMESTIC INFELICITY.—"Well, sir, We can't get along together this way. I shall apply for a divorce. You think more of your pet animals than you do of me. Only the other day you refused to buy me a new hat and then turned and gave an order to have your dog Priamus stuffed. I'd stuff him!"

"But, my dear——"

"Oh, there are no 'buts' about it. You know very well that you wouldn't do as much for me."

MUST BE A MISTAKE.—In one of its fashion articles the World says that a torquoise necklace for blondes is the only wear. We can hardly believe this. There must be something else to make out a costume, if it is only on the Georgia plan of a shirt collar and a pair of spurs.

COLORED CAMP MEETING.—Excited Sister—I wish I were a June bug.

Parson—Whaffor, Sister Snowball?

Sister—So I could fly to heabenly mansions.

Parson—Fool niggah, woodpecker done ketch yer befoah you gits outen de woods.

THE CHI-STN-T BELL.—Miss Clara (who has just rejected young Simpkins)—I am sorry, Mr. Simpkins, I cannot be your wife, but I will be a sister to you.

Young Simpkins (sadly and unconsciously)—T'ng! ting!

Gout, rheumatism, burns and scalds, vanish at the touch of St. Jacobs Oil.

TAKE SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR

For all Diseases of the Liver, Kidneys, Stomach and Spleen

This purely vegetable preparation, now so celebrated as a Family Medicine, originated in the South in 1828. It acts gently on the Bowels and Kidneys and effectually corrects the action of the Liver, and is, therefore, the best preparatory medicine, whatever the sickness may prove to be. In all common diseases it will, unassisted by any other medicine, effect a speedy cure.

The Regulator is safe to administer in any condition of the system, and under no circumstances can it do harm. It will invigorate like a glass of wine, but is no intoxicating beverage to lead to intemperance; will promote digestion, dissipate headache, and generally tone up the system. The dose is small, not unpleasant, and its virtues undoubted.

No loss of time, no interruption or stoppage of business while taking the Regulator.

Children complaining of Colic, Headache, or Sick Stomach, a teaspoonful or more will give relief.

If taken occasionally by patients exposed to MALARIA, will expel the poison and protect them from attack.

A PHYSICIAN'S OPINION.

I have been practicing medicine for twenty years, and have never been able to put up a vegetable compound that would, like Simmons Liver Regulator, prompt and effectively move the Liver to action, and at the same time aid (instead of weakening) the digestive and assimilative powers of the system. LEGAL NOTICE.

In the Probate Court of the County of Salt Lake, Territory of Utah.

In the matter of the Estate of Malcolm Macduff, deceased.

Order to show cause why Order of sale of Real Estate should not be made.

JANE MACDUFF, THE ADMINISTRATRIX of the Estate of Malcolm Macduff, deceased, having filed her petition herein, duly verified, praying for an order of sale of a portion of the real estate of said decedent, for the purposes therein set forth, it is therefore ordered by the Judge of said Court, that all persons interested in the estate of said deceased, appear before the said Probate Court on Tuesday, the 30th day of November, 1886, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, at the Court Room of said Probate Court, at the County Court House, in the City and County of Salt Lake, Utah Territory, to show cause why an order should not be granted to the said administratrix, to sell so much of the real estate of the said deceased at public or private sale as shall be necessary, and that a copy of this order be published at least four successive weeks in the DESERET EVENING NEWS, a newspaper printed and published in said City and County.

Dated November 1st, 1886.

ELIAS A. SMITH, Probate Judge.

Territory of Utah, County of Salt Lake, } ss.

I, John C. Cutler, Clerk of the Probate Court in and for the County of Salt Lake, in the Territory of Utah, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a full, true and correct copy of an order to show cause why order of sale of real estate should not be made in the matter of the Estate of Malcolm Macduff, deceased, as appears of record in my office.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court, this 1st day of November, A. D. 1886.

WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY, WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP, THAT THE

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y

By reason of its central position, close relation to principal lines East of Chicago and continuous lines at terminal points West, Northwest and Southwest—is the only true middle-link in that transcontinental system which invites and facilitates travel and traffic in either direction between the Atlantic and Pacific.

The Rock Island main line and branches include Chicago, Joliet, Ottawa, La Salle, Peoria, Geneseo, Moline and Rock Island, in Illinois; Davenport, Muscatine, Washington, Fairfield, Ottumwa, Oskaloosa, West Liberty, Iowa City, Des Moines, Indianola, Winterset, Anthon, Knoxville, Audubon, Harlan, Guthrie Centre and Council Bluffs, in Iowa; Gallatin, Trenton, St. Joseph, Cameron and Kansas City, in Missouri; Leavenworth and Atchison, in Kansas; Albert Lea, Minneapolis and St. Paul, in Minnesota; Watertown, in Dakota, and hundreds of intermediate cities, towns and villages.

THE GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE

Guarantees Speed, Comfort and Safety to those who travel over it. Its roadbed is thoroughly ballasted. Its track is of heavy steel. Its bridges are solid structures of stone and iron. Its rolling stock is perfect as human skill can make it. It has all the safety appliances that mechanical genius has invented, and experience proved valuable. Its practical operation is conservative and methodical—its discipline strict and exacting. The luxury of its passenger accommodations is unequaled in the West—unsurpassed in the world.

ALL EXPRESS TRAINS between Chicago and the Missouri River consist of comfortable DAY COACHES, magnificent PULLMAN PALACE PARLOR and SLEEPING CARS, elegant DINING CARS providing excellent meals, and —between Chicago, St. Joseph, Atchison and Kansas City—restful RECLINING CHAIR CARS.

THE FAMOUS ALBERT LEA ROUTE

Is the direct, favorite line between Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul. Over this route solid Fast Express Trains run daily to the summer resorts, picturesque localities and hunting and fishing grounds of Iowa and Minnesota. The rich wheat fields and grazing lands of Dakota are reached via Watertown.

A short desirable route, via Seneca and Kankakee, offers superior inducements to travelers between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Council Bluffs, St. Joseph, Atchison, Leavenworth, Kansas City, Minneapolis, St. Paul and intermediate points.

All classes of patrons, especially families, ladies and children, receive from officials and employes of Rock Island trains protection, respectful courtesy and kindly attention.
