

ciently distinct to be heard all over the room. Parrent is rather sandy but has bright black eyes. He was dressed in a dark suit, red tie and a few pieces of small jewelry.

A "BOGUS FLASH"

In telling about the poker game Parrent said Jack O'Brien pulled out a "bogus flash" during the betting. The "flash" was a roll of paper with a genuine "green back" strapped around it. Such a "flash" was produced in court by the district attorney and made a very attractive looking "wad." "That was about the size of it," said Parrent with a slight smile, nodding at the exhibit.

OLD, OLD STORY.

The old, old story of the meeting arranged for the McWhiters with "Col." Rice, their failure to keep the appointment, the poker game in the Antlers, the appearance of the witness at the "police" scene, and the bluff arrest was told again by Parrent. He told of taking $3,374 and a loaded gun from Alexander McWhirter during the "police" scene, and how he searched the O'Briens, "Doctor Jim" and others to make the bluff look good to the McWhiters.

KING MAKES LONG OBJECTION.

Atty. King made a lengthy objection to Parrent telling where they went after it was decided to take the poker players to the station. He argued that if any "talking" had been done it was complete at that time and nothing pertaining to subsequent actions could be introduced. The attorney for the defense still held the floor when a recess was called at noon until 2 o'clock when he will conclude his argument to be answered by the state. Parrent will then be recalled and will not tell about all events which occurred in Donaldson's presence.

TESTIMONY RULED OUT.

At the afternoon session yesterday Attorney King attempted to get before the jury testimony from William McWhirter to his discredit. His efforts were resisted by Dist. Atty. Loochbour who did not propose to have his witness exposed before the jury. The court ruled with the state and the question touching on that point was not answered. The first question leading up to the matter was put in the following manner by the attorney for the defense:

"You are not so ignorant about firearms, as you pretend to be?" Inquired Mr. King.

"Yes, sir, I am."

"You have carried firearms in this city yourself, haven't you?"

"Yes, sir, on one occasion."

"You are the same Mr. McWhirter who carried a revolver into Commercial street and was arrested for creating a disturbance, are you not?"

Dist. Atty. Loochbour immediately objected to the question and after some argument the objection was sustained and the witness did not answer the question.

McWhirter stated that Donaldson made no threat against his brother and did not use force in securing the money. He also stated that Donaldson did not assist Parrent and Bell in taking the money from his brother.

W. H. PARRENT CALLED.

W. H. Parrent was called to the stand shortly after 3 o'clock. He gave his name and age in answer to questions by the district attorney and told of entering the room where the card game had been in progress under the guise of a police officer. He described the position occupied in the room by Donaldson, the McWhirter brothers, and Larimer and Jack O'Brien. He said that Alexander McWhirter asked him if he was an officer and he replied in the affirmative. Another question was then asked by Parrent and Atty. King objected to any evidence from Parrent on the ground that at no time had it been shown that Parrent had ever even seen Donaldson before the time he entered that room and anything he said in court could in no way bind Donaldson or affect him. The question was argued at considerable length and the attorney for the defense was given until this morning to submit authorities in support of his objection.

MRS. DR. ROBERTS HONORED.

Recipient of Large Reception and Handsome Diamond Pin.

A notable affair took place yesterday at the Bee Hive home, when Dr. Margaret C. Roberts, who for many years has given her services gratuitously for the training of Relief Society nurses, was made the recipient of a large reception, the affair being given by members of the numerous classes she has taught. Representatives, not only from the free Relief Society classes but from all those she has instructed in the past 14 years were present. Mrs. Mary Swartz Smith being one of those who attended the first class taught by Dr. Roberts. A gathering of about 75 were present, and the afternoon spent in a delightful reunion, while music and informal addresses were also features of the event. The chief incident was the presentation to Dr. Roberts, on the part of her classes, of a handsome diamond and pearl pin, the presentation being made by Miss Clarice Thatcher, in a brief talk of appreciation. The gift was handed to Dr. Roberts in a beautiful bouquet of flowers graciously for the training of Relief Society nurses, was made the recipient of a large reception, the affair being given by members of the numerous classes she has taught.

Dr. Roberts, in ending her past season's teaching, closes 25 years of invaluable service in a work where influence for good can hardly be estimated. She retires now for a well earned rest, carrying with her the gratitude and good wishes of the many who have benefited by her unselfish service.

FOR MURDER IN FIRST DEGREE

Stanislav Mesich, the Austrian who, on the night of June 10, fired six bullets into the body of Herman Obradovich, a fellow countryman, because the latter ran away with Mrs. Mesich after robbing Mesich of $700, was before Judge Diehl this morning on the charge of murder in the first degree. The case is prosecuted by Asst. County Atty. Job P. Lyon, and the defense is represented by Atty. Soren X. Christensen and P. J. Daly.

Matt Rabich was sworn in at the request of the prosecution as the official interpreter, and the defense had two Austrians present who understand the English language and they kept a close tab on the questions and answers. Frequently, the defense insisted that the interpreter did not give the full answer of one of the witnesses, but after several searching questions the facts desired were arrived at.

The first witness was Deputy County Surveyor McAllister, who produced a chart or diagram of the scene of the shooting. After describing the location of the various buildings with reference to the streets near the O. S. L. viaduct, he was excused and Matt Gobac was called.

He testified to a conversation with the deceased, the defendant and Mrs. Mesich on the night of the shooting. He said that Obradovich said he was going to Garfield and get some money from Mesich as the result of the sale of some property. Owing to the difficulty in getting the questions and answers promptly, the witness was on the stand practically all morning.

The case will probably consume three or four days for the reason that nearly all of the witnesses are Austrians who can not speak English. Mrs. Mesich, wife of the defendant, has been in jail since the night of the shooting. She was in court this morning but did not speak to her husband or manifest any interest whatever in the case.

IDAHO LINEMEN GO BACK TO WORK

After Discussing Matters With Manager, Declare They Have No Grievance.

General Supt. Sommers of the Bell Telephone company has returned from a trip to Halley. He reports the situation as quiet and that the striking linemen have all left that part of the country to seek situations elsewhere. Mr. Sommers found that the strike was the work of professional labor agitators, and when he got the dissatisfied operators together and talked the regular schedule over with them, they immediately said that they had no grievance, and went back to work.

General Manager Murray will be back from Butte early in the week, as the situation has quieted down up there, and now there is not an operator out on the entire system.

HABEAS CORPUS PETITION.
Austrian Suspected of Murder Asks for Writ Against Sheriff Emery.

A petition was filed in the district court today by Emil Winovich for a writ of habeas corpus. The writ is directed against Sheriff Emery and he is directed to produce Winovich before Judge Armstrong tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock and show by what authority he is holding him in jail. Winovich was bound over to the district court by Justice Williams upon the charge of murder in the first degree for the killing of an Austrian during the recent strike at Bingham Junction. He alleges in his petition that his restraint is illegal for the reason that there was no evidence at the preliminary hearing which connected him with the offense charged or with any other offense.

IS FIGURING ON A DOBBIE HAUL

Very Neat Scheme on the Part Of Street Supervisor Raleigh.

MORAN LAUGHS UP SLEEVE.

How Dirt Is Being Dumped so the Public Will Have to Pay for It Twice Over.

The great "American" administration in the city hasn't enough money with which to lay the new water mains on Second avenue before that street is macadamized, but it appears to have plenty of money to throw away on east South Temple street in grading that street and that, too, in view of the fact that it will soon be paved with asphalt, and every bit of dirt that is now being hauled there by the street department will have to be hauled away again at a heavy expense. The filling in and grading of the street from Tenth to Thirteenth East street has caused considerable expense of a quarrel between Street Supervisor Raleigh and City Engineer Keiley.

SPICY INTERVIEW.

The former decided to grade the street and went to work at it, and when the engineer found it out he immediately declared that he would stop such a useless expenditure of the city's money. He insisted that the street should not be touched, as it is going to be paved, and ordered the street department men to quit hauling dirt on it. The men, however, informed him that they were not taking orders from him, as they were working for Raleigh. They refused to stop work and the engineer declared that he would make them stop. His interview with Raleigh in regard to the matter was very spicy. The supervisor told him that he should not stop the work, and the engineer replied that he would make him stop. To this Raleigh declared that he could not compel him to stop. The matter now stands in that condition and the working is being done.

NICE FAT RAKE-OFF.

The dirt being hauled to South Temple street costs the city 72 cents per yard to have it excavated by Pat Moran, who is paying Second South street, and then costs 25 cents per yard for hauling it. After it is thrown on the street, it will again have to be removed by Moran, when he begins the paving of South Temple street. The rake-off which he will get out of it will amount to a nice sum, and hence he does not propose to have the work stopped, and is backing Raleigh in the proposition. Raleigh declared that the street was in very bad condition and needed fixing, and he did not propose to wait any longer for it to be paved. The ultimate result of the trouble is uncertain, but there is one thing sure, the public will have to pay the cost.

MRS. WELLS MUCH IMPROVED.

Crisis Seems to Have Passed and Rapid Recovery Looked For.

"Mrs. Wells is ever so much better today, and is doing very nicely," was the message that came from the L. D. S. hospital this afternoon, at 2:10 o'clock. The crisis seems to have entirely passed, and it is no longer expected that the patient will rapidly recover.

GOVERNOR CUTLER AT MT. PLEASANT

With Adj. Gen. Wedgwood and Staff, State Executive Attends "Military Day."

(Special to the "News.")

Mt. Pleasant, June 28.—Today is "Military Day" at Mt. Pleasant. Governor Cutler arrived on the 11 o'clock train from Salt Lake, accompanied by his staff. Adjutant General Wedgwood and staff also accompanied the governor, and all were greeted with a military salute upon landing from the train. The party was met at the depot by a brass band and company D, U. N. G., under Captain L. P. Nelson, a string band from Moroni, and by many prominent citizens of this place, as well as people from surrounding towns. A procession was formed and marched to the Assembly hall grounds, where a short program was rendered, consisting of an address of welcome by Judge J. W. Cherry, responded to by Gov. Cutler, a male quartet and a speech by Adjutant General Wedgwood. All the speakers dwelt upon the desirability of maintaining an efficient military organization and urged the people to support the same. Adjutant General Wedgwood will meet with influential citizens for the purpose of organizing a national guard in national guard matters this afternoon. This evening there will be a ball at the opera house, with speeches by the governor and visitors.

Crowd Wonders at Cures Effected.

Miraculous Relief Brought About Before the Eyes of the People.

THE GREAT FER-DOY AND THE BOY PHENOMENAL.

Attracting Attention of People From All Over the State.

When the large vacant lots at the corner of Second South and Second West streets are already found to be too small to accommodate all the people who attend the free lectures and demonstrations given nightly by the Great Fer-Doy and the Boy Phenomenal, their popularity was assured. And surely it is if the favorable comments of the people of Salt Lake may be taken as a criterion. On every hand can be heard the question, "Did you hear Fer-Doy last night?" and the answer almost invariably is "Yes." Last night a woman in the audience was heard to say apropos of Fer-Doy's demonstrations of his remedies, "Well, while the show he gives is an excellent one, we can see a show any time; but as for this wonderful work upon the deaf and sick, I can never see how it can be done before and an opportunity to see the deaf made to hear and the crippled walk may come only once in a lifetime."

A man standing near the writer remarked that he had received a letter from a brother in Houston, Texas, telling of the good work done there by Fer-Doy's remedies, and the Boy Phenomenal, and that he had come out to see for himself and had decided that there was no exaggeration.

"I CAN HEAR," SHE SAID.

Mrs. Sarah Rand of 333 East Fourth South, who has been deaf for 30 years, heard how the deaf were being made to hear and came to find out for herself if what was being done for others could be done for her. After an application of Fer-Doy's preparation, she was surprised and delighted to find she had been greatly benefited. In reply to a question she said, "Yes, I can hear now, and she could, for every sound which had escaped her affected ears before now reached her plainly."

COULDN'T HEAR BAND.

George Scott, 74 years of age, who lives at 1830 Fourth East, was another who was greatly relieved. Said he: "Last night when I attended your performance I was unable to hear your band, but now I can hear everything." William Corlies of Randolph and several others were also demonstrated upon, and all testified to having been benefited.

THE BOY PHENOMENAL.

People from outside the city are learning that the Boy Phenomenal is in Salt Lake and are coming from far and near to consult him in regard to their various ailments. His offices in the Windsor Hotel at 235 S. Main St. are crowded all day long. Letters from the outside are pouring in, making inquiries as to the system of bloodless surgery and the "Synthall" treatment by which appendicitis is cured without an operation. The offices were crowded yesterday and today, although it was but the third day since its opening. It is claimed by most physicians that gall stones cannot be removed without the use of a knife, but the Boy Phenomenal claims to remove them with three doses of medicine and without any operation whatever.

NEW SHOW TONIGHT.

At the free show grounds at the corner of Second South and Second West Streets, Fer-Doy announced that a new program would be rendered every night. On Saturday night he will give five dollars in gold to the winner of the ladies' nailing contest. On Saturday evening he will announce that he would make his silver shower drive when he would throw away money to the boys or anyone who cared to get it. The contest to be an event both interesting and exciting and will take place along Main street about 7:00 o'clock Saturday evening.

SALT LAKE IS IN TROUBLE

Kenneth Donnellan Suspended From the San Francisco Stock Exchange.

San Francisco, June 28.—The governing board of the San Francisco stock exchange has suspended Kenneth Donnellan, the youngest stock broker on the street, who is in financial difficulties. Under the rules of the exchange he will be sold out. For saving money Donnellan has been selling short on Nevada mining stocks and has been hard pressed. He sold Combination Fraction at $1.90 and today the price at which he had to deliver the stock rose to $3.15.

Kenneth Donnellan is well known in the city, and some of the older members of the Salt Lake stock exchange remember his similar experiences here as stock broker. Shortly after the discovery of the Mispah ledge by Jim Butler, young Donnellan went to Tonopah and was one of the organizers of the Tonopah stock exchange and received a salary as secretary of the organization. The exchange was short lived, but Kenneth was fortunate in some mining investments and when the discovery of Goldfield happened, he succeeded in getting in on the ground floor in a number of mining properties and cleaned up a fortune within a few months' time. He entered the brokerage business, opening offices in Tonopah, Elko and San Francisco, with private wire service between them, and until recently his was considered to be one of the leading brokerage firms of the Pacific coast. Mr. Donnellan was caught hard in the late slump of Nevada stocks, and rumors were current as much as three weeks ago that the firm would be forced to the wall. Kenneth Donnellan is a son of Col. John W. Donnellan, formerly cashier of the Commercial National bank of this city.

A MONTANA CLOUDBURST.

Butte, Mont., June 27.—A Miner special from Livingston says: A heavy cloudburst in the vicinity of Laramie, in the Musselshell country, has destroyed thousands of dollars' worth of property. In the vicinity of Carel creek, three employees of the Burlington northern construction camp are reported to have lost their lives while trying to save some of the company's property. The flood was one of the worst in the history of that section and the loss to crops and property will amount to hundreds of thousands of dollars. Near Laramie the Musselshell river runs so high that nearly every house in that town was forced to the wall. Water reached the highest point within the memory of the earliest pioneer.

HARVARD WON AND SO DID YALE

Former Took the Freshman Eight Race by One and a Half Lengths.

ELIS GOT FOUR-OARED EVENT.

Both Race up Stream on an Incoming Tide—Time Was Slow—The Crowd Small.

New London, Conn., June 28.—Harvard won the freshman eight by one and a half lengths, and Yale the varsity four oared race by about 10 lengths upon the morning tide on the Thames river today, and the result confirmed predictions.

Coming with the great victory of a Yale varsity eight last night, the win of the four today was a source of gratification to Yale men and an evidence of the efficiency of Coach Kennedy's training. It was an easy race for the blue to win, while the freshman race was a hard one for Yale to lose, and correspondingly a triumph for the Cambridge youngsters. The races were worth the seeing, although a mere remnant of the host of yesterday had the courage to stay for them.

Both races were upstream upon the incoming tide, in smooth water, and both rowed in slow time. It was Harvard's strength in the freshman and lack of it in the four oared race which made the results as they were.

The unofficial times for the freshman race were: Half mile—Harvard, 2:48; Yale, 2:51. One mile—Harvard, 5:18; Yale, 5:20. Mile and half—Harvard, 8:55; Yale, 8:57. Finish—Harvard, 11:11; Yale, 11:14.

The unofficial time for the varsity fours for two miles—Yale, 12:31; Harvard, 12:59.

THE FRESHMAN RACE.

Harvard got off with 34 strokes to Yale's 32. A quarter of a mile from the start Harvard leads by more than a length.

Harvard increased her stroke slightly and gained on Yale.

Approaching the half mile Harvard led by a length and a half.

The unofficial time for the first half mile was 2:45.

Harvard is now rowing a slower stroke but continues in the lead.

No visit to the lake is complete without a box of McDonald's Dutch Chocolates.

30 cents the half pound; 60 cents the pound. On sale at Saltair depot.

Three-quarters of a mile from the start Harvard leads by more than a length. The Harvard boat is splashing slightly as the crews approach the mile mark. Yale increases stroke as the mile mark is passed. The Harvard crew hit up the stroke to 36. Yale has more power and began to gain.

Half way between the mile and mile-and-a-half Harvard led by less than half a length. Time at mile—Harvard, 5:18; Yale, 5:20.

Just before reaching the mile and a half Yale obtained a slight lead but the race is very close one.

At the mile and a half Harvard was in the lead by half a length. Time—Yale, 8:57; Harvard, 8:55.

After leaving the mile and a half with the finish in sight, Harvard spurred the finish in sight, and the boat out of the water and draw away until there was open water between the two boats.

Harvard wins by a length and a half. Time—Harvard, 11:11; Yale, 11:17 (unofficial).

Both crews finished in good shape, and 30 seconds after crossing the line, the victorious Yale varsity crew cheered the defeated freshmen.

The best work by Yale was done in the last half mile but the Harvard spurt at the finish settled the race.

The crews had perfect conditions of wind and water.

THE FOUR-OARED RACE.

The four-oared shells arrived at the starting line at 10:40. The Yale crew had the east side of the river. Just before the boats got into position a breeze from the south sprang up in favor of both boats.

Yale caught the water first and had a slight lead at the start.

Both boats went off with a dash, both crews rowing 38. At the quarter of a mile from the start Yale had a lead of a length and a half and was pulling away rapidly.

At the three-eighths Yale was a length and three-quarters ahead and still gaining.

Both crews decreased their stroke and the first quarter of a mile.

At the half Yale was leading by two lengths.

Time at half mile—Yale, 2:47; Harvard, 2:53.

After getting to the half mile Harvard spurred and pulled Yale's lead down to a little more than a length.

At the three-quarters Yale spurred and again obtained a clear lead of two lengths. Approaching the mile Harvard sagged farther back. The race seemed like a procession. At the mile the stroke of both crews dropped to 33. Yale was well in the lead by more than three lengths.

Time at mile—Yale, 6:06; Harvard, 6:18.

After leaving the mile mark Yale continued to draw steadily away rowing very smoothly, while Harvard splashed.

Every stroke seems to give Yale more advantage, and Harvard men seem to be nearly spent. Yale is five lengths ahead; rowing 35 to Harvard's 26.

Yale spurs near the mile and a half mark, running the stroke and pulling a beautiful race.

Harvard passed the mile and a half mark a dozen lengths behind and seemed to be barely able to send their shell along. It is merely a procession and at the mile and three-quarters Yale hits it up again.

Coming into the stretch the Yale boat gets along finely and the men keep steadily pulling away from Harvard. Yale wins by 10 lengths.

Official time: Yale, 12:33; Harvard, 12:59. The armers in both boats were very tired.

Two minutes after the finish of the race, however, each crew started to paddle to their quarters.

In the last mile of the race Yale, apparently confident that without a fluke of one kind, victory was certain, rowed well within themselves.

Harvard pulled gamely along to the finish line, but Harvard and Yale men pulled up to the mark and witnessed the finish from their shells.
