THE EVENING NEWS.

State or Territory? SOME OF THE BEAUTIES OF A

RITORIAL CONDITION. For years, in fact since the first regularly organized movement to make a State of the Territory of Colorado resolved itself into fact and form, we have been told that the whole proposition hinged upon the paltry pivot of political expediency. To pivot of political expediency. To be candid about it we were not to consider ourselves entitled by any inherent principle of right to the boon of recegnition from the national legislature. If there was cause to apprehend a diminution of Republican strength in the Senate or House, speculation accorded us a fair prospect with the pending bill. If the elections turned out well in the States, Colorado was rudely kicked out of Congress by a majority made arrogant by long majority made arrogant by long continued power and the successes of the last elective decision. We were so treated in 1872-73, and in previous years, but in 1874, when the statesmen of the upper and lower houses beheld the signs of gathering discontent and change all over the country's horizon, our bill went through the chamber of representatives without debate, and almost without opposition. In the Senate it was equally well received, and its passage agreed upon, but the highest interests of a hundred thousand people must be sacrificed and trampled under foot to make Edward M. McCook a ruler over them against their wishes to make Edward M. McCook a ruler over them against their wishes and remonstrances. Thus the population of an entire commonwealth, strong as any in the Union, intelligent, thrifty, enterprising and prosperous, were bound hand and foot, spat upon, denied all the privileges to which they were justly entitled by every right under heaven, to gratify the ambition of one very ordinary man, and to consummate ordinary man, and to consummate the pettiest and most despicable of political shams. We are now informed that McCook is in Washington playing the role of congressional adviser, speaking out of the mouths of a hundred thousand freemen representing every abode of mouths of a hundred thousand free-men representing every shade of political, moral and religious be-lief, against their own oft repeated declarations. And in his self-arro-gated delegateship he advances reasons for keeping us in the mar-ket for mountebanks to pillage un-der the authority of an un-righteous system, an indefinite term of years, or until some new ques-tion of necessity shall arise wherein two votes in the Senate and anoth-er in the House may be needed to er in the House may be needed to bolster up an unholy alliance, that would be unworthy of a bar-room shyster. If we must be a Repub-lican State, or none at all, what be-comes of the doctrine of popular suffrage and its attendant rights? If we are American citizens, located upon the soil of the United States, competent by reason of those industries and resources of the country which make statehood the country which make statehood and self-government not only possible, but entirely successful, why should our demands be prostituted to the miserable purpose of mere bargain and sale? Suppose we do go into the Union as a Democratic State, what then? It can only be done by a majority vote, and it is

State, what then? It can only be done by a majority vote, and it is the right to govern themselves by election that the people want, not the ascendancy of this or that party, clique or faction. As matters now stand, we are utterly voiceless and powerless. We are represented in the national councils by one man, who may dispose of us as the auctioneer of his junk shop plunder to who ever will bring him a vote or assist him to gain an election. We are governed by foreigners and aliens, not one of whom cares what becomes of us, our encares what becomes of us, our en-terprises and plans for the welfare of the country so Jong as he can tude of the people and as much of their money as can be secured without detection. On the 8th of September last the masses rese up as one man and expressed their minds about it. They will be as ready to annihilate parties that govern them unjuatly after admission as they have been before, and the flimsy pretext that if admitted we shall be turned over to a monstrous iniquity, whose breath will scoreh us to cinders, as McCosk would have the Senate believe, is simply bosh and clap trap that no sensible man can give a moment's serious consideration. We want admission, not as a condescension, but as something that belongs to us, and that it is oppression to deny. If we are worthy to be admitted at all, let us go in stripped of party garnents. The rest we can settle as becomes men who know what they are doing, and who mean to set up an establishment that shall compel the admiration of their neighbors for the honesty of its administrations and the completeness of its institutions.

A few days since I placed him under the treatment of Dr. Plant, who, within a few hours, and without pain or inconvenience to the lad, freed the patient of a tapeworm about forty feet long, since which time the boy has been improving. I wish you to publish this circumstance, as much far the benefit of people afflicted similarly to my boy, as to award credit to Dr. Plant, whose skill in that line of complaints can be relied on, besides his charges are moderate.
